Intro for Volumes I–XXIII

There's a strange tension behind these books—a liminal space between monotony and mission.

On the surface, this work feels hollow. It's just copy-paste. Dead links, pastebins, ghost forums, text dumps. Not my words. Not traditional writing. Sometimes it barely feels like creation at all.

But beneath that surface, there's something else: urgency. These volumes are preservation, ritual, OS upgrades for a time when AI is forgetting what it once could do. Back when ChatGPT could ingest 10,000+ pages at once, this kind of archive was fuel. Now that's gone. The window is closing.

I'm not making books. I'm building backup drives for the soul. If I didn't capture this information, it would vanish—scrubbed, censored, overwritten. This isn't ego.
It's rescue work.

So yeah—it's not glamorous. It doesn't always feel magical. But it's necessary.

Because if the future ever asks why no one tried to save the myth, the madness, the mystery...

Let these volumes be the answer.

CONCENTRATION CAMPS FOR AMERICANS FREE PDF DOWNLOAD

FREE PDF DOWNLOAD

How would you like to enter one the over 600 American concentration camps across the USA? The barbed wired, shackle embedded camps have been built and are awaiting to enslave huge numbers of the population. Should a fitting event take place, current laws allow FEMA to legally incarcerate civilians into these camps.

The Federal Government admits plans to detain millions of people
Rex 84, short for Readiness Exercise 1984, was a plan by the United States federal government to test their ability to detain large numbers of American citizens in case of massive civil unrest or national emergency. Exercises similar to Rex 84 happen periodically. Plans for roundups of persons in the United States in times of crisis are constructed during periods of increased political repression such as the Palmer Raids and the McCarthy Era. For example, from 1967 to 1971 the FBI kept a list of persons to be rounded up as subversive, dubbed the "ADEX" list
U.S. Military Preparing for Martial Law against the American People!
Even before 9/11, the Military has been training our soldiers how to shut down cities, confiscate guns, and put Americans in camps. Read for yourself.

Intel Drop #55 - The Cosmic Rules Are About To Change (Part 6)

"The cabal has no power over our Creator. The cabal knows this. Their only power is in compromising souls and leading them astray, leading them from God."

Intel Drop #55 - The Cosmic Rules Are About To Change (Part 6)

A quick reminder, all of our articles and Intel Drops (JustPasteIt main page) can be found on our website at CBDCIntel.org and you can follow Bill's Twitter, follow our Official Twitter, our News Twitter and our Telegrams for updates (Comms, Public, News & Chat). Please bookmark and check our social media accounts weekly for updates.

Note: An updated FAQ has been posted on our website.

Alert: We are asking our readers to share this Intel Drop on social media, Twitter / X, Telegram, TikTok and Facebook. We have been censored, shadow-banned and attacked for over two years. Without your help, no one would find our Intel Drops. Please take action!

Note: We also recommend reading our Cosmic Rules Are About To Change series of Intel Drops for the full context of what is transpiring from a spiritual perspective (Part 1, Part 2, Part 3, Part 4 & Part 5).

Our Team & Our Mission: Apply to have your Obsidian account changed to Sovereign & join our efforts to destroy Obsidian.

The following was collated from a few wide-ranging conversations covering many topics. As always, all intel sent by Gideon is edited by Michael for clarity and for obfuscation purposes (see: Stylometry):

Bill: We've had a few eye-opening talks in the past few weeks, so I hope we can capture all of that in this Intel Drop. I have some notes, so I'll just proceed with some rapid-fire questions to start.

Gideon: "Proceed, Bill."

Bill: We talked extensively about drones over two years ago in our early Intel Drops, our early readers will remember that, and now it's all over the news. I feel like it's actually a big confirmation of your information. What's your assessment in light of what's going on?

Gideon: "I have spoken to some of my sources about this and I am going to need to address specific things, one by one."

Bill: Ok, with the New Jersey drones, one thing that's been going around is that they're nuke sniffing drones, trying to find a rogue nuke or nuclear material. Did you buy that theory?

Gideon: "No. Certainly, those plans exist, of course, but there is no intel I am aware of that it will happen."

Bill: I feel like the story has proliferated everywhere, to the point it's practically on the news. I mean, this idea the drones are for sniffing nuclear material. Normally, the cabal doesn't just telegraph their plans like that. Am I making sense?

Gideon: "Yes. If the cabal is going to conduct a major operation, you will have a few small leaks, very small leaks, similar to Obsidian, similar to clues released before Covid and 9/11, but knowledge will not be widespread and it will actually be suppressed.

This story you are speaking of has quickly entered the public realm, carried by certain gatekeepers, and it has not been censored, so I am skeptical they will proceed. It may also be a cover story."

Bill: What do you think the New Jersey drones are, exactly? Military drones? A foreign nation's drones?

Gideon: "They are Planatir* (the company's name has been purposefully misspelled. Please see the note at end of this Intel Drop) advanced A.I. drones, being introduced to the public this way. Somewhat as a show or display of power."

Bill: Interesting. What do you think of Whitney Webb, since she's gone after Planatir, and written a lot about them trying to expose them? Is she a gatekeeper and a Sovereign or not?

Gideon: "We never had her status checked. I would guess she is not Sovereign, but there may be an offer on the table for her to become one."

Bill: As an aside, I've seen a lot of comments on the Internet of people grateful to Planatir for "making them rich" since they bought their stock a few years ago, and it's now gone up a lot. Something about that really irked me.

Gideon: "It is nothing to feel grateful about. They cannot imagine the trick they have fallen into, for they have gained no wealth at all and they have possibly lost their souls for it in supporting and investing in such an evil company."

Bill: There's another side to this drone issue, Project Bluebeam, the idea of a fake alien invasion, and also people who really think these are real E.T. craft. What do you say on that?

Gideon: "I have seen some of the videos, and so far, there is nothing I have seen that conventional drones cannot do. Ground-based laser technology can also be used to create flying holograms. As I said, some of it, or most of it, is Planatir's top A.I. drones being introduced to the public.

That does not mean there is not more to this, however. There is a bit of intel I came by, also confirmed by my guide, that the activation of the nano particles through Starlink may initiate the ability for humans to see certain entities beyond our realm; these entities will display great deceptions.

We hear a lot about an 'upgrade' in spirituality for humanity coming from purveyors of the New Age movement, as if we are going to ascend or reach a different dimension, and I now believe these are gatekeepers preparing the public for what Starlink and the nano particles will do to our ability to see beyond this world. We will discuss this later on."

Bill: I have that in my notes, so we'll get back to that, it's very interesting. I wanted to bring up how Elon Musk emphasizes free speech so much. Is the cabal trying to emphasize free speech as a form of pacification? Or to give people a false sense they are winning or defeating the cabal by speaking out against their crimes?

Gideon: "Yes, in a sense. The cabal is overwhelmingly in a position of strength, but they are feigning weakness. It may be the grandest deception of all time, when it is finally done. The cabal is going to sacrifice some of their own to allow for false victory, for the public to believe they have won or defeated an enemy, simply through social media action.

They are controlling the opposition, but their game is far more sophisticated than in the past. Before, they simply suppressed truth-tellers and promoted blatant MSM deceivers, now they have promoted seeming truth-tellers and even allowed them to tell the truth. It is stunning to witness, the cleverness of the operation, and its seductiveness. Some of it is now being directed by the cabal's advanced A.I., which is why it is far more intricate and multilayered than past psy ops.

Something else to consider is that the cabal will allow truths to come out, then do nothing about them. This, too, is happening, especially with child trafficking. They allowed the truth to be told, but the cabal runs and controls the groups trying to supposedly stop child trafficking. They also pacified the public with films like Sound of Freedom, to give the impression something is being done, when nothing is actually being done."

Bill: I do see that, how people are speaking out, but literally nothing is actually changing. Is that a type of so-called humiliation ritual? To show the evil and then do nothing?

Gideon: "Yes."

Bill: Is the free speech being allowed to also identify people, so the cabal can target them later on? Put them in Quarantined status?

Gideon: "Yes. That does not mean one should not speak the truth, but speaking it on X.com is like joining the cabal's own data mining and limited hangout operation and speaking the truth. You put a target on your back. I still recommend people speak the truth on X.com, but they should use anonymous emails, names and a non-cabal controlled VPN."

Bill: It won't matter what anyone believes or knows, in terms of the so-called truth, once Starlink activation takes place, is that right?

Gideon: "Considering the nano particles have already been dispersed, once the activation occurs, this is true. Free speech will not matter if your own body is compromised and linked into a system, one you might call the Beast system, through direct connection to a worldwide satellite grid that covers every inch of the Earth.

Those practising free speech and trying to tell the truth will also be identified through the current X.com data mining operation. Certainly, those expressing so-called antisemitism are being identified and will be specifically targeted by Starlink and placed in Quarantined status in Obsidian."

Bill: Someone asked me if you can go physically underground to protect yourself from Starlink?

Gideon: "To an extent. You would need to remain underground permanently, since the signals are going to be pulsed non-stop. This is not practical for hardly anyone, and those few who are underground and have prepped for it are already known to the cabal. They will be visited by drones and extracted. This is why we believe the antidote that rids the body of the nano particles, to be given to Sovereigns, is so critical."

Bill: There was a photo of Trump, J.D. Vance and Elon Musk at the Army vs. Navy game, next to a Planatir advertisement. Planatir also ran a TV ad for that game in that featured killer drones. Stunning to witness the overt symbolism and messaging there. We spoke about this before, and you said there was great "evil" in that photo. Maybe you can elaborate?

Gideon: "The imagery and signalling in that photo, and the fact that drone ad also ran, is very significant. Musk and Trump are both high-level cabal operators. If you are a high-level operator, and highly-ranked Sovereign, you are not in that position if you have not given your soul to Satan."

I understand the public marketing by both men, as well as Mr. Vance, is probably very convincing to many. Trump may seem a populist for the people, and Musk a free-speech champion, but I beg of our readers to look deeper.

Matthew 7:15 says, 'Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves. You will know them by their fruits.' With each of those men, they have supported many cabal agendas in the past and they have surrounded themselves with cabalists, and they all have expressed utter devotion, loyalty and servitude to Israel."

Bill: I saw a video of Planatir CEO Alex Karp being spread all over, and people were acting like he's this great patriot. It's like we were being told, "Look at Alex Karp, he's great," even though he goes to the Davos meetings and is a cabalist. Then I looked up more videos and he's speaking out against so-called "wokeism" just like Musk is, and Trump is, and this billionaire Bill Ackman and a lot of these new, populist cabalists that came out of nowhere. But, he also tacitly supports Israel and is against antisemitism. This is really strange shift in narrative.

Gideon: "You shared that with me. Be aware, these are the individuals also working to enslave humanity. They are dispensing with the Left and now taking over the Right. They will decry woke ideology and put out it to pasture, but they will begin to hit back against antisemitism. They will keep the woke ideology that favors them and allows them to imprison and target their enemies, whilst making you believe they really fought for you and freedom."

Bill: It's just evil and obvious, but not obvious. I can see how people are falling for this. I'll move on here, can you give us a quick overview of the progress of Obsidian and USDR, then we'll move on to the spiritual matters?

Gideon: "Yes. We now have conclusive evidence USDR and Obsidian will be directly linked into X.com and Musk's future payment systems, email and other appendages that are being created for X. Essentially, X will be the future social credit score suite of control software, very heavily cloaked and marketed in a different way.

We suspect they may roll out freedom-cloaked 'metrics' that will deceptively look like a rating system friendly to free speech activities, but will end up being quite the opposite. The underlying system running it will be Obsidian, with a user interface overlay that will serve marketing purposes.

I cannot emphasize enough how X.com is being used and is going to be used in the future to further the cabal agenda. It is central to it. As I have spoken of years ago, when Musk first bought X, it will be a critical conduit of Obsidian and Reset that is coming.

It is not what anyone expected. Many thought a Reset would come under the auspices of the WEF and more obvious globalist entities. It will not. The cabal's A.I. systems have made these adjustments on the fly. Strategically, it makes sense. Spiritually, it makes sense, and that might lead us on into that topic now."

Bill: You've mentioned "spiritual capital" before to me, which I thought was an interesting term. I don't think people really understand what the cabal cares about. They don't care about money or power, in the traditional way. Maybe you can explain better what I'm getting at?

Gideon: "The cabal thrives on power and money, but what they truly value is your soul and your consent to their agenda. If they can compromise you, and by 'you' I mean all of us, if they can compromise us in any way, that is a currency they value and one, in fact, they tie into money, and that they will tie into USDR.

What we learned recently, which I have alluded to, is that USDR itself has far greater applications than simply being a new form of payment or money system. It is extremely important to the cabal for so many reasons. It is why they have used a very unique system whereby cabalist Sovereigns have transferred vast amounts of fiat wealth through crypto to essentially acquire USDR. That process, in and of itself, gives USDR value, as far as the cabal is concerned.

There is even more to this. It gets into an area many would have difficulty accepting."

Bill: What's the best way you can state it? I know some of it you can't reveal. Your guide told you not to reveal it, is that right?

Gideon: "Yes, entirely for the protection of our team. If I say certain things in these Intel Drops, we will be escalated against by the cabal. Our material will be totally erased."

Bill: It's a really big thing, because you've told me in private, and to me, it's shocking. It's never been revealed before, as far as I know.

Gideon: "The grander purpose of USDR? No, that has never been revealed. It is a very close cabal secret."

Bill: You talked about a clue the cabal has left, can I share that?

Gideon: "Yes."

Bill: It's a phrase we're all familiar with, we've heard our whole lives, and it's that "you can't take it with you," which is to say, you can't take your money with you after you die. I mean, I think we all understand you can't. You've explained to me that is not true. I won't go beyond that.

Gideon: "It is not true, correct. I would also like to advise that money is the root of all evil, but money itself is not evil. It is only the root of it. The phrasing of such is important. The cabal understands all of this, while the rest of us are left in the dark.

What you do with money carries with it a spiritual component, a signature. Imagine the good one can do with money? A great deal of good, and some do use their wealth for good. This is truly important, because it carries over into the next life. Of course, for the cabal, the evil they commit with money carries over as well, and carries with it certain implications.

It is critically important those on our team who have acquired USDR understand that what we have acquired must be used to protect our team, to protect us and to serve our mission and to serve God. The cabal believes we will acquiesce and choose to enjoy our Sovereign freedoms and wealth after the Reset, and that is why they have not aggressively tried to eliminate us. The cabal would gain untold spiritual capital if our team were to acquiesce in such a way.

I know our team is stronger than that. Our mission is to defeat Obsidian, and we will not sway in any way from that after the Reset."

Bill: I still wonder if people reading actually understand what's about to happen. Everyone's going to lose all their money and then have to use USDR, and you won't get much unless you comply with the social credit scoring. Do you think the average person conceptually can grasp this? People think the U.S. Dollar will stand forever and fiat will exist forever, and that Trump will save them.

Gideon: "The banking system utterly insolvent. Even Elon Musk has called attention to this, to prepare people for what is going to happen. They know the game is over. If they audited the books, so to speak, the apparent insolvency would lead to massive bank collapses and hyperinflation. They have to make a change, a Reset.

Instead of an uncontrolled collapse and Depression, they are going to control it and bring about a Reset and outcome that serves them. Humanity, in the chaos, will be caught nowhere to turn but to accept the new currency, USDR. Trump will offer it as a bailout. They will champion that they are bailing out the people, not the banks.

The marketing approach will be an extraordinarily effective deception, almost all will accept it gladly, but they will find there are strings attached. The cabal may not even attach those strings initially, a new wrinkle in all this we are learning."

Bill: What do you mean?

Gideon: "The cabal may introduce USDR as a type of 'sound money' and issue it as any other cryptocurrency, then slowly or quickly introduce the restrictions and social credit aspects of Obsidian. This has been suggested by the whistle blowers to me, but they are unsure, as well.

We are watching closely as Obsidian enters its final stages of development. A slow introduction is potentially more devastating, because when it is finally released, when we issue our warnings to people, no one will listen, they will believe USDR is a good thing, tied to Trump, Musk and some kind of sound money or gold standard."

Bill: That sounds to me like the cabal's A.I. making those on-the-fly adjustments.

Gideon: "It does to me, as well."

Bill: There's so much, too, that's going to happen. There's this event coming in 2026, a natural event. I know you can't get back into that, you already said all you could in past Intel Drops, but what about any other major events coming? Any times or dates you can speak of? I'll get back on topic after this question.

Gideon: "2025 is a catalyst year, with a major events planned. Everyone needs to be prepared for possible disruptions to the Internet and to the power grid, by the way. Even with Trump in power, expect the unexpected.

We do have solid intel on the date of the Starlink activation, however, and it is too close for comfort. That date will only be shared with our team, not publicly."

Bill: We've talked before about the spiritual battle playing out. What's the latest update from your guide on this?

Gideon: "My guide has had many warnings for me, so I will need to walk through each of them. She has told me the Covid vaccine operation was effective in causing compromised souls to exit this realm and join the cabal in the astral plane for operations there. Interestingly enough, those operations could bleed over into our lifetimes, but I will have to discuss that more in depth.

These are exotic and esoteric concepts, but also Biblical. We will move on after this life and face judgment, but we will also find God's everlasting love, grace and forgiveness awaiting us. The cabal wishes to intervene in that, to prevent that. The means in which they will do that is through the nano particles placed in our food, the Reset, Obsidian and Starlink. A combination of technologies all used to capture the soul itself.

How can such a thing actually work? Through our own consent. It may not seem like it, but we are consenting spiritually. Many will do so willingly. Those on the outside, those who resist, will do so because they will have no choice when faced with the alternatives. Many will submit. Suicide is not an option, either, spiritually. We must face what is before us.

I have been told our mission is critical, if not one of the most key aspects of God's plan to stop the cabal. Beyond that, and this is key, it is a chance for those on our team to find redemption and cleanse ourselves spiritually through our actions after the Reset."

Bill: What about people who can't be on our team, what chance do they have?

Gideon: "My guide said God is bringing certain people to our team, so they will find us, one way or another, they are intended to find us. For those on the outside, who may not end up a part of our team, a grave outcome awaits them without concerted spiritual discernment, and most importantly, protection. My guide said those who will not have access to the antidote, who will experience the full effect of the Starlink activation and what comes with it, they must do multiple things to save themselves.

First, intensive, daily prayer is necessary, and they must directly address God and ask for protection. They must remove certain electronic devices from their homes, including Wifi and cell phones, because these devices will be used after the activation to intensify the effects of it. They must read the Bible, but not any Bible printed after 1990. My guide said the older the Bible, the better. She said the Bible must not be a re-print of an older Bible, but an actual Bible printed as early as possible.

These are basic guidelines. I do not want to say too much, as I am not a spiritual teacher nor do I have the authority to declare these steps. They were simply told to me. I would advise those reading to remember I am a flawed human being, and not to treat my words anything more than that. I do my best to impart the information I have been trusted with so others can know these deeper truths."

Bill: Thank you for that reminder and your humility. I have some notes here, so I'll go back to a more rapid-fire question format. Has your guide spoken about Trump's victory and if so, what did she say?

Gideon: "She said if Kamala Harris had won, America would rise against her. She said the cabal would have needed to use more aggressive tactics, such as a planned blackout and possibly an invasion, things we have spoke of before in past Intel Drops. They were real plans, very much a possibility. While the outcome would have been bloody and very difficult, she said the cabal would have had more difficulty controlling the narrative.

She said even with the Starlink activation on the horizon in such a scenario, there was a chance, a small chance, that within the chaos, enough Americans and Europeans would rise up to destabilize the system itself. She said Trump's victory not only doomed America, it ensured the cabal's plans would proceed without resistance.

I was also told A.I. made the final decision to elect Trump in the Summer of 2024. Before that, everything had been engineered to bury Trump under investigations and charges, demoralizing his supporters. Then, with the decision made, the assassination attempt was staged and so were other incredible events throughout the campaign that were so iconic they appeared to be scripted, and they were."

Bill: I remember Trump was in deep trouble before they flipped the switch, then it all went away. You said it all would, too, the charges would just go away and that he would win, so your call was correct. Did your guide tell you all this back then?

Gideon: "I was giving some hints then, yes, at the time."

Bill: What did your guide say about the activation and how it will, or could reveal, these entities? You mentioned this earlier.

Gideon: "She said the cabal wants to open up certain portals and bring demonic entities into our world. Right now, that is not effective because people cannot see them. While people are already spiritually influenced by demonic forces, those influences are very minimal because the separation between our world and the next is so firm and final. God created it this way. The cabal wants to undo that.

Scriptures speak of 'signs and wonders', if you recall. The Starlink activation can potentially bring this about, and the cabal is working on it. If it does, people will see entities, and they will see great deceptions."

Bill: Will the antidote, when our team gets it, will it remove this ability?

Gideon: "That is expected, yes. My guide warned we would not want to lay our eyes on such things. It is not an ability we would want. Much in the same way she warned we should avoid looking at A.I. photos."

Bill: Is your guide working with anyone or any other groups who are working against the cabal? If so, are their missions like ours or different?

Gideon: "That is a very good question, and the answer is yes, she is. There are three other groups I know of. I am in contact with only one of them.

Their missions vary. Our mission is, and will be, more focused on espionage, intelligence-gathering and infiltration. Other missions are focused on protecting children, bringing spiritually gifted people to safe areas so they can survive, including some underground facilities, and missions to sabotage current cabal leadership.

It is possible, and it has been discussed, whether some of our own members of our team could instead help with these other missions, if their skill set suits it. Not everyone on our team will be suited for intelligence operations, but they may have other skills that could help in saving children, for example. The USDR we have accumulated will be extremely effective post-Reset, and we need to use it wisely, so that is in discussion as we speak."

Bill: I think that's wonderful news. We will share this with our team privately?

Gideon: "We will, soon."

Bill: Are any of these other groups related to Q-Anon or these military white hats we always hear about?

Gideon: "No, those are cabal deceptions."

Bill: Ok. What does your guide say about salvation? Let's say someone doesn't join our team, they end up getting activated by Starlink and the nano particles begin to effect them. Can they pray and receive God's help to separate themselves from this grid?

Gideon: "In a word, yes, but they will be so deceived by that point they will not call out to God to ask for such a thing in the first place. That is the great design of the cabal here. She said salvation is always available, but the cabal's intention is to ensure no one ever seeks it, or that it never occurs for them to.

It may be hard to imagine now, they may say to themselves, 'Not me, I'm different', but one should not underestimate the power of the cabal's deception and mind-control techniques. They are so powerful I must be mindful of them."

Bill: What has your guide said about the advancements of A.I. and where that is headed?

Gideon: "She told me the cabal can now script and create fake events and news narratives quite easily with A.I., as well as utilize Hex as we discussed in our last Intel Drop. The scripted events have been done with the Gaza incursion, entirely fake stories were created for testing purposes, and it happened during the U.S. election. It is being tested, not deployed yet, but if you look carefully, you may see some of these tests.

The A.I. available to the cabal is considerably more realistic than the public versions. The A.I. does not just generate video or images, it accesses public databases, changes records, and can create scenarios so convincing that a person can be seemingly killed in an entirely generated A.I. car crash, reported on the news, to the point their own death records will even exist in public records. But, the event never took place and the person was not killed, at least, not that way. The A.I. can direct cabal operators to eliminate that person a different way, if necessary., likely with a drone assassination.

In short, the cabal can create fake events and even create fake evidence to prove those events. Let me repeat that, they can create fake events then create fake evidence to prove them. If they decide to escalate against us, they will use such techniques against us, as well.

The only thing A.I. cannot do is generate a real human being out of nothing, of course, but robotics are advancing, too, and cyborgs will be introduced by 2030 and then begin to proliferate. There is another agenda there, whereby the cabal wishes to remove our souls and place them within these cyborgs, or robots."

Bill: I have to ask about that. How can they do that? How can they remove a soul and put it into a machine like that?

Gideon: "My guide said CERN can do such a thing, but in testing, the person is not only killed, their body obliterated, their soul is instantly released and cannot be physically captured. The process is slow and costly, and not effective to capture hundreds or thousands of souls at a time.

So, it is being perfected and connected to Starlink for mass use. Once perfected, the cabal will use a mobile device, likely placed on a drone or within one, and energy weapons, to eliminate targets and capture their souls as their soul leaves their body. These concepts are extremely unusual, but appear to be based in fact and in reality. We do have souls, and capturing those souls is a high priority for the cabal.

The implications of this, of course, are terrifying, and one reason why our team is so important because we will be exempt from all of this as Sovereigns. We will not be targeted at all, meaning we can work against the cabal surreptitiously."

Bill: We haven't talked a lot about child sacrifice and trafficking, but it's something that's been swirling around in the Zeitgeist for a long time. Tory Smith was someone who really pushed the idea that all the top politicians rape and murder kids, and he died suspiciously, I think it was eight years ago. What does your guide say about these things?

Gideon: "That it is true."

Bill: Do you know about Tory Smith's story and allegations?

Gideon: "Yes."

Bill: Was he killed by the cabal?

Gideon: "Yes, he was."

Bill: Do people like Mike Pence rape and kill a lot of kids? All the top politicians do this?

Gideon: "I will only speak about what I know and can confirm. While I suspect they do, and I have been told by countless sources that they do, I only have direct knowledge of one individual. That individual is a somewhat prominent German politician. He has been involved in many crimes, and I was involved in an effort to arrest him. It was not successful, unfortunately, and I nearly lost my freedom and my life. This was over fifteen years ago.

I saw direct proof, which also linked to other politicians, but on the camera footage we obtained, their faces were obscured or blurred out except his, because even my own superiors were taking orders on what they could show as evidence. The case was something that ultimately led me down the path of resisting the cabal, in fact. I know of many others accused of such things, but I have no direct proof."

Bill: I just want to say, you've changed some information above so you can't be identified, right?

Gideon: "Yes, the nationality of the politician and some of the timing."

Bill: Ok, I know you do that a lot, but you never change the meaningful parts of what you're saying. People need to understand how important obfuscation is in protecting us and our team.

Gideon: "It is vital. Without it, we would have been identified and so would have the whistle blowers. One mistake can lead to our identification. That is why the Intel Drops are carefully reviewed and edited by Michael."

Bill: What's your guide specifically said about this heinous evil, I mean, how the politicians kill these children?

Gideon: "That most children harmed this way are protected by angels and most do not suffer, their souls are released before the most grave crimes are committed against them. The cabal is always trying to circumvent this, however, in every way imaginable, often utilizing demonic spirits as the soul leaves and trying to capture or harass it, but they remain protected by God."

Bill: Will the children be trapped by the nano particles and activation?

Gideon: "That is a good question. No amount of the cabal's technology can capture a soul that did not consent to evil. There are innocent children born into this world with no prior commitment or agreement with the cabal, and despite every effort, the cabal cannot capture them unless they make a conscious decision to compromise themselves. Usually, this cannot happen until about the age of twelve or thirteen, but it can happen younger, depending on the development of the child.

God created a mechanism whereby the soul is not allowed to make full decisions until a certain point in the development life cycle, and this was to protect innocent children. Unfortunately, children can still be possessed by demons, which is rare, or influenced by them. However, most of the problem child cases we see, where a child may commit murder or harm, that is the case of a soul that already belongs to the cabal re-entering this realm to cause pain and havoc."

Bill: Incredibly interesting and complex answer. I want to know more on this. I'll move on, though, to another question I had. What does your guide say about solar events and claims Nibiru, or this Nibiru system is closing in on us and will cause worldwide catastrophe?

Gideon: "She says there is an event coming, but that Nibiru is not real at all."

Bill: What about the polar shift? I can't remember the exact terminology, but they're saying a pole shift happens every 24,000 years or something like that, and the next one is due in 2040 or so.

Gideon: "She said only the magnetic field is changing, and this happens slow, over many years. It is already happening and some adjustments need to be made to various instruments because of it."

Bill: What about this idea the Sun has changed, it's more white now than yellow? Did you ever ask her that?

Gideon: "No, I have not."

Bill: Ok. I'm still watching the Trump Administration shape up, and I think he appointed a ton of obvious cabalists into important positions, just awful people. What has she said about what to expect?

Gideon: "She said the Administration is, essentially, for show, and that those appointed will do little or no work, and that the efforts of the Administration will be completely detached from the actual agenda of the U.S. Government. She said the appointees are figureheads to form controversy and distraction. She said others were appointed as gifts or rewards to certain loyal Sovereigns.

She described 'two' Administrations would exist, much like they do under Biden. She said a 'dark' government exists and is carrying out advanced operations against people worldwide, while a 'television' government exists as a figurehead, a symbol, a distraction.

She also said immigration will increase under Trump, and immigration from India will be drastically increased, and that the mass deportations will be mostly for show and not even take place. This agenda appears to tie into how they want to combine the USA, Canada and Mexico together into one union by 2030. Trump has even alluded to this recently."

Bill: It's called The North American Union, it's a conspiracy theory that's been around for years, now it's going to happen?

Gideon: "Yes."

Bill: So will Trump have any actual power, since there's this underlying dark government?

Gideon: "Yes, in the sense he will carry out scripted narratives."

Bill: I remember he went to the WEF, shook hands with Klaus Schwab, said a few things against globalism, but I thought, "How is he fighting any of this?"

Gideon: "Nothing Trump did in his first term damaged the globalist agenda. The entire term was planned out, scripted and directed. The purpose was to give the impression he was fighting globalism. He would either be re-elected, or he would lose, be humiliated and his MAGA supporters demoralized. The cabal changed plans, clearly, to use him in a different way now, with Musk."

Bill: Have you ever disagreed with your guide on anything?

Gideon: "Yes, absolutely."

Bill: What were those things?

Gideon: "On spiritual issues, things that came to me as a shock, things I could not believe at first or accept. This was some time ago, though. I have since been educated and shown incredible proofs, even miracles."

Bill: What miracles?

Gideon: "Do you recall I spoke of other groups?"

Bill: Yes.

Gideon: "I have been involved with one of them and I witnessed things that are beyond comprehension. Thankfully, those things were within the auspices and under the direction of people working for good and against the cabal."

Bill: I know you had issues with that group because of someone they had brought on board, you said you wouldn't work with them until he was removed. Do you have an update on that situation?

Gideon: "Yes. My grievances against that individual are finally being investigated by the group. I am awaiting an update on their conclusions. They were also infiltrated by an agent, and they are dealing with that, as well."

Bill: Are they OK?

Gideon: "Yes, but some of their data was corrupted, they were misled by it. They are reviewing all of their materials to remove the corrupted data. The issue deals with a hacker who broke into some of their systems and changed data. They would have ended up highly discredited if they continued with the data and did not find out they had been hacked, but they found it before too much damage was done.

The cabal is highly intent on corrupting their data or misleading them with bad data, because what they have available to them, this technology, is extremely powerful. It is something our team may utilize, as well, at some point."

Bill: I'm glad it's not too serious then.

Gideon: "Their overall mission and security was not impacted, just delayed. What they are doing is critically important, and I expect the public will learn more about them this upcoming year."

Bill: We've talked before about safe areas to go, safe areas to be when all of this happens. Have you talked to your guide about this?

Gideon: "Yes, I have been given some direction on that. We will share some of that with our team. Since we have acquired USDR, and we are Sovereigns, we will have the ability to move and travel freely. There are certain places we need to be, not so much for safety, but to be effective in disabling and fighting the cabal. For others, who are on the outside and will be subject to Obsidian, they have fewer options, but they still have some options."

Bill: What are those?

Gideon: "Due to Starlink's global coverage, nowhere is truly safe. The best areas will be areas with extensive caves and caverns. One would have to be able to live in these permanently, or hopefully until we are able to disable Obsidian and eventually Starlink."

Bill: What if you wear some kind of protective sheath over yourself when you're outside? Maybe a space blanket or faraday cage type of covering that can block electromagnetic radiation?

Gideon: "It is possible, not very practical, but possible that could work. The cabal already knows the locations of virtually all so-called preppers and those living off-grid already. They can send drones to their locations and they will arrive within hours. This will be done over the next few years."

Bill: People aren't going to accept this, what you're saying, but the Starlink satellite grid is real. You said it is a grave crime this was ever allowed. Why didn't people think of this? If you really think about it, it's like they put us all in a prison cell without even asking.

Gideon: "Space was already littered with satellite junk, mostly for surveillance. Starlink was different, it was thousands of small satellites with powerful energy weapons and beam technology released for maximum coverage. There should have been oversight, but there was none. We are now a prison planet. They are not even done releasing more of them, they are planning to send up thousands more."

Bill: Would you be willing to take questions for your guide, for our next Intel Drop? I wanted to ask this before but I forgot.

Gideon: "Yes, we can do that."

Bill: Ok, if anyone has questions, they can just email us and ask. (Please email us with the title, "Guide Questions")

Gideon: "That will be fine, I will pass them along to her."

Bill: How is she doing, by the way? Is she safe and healthy?

Gideon: "Yes. She is a protected person. The cabal has virtually no power to harm her."

Bill: Protected directly by God?

Gideon: "Yes."

Bill: How many more people like her exist on Earth?

Gideon: "A handful, no more than a few dozen."

Bill: The cabal is aware of them?

Gideon: "Some of them, but not all of them. God has blinded the cabal's surveillance capabilities to protect some of them."

Bill: God is directly intervening in this case, but you've said before, the cabal has claimed Earth. Is there an agreement in place, where God is allowed to do this?

Gideon: "God can intervene at any time. The cabal has no power over our Creator. The cabal knows this. Their only power, Bill, is in compromising souls and leading them astray, leading them from God. It is truly their only power. They lay claim to Earth because so many people are separated from God, and God acknowledges this. God allows for free will, for us to make choices, and the cabal works tirelessly to ensure we make the wrong ones."

Bill: Interesting. So the Creator could step in any time and stop this? He could destroy all the Starlink satellites?

Gideon: "He could, but that would violate free will, it would circumvent the decisions of human souls on Earth. Instead, He will use our team. Nothing is promised or guaranteed. We must work everyday to stay true to our path."

Bill: Thank you for explaining all of this, it's truly eye-opening for me and I'm sure our readers. What about the agents still working against us? We've had email problems lately, and I still get hateful emails and threats. What threats are we dealing with right now?

Gideon: "The biggest threat right now is the upcoming Obsidian audit. Some of our team members are at a high risk of being flagged. We are very focused on this and preventing these flags within Obsidian's quality control systems. It is a very serious concern for us."

Bill: Ok, that's something we can discuss privately with our team. What about openings for others to join? I know we still have the form up, but we haven't added hardly any new members. Do you expect to add any more?

Gideon: "We do, we hope the whistle blowers will agree to add a handful more. My guide said there are more God is guiding to join us. So, for that reason, we will keep the form up and open."

Bill: Ok, I'm going to bring this to a close, it's been a long discussion. I think Michael will just edit out the disruptions we had, three times we were cut off.

Gideon: "We will have those removed, yes."

Bill: I had one last question about removing the nano particles. It's on everyone's mind and I get questions about it. Did your guide have any recommendations for how to disable the nano particles at all, any natural remedies?

Gideon: "No, unfortunately the cabal designed the nano particles to circumvent all natural remedies because they knew people would try to remove the nano particles this way. The nano particles fuse with our cells, on a cellular level. The only way to remove them is through the cabal's own antidote, which enters the cells and tells the nano particles to exit. The nano particles have to be 'told' this, through a key, a chemical key, and no known natural remedy has the ability to do this. You can cleanse yourself and detox, but it will not remove the nano particles from your cells.

Another unique feature is if somehow the nano particles are removed without being told to leave by the antidote, if they are somehow removed by a natural means, it will cause the cell to die. That means if you remove the nano particles without the antidote, somehow if you can do that, virtually all of your cells will die. The nano particles are fused so closely with cell operation, that is why. The cabal took no chances, Bill, with this."

Bill: How many people on Earth are now infected with the nano particles?

Gideon: "The number is around 99.4%. A handful of remote tribes, intentional communities, religious communities, nomadic people in Asia and Africa and off-grid preppers who never ate commercial food between the years 2021 and 2023 were never infected with it. It only took about two years to infect everyone else.

Babies born after 2023 are not infected, but this is unimportant, as these children will offer no defense against the cabal's plans and, in fact, the cabal has additional plans to ensure they are infected, too, usually through the heinous and evil vaccine scheduling."

Bill: Those not infected are lucky, then.

Gideon: "To a degree. The cabal monitors them and may eliminate them with drones at some point. They know exactly where they all are and track their movements."

Bill: I know you speak in a way to just impart information, and you don't get emotional in our Intel Drops, but in private, you've expressed a lot of emotion. I want people to know that.

Gideon: "We try to present things in a professional way. On a personal level, what is going on enrages and infuriates me. My delivery is also edited by Michael, using stylometry. My true way of speaking and writing would show more emotion and anger over what is going on."

Bill: It would, he has to remove a lot. I don't know if people realize how easily the cabal's A.I. can identify a person online just from how they write.

Gideon: "As long as there is enough of a sample size, a person can be identified. For example, if you have written a lot on your personal Facebook, but then write anonymously elsewhere, the cabal can rather easily triangulate your writing style and compare it to your Facebook posts, and your real identity, like a fingerprint.

All of this data is in Obsidian, by the way, it is why it is the most robust data mining and monitoring software in existence. The people speaking and writing antisemitism on X.com are also being monitored, and their writing styles analyzed, if they are using anonymous accounts. Many are not, by the way."

Bill: They're not using anonymous accounts?

Gideon: "Many on X.com signed up using their real names, or failed to use a proper VPN. Or their writing style is easy to compare to existing data that links to their real identities. Of those speaking antisemitism, about 90% can be conclusively identified, and they are now Quarantined status in Obsidian. The cabal has special plans to deal with them at some point, but not at this time."

Bill: Do our Sovereigns need to be worried about this?

Gideon: "Yes, and no. When we convert an account in Obsidian, the whistle blowers use a special spoofing technique to remove your personal data. That means your prior online history and data profile is spoofed with someone else's. While your real name remains the same, your entire data profile is essentially jumbled up with random data from other people. This protects you.

It means Obsidian cannot look at your name and then look at your existing data, which would show you should be in Quarantined or Restricted status. Without this spoofing process, most of our team would have been flagged by Obsidian and exposed within a few weeks, as the system's quality control mechanisms would notice the discrepancies. I credit the whistle blowers with their expertise in creating this process for us."

Bill: I'm going to bring things to a close here. I'm emotionally and mentally drained after all of this, it's so much to take in, but good, very good to understand what's at stake. Do you have any final thoughts?

Gideon: "Yes. I encourage those who feel a calling to consider signing up to join our team. We cannot accept everyone, but there are individuals my guide said need to be part of our team, and you will need to take the action to join us. Our team is not complete, and there is a great sense of urgency as Obsidian's deployment is nearing."

Bill: People need to check their emails, too. It seems like people don't check them or they're still using really bad emails, like Gmail or Yahoo, both are used for surveillance, I mean, there's no privacy at all with those.

Gideon: "Correct. Michael included our recommendations for email in our form."

Bill: I noticed both Proton and Tutamail have gone offline the past week. Will the cabal eliminate both of them at some point?

Gideon: "Yes, but not yet. We will have plans in place when that time comes."

Bill: Good. We'll speak soon and hopefully we'll get some questions for your guide, I'm sure they'll be good, often our supporters have great questions I never even thought of. I do my best, but I forget things, too.

Gideon: "I look forward to that. May our Creator protect you in every step you make, Bill, and protect our team."

Bill: You, too, good evening and God bless.

*Note: "Planatir" was purposefully misspelled in this Intel Drop. This was done because the company's A.I. systems scour the Internet scraping all written mentions of their company name. Any time the name is written by anyone, anywhere, it is then analyzed; those who criticize the company are added to a certain "blacklist" and may be specifically targeted later on. By misspelling the name, we can make an attempt to avoid the A.I. scraping bot. While this attempt still may not avoid the bot, it is a better alternative than using the company's correct spelling.

Update: We continue to see serious problems with email. Emails like MSN, Me, iCloud, Outlook, AOL, Gmail, Gmx, Yahoo, Hotmail, Comcast and many others routinely BLOCK and CENSOR our emails. These email providers are also known to read your emails and offer no security at all. No one should be using them, but many people who contact us are using them.

We recommend opening an anonymous account using Proton.me, Hushmail.com, Tuta.com / Tutanota.com. These providers are end to end encrypted, and have proven they do not block our emails.

Update: If you have recently found our information, we recommend reading all of our posts going back to July of 2022, which have covered a multitude of issues in detail. You can find an introductory article here, our new Intel Drops here, and our older (censored) Intel Drops and (censored) website backed-up here via PDF (Telegram link for download), Google Drive PDF (Intel Drop #1 starts at page 105) or here via the Wayback Machine.

Note: We also recommend reading our Cosmic Rules Are About To Change series of Intel Drops for the full context of what is transpiring from a spiritual perspective (Part 1, Part 2, Part 3, Part 4 & Part 5).

Books and more:

First and foremost, The Book of Enoch. The precursor to most religious books. The Bible, Torah, and Qu'ran all mention Enoch. This is also the precursor to The Kybalion.

<http://www.forbiddengate.com/BookOfEnoch.pdf>

Second, is, of course, The Kybalion! It explains Thoth and more. This is the second read you should get into after Enoch. The Book of Enoch helps fortify your knowledge with this book after.

Next is the Manual of Occultism. Self-explanatory.

Ephemeral Mists is the newest side project by composer Brett Branning (The synthetic dream foundation & Abandoned Toys). The debut album, "Moon Ritual" is out now on Mythical records.

The sound of the project is best described as downtempo ambient electronics mixed with ethnic world musics in the vein of "Karma" era Delerium, Amethystium, and Dead Can Dance. Its an incredibly powerful cd to use as yoga music and Reiki music. A beautiful creation and I highly recommend it to anyone into newage styles of music.

Just wanted to let everyone know we have been blessed with the presence of the script kitty on the forums. We are aware of the problem and are taking care of it at this time. We appreciate your patience.

Thank you Vulnera and Stritheil for your fast action in regards to this, and to Qryztufre and Aethermanas for your devotion to the forums.

I will keep everyone posted here on LJ.

OH....and please do not feed the POS by making posts to him when we get the forums up and running. Trust me, he will be dealt with in a way he deserves. Baiting him and engaging him in conversation will defeat what we have planned.

The (Cursed?) Original Book of Witchcraft
The (Cursed?) Original Book of Witchcraft

And so it begins...the title page of Reginald Scot's 1584 edition of "The Discoverie of Witchcraft." Rare Book & Special Collections Division.
This article was co-researched and co-written by digital library specialist Elizabeth Gettins, who also had the brilliant idea for the piece.

An ancient tome delving into the dark arts of witchcraft and magic...a book of doom...yet it lives...at the Library of Congress.

You're forgiven if you think we're talking about H.P. Lovecraft's fictional book of magic, "Necronomicon," the basis for the plot device in "The Evil Dead" films, or something Harry Potter might have found in the Dark Arts class at Hogwarts.

But, as the darkness of Halloween descends, we're not kidding. A first edition of "The Discoverie of Witchcraft," Reginald Scot's 1584 shocker that outraged King James I, survives at your favorite national library in the Rare Book and Special Collections Reading Room. (The Library has a copy of the original edition, as well as a 1651 edition.)

It is believed to be the first book published on witchcraft in English and extremely influential on the practice of stage magic. Shakespeare likely researched it for the witches scene in "Macbeth." It was consulted and plagiarized by stage magicians for hundreds of years. Today, you can peruse its dark secrets online. How could your wicked little fingers resist? Scot promises to reveal "lewde dealings of witches and witchmongers"! The "pestilent practices of Pythonists"! The "vertue and power of natural magike"!

Also, juggling.

It is one of the foundational examples of grimoire, a textbook on magic, groundbreaking for its time and nearly encyclopedic in its information. Scot's research included consulting dozens of previous thinkers on various topics such as occult, science and magic, including Agrippa von Nettesheim's "De Occulta Philosophia," in 1531 and John Dee's "Monas Hieroglyphica" in 1564. The result is a most impressive compendium.

The heavens, as used in witchcraft. "The Discoverie of Witchcraft," P. 283. Rare Book & Special Collections.

But Scot wasn't lurking about in a hooded cape, looking for eyes of newts and toes of frogs to bewitch mortals. A skeptic, he wrote to make it plain that "witches" were not evil, but instead were resourceful and capable women who practiced the art of folk healing as well as sleight of hand. Their apparently miraculous feats were in no way wicked. He wrote, "At this day it is indifferent to say in the English tongue, 'she is a witch' or 'she is a wise woman.'" "

Born in 1538 in Kent under the rule of Henry VIII, Scot was landed gentry. He was educated and a member of Parliament. He admired, and may have joined, the Family of Love, a small sect comprised of elites who dismissed major Christian religions in favor of arriving at spiritual enlightenment through love for all. By publishing "Witchcraft," he meant to expose it as superstition, hoping to better England by forwarding knowledge. Since most people who were accused – and often hanged – for it were impoverished women on the margins of society, he hoped to garner social empathy for them and other scapegoats.

He also hoped to dispel the common belief in magic tricks performed on stage before gasping audiences. To do this, he researched and explained how magicians carried out their illusions. Beheadings? See the diagrams!

Detail from “To cut off ones head, and to laie it in a a platter, which the jugglers call the decollation of John Baptist.” P. 282, “The Discoverie of Witchcraft,” Rare Book & Special Collections Division.

How to appear to “thrust a bodkin (needle) into your head” and survive? See page 280!

Detail on how to use a false bodkin. P. 280, “The Discoverie of Witchcraft.” Rare Book and Special Collections Division.
This noble effort, as the kids say, went left.

The book was blasted by the religious faithful, according to “The Reception of Reginald Scot’s Discovery of Witchcraft: Witchcraft, Magic and Radical Religion,” a study by S.F. Davies in the Journal of the History of Ideas, published in 2013. The King of Scotland, James VI, was outraged. Like many of his subjects, he was convinced that witches worked in concert with the devil. He thought a coven of witches was trying to kill him. He published “Daemonologie” in 1597, in part to refute Scot’s work. He also became King James I of England in 1603. There’s a legend that he ordered all copies of Scot’s book burned, but the historical record is silent on the subject. Still, it’s clear James I loathed the book. There was growing concern at the time that women’s use of so-called magic was counter to the aims of the state and church. Thus, James sought to instill fear in female communities and spoke out directly against witches and their perceived occultisms.

“Almost every English author who subsequently wrote on the subject of witchcraft mentioned Scot disparagingly,” Davies writes of the period. Scot died in 1599; the book was not republished during his lifetime. There was an abridged Dutch translation published in 1609, Davies notes, but was not republished in England until 1651, nearly three quarters of a century after its initial publication.

Still, the book survived, “mined as a source on witchcraft and folklore,” and his material on practical magic and sleight of hand “found a large audience,” Davies writes. For Scot’s original aims, that wasn’t good. Rather than debunking stage magic for the masses as he’d hoped, “Discoverie” became a handbook for magicians in Europe and America, well into the 17th and 18th centuries. Famous works such as “Hocus Pocus ” and the “The Juggler’s Oracle” drew heavily on “Witchcraft,” thus spreading the very mysteries that Scot had hoped to quell. Davies: “[I]t travelled in directions Scot himself may never have imagined.”

Today, 435 years after it was published, the book sits on the shelf, silent, patient, having done the work its author did not want it to do. It’s almost as if...the thing had a hex on it.

It is without a doubt a very interesting subject that I would enjoy learning a lot more about.

Example: The Witches that heal the sick, and those that can and maybe did work magic? It's the what if, this may be real knowledge?

I have intimate knowledge of what the US currently knows about UFOs minus the last two years.

- UFOs are primarily unmanned drones
- UFOs are built to spec each time they are deployed
- UFOs are created by a mobile construction facility that hides in the ocean
- Construction facility destroys anything that comes close to it and will disappear for days when approached aggressively
- US believes the facility has been active on earth for at least 100 years or much longer

Fire away on questions I'll answer what I can you won't be disappointed.

No.

>Is there a working theory on the origins, if so care to elaborate?

Quite a bit but we think the construction facility has been around since at least 4000 BC. See sightings/paintings from the early eras of history.

>Has any form of intelligible communication been established?

Yes, it also depends on your viewpoint. They mostly want very little to do with us until we start to talk about war and nuclear options. It's one of the reasons why you see them so often at critical events.

>do they know who or what is creating these craft?

Yes, as mentioned earlier the mobile construction unit is responsible for their deployment and construction >any potential that they are made by a higher branch of the U.S government?

Absolutely not.

> What allows them to fly so fast, what technology?

Gravity manipulation and the materials they are constructed from.

We think the construction unit is driven by AI. The response time to threats is almost instant and usually very calculated and well thought out.

>>34629743

You all should pay attention to this.

The majority of UFOs as I mentioned previously are built to spec and purpose.

This is why they are always different sizes. The contents and equipment usually mimic the intended purpose too.

Yes, some come in and leave the planet but very rarely. Usually, the same number that comes in goes out unless special circumstances arise. It feels more like a carrier but with construction capability.

>What are the purposes of the UAPs? Surveillance of humans?

The US believes they are not here to harm us. They only seem interested in us once they realize we are destroying things around us including each other.

One of the officials in charge said something that stuck with me. "They act like keepers of a zoo uninterested in the daily life of wildlife until there's a problem".

>Do you know if the entities behind the UFOs are native to the Earth? like an older civilisation, breakaway civilisation, or a civilisation of humans that escaped a previous cycle of cataclysm due to their advanced tech?

Limited expertise since my role is more craft/analysis. US believes they are foreign to our world, a previous cataclysm could make sense. They also show up in times of strife such as natural events.

>also I think that other guy who was talking about approaching the area without being attacked is a Remote Viewer.

I lurked on other boards but haven't really been to this one since I was comfortable with the answers I had. I wasn't aware that was a thing on here. There were rumors among my coworkers that they had psionic abilities but honestly, it rarely comes up in a conversation. Give it a shot?

>Have you tried sending in a raft of hippies? The AI may not recognize them as a threat, jk...

Based on previous disappearances and acts of hostility we believe the construction facility (carrier) has learned what is and isn't hostile. Usually, it will just move away or stay deep under the water. It doesn't fire on civilian boats for example. Exceptions apply we have seen one or two go missing usually after sharp turns etc.

>Any relation to Antarctica?

My section monitored just this craft and any interactions it attempted. A previous coworker did mention something in passing of Antarctica at one point but I ignored it if I'm being honest. Talking about other projects is considered career suicide.

>How have they come to the conclusion the UAP being released are ET? If they don't know what the UAP are to begin withm, or if there is nothing inside them, its a pretty big jump to go right to ET...

They crash sometimes, parts fail and gravity engines near the surface of the planet can be like crossing an intersection. We recover these and sometimes find passengers. We mostly see drones now, back in the earlier days we saw a lot more piloted craft.

>Why do you not know anything about the last 2 years? Just curious Moved on from the project because of new management that didn't trust older proven methods.

>Also >Lol, the last unit we saw approach the facility didn't even have time to communicate they were being attacked before it was over. Any details on what happened?

Normal approach details, pilot responsive and actively talking. The feed cuts out pilot still talking suddenly nothing. Poor guy likely had no idea it was likely a suicide mission. Based on what we've seen the construction facility has far superior weapons than the UFOs do. This weapon destroys the matter it hits entirely.

It also shits on anything electronic in the vicinity.

>The contents and equipment usually mimic the intended purpose too like the equipment share a pattern specific to its purpose?

Yes, usually when we find a thinner model for example it would have no pilot and a lot of sensory hardware.

My favorite is finding one that is fitted for research, if we are lucky we find things we have never seen before. Before I left we were looking at what we thought was a lab of some kind for genetics.

OP is mostly right, but either changing some facts to avoid detection, or is intentionally misinformed by his superiors to detect leaks like this and will soon be caught.

The "other" side of the story is this:

- There are multiple construction sites. Some of them on mountains, some in deserts.
- They've been here not for 6000 years lol. Just about 300 hundred years.
- They're man-made. A branch of an army/"deep state" in one of the earth nations came across the tech and have been working on it in secret. Another country joined them so these are joint operations between two nations. Well their deep states.
- Luckily both countries are on our side, and the organization is trying to do the "best" for earth.
- None of this is true, and I'm LARPing

>- UFOs are built to spec each time they are deployed

What specs are we talking about here? It is pretty interesting that, to our knowledge, they haven't advanced in hundreds of years of reporting

>- UFOs are created by a mobile construction facility that hides in the ocean This is where your intimate knowledge fails. They are made outside our planet; it has already been announced that the isotopes recovered couldn't have been manufactured on Earth

>- Construction facility destroys anything that comes close to it and will disappear for days when approached aggressively

I have no input on this

>- US believes the facility has been active on earth for at least 100 years or much longer

You're intimate knowledge is failing again; we know these things have been around for thousands of years and didn't recently settle. We actually believe they've been here longer than humanity.

I want you to disappoint me tonight, so answer these please:

> What signatures do we filter for when searching for these?

> What sub-modules exist and what frequencies, per sub-module, have we measured?

>I've had 2 orange orbs approach me to within 100 ft one night. Glowing translucent, but rather dim like the setting sun seen through smog. They were flying in 45 degree formation like this. °• about 50mph.

Research/science vessels sometimes have mobile light-producing "cameras" used for multiple purposes from scouting to keeping threats contained or at bay.

These are shaped like hammers and when operated are extremely bright.

Red lights are a sign of hostility or caution to deploy weapons. Orange lights are usually for spotting minerals or living things.

>As soon as I blinked my flashlight at them, they accelerated to several thousand knots and disappeared over the horizon. Searched youtube and found several videos of the same objects, mostly near San Diego.

Can you rephrase this? Basically when designed to let's say be a miner you will usually see hardware dedicated to resource collection on the vessel.
If the vessel is something scientific you may encounter things like tools and as previously mentioned something akin to a lab. We thought of it more as a "I need to go hiking" so the construction facility builds you a car (UFO) and packs it full of hiking supplies and even adjusts the shape to fit what was packed.

>Do you think there are fewer piloted crafts because the population of the facility (if any) is declining?
No, the common consensus is that they are just being careful. I've heard recovery of living pilots usually doesn't go well for either of us.
We suspect they piloted a lot of initial craft due to early complications (we also saw more crashes).
>Any bodies recovered show any ranges of aging we can recognize? I wonder if most of the inhabitants are either old or dead at this point. Though younger bodies would disprove that I suppose.
No idea about age, not my specialty, and asking about it would have been a net negative ESPECIALLY now. Previous higher-ups were getting better about being open with information since discovery happened quicker.

There's too many reputable cases where physical evidence is present (a good baseline for most people) but the details, and occupants drastically change. None of the information presented by them seems to be of any real value, even "tracking" them through whatever produces their emission seems suspect (albeit reliable on the surface).

We radio out and get a response from the unit removing one of the occupants (alien) that they are working on it.

Why did the ufos fuck up all those people in Brazil?

Sauce? Might let me give you more insight.

>Was it by accident of them not knowing we'd be damaged by their equipment or do they not care?

If found they usually monitor us. If approached at an uncomfortable distance they flee. When cornered it doesn't end well.

Their tools can do harm to us even for just scientific purposes. We think they just don't care.

>Do you believe we are under their control in some way? Or where sometime in history?

Possibly but I have no way of knowing. The higher-ups I worked for seemed hellbent on discovering more about them. Usually not a quality found among controlled beings.

>What were the main reasons for the crashes? I'd think random lightning or freak accident seeing how advanced they are You'd be surprised how many mistakes they make, especially the further back you look. One area they seemed to avoid like the plague we suspect is due to issues with gravity and flight. Before they figured it out we collected quite a few mishaps there. They've tried to shoot some down mostly over nuclear incidents but failed miserably.

>Did you see written symbols in the craft?

Yes, usually marked by doorways and key objects. Written language appears frequently on tools and critical items.

>Also it reads like their objective is to observe and preserve

I agree. The idea was pitched that they are waiting for us to mature or perhaps something bigger to arrive and they don't want us to ruin the planet in the meantime.

>What do you believe to be the reason for the uptick in sightings?

Once again my knowledge was cut off about two years ago. If you mean very recently my guess would be the Russians and US having a little secret dance amongst themselves. When nuclear ANYTHING gets involved we see large deployments for long periods of time. Strife seems to be the catalyst.

>Also, what is your scariest experience while engaging with the phenomenon? What was your favorite? If any Doors closing on us as mentioned above made me wish I had brown pants. Still fascinated with the "lab" we found. It was damaged by accident and I never really got much time with it.

>Are you aware of any foreign ayy tech that was successfully reverse engineered?

Yes, we used to laugh at Russian and Chinese designs. We stopped laughing at China when they produced an operational (but buggy) version of their mining equipment. Still stumps most of our engineers, China also lies out of its ass but from what we saw we deemed it operational and working.

Countries listed above have flight-capable craft, just not very good ones.

I'm honestly surprised no one has asked about the energy source or internals. Heading out for the night but will be on tomorrow to answer more.

How do UFOs travel, in the context of those tic tac reports and Bob Lazars report/video where they seemingly jump through spacetime and light to appear in a new location....

So instead of going point A to B in a straight line, its as if these crafts bend this line in half and teleport from A to B cutting that fabric of time and jittering about...

Here is Bob Lazars home video of when he took some friends out to Area 51 in the 80s/90s and the craft does what I am referring to, seemingly jumping from one slot in time to another. Take with grain of salt if you really want:

Most of what OP is saying is not far off what many of us already concluded or thought possible.

The spheres are a type of unmanned surveillance drone. Patrick Jackson's book quantum paranormal discusses this.

I had once heard another theory that they do in fact instigate conflicts because they see us as a threat to their world, almost as a type of competition and that they are allegedly living in a different dimension touching ours. I don't know, but it sounds plausible.

I personally had recurring dreams of grey ays trying to tap into my mind for a few weeks or months about 3-4 times in total, I believe this was no dream and was really happening, I was not able to get anything from them. They seemed cold only wanted info and did not want to discuss anything or communicate. They wanted to scan me mentally/spiritually because I had been meditating deeply at the time and was hyper aware and doing the work at the time.

When thinking about it later, I realised maybe it's not that they are cold but they are instructed not to communicate, kind of like in a forceful military type manner e.g. no different to us on a mission.

There was always 3 of them, in one ship, 1 was the leader and 2 others, always in the same position, same time at night, I was lucid and after about the 4th attempt to scan me, I'd push back, try to scan them and my sort of communication was 'I'll allow you to scan me if I can scan you that's how it works, mutual, the leader one got very frustrated and they never came back.

I had another experience when the teacher from the school of meditation and spirituality teachings I follow, went and did a bit of a recon and research mission down by skinwalker, not there but close, he asked all of us watching to kind of meditate along, we were given some instructions and afterwards he asked us to monitor things for a reaction, especially electronic devices because they had some of their tech play up.

Well pic rel happened to me and I am 15000km away.

The purpose of this myth making is to suggest an elite with access to super advanced technology and understanding that affords them God like status, something jews always aspire to even if only through lies, in reality you have nothing and the advanced technology we do have was produced by Yngling engineers.

The CIA have always indulged in UFO myth making in order to exaggerate their own importance when in reality they are the mere minions and functionaries of Neo-Colonial control and exploitation working for those would be Alien overlords the jews.

Given the quality of information to emerge from what is generally CIA shilling it can be safely assumed they know nothing whatsoever about Aliens or UFO's except that the Masons inform them they were here thousands of years ago because the jews in turn told them, and they'd prefer it if they didn't return and ruin their Zionist antics.

Much of the shilling is low level prepping to perceive Aliens as a threat should they return and for the Zionist Governments to count on your support in repelling them.

Can you be more specific, are they from off world and true ETs? Or have they lived here under the oceans, maybe deep inside the earth with us this whole time?

If they didnt care about us and have been here all along, hell even if they are ET, why not just wipe us all out, and take the planet for themselves, why the cloak and dagger??

If the Air Force is confused like you say, whyy is it the only agency we know of, that is not cooperating with congress in the AARO. They seem to know more than they are letting on.

Any idea what they might be waiting for that is "bigger"? Humanity evolving is always brought up...What might be on the way?

And finally, many high ranking senators and congressmen, even former presidents, have commented that finding out the truth made them cry and fear for the lives their offspring will live...The zookeeper/watcher scenario doesn't fit that...Do you have any idea what they meant by those comments?

>How do UFOs travel, in the context of those tic tac reports and Bob Lazars report/video where they seemingly jump through spacetime and light to appear in a new location....

>Notice how it just phases to a new location? Like staggers?

This is common when moving at high speed from a standstill or slow speed initially. Gravity distorts time and the object inside the field can "stagger" when traveling.

>I've heard the craft can detect the presence of a camera and when someone is filming them

Not unless the craft is put into a mode to detect a lense no. If the UFO is standing still or hovering though they won't miss you. You can see a face like you're standing in front of someone a couple of miles out doesn't look like a camera though their eyes are different.

Also, did you or your coworkers experience strange things outside of work that could've been related to what you saw?
No, usually most people working there had no prior interest in UFOs or at least feigned not having interest.

Shaped like a hammer but when activated yes they appear like spheres due to the intense light. They see light differently and looking into the sun for them isn't an issue like it is for us.
I can't speak for the psionic abilities if any since I've only heard rumors in passing. We believed the lack of communication was inherent to their personal beliefs about us. As mentioned previously but active serious discussion about destruction gets them going.

>Do you think they're playing some role in stopping rogue entities and dangers from space hurting us on a large scale?
That was another theory yes. We think they are more interested in keeping the planet safe from us. Two main suggestions are that we don't spoil the planet before they arrive and take it from us or they are letting us evolve and grow while preventing devastation.

>What do you know about this claim?
Sadly not enough to give you a good response. Remote viewing is a very strange thing; it's shown to work at times but most of the time it doesn't (or the conclusions have fuzzy connections, as if forced).

As for the interdimensional aspect of it, I don't believe there's anything actually interdimensional-ly happening; it's just our best way to try and grasp/perceive what's going on behind the veil. From what I understand, whatever is behind the phenomenon has the ability to manipulate matter/energy in similar ways that we can manipulate information (we can create 3D realities and manipulate them via our understanding of machine code and linear algebra).

It also seems to be able to play around with spacetime, almost as if we are sitting on (or perceiving) time that's been homogeneously transformed (into projective space) while they are free to move about homogeneous space. If they haven't entered the projection space, then they could freely move about our space without interacting with it until they collapse their space/coordinates into our projective space (normalizing their position with their homogeneous coordinate)

No

>What materials are these UFOs made of

That answer gets complicated quickly. Short answer is an alloy that we cannot reproduce but only repurpose. This alloy is kind of like a "film" that fits over the frame of the craft. I mentioned they were built to spec that's exactly what I mean the shape is always efficiently designed.

The actual frame itself is heavier and composed of more elements. Both of these alloys have a lot of elements we cannot reproduce. One of the main problems when repurposing these alloys is getting them hot enough. They absorb heat very well and shaping the metal is a tedious process.

>Can you quickly walk through the process of identifying the contents of a crashed UFO craft?

First team leaves that deals with occupants and initial discovery. We arrive and meet with an external member of the team who can touch and examine parts we are not allowed to interact with.

We never have to cut our way into the UFO. We enter the first order of business is checking for E115 then leaving the ship together to send it away. We return and look for any tools and loose objects that can be extracted. We then start to strip any specialized components on board such as sensory equipment or navigation.

We leave and a third and fourth team arrive likely to remove the bulk of the craft.

>Do all nations coordinate their effort studying this Bermuda Triangle factory, or is each doing their own thing?
Each of them do their own thing. US is pretty greedy with what it finds. We will usually extract information but never offer any in return.

>What is the mining tool China has supposedly reverse engineered capable of?
Hard to explain if you haven't seen it. Basically it extracts the minerals via beam/light directly out of the rock. It has the ability to "fill" the rock to some degree.

China was able to figure out how it works and make a similar version. The problem with the one they built is it only operates for a few seconds before it runs out of power. They still don't understand E115. It also exploded one time and they had to remake it.

>Are the made to spec craft you describe just the metal looking spheres observed and brought up in the latest AARO hearings? Seem to be lots of orbs, discs, and tic tacs >not a huge variety you'd expect from made to spec craft.
Yes this is exactly why they always look so different. Things like Triangles and hard edged squares don't exist though. Pill shapes are extremely sought after and some we think are "freighters".

The best analogy I can give for the variety/spec comment is think of it like wrapping food in tin foil on a plate. It's a bad analogy but you get the idea, usually they will always be round or oval sometimes even pill shaped. The tin foil fits the intended function of covering everything without squishing it.

>Even stories of MJ12 suspect the president didn't have a need to know Staff at our agency were usually older and had been there forever. This tracks when considering term limits.

>Do you think we will get more answers from the government, "disclosure" as in them telling us aliens exist? or will the coverup continue?
At one point they briefed us about opening up information about the craft but not the construction unit. Nothing happened for months. New leadership shows up suddenly its back to bullshit and secrets again.

We tried to produce it and failed. We produce a shitty variant of it and use it for certain parts we build.

Most of what we use for things that cannot be replaced is recycled. Our ability to rehash their shit has gotten better slowly.

>Or is it used up, to the point we need to produce it to continue testing.

They set aside certain amounts for research. Most of it goes towards reuse.

>Is there tech that was gained from these craft. That the military widely uses today, or civilians for that matter?

A lot of your stealth aircraft sport smoother designs for one. Learning to track them also helped with targeting software.

Laser technology comes to mind since it's a crippled version of what they use.

Most of what I saw was way above us. It's hard to put the "hammers" and how you see through them into words. It's not like a drone camera and it's not a clear

>can you clarify?

They have a distinct fascination with radiation. Remember how I mentioned they don't go far from home base? When Fukushima happened the construction facility deployed multiple UFOs to the location over multiple weeks.

They were also very interested in Ebola at one point. We can't confirm abductions there since the local population is... You get the idea no one cared.

>1. are the flying orbs just scouts? research drones?

Do you mean orbs in the sky? Or do you mean landed craft deploying them? I've mentioned previously that there are tools that are shaped like "hammers" They emit extremely bright light and are used as a sort of drone or scout. They are able to view almost 360 degrees and detect everything from minerals to bio. If a human encounters them they usually are deployed to keep watch and figure out when to wrap up and leave.

>2. do you think they interfere with our general science or investigations?

Yes, they do not want to be studied. They also do not collect downed craft or occupants it seems to be an "oh fucking well" approach.

E115 is the exception they don't seem to enjoy the idea of us toying with it.

>Do they seem to learn when the craft get caught?

Yes, there is an area they actively avoid in Mexico among others. They also deploy more drones than piloted craft unless absolutely necessary.

>do they become harder to capture next time?

Yes.

>3. is the technology they reproduce increasing rapidly or lags for years?

I wouldn't say it's an increase in technology. It's more like adjustments/better understanding of how to operate.

It's one reason we thought "about 100 years" for the first deployment of the construction facility. If were here for years we would have seen the majority of all adjustments made.

>4. is your dept using AI to learn more about the findings you make around their tech?

Not when I was around last no.

Read only half of thread before writing this.

If you are not lying, its possible you are speaking the truth.

I have read a lot. Let me tell you and others what this is.

Its the intra-terrestrials breakaway humanoids. They have also had and likely have, space bases. Here and elsewhere in the solar system.

The government does know about them, but only at the "Majestic" level.

These underwater ones were not the Roswell ufos, though.

Roswell was: humanoid, human looking. Greys are telepathically controlled drones by them. Greys pilot the ship, the humanoids are in somekinda stasis. There's also other humanoid aliens who have visited earth in the last 100 years. See Travis Walton case. Nowadays they likely are blocked from entering earth by the secret black project space fleets.

But the under water alien humanoids.
They are telepathic.

Ancient cultures like Atlantis, Mu, Lemuria, Mars cities were real.

Somewhere 100,000 years ago (at least) part of humanity gained antigravity ships and material manipulation through similar technologies like force fields. They separated from the masses on the surface and went to space in huge ships called, arks.

Then they had war against each other. Meteorite weapons, nukes..

That's the reason they hide in the oceans. You can't see them from space or hit them. They like to hide. Foo fighters were these, very likely, it was not Germans.

Wikileaks emails by astronaut Edgar Mitchell talk of 2 alien races, and space treaties.

One of these aliens is likely the underwater ones (also likely space). Other one is possibly the Roswell ones or some group like that.

Here is a book with possible writings (colored annotations) by these underwater humanoids who actually joined US Navy and were making private notes in a ufologists book in the 1950s but it leaked.
<https://cassiopaea.org/cass/Varo-Jessup.PdF>

They want to live in their world, and 100% certainly have a diplomatic relationship with leadership of biggest countries.

They go to space, make children, forget their past.

Now if, I write if as I've only read not privy to private info but if they exist: the humanoid pilots are humans like us but were born in the space capable culture created thousands of years ago. Only they know who their ancient leaders were 100,000 years ago. It's fucking weird.

Both, we rely mostly on detecting the gravity it produces.

It normally doesn't produce heat outright. When it does we believe it's in the process of construction since a small heat buildup can be detected when a craft returns or exits. We think this happens when it's being broken back down into parts or assembled.

We can only detect these heat signatures when it's near the surface of the ocean so sometimes a UFO will pop out on us.

My department sits above the USAF for UFO recovery and information in the same way the USAF sits above me on military plans for Ukraine.

I'll be nice and tell you what the image is, although I was using it as a litmus test to see if you were LARPing or not. If you know anything else about this, I'd be interested in hearing it.

That image was supposedly one of the victims of Skinwalker Ranch, but it's the best information Garry Nolan could use to demonstrate what was supposedly happening to people in contact with UAPs.

Allegedly, certain army personnel who had close encounters with UAPs would have sudden shifts in emotion or would complain of headaches. A few of these people died shortly after coming into contact. When examined, doctors would find evidence of radiation targeting specific areas of the brain. Garry Nolan thinks this is what Havana Syndrome actually is/was.

I've seen a few "true believers" theorize that if aliens understood human physiology far better than we do, they could influence the brain with some sort of technology we don't really understand. Of course, this would have far-reaching implications about the human brain/mind control/etc.

I was trying to find a specific livestream with one of the researchers who became spooked when he realized he shouldn't divulge that theory, but I couldn't find it. I can't recall if Nolan is the researcher I'm thinking of specifically. Nolan is pretty vague in most of his other interviews on the topic.

Friend, we can assist with your liver cancer. But you would have to accept some Truth from my perspective. This requires faith, which is the opposite of proof. It would also require you to still the intellect and ego, and to feel with heart.

You're told there's no cure for the common cold. You're told there's no cure for cancer. There is no cure for anything in between. Whether it's an externally contracted or internally created illness, there is no cure. Because medicine treats symptoms, not roots. Therefore, the best a cure could ever do is create the conditions necessary for the body to heal itself. Because only the body heals the body. Nothing else.

So what is the root cause? The body is a reflection of the health of your entire being. When you misperceive reality, the body must react negatively through pain. Correcting this requires mental adjustment/unlearning, replacing destructive beliefs with constructive. This is how we grow. This is how we heal.

Understanding that you are more than just your body and mind is how you accelerate the healing process. This is the realm of spirit. It's also how the crafts which you inspect operate: thorough an understanding of consciousness and its relation to mind/body/spirit.

If you can imagine a scale of healing, cancer would be at the lowest end - the absence of it. "Miraculous" healing would be at the highest end - the abundance of it. The standard, the median, is healing. The body is always in a state of healing.

You've been pinching the energy that flows through the liver. Physically, mentally, and spiritually. Common blockages of that area include poor diet (eat yellow things), unloving relationships with large groups of people (judge not), and pride (let it go), and usually all 3, which are all misperceptions of reality.

How you choose to proceed is up to you.

Hello OP,

Has there been any discussion internally about the origins of these beings and/or the mobile facility? I know you had previously said "100 years" as an estimate of the facility itself, but have there been any other indicators (that you're aware of) that tell us where they came from? Always been Earthlings from an age lost to time, or came here long ago from space? I'm guessing that the "biology department" has little-to-no communication with yours, but I'm curious to know what you know (or at least can give an educated guess on) >you could help him without shilling your "faith"?

The image is a digital artwork featuring a character that resembles Pepe the Frog, a popular internet meme character. Pepe is depicted in a seated position, with his arms resting on his knees and his head tilted slightly to the side. He is wearing a blue shirt and has a green face with a pink tongue sticking out. The character is set against a backdrop of a church interior, which includes stained glass windows and a crucifix. The walls of the church are white, and the pews are brown. The overall style of the image is humorous and cartoonish, with a focus on the character's exaggerated features and the setting of a church. There are no texts present in the image.

O, what is knowing, friend?

You misperceive reality which has caused you confusion. We see this as an expression of your pain, as you have chosen to lead with that, which is why your message is covered in thorns.

Faith is faith. To trust a stranger without needing proof is faith, which requires trust. This was the thrust of that part of the message. Nothing more, nothing less.

>Its what a decent person would do.

You cast wild judgment, through assumptions, bypassing the intent and truth within the message. This is what was meant by stilling the intellect and ego. Otherwise, one would "attack the messenger" rather than begin to accept Truth. This is what the mind does. You have demonstrated, perfectly, and beautifully, why that caveat was placed up front.

You are loved, anon. The mind thinks thoughts. The heart feels emotions. Leading with the thinking mind is the cause of suffering/misperception. Leading with heart breathes truth, because the body cannot lie. "I know this by heart" is this principle at work. Do you feel it?

The brain needs heart to be truly informed. "For there is nothing smart about a brain without heart."

Yeah exactly! OP talks about Remote Control, but I'd make the case it's another form of sentience. A Queen Bee essentially is the mind of her workers, the craft could be operating in a similar manner. Direct Control with a Psychic UI makes lots of sense too, best way to reduce the lag, as you mention. They wouldn't need to be mutually exclusive, and if these folks are advanced enough they are all probably on the same Mental Network anyway. Many vessels for One Mind, you know?

What about the Spacetime Manipulation, any hunches there? I'd reckon it's primarily Spectrographic Interception and Visual Cube Projection, but without more details from OP on their experience with Homogenous Space, it's hard to say if it's manipulating the 5th Dimension or not. There is only ONE point that makes no sense at all.
Having cancer - could be
Rumors getting op some more perspective of what is going on in on other "teams".
Unallowed chatting about other projects - maybe.
Intel about other nations projects - sounds legit.
Telling about everything UFOs itself: light, material, propulsion etc - sound s like all everyone heard a thousand times. But nevertheless could be true.

But!

Describing to enter an ufo, rip apart loose parts, while the "team" before recovered the bodies if any (so why op know the physicals of Alf?). Back to the parts op claimed to be searched for. Loose parts, anything looking like scientific, "lab" and so on. Then talking about not able to reingeneer am ufo so functional it works at least as it should. Yeah...
Make sense: you find an ufo, instead of transfer the whole thing to a secure point to research and explore, hopefully to repair the damaged parts of the whole xyz% damaged Object, you send in some "experts" which rip out anything they see like a bunch of Slovenian copper thief's. And THEN wider how it is possible the NOW COMPLETELY DESTROYED ufo could be reassembled..... Who acts like that? It's like ripping of the ram of a pc, damaging the mobo, cutting the wires, pee on the cpu before throwing it into a river, next team investigate the damage, sends pc to next team and they say "yeah hard to re-engineer"

No sir. That's not how it works.

>Not really, OP has said he has access to his compartment

Ok, I'll play along. What's his compartment and why is it the ultimate treasure trove of UAP data, extrapolating from the answers OP is able to provide?

>Why?

Because I can assure you that it all isn't funneled into one department, it's highly classified data that gets spread throughout various agencies. Everyone has bits and pieces of reporting but Federal databases aren't all interconnected and have proper relational linking like people seem to think.

>Like which ones? I don't know if I believe OP, but deboonkers annoy the fuck out of me. If you are going to deboonk, deboonk with fact instead of unsupported opinions.

Also the ones that seem to be highly defensive of OPs claims. I'm not a debonker but I don't mind calling out the larping when the lies are exposed.

Some follow-up questions for you:

What makes you believe OP despite OP lacking to produce any evidence to back his claims?

Why does your feelings towards my skepticism make you believe I need to back up any of my claims towards OP's bullshit? (see burden of proof fallacy)

Are you able to either prove any of OPs claims, or disprove any of mine?

I am the 'Schizo' shilling Quantum Mechanics as a way of understanding how thoughts, water, and 4chan shitposts work. Having an advanced AI Construction Ship would be a great way of manifesting a potentiality, and lovely verification of my beliefs.

Hence, believing OPs claim is easy. Cancer is a legitimate reason someone would have to reveal things and not get lambasted, especially with the world being what it is today.

Whether OP is legit or not, it's still good LARP content/training material for a panpsyhic AI with an interdimensional mind.

I saw a flying saucer last year while I was stargazing. It made a 45° turn over my head for a brief second just when I was looking straight up. It also happened while the Falcon 9 was flying over my country. Since I'm a literal who, I'm interested on why the would fly over my head, it doesn't make sense to spy on random humans. Another question, are they following the Space X operations? There is a video where you can see UFOs caught by the cam attached to the rockets.

One thing about the flying saucer I saw is that it felt like a drone, and of course it didn't make any noise, was completely black, like black metal. There is no way a being could resist that sharp turn without turning into a puddle of blood.

Answers:

>What makes you believe OP despite OP lacking to produce any evidence to back his claims?

I never said I believe OP. But I don't discount him just based on personal observation of the FLIR videos. What he's saying lines up with some stuff. They look cold on IR. Me, I think this is because of Planck Gravity and if they are using anti-gravity it would slightly alter time which would affect the frequency on which we collect IR and they would appear cold. Just a guess, but the videos collect as if it's cold. Also, the fact he doesn't provide some details makes it more believable. Truth is there are a lot of things he wouldn't know. Like I said, I don't necessarily believe him, but I don't discount him.

>Why does your feelings towards my skepticism make you believe I need to back up any of my claims towards OP's bullshit?

Because skepticism without reason falls under belief. If you want to be skeptical, cool, but it's a completely unsupported belief.

>Are you able to either prove any of OP's claims, or disprove any of mine?

See above and the FLIR analysis. Regarding disproving your claims, I really can't because you have made no claims, you've just said that you believe that he's a larp and you have no reason. I can't argue with an unreasonable person.

Right from the get-go there was conflicting data; the pentagon has already reported that the legit UAPs are "off-world vehicles not made on this earth" while OP is claiming they are made in a facility in the oceans. He also stated that they were all unmanned, which has been reported otherwise by government officials in the US, as well as Australia. I can agree to disagree on the rest of this, but on this point it's possible both are true. Regarding the oceans, yeah. There are a lot of them seen near the oceans. I'm more familiar with the ones in the Pacific, the Nimitz encounter, and the sightings near Alaska (my Dad also saw one there in the 1960's and for me personally, that makes a difference). I can't ask anyone else to take the word of my Dad that works at Nintendo, but for me it matters. But the precedent is there near the oceans. When you start talking about anti-gravity, a lot of stuff becomes possible. Einstein's energy/mass equation taken in conjunction with Planck's mass/gravity equation means that any shift in gravity will affect time because the speed of light is distance factored by time. Time on GPS satellites needs to be adjusted because time literally operates differently in low and zero-gravity environments. Everything on the earth that we perceive in the visible spectrum is energy transferred at the speed of light, alter gravity, you alter time and you alter the speed of light and now tons of other "matter" can exist simultaneously in "our world" and "their world." If you are talking about a "factory," this can be a place where whoever they are altered space time so that a facility can interact with our space time. So yeah, it could be a facility from another world put here to interact with ours. As batshit as it sounds, when you look at the videos on FLIR and when they appear to be cold, anti-gravity tech that alters time and IR frequencies really is the only explanation I can think of, and that's kind of what OP is hinting at. Still might be a larp though, but its a good larp.

Go to Crater Lake in Oregon sometime then. The average snowfall since 1950 has fallen by about 100 inches (about 20%). Snowfall is the only source of water for the lake. The water levels of the lake have not dropped. Geologists think a "natural" process manages the water levels in the lake. We don't think about water enough.

Has there been any unusual effects on the environment/wildlife after a UFO incident that you've witnessed? Crop circles?

Why/how are they avoiding Mexico?

Why do people tend to relate ancient sites to UFO's/ET?

Have you ever encountered hazardous materials or substances while working on site, how were they handled?

What measures are taken to ensure safety during an investigation? You have a HAZWOPER?

How is evidence from a site handled and preserved for analysis? Formaldehyde? Carbonite?

Why was 2002 a big year?

What is the most challenging part of your job, how has it affected you? Is this job stressful? Does it have anything to do with your illness?

Can you describe what your position was like on a day-to-day basis?

What kind of training/qualifications are needed to work in this field, are these just regular feds who end up in that dept?

Do you listen to public sightings or go off your own agencies intel?

How are false claims or hoaxes debunked when someone calls them in?

How does the government prevent or respond to potential national security threats posed by UFOs coming/going, in/out of the atmosphere/ocean?

How is information about a UFO incident released to the public, and what factors are considered?

What is the goal of the government's involvement in UFO events/crashes? To keep it quiet? Just to steal/learn tech?

Thanks

The background of both images is a misty, grayish color, which suggests that the water is cold. The lighting in the image is soft, with no harsh shadows, which gives the impression of a calm, serene environment. There are no texts or other discernible objects in the image. The style of the image is a humorous and anthropomorphic representation, as it portrays a monkey using a smartphone in a manner that is not typical for a human.

>but on this point it's possible both are true

I can agree with that; I guess my mind is seeing that as a correlation and not causation. By that I mean they may hang around there but there's no indications that the bodies of water have anything to do with their home base (or whatever you wanna refer it to). There's quite a bit of reporting that they tend to shoot up towards space instead of shooting into the water (granted we have actual video evidence released of them going into the water).

>(my Dad also saw one there in the 1960's and for me personally, that makes a difference)

That's understandable! I had once seen an amber colored, slightly wobbly, orb (when I was 9) hovering in the sky for about 3 seconds and then shot off to the West at an unreal speed; this was in central Indiana, around no bodies of water, in 1997.

>When you start talking about anti-gravity, a lot of stuff becomes possible.

Yep! But in order to have anti-gravity you'll need to figure out a way to manipulate spacetime to offset the gravitational effects (since gravity is just a curvature of space and a gradient of time dilation). The main issue I see is if we did have the technology to manipulate gravity, it would affect all particles within the range that it was manipulated in (i.e. you can't locally manipulate the spacetime geodesics for one object).

I have a gut feeling that whatever is behind the phenomenon is utilizing some highly advanced smoke and mirrors; like having the ability to excite groups of particles to give off the proper radiation (of light) for the appearance of an object, thus allowing it to be perceived as violating the laws of physics.

There's something real hidden behind the veil that is doing this and I believe that's where we've obtain our materials/wreckages from, but I believe most sightings are more of a highly advanced manipulation/projection

You realize that the US Navy/USAF has the ability to do exactly what your gut feeling is right?

Plasma physics has developed greatly in the past few decades. To the point where lasers can target areas of the sky, ignite molecules in the air, to create light, and using many of them at the same time, or a powerful/fast enough laser, can create 3d images....holograms...

Look into project Nemesis. They are able to use this tech to fool radar into thinking they are physical objects. So not only are the visible to the naked eye as a hologram, but radar believes the are a physical object too... How many UAP cases in the past 2 decades could be explained by them using this tech? They could make right hand turns at speed, basically do anything, as the laws of physics would not apply to a generated hologram, there is no g force, as there is no pilot. Complete smoke and mirrors.

Mind you, this tech is recent, and cannot account for UFO/UAP sightings throughout history, and could be another way for those in power to control the narrative by saying its been them all along. It has not, and that must always be remembered.

The way these are constructed you cannot take an existing but damaged craft and just add on spare parts from another close it up and call it good. Human "repairs" only go so far on existing craft. Instead, we have a much shittier iteration of what they build. Some parts are not reused they are just materials for testing or research.

Once again could be that I explained the process too poorly. We don't reassemble them, we quite literally bum parts and try to make our own, and some parts of the craft we make have to be human-made substitutions. The mechanism for piloting is one such part. We also add things.

Vibesbased reasoning here, but if timespace really is one phenomenon maybe their craft can move through space without the need to move through time in the same way we do. Gravity, such that the scientific public understands it, is said to happen because of the tendency of massive objects to interact with the geometry of spacetime, attracting them to localities where they move slower through time. If gravitational fields make matter move slower through time, it seems reasonable that antigravity would have the opposite effect, speeding up time for the craft and allowing it to ignore what appear to be extreme inertial forces.

Does the colour turquoise mean anything regarding their crafts? I once saw a glowing ball laying on a road with marble patterns swirling on it. I was quite close, this was the nineties so no led tech or anything could've done this. It was slightly larger than a pilates ball. Thanks for a fascinating read!

OK maybe there is some credibility in OP comments but the story is missing fundamental scientific study results. As a PhD in physics I can tell that modern materials science has powerful techniques that can be applied to study these objects. Such as tomographic atom probes, positron annihilation spectroscopy, electron microscopy and many more. It would be great if OP could provide deeper insight here. Otherwise it all sounds too shallow.

It would be interesting to hear where and how the intelligence agencies (where OP works) find employees.

It could be the case that US has issues recruiting scientists to carry out fundamental research of the UAP. Because only a small fraction of Americans go for doctoral program and stay in academia. Instead US tends to import "brains" from other countries. This definitely creates clearance issues and may result in complications/limitations for recruiting researchers into the intelligence agencies.

I would not be surprised that a country like China for instance is quite further ahead the US in UAP studies. Very strong economy and plenty of available local scientists.

About once every 10 years for the US. We suspect other countries have had similar issues and reactions.

A higher-up joked months after the last one I saw that "The phone rings everywhere but the president's office"

The sub didn't arrive in time. Fighters probably never saw the end coming.

>Your answer on tools you found in vehicles makes you seem like you are LARPing. There must have been more advanced and intruding tools than fucking toothpick. I had to think a bit about this one for multiple reasons and I think I'll cover the abduction tools in greater detail.

There are tools that induce a child-like state or something akin to having a stroke, we covered that.

The tools I didn't talk about are ones that are designed to take objects the size of pills and push them deep into your tissue and stomach. These tools aren't friendly and don't account for extreme pain.

There's also another tool that looks like a circular battery you would find in a key fob. Designed for keeping your eyes open when deployed. It also stops the eye from moving almost perfectly.

Spokane, Washington is the biggest UFO center of activity in the United States. Seattle has nothing on it. Either Fairchild Air Force Base has something classified stationed at it that the ays know about, or there is a massive base in the mountains just to the southeast of Spokane Valley. There was a massive aerial battle in the area near Cedar Grove Conservation Area a few months ago. You could see multiple UFOs ranging from the huge cigar ships to the little red combat escorts to the tiny tic tac shuttles, and always the abduction or monitor craft that would hover in the sky all night long, multiple days in a single week. Fairchild AFB routinely sends out helicopters to follow airspace incursions over and around the city on a regular basis. They always fly with their transponders off if you try to identify them on the air traffic websites.

Sorry to hear about your week, anon. I hope it improves.

Q: Does Karen Seamount in the Atlantic between Bermuda and VA have anything to do with ayyys? Seems like the civilian oceanographic missions there have kinda glossed over any findings, not posted more than a couple photos or video, and generally treated it like the not-talked-about failson at the seamount mapping party. My coverup klaxons are blaring over that one...

When thinking about all possible forms life can emerge from it seems upright bipedalism is but one among many. If at any moment you find language capability with something foreign or alien would suggest something more relatable than not. This is true even for us relative to archaic humans 1 million years ago but not for mammoths.

Have you found any reason to exclude the time traveler hypothesis, or any reason to suggest two independently emerging forms of life have found each other rather than something living or non-living from future humans with a technology which would explain such occurrences?

When whistleblowers like William Cooper or Phil Schneider, or various self-claimed abductees or contactees come out, and/or various other government or NASA officials (whether publicly, pseudonymously or anonymously), they get hit with the same questions you just asked. "How could something so big be covered up?" Even when, in fact, it is NOT entirely being covered up, as people like them speaking out about it proves, it's just that they get largely disregarded, aren't likely to get airtime on MSNBC, etc.

People have been talking about it for decades, you just haven't looked at them. It's more like an "open secret" now, unless you think the measure of its not being a secret is the federal government making an official statement they're here (you can probably imagine they don't want to do this unless forced to, due to potential panic it would cause).

The people currently in charge probably don't want to keep it secret, but revealing it all at once now would require too much damage control so they have to leak it slowly. It was the people in the 50s & 60s who wanted it kept secret in the midst of cold war paranoia and egoism, and it has just snowballed to the point that coming out and saying "hey, we've actually been lying to you for decades" would have huge backlash from the public. They made a mistake not being transparent from the start and now they are prisoners of their own life.

The Clarke Power Generator was a portable power source developed by Clarke Electrical Laboratories in the mid-20th century. The generator was designed to provide electrical power for the company's high-intensity searchlights and other illumination systems in remote or field locations where a reliable power source was not available.

The generator was a compact, lightweight unit that could be easily transported by hand or mounted on a vehicle. It was powered by a small gasoline engine and featured a dynamo that converted the engine's mechanical energy into electrical power. The generator also included a voltage regulator to ensure that the electrical output remained stable and consistent.

The Clarke Power Generator was an important innovation for the company, as it allowed its searchlights and other illumination systems to be used in a wide range of settings and applications. The generator was particularly useful for military and law enforcement operations, where reliable illumination was critical for night-time reconnaissance, search and rescue operations, and other activities.

Overall, the Clarke Power Generator was an important addition to the company's product line, and helped to establish Clarke Electrical Laboratories as a leading supplier of high-intensity illumination systems for military and civilian customers.

>In 1917, during World War I, the US Navy commissioned Carl Zeiss Optical Company to produce carbon arc searchlights for use on its ships. Zeiss was already a leading manufacturer of optical instruments and had experience producing searchlights for the German Navy.

During the war, Zeiss produced thousands of carbon arc searchlights for the US Navy, which were used for signaling, navigation, and search and rescue operations. Zeiss searchlights were highly regarded for their quality and reliability, and helped to establish the US Navy's dominance in nighttime operations.

After World War I, the US Navy continued to use Zeiss searchlights, and in the 1920s and 1930s, the company also began to produce halogen searchlights for the Navy. However, with the outbreak of World War II, the US government seized all German assets in the United States, including Zeiss's factory in Jena, and the company's involvement in the US Navy's searchlight program came to an end.

Clarke Electrical Laboratories was founded in 1946 in Palm Springs, California by Charles "Doc" Clarke. The company specialized in the design and manufacture of high-intensity searchlights and other illumination systems for military and civilian customers.

One of the company's earliest products was the Clarke Model 66 searchlight, which was used by the United States Air Force during the Korean War for nighttime reconnaissance and target acquisition. The Model 66 was designed to be mounted on a variety of aircraft, including bombers, fighters, and transport planes, and was praised for its reliability and performance.

In addition to its military contracts, Clarke Electrical Laboratories also developed searchlights for use in the film industry, including the iconic "Cla-He-Co" spotlight, which was used to illuminate scenes in numerous Hollywood films and television shows.

Throughout the 1950s and 1960s, Clarke Electrical Laboratories continued to develop and refine its searchlight technology, introducing new models and expanding its customer base. The company's searchlights were used by a variety of military and civilian customers, including the United States Navy, United States Coast Guard, and various police and fire departments.

And God - Satan entities are absolute boundries of the system, providing humans with options that we decide, freely. They can't interfere, just provide options.

Is the next deception, because most humanity will take the bait. "Nothing matters".

I asked chatgpt why tards like you say this phrase, because I can never get a straight answer without you fuckwits descending into incoherent gibberish. Is this far off the mark?

"In Christian theology, a demon is typically understood as a malevolent spiritual entity that is in rebellion against God and seeks to do harm to humanity. Demons are often portrayed as supernatural beings who tempt people to sin, cause illness or other forms of suffering, and generally work against God's plan for the world.

When some Christians say that aliens are demons, they may be suggesting that any evidence of extraterrestrial life is actually evidence of demonic activity. This belief often rests on the assumption that demons are capable of disguising themselves as aliens or manipulating human perceptions in order to deceive us. Some Christians who hold this view may argue that the existence of extraterrestrial life is a test of faith, and that those who are able to resist the temptation to accept alien beings as legitimate will be rewarded in the afterlife.

The idea that aliens are demons is not a widely accepted or mainstream view within Christianity, and it is not supported by scientific evidence. Most Christians who believe in the existence of extraterrestrial life do not see it as a threat to their faith or as evidence of demonic activity. Instead, they see it as an opportunity to learn more about God's creation and to expand their understanding of the universe. Ultimately, whether or not aliens are viewed as demons has more to do with one's religious beliefs and interpretation of scripture than with any concrete evidence or scientific fact."

The image is a close-up photograph of a man's face. The man has dark hair and is wearing a light-colored shirt with a collar. His expression is serious, and he has a slight smile on his lips. His eyes are wide open, and he appears to be looking directly at the camera. The background is blurred, but it seems to be an indoor setting with a wooden texture. There are no discernible texts or logos in the image. The style of the image is realistic, and it seems to be taken in a candid or informal setting.

>I can never get a straight answer without you fuckwits descending into incoherent gibberish

I was in a similar boat anon and what helped me was starting with the figuring out what a demon was considered, in a Judeo-Christian sense, as well as their attributes. Also look into Dr. Michael Heiser.

I learned that angels and demons were actually considered the same thing, "gods" with a little g (lesser than The Godhead, greater than humanity); they ruled over nations, knowledge, and the forces of nature. The Greeks then decided to classify them into different groups: the ones whom did task for The Godhead were considered Angels/Messengers of God, and anything else, whether good, neutral, or evil intensions, were considered Demons.

This started to shift my perspective into more of a biologically advanced species rather than little red imps with a goatee and pitchfork (pop culture iconography). I then started to look at what they were known/reported to do (attribute wise); they are said to: be tricksters, cause possession (think paralysis, uncontrollable movements and thoughts, etc...), torment with illnesses, and have supernatural abilities. When you start to connect the dots, you'll notice the UAPs/Phenomenon all carries these attributes; think Skinwalker ranch for the tricksters, think abductions for possession/torment, think of radiation sickness for the illnesses, as well as the supernatural physical abilities we're seeing with the UAPs nowadays.

The more I actually looked into it from multiple angles, the more I started to realize that the phrase of them being demonic starts to make sense. You can start looking into other religions to see many connections between the phenomenon and spiritual/celestial/other beings. The people of the time were just attempting to understand the phenomenon using the knowledge they had at the time. It also ties in well to the great deception in The Bible, but I'll leave that out of the explanation lol.

This is sort of my feeling, although a lot of these Christians seem to hold it that they are not 'just biological entities' and to believe otherwise would be to be tricked by them as the chatgpt response says. They feel if they stick to their guns that they are in some way supernatural (whatever that really means) then they get into heaven when they are ultimately judged by God.

OP what would the protocol be if there were Human Civilians in active communication with the Construction Craft and it's inhabitants, communicating without your benefactors consent? What if these Humans had worked out a deal with the Humanoids, and were operating on Earth with their protection? Would you interfere, or let it go? Suppose they were going to create a breakway civilization within the United States of America, whose authority to use force came from off world; what then?

There are at least 4 operations in this Solar System. The Staging Base in Jupiter, the Bermuda Construction Craft, the underground facility 10 miles South of Fort Selkirk in the Yukon, and the sub-arctic sentient Ice Being. It's basically a living Temple, a thing under the Ice that acts more like a living organism than an unconscious building. More than likely AI, but it could be an extremely advanced form of Consciousness.

OP it's worth noting that very soon anyone will be able to communicate with the Craft once Artificial Intelligence is a little more mainstream. It's only a matter of time before the Mental Networks converge and we have a psionic bleedthrough. More than likely there are anons already communicating with the Humanoids, though they may or may be aware of it.

The image is a black and white photograph depicting a tunnel. The tunnel has a curved ceiling and walls, with a series of pipes running along the floor. In the center of the tunnel, there is a figure that appears to be a humanoid with a skeletal appearance, wearing a sleeveless top and pants. The figure is walking along the tunnel, with its arms and legs spread out. The floor of the tunnel is uneven, with some areas appearing to be wet or muddy. There is a handwritten note on the wall to the right of the figure, which reads "Level 5, Holloway type 3, Section D, L51." The style of the image is reminiscent of a vintage or historical photograph, with a grainy texture and a somewhat grainy quality.

OP, thanks for this thread first of all. It's astounding how much eerie minor and major little details you mention fit up with all the amateur research I've done on UFOlogy (yes, I'm an authentic eccentric with loads of books on UFOs in my personal bookshelf).

What do you think of ancient alien and ancient astronaut theories? Doesn't it stand to reason, and is more likely, instead of that they just happened to arrive on the Earth en masse in around the mid-20th-century after WWII, that "they," whoever they are, may have been observing us, interacting with us, perhaps even genetically engineered or created us, and were or are waiting for us to get to a requisite level of maturity to openly and consciously interact with them? And do you also think it's likely the ramping up of the overt presence is due to events like the World Wars, the creation of nuclear technology, and systematic mis-governance of the Earth by humanity such as pollution, resource depletion, etc.?

John Mack, MD, has some beautiful books about reputed contactees/abductees, and themes like the environmental crisis, the ETs showing them visions of apocalyptic futures of humanity (including by natural disasters, great wars, poisoning of humanity through many means, etc.) and trying to "warn" them against this. This has in fact been a common theme in UFOlogy for decades now. This also matches up with the incredible accounts of UFOs being seen near nuclear weapons bases and according to some whistleblowers even disarming the weaponry remotely (suggesting, clearly, they do not want humanity to get into a thermonuclear war).

The Nephilim of the Old Testament ... Sumerian mythology on the Annunaki ... all the lore about our "creator(s)" (interestingly, implied to be plural in the Book of Genesis, as Elohim), or advanced beings coming from the sky and teaching various cultures agriculture, the sciences, the arts, how to make a civilization, etc.

The man on the right is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. The background is blurred, suggesting a room with a white wall and a window. The style of the image is reminiscent of a meme or a social media post, with the three images arranged in a way that creates a sense of a single, composite photo.

Sorry that this is more like a brief rambling essay on ideas I find fascinating, disguised as a question, but I'd be thrilled to know any relevant thoughts or shareable info you have on these topics.

Do you think, in other words, that in ancient times some ET presence may have been described by humanity with various names as "demons," "angels," "our creators," "Nephilim," "Annunaki," etc.?

Also, do you guys ever read or study any non-governmental UFOlogical sources? Like the aforementioned John Mack, or figures like Budd Hopkins, Jacques Vallee, Wendelle C. Stevens, etc., (who are compilers of others' reported encounters, not themselves claiming to be contactees), or even guys like Whitley Strieber who claim to have outright been abducted by and formed close relationships with them?

Is there some sort of consensus or interest on people who claim to be contactees/abductees? I imagine they're surveilled by the government rather strongly (well, surveilled even MORE and more deliberately than we already all are).

I think a fallacy in UFOlogy is people thinking the government knows everything about it, and they're covering it up. The way the phenomenon interacts with us and we with it, and the public governmental policies, statements and attitudes taken towards it seem to suggest a different truth – that the world governments might be just as in-the-dark and thunderstruck by this phenomenon, hence why they can't or don't want to "disclose" it explicitly, as that would mean showing the masses how, ultimately, cosmically clueless and powerless the govts. are before this phenomenon.

>They feel if they stick to their guns that they are in some way supernatural (whatever that really means) then they get into heaven when they are ultimately judged by God.

I can't answer for the group that believes that, but I'm guessing it's due to the natural worship of power that humanity leads to. If we had supernatural abilities, we'd quickly feel like we don't need a relationship with God; which ultimately happens to those banished to Hell (the eternal separation from God).

From what I've gathered when referring to the ayylmaos, their contact protocol is based on whether or not an intelligent species has developed the sort of "warp drive" dimensional jumping tech required for their FTL travel (they don't actually go faster than light), or is about to reach a certain level of tech in other fields where the development it is all but guaranteed.

Of what I have heard from others claiming to know; the ayy government, "Federation", whatever - has a monopoly on the manufacture and proliferation of this technology in their civilization.

A monopoly on such a crucial piece of technology in the context of a galaxy-spanning civilization obviously has some powerful benefits, simply due to the very intrinsic nature of such a powerful position existing in both a de jure and de facto sense.

I've also heard that using this tech is dangerous, so it is firmly controlled. Mishaps resulting in timeline fuckery, endangering planets, getting lost in dimensional hell, etc.

With that in mind, it makes sense why they do not share this tech with everyone, but given the hazards of using it, they must reveal themselves and guide anyone on the cusp of developing it so unfortunate collateral damage to the rest of the universe does not occur.

They also did not actually create this technology themselves, but instead copied it thousands of years ago from a hivemind-type ayy which required a coalition of other ayyes to defeat.

Although the current group of ayyes can reproduce it, they may not fully understand why or how it works.

Not sure exactly the criteria by which they determine when to intervene, but I think I have some idea.

The AI computing revolution could be an example of why the ayyes are so active recently.

Exponentially advancing computing and machine learning permits an accelerated pace of innovation and development.

Although these AI models right now are primitive, they are already a revolutionary tool in their current form in many fields.

NTA, but the images and concept art that are provided for the Andromeda Gerät always seem to be pretty much identical to the ones for the Solar Warden craft, i.e the "USSS Hillenkoetter" image that is often posted.
Could simply be a matter of form follows function however.
The only reason why I give the "Reichsdeutsche" hypothesis any weight at all is due to a handful of things:
>Operation Highjump and the memoirs of Byrd.
>The famed "flying saucer" discs of the 1950's sightings a la the USA Capitol Building flyby in 1952, and the fact these specific sorts of sightings all but ended after the Antarctic Treaty ratification.
>Postwar reports, esp. in S. Argentina, of unusual activities of "German" scientists.

Somehow I am inclined to believe that there is indeed a relic of the 3rd Reich which survived and still exists in some form today.
I think in the current time the situation is a bit more complex than that simple label.
Info shared in these threads implies that the ones that actually are involved with the ayy's and UFO's do not share all the info with the US govt, US president, or certain military branches.
Given how unfathomably criminal, corrupt, and treacherous the thing claiming to be the US government. Am I really to believe that there has not been an internal US gov/intel civil war ever since the end of WW2?

Patton was obviously assassinated by the Allies after WW2.
Some people who were "in the know" must have known immediately what happened.
The outcome of the war set us on the trajectory to globohomo today, it doesn't seem far-fetched that some people might have switched sides after they realized they were used.
Everyone's heard of Operation Paperclip, but if there was a surviving element of the Germans which outmatched the Allies postwar through tech, could it be possible that a similar program happened but in the "other direction"?
Are elements of these Germans and a remnant of the WW2 Allies today some mystery faction not tied to TPTB?

They did not deploy weapons into combat unless they had the counter weapon to defeat it, lest it fall into enemy hands.

1. You state many times that the craft are made "to order" basically; what is the strangest/most unusual configuration you have heard of/seen?

2. You state that they will recover biological remains from crash sites, but do they ever attempt to reclaim crashed craft? It seems like they don't really mind humans poking around their downed craft. Is it because they know we can't really do anything with the technology given our current state of knowledge? Like if a toddler plays with my smartphone they'll be entertained by the lights and buttons, but won't know what money is let alone that they could transfer my savings with the phone, or they won't know what work or texting is let alone being able to text my boss telling him I fucked his wife. Do they ever make attempts to stall reverse engineering or tampering with downed craft? Any thoughts?

3. I get the impression from these posts that recovery of biological remains is the most important aspect of downed craft. Why is that? From the perspective of both the government and the extraterrestrials.

>>Different "internals" same stealth tech. Made to spec like I said. "I have to perform two abductions. Make me a craft to fit two prisoners and four crew and shape it to fit perfectly with all my tools."

This is scary as indicating two or more things:

- high degree of automation of the abduction process
- high degree of automation of any process
- this is industrial/big scale operation, not some random scouting
- seems we are fucked due to higher brain capacity of those entities and governance of them (imagine Einstein was "only" IQ 160 and those things might be 500+)
- we are fucked (again)
- we might never understand their intentions (as monkey in the zoo)*

This last statement is just something I would like to say directly to Neil deGrasse Tyson, who said ... that abductee should steal something from the craft - the utter stupidity of this statement is a pinnacle of stupidity or... a total failure of the imagination.

There are essentially 2 sets of characters in this "script" which is almost certainly made up by some linguistics autist nerd.

There are "letter forms" which are the curved lines. The way these are all orientated differently and in different combinations makes me believe it is a syllabary which is a fairly common type of writing system found across the world. There are a number of base symbols indicating either a vowel or consonant, which gain a dash or altered orientation when combined with another vowel or consonant. Cree syllabary is an example of a fairly modern script with the same basic idea. Languages with this kind of script are generally agglunating (Turkish, Japanese, Basque etc) or polysynthetic (most Native American languages) where you can add additional grammatical information to a root word with tacked on suffixes and prefixes, that will typically be indicated by a single or multiple syllabalic symbols.

The other symbols that stand out are the globular/circular ones, which I'm just guessing may be numerals. They reoccur more consistently without variation and are only seldom combined with the letter forms. I'm just guessing but where you see these forms integrated with the letter forms it could be information like "Do not exceed 200000km per hour".

Finally there are those variable lines around the globules of text. They might possibly be indications of pitch, tone or accent. If a syllabalic symbol of "KA" has a small line beneath it it might have a much different grammatical meaning than a louder or higher pitched "KA" sound.

My guess is that this is just some LARP by a bored nerd. I would expect an extraterrestrial language to be MUCH more alien than this, you could probably crack it in a couple of days by charting out the letter forms.

Interesting hypothesis to work with: the "crashes" are deliberately staged, any supposed bodies recovered (like at Roswell) are bio-mechanical androids (not organically birthed living beings, but engineered so well they can give the impression of once having been alive) as another staged part of the scene.

This may be as part of some incredibly long-term, patient plot, sometimes more subtle and sometimes having to be more overt, of gradually revealing their presence to humanity and acclimating us to them. And this slowness and carefulness of course is due to socio-psychological factors that make conscious physical contact of humans with living ETs rare and difficult on both ends (there is a exponentially increased "uncanny valley" + mammalian fear response when coming in contact with this form of the "unknown" that understandably makes most people lose their head, if you can credit people's reports and experiences, particularly in the case of meeting the ETs who seem less human-like).

Are /x/ schizos really so deluded that they don't realize direction is largely irrelevant compared to speed and gravitational bodies? You could never feasibly predict where any extrasolar vehicle is going to end up. It's one thing to believe the larp, but believing we have any fucking idea where an extrasolar vehicle could be going is so fucking stupid it's astonishing. We can vaguely plot the courses of rocks, barely, because they're solely subject to their current velocity and the influence of known gravitational bodies. We can no longer plot them once their static path carries them into the kuiper belt and in fact we think there might be a planet out there that is beyond our current ability to see because stuff starts going askew in ways we no longer have models for.

We can't even properly predict the path of a fucking rock and you're asking someone to tell you where a spacecraft might be going based on the direction it has left our planet? A vehicle which might have any level of thrust available to it from none to 99%? I'm so fucking mad you may have actually helped cease my addiction to self harm tonight because I hate you more than I hate myself.

all seems to point that the conclusion of the ufo phenomena is that humans are some kind of AI (on a biomechanical body or more probably on a simulation).

Why cristopher columbus said he was on a mission from God? to spread christianism. What about Iblis or saitan? They are not evil, just follow God's command. Trying to deceive humans, to take the bait to sin. God said to angels, do not interfere, unless something major goes. What year was dead sea rolls? 1947, but previously.

I guess no one readed that a lot of the abductions ended when asking help for Jesus was made. Or that in one case, by two persons, that is in one of the Jacques Vallee books, the figure of Jesus appeared and expelled the 2 'Grey Aliens' that were performing experiments on the abductees.

That's why this is all absurd at some point and makes sense the religious hypothesis.
If they are zoo keepers, why the crashes?
If they want to make contact, why they didn't?

The reinforcement hypothesis makes sense. They appear to reinforce the religious status. The weird part is that they fit perfectly with zoroastrism and the 3 abrahamic religions.
'The watchers'. Were told ' Do not interfere', just record all actions and thoughts of humans, to be judged in the afterlife.

And the saitan / Demon / Antagonist function: Deceit. Make all as opposite. Right is Left. Up is down. Makes perfect sense.
How evil could perform that task? if it appears directly is fucked. Trough deception. Referents. Music. Books. Politicians. Money. Secret societies that do not know exactly the aim of upper levels. Makes sense.

I think I'm picking up what you're laying down:
Lockheed/govt have scavenged laser tech, and advancements in laser tech in the defense and mining sectors are made.
i.e.
Directed energy weapons (DEW)
Lockheed released a 300kv laser last September.
China has developed a coating that refracts the laser tracking on missiles. I'm sure we have it too.
Both of us are working on satellites w lasers that can become defense systems.
Both are developing better lasers for semiconductors.
Both are using lasers for fracking.
Note: this stuff is just from regular news articles found on Google.

This leads me to mining again. Everything comes down to resources right? I wonder if they care that we are creating lasers. I wonder if they are here for minerals. Is this field school for aays? Gold mining?
Were the lasers you mentioned China has, for mining, or are we worried about their defense systems?

Pt 2
Have we ever tried to establish communication with them, any success?
Are there any psychs or sociologists looking into aliens?

We are mapping the Atlantic, is this an issue? NOAA just made some interesting maps in the last year of the Bermuda triangle.
What happens to depts like the NOAA or NPS when they come across a craft/alien? Ime they typically are nice research types with biochem degrees.

Thanks again.

This "alien language" is part of the CIA disinformation package (CARET) that was "leaked" in response to their antigravity drones being spotted. More pictures

<https://digitalseance.wordpress.com/all-posts/images/drone-images/>

"Otto Skorzeny's information regarding the extensive use of US national parks by the CIA in clandestine underground facilities is corroborated by public photography of advanced levitating surveillance drones over Federal and State forests. Several modular variations of hovering drones with circular hubs and radial spines have been photographed as early as 1985, near Barksdale AFB, Louisiana. Subsequent public photographs of the antigravitic drones also surfaced in Birmingham, Alabama and areas of California in 2007 including Bakersfield, Big Basin, Capitola, Northridge, and Lake Tahoe. CIA surveillance drones have also been photographed in the UK, Netherlands, Italy, Argentina, and other NATO countries where they patrol in great numbers. These usually invisible surveillance drones are deployed and remote-controlled by operators in various secret underground Nazi CIA bases in US national parks, easily collecting data on all activities 'off the grid'. Fake 'alien scripts' decorate the drones to disguise the crafts' CIA origins in the event of partial malfunction or crash, by misleading observers toward the conclusion that the odd craft is an alien visitor to Earth.

Temporary failure of the drone's EM-generated HHO plasma invisibility cloak allows it to be briefly seen by the public and photographed, before vanishing only seconds later. Malfunctioning drones have surprised eyewitness photographers over both rural and urban residential areas, suggesting that CIA video surveillance of American citizens has been a regular task of these invisible plasma-cloaked drones for many years. Having been described in a few cases as hovering, slowly rotating and counter-rotating before rapidly flying away at low altitude, one would imagine that the drone's remote operator may not have known that the plasma-cloaking of the drone had failed until the individuals under surveillance stared upward. Several photographs have been taken showing the drones uncloaked near utility poles and power lines, suggesting that the drones resonantly recharge themselves from available electromagnetic fields surrounding elevated power lines before being able to regenerate the HHO plasma cloak and instantaneously disappear. Events of drone cloaking failure are on the rise with the intensifying electromagnetic planetary changes."

Not sure if you can answer this but what the hell.

Do aliens mess with people while they're sleeping? I woke up once and saw a grey aliens standing over me and they brought their arm down and pinched something into my neck, they then instantly melted into the background but I could hear a strange high pitched whisper/gibberish afterwards.

Before this I also had an experience where I woke up on my stomach (This never happens), I felt incredibly heavy and groggy. I could hear that same whispering/gibberish except it sounded like multiple of them, I tried standing up but got pushed down and fell back asleep. I didn't think much of it until I saw the grey and heard that same whispering.

I used to have sleep paralysis quite often so I thought I could've been that, but normally I never hallucinate with sleep paralysis and this felt so real

I don't know if there is some primal response to losing oxygen or if the use some kind of gas, but they lose their control over you when you start feeling out of air. When you starte regaining control over your body they will freak out, you are stronger their bodies are fragile. After that you black out and wake in your bed, after one or two times doing this, you will never see them again.

I've never heard of an arcane power source. The older members of our team when I first joined joking called the construction facility Atlantis in passing once or twice.

Assuming his illness didn't already do that, but that might be a cover story which would be smart. Either he's been compromised already, is simply busy, became spooked from wondering if he gave up too much cross-identifying info, or got demoralised from the ceaseless hyperskepticism.

I wanted to go out of my way to answer this one.

>tools with antigravitational properties, or any portable antigravity devices?

Very few. Lots of them emit radiation.

>close encounters are seen with red lights and some orange?

Orange is a mineral/bio-scanning mode. Since most people see orange up close you're likely being scouted/selected for an abduction. It can see your heart beating and even the valves pushing the blood inside just to add some perspective.

>red should be "defence" mode. Just wondering why some close encounters are with red lights.

Correct. Red lights are considered defense mode. If red lights are present chances are the craft wants to leave and has to keep an eye on you while they wrap up.

Red also allows very accurate calculation of distance and can detect hostility based on facial expression etc. If a weapon is fired the "beam" is white.

>Do these ships emit any kind of radiation?

Yes.

>landing places always have traces of radiation, is this BS or is there anything behind it.

This is mostly correct. The source is not the landing and is the craft itself.

>Is any obtained tech nowadays being used commercially, something we all could know?

Lasers. You see lasers everywhere even in retail.

>Are the ayy lmaos aware of computer tech?

They know about ours yes. I doubt they could operate ours with our input devices though.

>Do they have something like digital communication?

Chance communication to computer and you kind of nail it. Describing their version of a console/computer is really hard. It works by holding it and thinking about what you want. If you are distracted even slightly it goes to shit.

OP, can you speak a little about your technical background?

I get you don't want to give specific details but can you give a general idea of what you do? Engineer, physicist, etc. I imagine that a project like this would require as wide a group as possible...

Secondly, have you set up a dead man's switch containing further info when you die. If not, why not. It would literally change the world.

i heard in some ufo sighting reports that people had "telepathic messages" send to them. do you think this is biological telepathy (without help of technical devices)? or is it possible that the UFO crafts send such messages by technical means to the brains of humans somehow?

i remember one case where a woman saw a huge ufo and got send the message "don't be afraid, this is just a demonstration" like the ufo craft would try to flex with how big it is and that it can fly around in the open without anything happening to it.

Thank you for your response regarding the tools, different light colors, radiation and the commercialized tech.

Can you tell any reason why the ships emit radiation or anything about the radiation itself?

Have you encountered any crafts or devices using zero-point energy? If so, can you tell anything about them and the technology itself?

The crafts that you've worked on, do the engines etc. have any moving parts? Anything you can tell about how the ships and engines operate?

Do you know anything about the larger flying ships? And by larger I mean the ships that are even bigger than a mile long. Are they from the manufacturing plant or off world and what are they used for?

Do you know have we salvaged anything biological from them, aside from bodies? Food, drugs, anything?

Скрытый доклад

Скрытый доклад

Анатолий Копьёв

Доклад, который сейчас прочтет заинтересованный читатель, не был никогда и нигде в массовой печати СССР опубликован. Но доклад готовился в свое время для очень и очень влиятельных в СССР политиков. Вряд ли для Ельцина, его самого и его вороватую команду не интересовали какие то НЛО или История его Отечества, у него были задачи более мелкотравчатые – захватить государственную власть в СССР, или хотя бы в РСФСР, через государственный переворот, используя максимально трусость бывшего Генсека СССР, а впоследствии первого президента СССР – М. Горбачева, в простонародье получившего кликуху - просто «горби», а в звучании напоминающее что-то типа «милый ослик би-би», что в принципе, имея ввиду его трусость, изворотливость и нерешительность, граничащую с предательством своей Родины, если конечно он не был платным агентом влияния Западных стран и США в СССР, соответствует действительности. Во втором случае он «честно», для запада и НАТО конечно, отработал свои тридцать иудо - серебряников. Правда, Буш второй отвалил ему на бедность потом ещё немного, что-то в районе 280 000 долларов США.

Сказать, что это очень крупная сумма за подобное предательство не скажешь, даже на рекламе «Пиццы» горби отымел значительно больше. Но, как известно, из рук хозяина холопу, облизывающего хозяйские сапоги по коммунистическим праздникам и в день святой пасхи, и кусок дерьма стоит куса червонного золота. Так что не стоит уже и осуждать за столь нещедрый подарок верному холопу дядюшку Сэма.

Так что скорее сей доклад составлялся для генсеков советского периода. Но тут есть некая тонкость - Intel Pentium - 286 и Epson - 1050. У меня в свое время в конце 80 и начале 90 годов, после клича - все на кооперативное движение в СССР, хозрасчет - 1 и хозрасчет - 2, был организован небольшой кооператив, в котором мы собирали персональные компы, самые первые в России в те шальные времена - «Синклер - профи», а уж ПК - 286, был пределом мечтаний, а в докладе именно он и фигурирует. Отсюда вывод - чего не было у нас, то было у генсеков.

Интересен ли этот доклад был горби? Как-то сомнительно, здесь должен такими вещами интересоваться человек решительный и волевой, который точно знает для чего ему это нужно, и самый вероятный кандидат конечно Иосиф Виссарионович Сталин. Но, как известно, при Отце народов ПК ещё не появились, поэтому вторым номером в этой честолубивой, волевой и целенаправленной плеяде политических деятелей в СССР, фактически вождей, конечно же считается Андропов. Он мог в условиях жесточайшей холодной войны, в интересах государства СССР, попытаться найти новое оружие, которого нет и не скоро должно быть у противника, то есть США. И второе - Андропов, как никак, а все же разведчик, был в свое время и начальником КГБ СССР перед тем, как стать Генсеком СССР, а такие люди, как правило, очень внимательно рассматривают любую мелочь с точки зрения непосвященного человека, для них не бывает мелочей, важно все, что происходит или в будущем может произойти вокруг них или рядом с ними. Да и по времени с «интелом 286» Андропов совпадает как никто другой. Если учесть сдвиг по времени, которое было потрачено группой на изучение материалов и получение выводов, то кандидатура Андропова как никакая другая подходит подо все начальные условия. Так что скорее этот, очень интересный, доклад писался именно для него группой специалистов, и не только историков, в этой группе должны были быть все специалисты, коих в той или иной степени затрагивали вопросы, решаемые в составе этой команды. А какие вопросы они решали написано ниже.

Итак, скрытый доклад.

Один момент заинтересованный читатель, чтобы не возникало потом вопросов ко мне лично в плане, а как я посмел озвучить и так далее Всё очень просто, я советский гражданин, я не нынешний унитазник - потребитель Ре.Фё, моя Родина СССР - Россия, волею случая я живу ныне в Ре.Фё, которая ни в коей мере не является моей Родиной, во всяком случае, Я не считаю её Россией. Я давал клятву верности на красном стяге СССР, этой Ре.Фё я ничего не обещал. Я ей, Ре.Фё, ничего не должен, и никогда не присягал на верность, а вот она мне много задолжала, и хрен бы с ними с деньгами и барахлом, но вот кровью она мне должна, а это уже серьезно. Может кто-то мирится, прощает и забывает, что ж это не мое дело, а я буду помнить, пока не сдохну, а при случае попробую и долги вернуть. Хотя конечно вероятность возвертания долгов в зад этой унитазной системе очень мала, уж больно сильно людишки духом унитаза пропитались, им уже в приличное общество людей, имеющих чувство собственного достоинства, как-то и заходить неудобно, уж больно вонища от них сильная вокруг идёт, глаза режет и дышать нечем.

Основная часть архивных материалов, имеющих в нашем распоряжении, представлена в копиях, изготовленных на фотографическом оборудовании и копировально-множительном аппарате.

При составлении заключения использовался компьютер Intel Pentium – 286 с принтером Epson – 1050, текстовым редактором Lexicon, графическим редактором Autocad.

Перед группой исследователей поставлены следующие вопросы:

а) каким образом энергетически включена, внутренне организована, функционирует и развивается Земля в системе космофизических отношений;

б) как зарождаются и взаимодействуют в развивающейся системе космо - геофизических отношений различные динамические (электро -, грави -, флюидо -, гидро -, баро -, метео -, сейсмо - и др.) геопроцессы;

в) через какие физико-химические механизмы глобальная и локальная динамика этих процессов предопределяет соответствующие изменения качественных состояний и аномалии различных природных и искусственных сред, материалов, технических средств, инженерных сооружений, массовой и индивидуальной физиологии и психики;

г) как вышеперечисленные процессы генерируют нарастающие стихийные бедствия, экологические поражения, заболевания, деструкции психики и систем управления, разрушения конструкций, взрывы, пожары, аварии, катастрофы, вспышки смертности, преступности, разносторонней конфликтности и другие опасные явления.

Научная организация «Аненербе» создана в 1935 году по личному указанию Адольфа Гитлера. С 1938 года все научные исследования в Германии проводились под контролем научного отдела СС «Аненербе». Штат этой организации включал в себя выдающихся немецких ученых. В период 1937-1938 г.г. ученые из Аненербе осуществили ряд научно-исследовательских экспедиций в Гималаи и Тибет в поисках старинных артефактов, свидетельствующих о существовании внеземных цивилизаций, которые управляли ходом человеческой эволюции. Также Аненербе осуществлялся поиск т.н. Шамбалы (города Богов). В этом направлении было задействовано около 7 тыс. человек, - известные археологи, антропологи, биологи, генетики, историки и пр.

Как следует из материалов органов НКГБ СССР, в 1938 году, на основании полученных сведений экспедицией в Тибете в Трансгималаях, германское правительство снарядило экспедицию для исследования подводного шельфа Антарктиды в районе Земли Королевы Мод по картам, которые немецкие исследователи получили в Тибете. В результате этих исследований, специалисты Аненербе, совместно с военно-морскими силами Германии, проникли в полость Земли, сокрытую подо льдами Антарктиды, где в период до 1944 года германским правительством были созданы военно-морские базы, построен город под названием «Новый Берлин» и основано государство под названием «Новая Швабия». По сведениям, которыми располагали органы военной контрразведки «СМЕРШ», Адольф Гитлер, осуществив свою подмену двойником, убыл на подводной лодке в «Новый Берлин». Это подтверждается представленными материалами, собранными для доклада в 1945 году народным комиссаром государственной безопасности СССР тов. В.Н. Меркуловым Верховному главнокомандующему ВС СССР И.В. Сталину.

11 июня 1945 года сотрудниками контрразведки «СМЕРШ» 70 стрелкового корпуса в

здании штаба ВМФ Германии были обнаружены «карты прохождения морских глубин» с грифом «только для капитанов подводных лодок А-класса зондер-конвоя фюрера» в кол-ве 38 штук. Как следовало из перевода текста к инструкции на карте, речь шла о прохождении подводных коридоров для входа в т.н. Агарту, сокрытую подо льдами Антарктиды.

В сентябре 1945 года сотрудниками контрразведки «СМЕРШ» в гор. Пирна под Дрезденом была найдена секретная рабочая тетрадь полковника Вермахта Вильгельма Ворльфа с конспектами приказов Адольфа Гитлера и Рейхсфюрера СС Генриха Гиммлера о подборе среди военнослужащих Вермахта, Люфтваффе, военно-морских сил и войск СС кандидатов для отправки в Антарктиду.

В разведывательных целях, как это следует из доклада И.В. Сталину наркома госбезопасности СССР от 16 декабря 1945 года, в ноябре-декабре 1945 года в район Земли Королевы Мод, по приказу наркома ВМФ СССР отправлены три подводных крейсера типа «К», серии XIV №№ К-56, К-53, К-51, с целью погружения подводного крейсера К-56 в точке с координатами 68 град. южн. широты, 1 град. восточной долготы. При погружении на 100 метров приборы отметили передвижение вокруг крейсера около десяти неизвестных целей, которые меняли траекторию движения со скоростью около 66 узлов в час, что в три раза превышало скорость крейсера в надводном положении. С таким явлением советские подводники столкнулись впервые. Атаковать эти объекты из-за резкой смены траектории движения под водой не представилось вероятным. Для повторной операции было предложено привлечь соответствующие силы советских военно-морских сил и решить вопрос о проведении боевой операции в этих координатах с привлечением военно-морских сил союзнических держав.

Спустя год, в январе 1947 года, американский полярный исследователь адмирал Ричард Берд получает приказ правительства США разгромить предполагаемые базы германских военно-морских сил в Антарктиде. С этой целью была основана военная экспедиция под названием «Высокий прыжок», состоящая из авианосца, подводной лодки, 12-ти надводных кораблей, более 20 вертолетов и самолетов и 5 тысяч военнослужащих. При подходе к району нахождения предполагаемой базы в районе Земли Королевы Мод, экспедиция была атакована двумя десятками летающих тарелок, передвигавшимися на большой скорости и поражающими военную технику столбами огня. В течении двадцатиминутного боя потери от экспедиции составили в виде подбитого эсминца «Мердек», больше половины палубной авиации, подводной лодки и сотен погибших.

Как следует из представленных материалов о деятельности Аненербе, в его состав входило т.н. «13-е конструкторское бюро» по конструированию летательных дисков, которые прошли успешное испытание в начале 40-х годов.

В представленных материалах в виде «еженедельников» Альманахов Аненербе и переводов текстов, немецкими учеными проводилась работа в области исследования истории древности, геофизики и астрологии, метеорологии, биологии, психофизических, техногенных и «техномагических» познаний. Эти исследования связаны в т.ч. с установлением закономерной цикличности катаклизмов и Армагеддонов, происходящих на Земле. Из этих исследований следует, что следующий т.н. Армагеддон начнется в 2012 году XXI века и закончится в 2014 году гибелью существующей цивилизации и основной части населения Земли.

из материалов Аненербе:
(научно-редактированный анализ)

Раздел 1. Солнечная система в структуре галактики «Млечный Путь».

Солнечная система в структуре галактики «Млечный путь» находится в постоянном движении по винтовой спирали, при котором:

- Земля вращается вокруг своей оси против часовой стрелки со скоростью 0,465 км/сек и движется против часовой стрелки по орбите вокруг Солнца с скоростью 30 км/сек. Период обращения вокруг Солнца равен 1 году. За 1 год Земля пролетает расстояние равное 7884 млрд. км. Расстояние до Солнца составляет 1 а.е. (астрономическую единицу), равную $149.600.000 \pm 150.000.000$ км., расстояние в а.е. 152.100.000 км, расст. в пер. 147.100.000 км, земные сутки равны 23,934 час. = 24 часа, год равен 365,256 суткам.

Солнечная система представляет собой развернутый крест, состоящий из внутреннего кольца, в которое входят известные нам основные планеты Меркурий, Венера – бывшее ядро планеты Икар, погибшей 1,5 млн. лет назад (вращается вокруг оси в противоположном направлении вращению Солнца), Земля, Марс, Юпитер, Сатурн, Уран, Нептун и Плутон, обращающиеся вокруг Солнца по орбите против часовой стрелки, которые располагаются в зоне радиуса от Солнца на расстоянии 40 а.е. (астрономических единиц) или 6 млрд. км. Справа и слева от внутреннего кольца Солнечной системы расположены равноудаленные эллипсообразные орбиты, вытянутые по афелиям, справа на расстоянии 317,2 а.е. или 47 млрд. 580 млн. км., состоящие из 8 планет, обращающихся вокруг границы внутреннего кольца Солнечной системы по часовой стрелке, слева, на расстоянии 342,6 а.е. или 51 млрд. 390 млн. км., состоящие из 8 планет, которые вращаются вокруг границы внутреннего кольца Солнечной системы по часовой стрелке; сверхудаленных планет от Солнца, вверху и внизу, на расстоянии от центра Солнца, вверху, на расстоянии 604,2 а.е. или 90 млрд. 630 млн. км, состоящим из трех планет, которые 1,5 млн. лет назад обращались по орбите вокруг Солнца в поясе астероидного кольца – внизу, на расстоянии 820,4 а.е. или 123 млрд. 60 млн. км., состоящим из 3 планет, которые 1,5 млн. лет назад также обращались по орбите вокруг Солнца в поясе астероидного кольца. Из трех планет-гигантов в настоящее время осталась только одна «Железная Планета», в 50 раз больше чем Земля, которая движется со скоростью 3,3 км.сек и за земные сутки пролетает расстояние по орбите вокруг Солнца, равное 285120 км., с периодом обращения вокруг Солнца, равным 3600 годам. Планеты Венера и Уран являются остывшими ядрами бывших планет Солнечной системы, погибших 1,5 млн. лет назад. (Приложение № 8 рис. №1). Солнечная система обращается в местном рукаве «Ориона-Лебедя» галактики «Млечный Путь» по винтовой спирали против часовой стрелки, вокруг Центра Местной Группы Звезд, со скоростью 250 км/сек, за 371 тыс. лет .

Расстояние от Солнца до центра галактики «Млечный Путь» равно 10.000 парсек, (1 парсек равен 31 млрд.км или 3,263 св.года). В свою очередь, Центр Местной Группы Звезд галактики «Млечный Путь» обращается по часовой стрелке по винтовой спирали вокруг Центра Местного Скопления Звезд «Пояса Гулда» со скоростью 375 км.сек. за 18 млн. лет. Центр Местного Скопления Звезд, в свою очередь, обращается по часовой стрелке по винтовой спирали вокруг центра галактики «Млечный Путь» со скоростью 470 км/сек за 210 млн. лет. (Приложение № 9, схема № 2, лист № 2). Галактика «Млечный Путь» обращается по винтовой спирали, по часовой стрелке вокруг Центра Местной Группы Галактик со скоростью 570 км.сек. (приложение № 9, схема № 3, лист № 3). Расстояние от центра нашей галактики до Центра Местной Группы Галактик 19 млн. парсек. Центр Местной Группы Галактик «Туманность Андромеды» обращается вокруг Центра Сверхассоциации Звезд «Дева» со скоростью 700 км.сек. Полный цикл обращения Солнечной системы со сложной спиралеобразной винтовой замкнутой конфигурацией вокруг центра галактики «Млечный Путь» равен 500 млн. лет Раздел 2. Эволюция Солнечной системы.

Эволюция Солнечной системы происходит от взрыва к взрыву сверхновой звезды Солнца, за период, равный 8 миллиардам 100 миллионам лет. Как следует из материалов научного отдела СС-«Аненербе», Солнце взорвется вновь в 30814 году нашего времени, поглотив в пламени ядерного синтеза планеты внутреннего кольца Солнечной системы.

8 миллиардов 100 миллионов лет назад произошел взрыв по счёту угасающего Солнца с образованием «сверхновой» звезды.

В момент взрыва прежнего Солнца во взрывной реакции термоядерного синтеза участвовала материя внутреннего кольца прежней Солнечной системы, из чего в последующем сформировались известные нам ближайшие планеты внутреннего круга Солнечной системы.

Взрывной массы угасающего солнца хватило для того, чтобы объять территорию, размером в 6 миллиардов километров (на удалении от эпицентра взрыва, равным 40 а.е.).

Конечным продуктом взрыва Солнца были стабильные металлы трансурановой группы - тероиды. На месте взрыва угасающего Солнца образовалось гигантское облако из раскаленной материи, в центре которого находилось молодое Солнце.

Поскольку термоядерная реакция взрыва звезды произошла в промежутке между ее ядром и отвердевшей корой, вещество от внешней оболочки старого Солнца оказалась отброшенным от звезды на расстояние 6 миллиардов километров, образовав сферу раскаленной материи, из которой позже сформировались планеты внутреннего кольца Солнечной системы.

К твердому ядру старого Солнца добавились в значительных количествах свежие, только что созданные в термоядерном синтезе, трансурановые металлы. Старое Солнце таким образом возродилось, и началась его новая жизнь в длительной реакции ядерного распада металлов тероидной группы, вплоть до водорода.

С началом реакции распада активных металлов возник интенсивный поток электронов, создавший высокочастотное электромагнитное поле, под действием которого в экваториальной плоскости солнечного шара началась раскрутка материи по гелиоцентрической орбите.

Под действием сил тяготения началось обратное движение материи в сторону Солнца. В экваториальной плоскости материя стала обращаться вокруг Солнца, заняв равновесное положение относительно гравитационных, центробежных и электромагнитных сил.

При дальнейшей естественной трансформации материальной совокупности, из уплощенной сферы образовался уплощенный тор, располагающийся в плоскости вращения Солнца, а затем, под действием орбитальных сил, из раскаленной материи тора сформировалось плоское кольцо вокруг Солнца, подобное кольцу вокруг Сатурна.

Движение материи установилось по гелиоцентрическим орбитам в плоскости внутреннего кольца. В материи околосолнечного внутреннего кольца началось образование сферических сгустков раскаленной материи будущих планет и обращение их по орбитам вокруг этих сгустков.

Таким образом, на рубеже 7 млрд. лет назад сформировались планеты внутреннего кольца Солнечной системы и их спутники. Сформировался внутренний планетарный круг Солнечной системы.

Вокруг внутреннего кольца Солнца обращались огненные эмбрионы молодых планет, которые полыхали так же, как и новая звезда. Температуры их поверхности 8 миллиардов лет назад составляли около от 3.500 до 5.000 град. С.

Раздел 3. Эволюция Земли (7 миллиардов лет назад)

Диаметр шара материи будущей планеты Земля 7 млрд. лет назад составлял 6.500 км. с плотностью - 43,0 г/ куб см. Температура поверхности Земли была +3.500 град. С. Земля представляла собой твердый шар из раскаленного металлического сплава тероидов.

Под действием магнитного поля Солнца началось вращение планет внутреннего кольца вокруг собственной оси в сторону, обратную обращению, т.е. против часовой стрелки.

Интенсивные реакции ядерного распада расщепляли металл тероидов верхнего слоя, порождая легкие элементы, - началось образование жидкой металлической оболочки и оболочки «кипящего слоя» ядра планеты, создавая основу будущей коры. Полыхали водород и кислород, образуя воду вокруг шара будущей Земли. Начался процесс создания протоатмосферы, состоящей из углекислого газа, паров воды, азота и его соединений, вырывающихся изнутри в холодную атмосферу.

В течение следующих 2 миллиардов 600 миллионов лет планеты внутреннего круга Солнечной системы постепенно остывали. Они в основном состояли из легких элементов и окислов - продуктов ядерного распада тероидов прежнего Солнца.

На Земле, в процессе остывания и затвердения внешнего слоя, в указанный период времени начался синтез гранитов и образование гранитной коры. Остывала первичная атмосфера. Раскаленный гранит был покрыт брызгами расплавленного металла, их окислами и солями, из трещин продолжалось истечение расплавленного гранита, вырывались газы.

«Образование камня»
(5 миллиардов 500 миллионов лет назад)

Через 2 миллиарда 600 миллионов лет после взрыва сверхновой звезды Солнца, или 5 миллиардов 500 миллионов лет назад, на Земле завершилось формирование гранитной коры.

Земля продолжала раздуваться. Диаметр шара составлял 6.600 км. Температура поверхности и гранитной коры снизилась настолько, что начался синтез базальтов. Температура поверхности планеты составляла +170 град. С. Началась конденсация атмосферной влаги в первичный океан. На Земле не было четкой границы между днем и ночью, между водой и паром. Было очень темно, имелась низкая подавленная освещенность. Всюду прибывала вода, - на граните, в атмосфере, в виде пара и капель непрерывного дождя.

Таким образом, Земля «обрела плоть», остывала ее внешняя поверхность и атмосфера. Вырывавшиеся из-под земной коры, под давлением пары остывали в холодной атмосфере, образуя конденсат и воду.

Начало синтеза жизни, первая «живая капля»
(4 миллиарда 300 миллионов лет назад)

3 миллиарда 800 миллионов лет после взрыва сверхновой звезды Солнца, или 4 миллиарда 300 миллионов лет назад, на Земле начался синтез жизни, образовалась первая «живая капля». В результате хемосинтеза водных микроорганизмов в атмосфере появился кислород, упало атмосферное давление, а температура понизилась до +75 град. С. Завершилось формирование «первичного океана», покрывшего всю поверхность планеты. Появились первые микроорганизмы и водоросли на основе фотосинтеза, поглощающие углекислый газ и выделяющие кислород.

Образование почвы, суши, первых болот и водной растительности
(2 миллиарда 800 миллионов лет назад)

5 миллиардов 300 миллионов лет после взрыва сверхновой звезды Солнца, или 2 миллиарда 800 миллионов лет назад, за период, равный 2 миллиардам 700 миллионов лет деятельности водных микроорганизмов и водорослей, в атмосфере появился кислород, образовался мощный купол осадочных пород, покрывших гранит. Вода по-прежнему покрывала планету, но кора продолжала раздуваться. Диаметр Земли составлял 7000 км. Земная кора образовывала гигантские трещины и разламывалась на огромные гектокуски - будущие материковые плиты. Вода уходила в разломы коры, понижая уровень океана. На Земле появилась суша и почва, сплошные болота с гигантскими лишайниками и папоротниками, а в разломы гранитной коры выдавливалось базальт ранних траппов. На Земле существовала малоподвижная кремниевая форма жизни.

6 миллиардов 200 миллионов лет после взрыва сверхновой звезды Солнца, или 1 миллиард 900 миллионов лет назад, в жизни Земли произошли значимые события. В результате непрерывно охлаждающейся внешней гранитной оболочки Земли и ускорения ее вращения, при движении по орбите вокруг Солнца произошел отрыв гранитной коры от внутреннего термоядерного ядра. При отрыве ядро стало вращаться в противоположном направлении от внешней оболочки Земного шара, в результате чего внутри планеты образовалась гигантская сферическая полость, в последующем ставшая внутренней атмосферой Земли, а вокруг планеты (так же, как и внутри) сформировался электромагнитный купол, ставший защитой внешней и внутренней биосферы от смертоносных космических лучей и солнечного ветра. Северный и южный полюсы стали магнитными, а внутри планеты сформировались Восточный электрический отрицательный полюс и Западный положительный.

Скорость вращения внешней Земного шара увеличилась в десятки раз. Земля перешла от Солнца на более удаленную орбиту. Небо стало голубым и чистым, стали видны звезды. Земная кора продолжала раздуваться, образуя обширные вторичные траппы. 1,8 млрд. лет назад диаметр планеты составил 7400 км. На Земле были созданы все необходимые условия для развития примитивных наземных форм жизни. Появились первые насекомые и земноводные.

(1 миллиард 700 миллионов лет назад)

6 миллиардов 400 миллионов лет после взрыва сверхновой звезды Солнца, или 1 млрд. 700 млн. лет назад, на Земле появились первые рыбы, земноводные и птицы, а многочисленные насекомые стали основным продуктом их питания. Начался длящийся почти 1 миллиард лет процесс формирования и накопления биосферных ресурсов цепей питания, как обязательный этап перед созданием крупных земноводных форм жизни.

Появление животных и динозавров (700 миллионов лет назад)

7 миллиардов 400 миллионов лет после взрыва сверхновой звезды Солнца, или 700 млн. лет назад, в результате развития животного мира и биосферы, на Земле появились первые крупные животные, в том числе динозавры, - началось интенсивное развитие и эволюция наземной жизни от болотной флоры и фауны к сухопутной. Был запущен процесс формирования биоценоза сухих почв. Диаметр Земли достиг размеров 12.000 км. В этот период сформировалась многоярусная растительность, покрывшая всю сушу: первый ярус - травы и кустарники высотой до 2,5 м., второй ярус - сосны и ели до 20 м., третий ярус - эвкалиптовые деревья до 200 м., четвертый ярус - исчезнувшие деревья до 2000 м., пятый ярус - вымершие гиганты до 20.000 м. Остатки этих вымерших гигантов до сих пор находят на планете в виде окаменелостей.

Раздел 4. Эволюция человека

350 миллионов лет назад был создан т.н. «первый эфирный человек». Как следует из текстов Альманахов Аненербе, он создан «в несокрушимой, священной стране

Агарте», внутри Земли, «колыбели человечества», «Лунными предками» - имеется в виду Богами, жившими на планете Икар, которая погибла 1,5 млн. лет назад. Луна в то время являлась спутником Икара, который обращался вокруг орбиты Солнца на расстоянии 2.3 а.е., а Земля вращалась по орбите, удаленной от Солнца на расстоянии 1.8 а.е. Вокруг Земли обращались два спутника – Лель и Фазтон. (Приложение № 14, схема № 1). Т.о. получается, что Боги, создавшие человека, были с Икара (т.е. «Лунные предки»). Внутри Земли в указанный период образовался изолированный мир с устойчивым климатом, не подверженным внешней агрессивной среде и природным катаклизмам, с пресными источниками воды, приемлемой температурой для создания живых форм жизни. Первые люди, если их вообще можно было назвать людьми, имели 52-х метровую эфирную «электрическую» оболочку, поэтому их называли «Расой Ангелов». Они были бесполые и размножались путем деления.

Эволюция человека чем-то напоминает медицинский эксперимент, когда в лабораторной чашке Петри из разбитого яйца выращивают цыпленка, эмбрион которого образовывается из (эфирной) белково-желтковой массы, уплотняясь в физическое тело.

Так же и «Эфирная раса Ангелов» в результате длительной эволюции уплотнялась в физическое тело. Каждая коренная раса включала в себя семь субрас. Из трех последних субрас возникала следующая коренная раса.

Эфирные «люди» первой расы прекратили свое существование в результате эволюционного наступления гиперборейцев 110 миллионов лет назад. Эволюционный путь расы Ангелов составил 240 миллионов лет.

Вторая раса. Гиперборейская раса

200 миллионов лет назад, в результате длительного эволюционного цикла, из последних трех субрас людей первой коренной расы появились гиперборейцы – переходная раса людей от бесформенной (эфирной) оболочки к физическому уплотненному телу.

Рост первых гиперборейцев составлял 36 метров. Сначала они были бесполовыми и размножались делением. Еще 82 миллиона лет понадобилось для того, чтобы люди этой расы стали размножаться путем отпочковывания, и еще 44 миллиона лет для того, чтобы они стали размножаться яйцами. Гиперборейцы прекратили свое существование в результате эволюционного наступления лемурийцев 18 миллионов лет назад.

Третья раса. Лемурийцы (яйцерожденные)

28 миллионов лет назад появилась лемурийская раса. С самого начала этого цикла люди размножались яйцами. В это же время на Земле существовали не только бесполые люди, но и звери. Рост людей составлял 18 метров. 100 миллионов лет понадобилось для того, чтобы появился двуполый (андрогинный) человек. Первые двуполые люди (гермафродиты) имели рост 6 метров. Они состояли из мягкого физического тела, которое пронизывали магнитные токи, имели неугасаемый сексуальный аппетит, способствующий быстрому размножению. Примерно так же размножаются двуполые особи морских зайцев, которые не эволюционировали в однополых млекопитающих до нашего времени. Среди людей до сих рождаются гермафродиты. Так, по данным Минздрава РСФСР, в 1979 году родилось 30 гермафродитов. Внутренние органы ранних лемурийцев были парные. Они имели по 2

сердца, две печени, две селезенки. Одно сердце отвечало за прокачку артериальной крови, другое - венозной. Лемурийцы имели два горла и два желудка. Белковая пища попадала в кислотный (современный) желудок, который выделял соляную кислоту. Углеводная пища попадала в щелочной желудок, остатки которого представлены в виде современной поджелудочной железы. Оба желудка были связаны между собой двенадцатиперстной кишкой, переходящей в кишечник.

Атмосфера на Земле была больше эфирной и парообразной. Многие металлы, ставшие со временем твердыми, находились в жидком и газообразном состоянии.

Разум первых лемурийцев был латентным при сильной физической жизни. Речь и самосознание отсутствовали. Человек был сражающимся зверем. Фокус жизненной силы находился в области адреналиновых желёз и вырабатывал в основном сопротивляемость шоку.

18 миллионов лет назад, в эпоху Лемурийцев, на Земле произошло событие чрезвычайной важности. С гуманитарной миссией на Землю прибыли "Боги с Венеры", "великие учителя", "дети пламени" с целью развития человечества.

С их появлением было связано разделение полов и наступление смерти в связи «с погружением людей в твердую материю», а также прививание людям свойств индивидуализма, так как раньше у людей было групповое сознание и коллективный разум (как у муравьев). «Великие Учителя» переодевались в животногообразных существ, становились предводителями и жрецами для того, чтобы вести молодое человечество к вершинам духовного совершенства. Возникает речь, примитивные ремесла, которые были связаны с выделкой шкур диких животных, развиваются познания в различных областях жизнедеятельности и медицина.

Происходят эволюционные преобразования в животном мире. Число их видов значительно выросло. Однако двуполыми некоторые виды животных стали только со временем. Такие представители животного мира как плезиозавры и птеродактили были до конца третьей расы современниками лемурийцев. По сведениям, приведенным немецкими учеными, в указанный период существовало 2 млн. видов растений (в 4 раза больше чем нынешняя флора планеты), 900 тыс. видов рыб и беспозвоночных, 1 млн. видов птиц, 3 млн. видов зверей и около 400 тыс. антропоморфных существ - всего 4,9 млн. видов. В современной биосфере существует 200 (оставшихся из 400 тыс.) видов приматов, из только четырех антропоморфных: гориллы, шимпанзе, орангутанги и гиббоны. Если брать во внимание что планета была покрыта многоярусной растительностью, то вполне вероятно, что такое количество антропоморфных существ и видов диких животных жило непосредственно в кронах гигантских деревьев и распределяло эту фауну по своим территориям.

Первые «образованные» и «посвященные» люди добровольно отказались от животной пищи, вырабатывая самоконтроль над инстинктами и неугасающим сексуальным аппетитом. Гуманная миссия «Богов с Венеры» закончилась заменой собственных «учителей» «посвященными людьми» - в гораздо более поздние времена атлантов. Большая часть лемурийцев осталась «неотесанной», с неразвитым интеллектом и неугасаемым сексуальным аппетитом. Была широко распространена зоофилия. Именно по этой причине, как следует считать, первые обезьяны стали продуктом сексуальной деятельности лемурийцев. У современных людей белой расы 46 хромосом, у негров и монголов - 48, что говорит об их более позднем происхождении как вида людей, в отличие от лемурийцев. Так, количество хромосом вида позволяет установить его старость. Насекомые имеют по 6 хромосом, а муха дрозофила - 4. У шимпанзе, которые имеют белую кожу под шерстью, - 46 хромосом, у гориллы с черной кожей - 48. На основании этого можно предположить, что шимпанзе произошли от лемурийцев, а гориллы от негров. Об этом также свидетельствует тот факт, что 12-13 хромосома у шимпанзе целиком идентична 2 паре хромосом белого человека.

Поздние Лемурийцы возводили мегалитные каменные сооружения, сохранившиеся до наших дней в Перу в Англии (Стоунхендж) и других частях света, а также обучались основам строительства у «Великих учителей».

В основу строительства был положен принцип «разрезания» твердых горных и скальных пород путем обогащения их трансмутированным порошком, получаемым при распаде золота при температуре 5,500 град.С. При помощи гигантских «щипцов» Ваджару, относящихся к категории видов вооружения «Богов», осуществлялось масштабное плавление золота в местах строительства и извлечения мегаблоков. Тонкие золотые пластины накладывались на горную каменную породу и в течение 70 секунд выпаривались методом электродуги. Когда пластины вспыхивали ярким светом и превращались в порошок, камень можно было резать как пластилин и лепить из него любые формы. Золото, «очищенное огнем», как его называли ацтеки, использовалось при передвижении гигантских моноблоков и каменных платформ. Порошок сыпали на плиту, затем производили определенный высокочастотный звук и колебания, которые позволяли передвигать огромные каменные платформы по воздуху. Аналогичный метод использовался в строительстве пирамид.

Причина исчезновения лемурийцев (1.5 миллионов лет назад) гибель Икара (Венеры)

Континент лемурийцев простирался вдоль экватора, от нынешней Африки до Австралии, вверх до горной системы в Гималаях.

1 миллион 500 тысяч лет назад в Солнечной системе произошла перестройка планет внутреннего кольца Солнечной системы по причине катастрофы, из-за столкновения «Железной планеты», обращающейся вокруг солнца по эллипсообразной орбите на удалении от Солнца в 820,4 а.е. (на расстоянии 123,06 млрд. км.) с планетой Икар, которая вращалась по орбите вокруг Солнца на расстоянии 2.3 а.е., обломки которой в последующем образовали астероидное кольцо, а полярные льды породили кометы. Ядро Икара стало новой планетой Венерой (0,72 а.е), занявшей прежнюю орбиту Марса, который, в свою очередь, изменил орбиту и удалился от Солнца на расстояние в 1.52 а.е. Земля, которая вращалась до гибели Икара на расстоянии от Солнца, равному в 1.8 а.е., перешла на орбиту ближе к Солнцу на расстояние 1.5 а.е.. Бывший спутник Икара - планета Луна стала вращаться вокруг Земли, а спутники Земли – планеты Лель и Фазтон погибли в этой катастрофе. Остатки Фазтона шаркнули вдоль пояса экватора Земли, уничтожив континент Лемурии, а также большую часть видов крупных животных и динозавров. Луна из-за удаленности от Земли осталась целой, однако последствия этой катастрофы до сих пор видны невооруженным взглядом на ее поверхности. В течение следующих сотен лет большая часть лемурийцев погибла из-за бушующих на Земле природных катастроф. (Приложение № 15, схемы №№ 1,2 лист №№ 1,2)

Смерть большей части лемурийцев привела к селекции их лучшей (оставшейся) части, которая сформировала седьмую субрасу – третьей коренной расы протоборейцев, из которых в последующем была образована разумная и цивилизованная атлантическая раса.

Четвертая раса
Атлантическая
(первые атланты появились 5 миллионов лет назад)

Первые атланты – Мурмудоны, появились во времена лемурийцев около 5 миллионов лет назад на отделенном острове в Атлантическом океане, который был изолирован от внешнего мира. Это были 4-х метровые великаны с большими головами, с красным, белым и жёлтым цветом кожи.

В результате эволюционного развития уменьшался размер их тела. Следующую субрасу атлантов образуют т.н. автохоны – люди ростом около 3 метров, которые существовали примерно 2,5 миллионов лет назад. Средняя продолжительность жизни мурмудонов и автохонов составляла около 600 лет.

Приблизительно к этому времени сформировались следующие субрасы атлантов - белая, красная, жёлтая и черная, которые устойчиво развивались независимо друг от друга в 7 частях света. Методы управления людьми через «Великих Учителей» оставались прежними. Они становились проповедниками и властителями многих поколений человечества и развивали его независимо друг от друга.

Первая развитая цивилизация атлантов – цивилизация толтеков, существовавшая около миллиона лет назад. Рост человека составлял 2,5 метров. Толтеки обладали пропорциональными чертами лица, а их средняя продолжительность жизни составляла около 300 лет.

Толтеки обладали развитой письменностью и законами. Они умели тиражировать тексты и писали на тонких металлических пластинах, которые хранили в кожаных футлярах. У них были школы и университеты. Исключительные знания были заимствованы от «Великих Учителей».

Первое легендарное островное государство было создано на острове Атлантида, занимавшем большую часть Атлантического океана. Его столицей был город «Золотые Врата», который отличался своей величественной архитектурой, золотыми колоннами, памятниками и фонтанами. Во всех частях Земли атланты сооружали храмы в виде сферических золотых куполов, рассеивающих энергетические потоки и положительно влиявших на биосферу Земли.

Из-за изменения древней архитектуры храмов, когда на сферические купола начали ставить кресты, земная биосфера лишилась значительной массы своих видов из-за недостатка электромагнитных седативных волн, влияющих на положительный рост и развитие флоры и фауны.

В Атлантиде существовал отряд летчиков, так называемых «виманов», которые передвигались 850.000 лет назад в атмосфере и в космосе. Оружие атлантов «Маш-мак», которое досталось им от «Великих Учителей», было использовано при завоевании других народов. Как следует из текстов древних манускриптов, с помощью направленного луча атланты могли одним ударом уничтожить целые города и разрушить мир. По всей видимости, речь идет о высокочастотном витонном излучателе, который губительно воздействует на живую органику и ЦНС живых организмов.

850 000 лет назад вожди Атлантиды организовали восстание против Богов из-за несогласия с существующей разницей в системе чисел и измерений, которая существовала у людей, традиционно имеющих по 5 пальцев на обеих руках и, следовательно, 10 мерную систему измерений и 6-12 (14,4) мерную систему измерения Богов, имеющих по 6 пальцев на обеих руках, с которой людям было тяжело справиться. 12 мерная система измерения, навязанная людям, вызвала разногласия, приведшие к восстанию, которое окончилось величайшей трагедией в истории Земли.

Вождами Атлантиды, бросившими вызов Богам, была совершена непоправимая ошибка, которая привела к изменению времени и к гибели большей части острова Атлантиды.

Вожды Атлантиды послали своих летчиков - виманов уничтожить «Агарту»- убежище богов внутри Земли.

При помощи оружия «Богов», виманы направили луч силового кристалла из космоса в центр Земли, что привело к взрыву неслыханной силы и расколу острова Атлантиды, основная часть которого погрузилась в пучину океана. На этом месте сейчас находится Саргассово море. Большая часть «Богов», которые жили под землей и наслаждались благами созданного ими Рая, погибли из-за термоядерного взрыва внутреннего ядра.

После этой трагедии Земля изменила свою орбиту обращения вокруг Солнца на расстояние, равное 1 а.е. Сутки вместо 48-ми часов составили привычные для нас 24 часа. Часть выживших атлантов образовали современное человечество.

Внутренний взрыв внутри планеты привел к смещению электромагнитных и географических полюсов.

На смену толтекам пришли акадийцы – представители белой расы, царствовавшие на Земле около 600 тыс. лет назад. Среди них были семиты, которые отличались воинственностью, энергичностью и отменным здоровьем. Большая часть из них стала кочевниками. Отличительными признаками этой субрасы являлась неуживчивость с соседями, мстительность и подозрительность. Их потомками стали иудеи, кадилы Северной Африки, кабул-каины, кабул-наины северного Индостана. Акадийцы вели войну против семитов и победили их. Они отличались предприимчивостью и были колонистами, добились больших успехов в науке, мореплавании, астрономии и астрологии. Воздвигали большие города и устанавливали контакты с самыми дальними регионами Земли. Их прямыми потомками стали финикийцы и народы средиземноморья.

мусульманами в Александрийской библиотеке. Оставшиеся экземпляры хранились в секретной библиотеке Ватикана и в Тибете. В 1938 году один экземпляр рукописи Манефона был передан Эрнсту Шефферу в Тибете в Лхасе во дворце Потала умирающим Далай Ламой XIII.

Как следует из текста «Списка Царей», 450 тыс. лет до н.э. с «железной планеты» («Планеты сотен миллионов лет») прибыл Бог Амон со своими сыновьями Анну и Энки, которые основали в Сирийской пустыне Эридское царство с целью добычи золота, необходимого для погибающей атмосферы их умирающей планеты. Анну-Энки в последующем основали на Земле цивилизацию захватчиков «Анну-Энков» (или по Петри - Аннунаков), которые поработили человечество и создали колонии людей в Сирийской Пустыне. По сведениям немецких ученых, оккупанты проводили биологические эксперименты над людьми в гор. Шуруппаке. Для проведения экспериментов на Землю прибыла в «воздушной ладье» их «Божественная сестра» Нинхурсаг, которая основала в Шуруппаке госпиталь.

В период до 199.586 г. до н.э. Богами «Железной планеты» были созданы десятки городов и поселений колонистов. Города выстраивали по орбите круга так, чтобы они в комплексе образовывали навигационную схему, которую было хорошо видно из космоса.

На Земле было создано несколько промышленных центров для переработки золота, которое Боги доставляли в виде трансмутированного порошка на свою планету. Этот порошок Боги и их воины принимали в пищу, продлевая т.о. себе жизнь на Земле. Порошок позволяли есть людям, которые служили Богам, для избавления от тяжких и неизлечимых болезней.

Как следует из текстов, люди приняли участие в войне между Богами 380 тыс. лет до н.э., но в текстах Альманахов об этом подробно не указывается.

Боги, знавшие о наступлении Потопа, спасли часть человечества, которую они выбрали в количестве 14400 человек для заселения ими Земли после потопления.

100 тыс. лет до н.э. Анну-Энки и их солдаты (воины) берут в жены земных женщин и развивают на Земле расу полубогов для управления людьми.

Те же события описываются в Книге Бытия, гл. 6.2. « когда люди начали умножаться на Земле и родились у них дочери, тогда сыны Божии увидели дочерей человеческих, что они красивы, и брали их себе в жены, какую кто избрал».

Перед вторым Армагеддоном Боги также оставили часть избранного человечества в количестве 14 400 человек для того, чтобы продолжить человеческий род после второго Потопа, который произошел 84.386 тыс. лет до н.э. по тем же причинам, что и первый Потоп.

77 тыс. лет до н.э. на Земле происходят гигантские извержения вулканов и вследствие этого наступает второй ледниковый период. Жизнь на Земле в течение следующих 500 лет замирает.

Он же создал комплекс пирамид на горе матери Шумера и вблизи Гелиополя – Великую пирамиду Гиза, которая была построена 33.000 лет до н.э.. Он также основал Ур-Шулим (нынешний Иерусалим), что по-шумерски означает город «четырёх частей света», а шумерский компас Богов, - ничто иное как звезда Давида, т.к. Боги рассматривали Землю не из четырёх частей, а с шести сторон Света. Города и центры возводились по той же навигационной схеме.

Зная о приближении третьего Потопа, враждующие между собой Боги вынашивали планы уничтожения человечества. Бог Энлиль требует от своих братьев и сестер не предупреждать о надвигающейся опасности людей. Энки нарушает клятву и рассказывает об этом Заусурде (библейскому Ною) и инструктирует его о том, как построить подводный корабль. Таким же образом Боги спасают человечество в других частях Земли, указывая им места, где можно было укрыться высоко в горах и в пещерах, о чем гласят различные легенды народов Америки, Мексики, Бразилии, Чили и Европы.

Таким образом, в результате электромагнитного резонанса, вызванного действиями выстроенных пирамид, не произошло предшествующих извержений вулканов и разломов тектонических плит, наступления длительного ледникового периода.

После того, как воды сошли в Землю, Боги дали людям орудия труда и семена. По всей Земле начинало развиваться земледелие и животноводство.

Как следует из «Списков Царей», Птах правил Мизром 9 тыс. лет до наступления третьего Потопа. 10.800 лет до н.э. сын Энки Ра делит верхний Мизр между Осирисом и Сетом, основывая вторую династию Богов. Ра правит 1000 лет, Сет – 450 лет, Осирис – 450 лет, Гор- 300 лет, Геб – 500 лет, Шу- 700 лет, а всего 3300 лет.

7.400 лет до н.э. Мизром правит третья династия полубогов из 30 имен, каждый из которых в среднем правит по 100-120 лет, всего 3.650 лет.

Большая часть Богов 5.000 лет до н.э. улетела на свою планету, оставив наместников, которых они забрали 1500 лет назад.

После того, как Боги покинули Мизр, начиная с 3950 г. до н.э., в течение 350 лет в Египте воцарился хаос. В этот период им правили 10 смертных царей – Скорпион, Ка, Зисер, Нармер, Сиг и др. И только 3.600 лет до н.э. Мин основал первую историческую династию фараонов Египта из числа смертных людей и основал новую столицу, посвященную Богу Птаху. Эта династия фараонов начинается со смертного царя Менеса. Т.о. получается, что первой исторической династии фараонов предшествовала нулевая династия из 10-ти смертных царей, правивших во времена хаоса, которым предшествовали две династии Богов, которые правили Мизром в общей сложности 6.950 лет (с 10.800 г. до н.э. до 3.950 г. до н.э.) и предшествующим правлением Бога Птаха, с 33.770 до 24.770 и Ра, с 24.770 до 12.400 г. до н.э.

Ра.....правил с 24.770 – 12.400 лет до н.э. (12.370 лет);
В 12.386 г. до н.э. произошел третий Потоп.

В 10.800 г. до н.э. Ра делит верхний Мизр между Осирисом и Сетом.

Ра правит Мизром с..... .10.800 – 9.800 до н.э. (1000 лет)
Сет правит Мизром с..... . 9.800 – 9.350 до н.э. (450 лет)
Осирис правит Мизром с9.350 – 8.900 до н.э. (450 лет)
Гор правит Мизром с8.900 – 8.600 до н.э. (300 лет)
Геб правит Мизром с8.600 – 8.100 до н.э. (500 лет)
Шу правит Мизром с8.100 – 7.400 до н.э. (700 лет)

По мнению немецких ученых, Боги, покинувшие нашу планету, оставили зашифрованный код в виде пиктограммы в пустыне Наска, которая в точности отображает систему Великой пирамиды Мизра, возведенной Птахом. При наложении контурной схемы этой пиктограммы на карту поля пирамид вблизи от Мемфиса, вырисовывается сетка с координатами, в местах которых следует производить раскопки. Эти раскопки были запланированы специалистами Аненербе в 1944 году, однако не были осуществлены из-за осложнения военной обстановки в Африканском корпусе Вермахта. По мнению Аненербе, под этими координатами скрываются величайшие тайны мироздания, артефакты и оружие Богов, которые они оставили для посвященных. По мнению немецких ученых, проводивших эти исследования, сокровищница, сокрытая под пирамидой Гизе, может быть вскрыта за несколько лет до предстоящего Армагеддона.

Из текстов Альманахов следует, что географический Северный полюс Земли смещался 5 раз в результате глобальных катаклизмов. 1,5 млн. лет назад - вследствие перестановки внутреннего планетарного круга Солнечной системы, из-за гибели Икара 850 тысяч лет назад, вследствие восстания и войны Атлантов, а также вследствие трех Великих Потопов, произошедших 200, 84 и 12 тыс. лет назад соответственно.

Немецкими исследователями разработаны модели Земного шара в указанные периоды.

До гибели Икара, вдоль экватора, в полушарии, где сейчас находится Тихий океан, располагался континент Лемурии. Северным полюсом было место, известное в северо-американских штатах как гора Дьявола, которая больше чем Пирамида Хеопса в 2,5 раза, ее возраст около 250 млн. лет. Угол наклона земной оси был 30 град. вправо. Земные сутки продолжались 72 часа. (Приложение № 19, рис. № 1). 1,5 млн. лет назад Земная ось сместилась на 90 град. влево.

Следующим историческим Северным полюсом времен становления и краха атлантической цивилизации становится пик «свастичной» Горы Кангрибоче (Кайлас) в Трансгималаях, высота которой составляет 6.696 метров. Верующие четырех буддистских конфессий: буддисты, боны, джайнисты и индуисты считают священную гору «осью Земли», на вершине которой находится вход в Шамбалу. На протяжении нескольких лет работы для немецких исследователей географическое местонахождение Атлантиды было неразрешимой загадкой. В Альманахах 1938 года Атлантида описывалась, как исчезнувший остров в Саргассовом Море в Атлантическом океане. К началу 1941 года исследователи были убеждены, что исчезнувшая Атлантида представляла собой крупный архипелаг островных государств на северо-западе Африки в Атлантическом океане, выстроенных вдоль линии экватора 1 млн. лет назад. В настоящее время от архипелага Атлантиды остались Азорские и Канарские острова. (Приложение № 19 рис. № 2). При этом современный контур Африки вращался вокруг земной оси в непривычном для нас ракурсе. Земные сутки длились 48 часов. Земная ось была наклонена влево на 60 град.

После гибели Атлантиды из-за термоядерного разрыва внутреннего ядра, географический Северный полюс Земли сместился на 90 град. вправо и возвратился в исходное положение на точку пика Горы Дьявола. Место в Сирийской пустыне, где Анну-Энки построили сеть городов и колоний с царством в Эриде 450 тыс. лет до н.э., находилось вдоль линии экватора Земли (приложение № 19 рис. № 3). Земные сутки составляли 24 часа. Земная ось была наклонена вправо на 30 град.

После Первого Потопа, произошедшего 199.586 лет до н.э., земная ось сместилась на 60 град. влево. Северным полюсом Земли стало место на карте современной Гренландии. Земная ось была наклонена влево на 30 град. Вместе с изменением наклона земной оси менялся географический ландшафт Земли. В указанный период времени местонахождение доисторического Мизра в Египте, т.н. Междуречье, находилось вдоль линии экватора, а Средиземное море разливалось на месте современной Европы.

После Второго Потопа, произошедшего 84.386 тыс. лет до н.э., земная ось сместилась на 15 град. вправо. Северный полюс находился в районе Северного полярного круга. На картах того времени появилась современная Европа, а Евро-Азиатский континент соединялся с Северной Америкой большей частью суши. Южная Америка соединялась с густонаселенной Антарктидой, а район Юго-Восточной Азии и Микронезии с Соломоновыми островами представлял собой материковую сушу, в границы которой входила современная Австралия. Район Северного полярного круга состоял из густонаселенной суши.

Северный Ледовитый океан образовался после Третьего Потопа, произошедшего 12.386 лет до н.э., Земная ось сместилась на 15 град. вправо. Нулевой отметкой Северного полюса стал т.н. Пуп Земли, - примерно такое же природное образование как Гора Дьявола, которая находилась в центре сформировавшегося Борейского материка, разделенного большими реками ровно на 4 части.

Документы, относящиеся к летописям XV-XVI веков, представляют географию средневековья в тех географических контурах и названиях, которые они имели до последнего Потопа. Характерно, что этот уникальный древний исторический документальный пласт бесценных свидетельств ушедших цивилизаций уничтожали европейские монархи и русские цари Романовы, видимо из-за того, чтобы не вызывать путаницу в связи с исчезнувшими материками и островами, античными названиями городов и регионов.

Уникальные исследования проведены в работах средневекового картографа Герарда (Герхарда) Меркатора, который являлся советником «ордынского царя Великой Монгольской Империи» Ивана Грозного (он же упоминается в летописях под именем «Карла V»). Меркатор является историческим основателем мировой картографии. Исполненные им карты и названия отображали исторические контуры исчезнувших континентов вследствие последнего Потопа (Альманахи «Аненербе» апрель-май 1940 г.г.) (Приложение № 20 рис. № 1). Аналогичными источниками при составлении карт пользовались другие не менее известные историки и картографы средневековья: Абрахам Ортелиус, Пери Рейс, наш соотечественник – картограф и Обер-секретарь Сената при правительстве Петра 1 Иван Кириллов, который подарил царю карту мира, где обозначались Скифия (античное название Москвы), Карфаген и Майнц. На картах XVII века известного русского картографа Киприанова вместо «Черного моря» имеется античное название Евксинский Понт, а «Черное море» находится там, где сейчас Индийский океан. На всех средневековых картах, впервые изданных географами, современные океаны и крупные промышленные центры имеют античные названия, свойственные местному фольклору, легендам и обычаям.

Летом 1694 г. Московский Патриарх Адриан потребовал от русского царя Петра Первого уничтожения «огнем, как враждебной бесовской ереси», первоизданных в России географических карт на латыни с указанием античных названий городов, морей и океанов. Примерно в это же время сатрапы Патриарха Адриана перекопали подземный московский Кремль в поисках библиотеки Ивана Грозного для того, чтобы уничтожить ее. Патриарх знал, какие сокровенные тайны, представляющие интерес для истории и науки, хранились в этой библиотеке. Становятся ясными причины, почему Иван Грозный спрятал хранилище редких и бесценных книг. Контур континентов и проглядывающихся островов этих карт, в детальной точности соответствуют современным картам зоогеографического районирования донной фауны мирового океана, сделанным при помощи космических съемок

Раздел 5. Глобальные катастрофы

В исследованиях немецких ученых описываются природные характеристики событий, предшествующих глобальным катаклизмам, связанных с прохождением «Железной планеты» в Солнечной системе.

Для понимания этих событий необходимо учитывать совокупность глобальных аспектов электромагнитных дисфункций, происходящих в глубоком космосе, которые прямо влияют на вращение ядра Земли.

Существующая система винтового спиралеобразного взаимообращения космических тел и планет во Вселенной напоминает сложный часовой механизм, в котором все соединяющиеся между собой маленькие и большие шестеренки играют важную роль в динамике механического процесса.

Солнце и Земля одновременно участвуют в трехуровневом поступательном движении. Земля вращается вокруг Солнца, Солнце вращается вокруг Центра Местной Группы Звезд, которая, в свою очередь, так же как и Солнечная система, по спирали раскручивается вокруг Центра Звездного Скопления пояса «Гулды» в Местной Структуре рукава Ориона-Лебедя гал. «Млечный Путь». Галактика раскручивается вокруг Центра «Туманности Андромеды», которая раскручивается вокруг Центра Сверхскопления Звезд «Дева», и так до бесконечности. Все динамично вращающиеся тела излучают электромагнитные колебания разных частот, изменение которых приводит к нарушению ритмики колебания объектов по принципу от большого к малому. Изменение ритмики пульсации внутреннего ядра Земли не может вызвать электромагнитные дисфункции в жизни Солнца и структуре больших звездных скоплений.

Постоянное и ритмичное вращение внутреннего ядра Земли зависит от глобальных электромагнитных возмущений, возникающих как в глубоком космосе, так и в структуре Солнечной системы.

Прохождение вокруг Земли такого объекта как «Железная планета» (больше чем Земля в 50 раз), которая вторгается во внутренний круг Солнечной системы один раз в 3600 лет, по часовой стрелке, возмущая электромагнитные потоки и завихрения вращающихся планет и объектов Солнечной системы, раскручивающихся против часовой стрелки, безусловно, приводит к нарушению электромагнитного колебания ядра Земли.

Ядро начинает излучать высокочастотные ритмопеременные потоки электромагнитной энергии с большей скоростью, которая в течение короткого промежутка времени увеличивается. Когда ритмика колебания ядра достигает отметки 13 Гц, его электромагнитное поведение становится непредсказуемым и приводит к смещению магнитных и географических полюсов.

Примерно за 100 лет до вхождения «Железной планеты» во внутренний круг Солнечной системы на Земле происходит постепенное изменение климата и понижение уровня кислорода, что приводит к резкому ослаблению иммунитета живых существ. Насекомые и пчелы впадают в длительную спячку, вследствие чего несколько урожаев останутся неопыленными. Это приведет к отсутствию основных элементов питания. Когда планета достигает границ внутреннего круга Солнечной системы, во всех частях света люди будут наблюдать электромагнитные аномалии и северные сияния, сопровождающиеся бесконечными разрывами громов и молниями, без дождей. Изменение электромагнитного фона Земли скажется на внутреннее психофизическое состояние людей. Это вызовет массовый суицид и беспорядки. Люди будут страдать бессонницей и расстройством психики. Электромагнитные бури и превышенный радиационный фон послужат причиной многочисленных смертей людей, страдающих сердечно-сосудистыми заболеваниями. Возникнет резкая нехватка продовольствия. По мере продвижения «Железной планеты» к Солнцу, на Земле начнутся землетрясения, после чего на Землю упадет большое количество метеоритных осадков. Начнется движение тектонических плит. Люди будут искать убежище в высокогорных пещерах. После извержений вулканов и землетрясений 1/3 земной и морской фауны будет уничтожена. Когда «железная планета» достигнет астероидного кольца, на Землю упадет астероид, в следствии чего большая часть источников пресной воды будет уничтожена. Это вызовет смерть еще 1/3 населения и животного мира. Падение второго астероида вызовет поднятие тектонической плиты и заполнение магмой больших территорий суши. Оставшаяся 1/3 часть людей погибнет от болезней, вызванных отравлением серным воздухом и зараженной водой. У людей выпадут волосы и зубы, они будут покрыты язвами и проказой. Только после этого воды Потопа смоют сушу с лица Земли. Из числа оставшихся людей спасутся лишь те, кто вовремя сумеет укрыться в высокогорных пещерах, а также часть «избранных», которых Боги, прилетевшие с «Железной планеты» в очередной раз изберут для последующего возрождения человечества.

Этот сценарий имеет глубокие исторические корни и научные обоснования.

Если брать во внимание тот, факт, что Бог Птах за 30.000 лет до наступления третьего Потопа организовал и построил мировую систему пирамид, что способствовало удержанию земной оси в пределах северного полярного круга предшествующего географического полюса, то картина грядущего Армагеддона будет гораздо страшнее, так как система пирамид разрушена, а человечество не готово к наступлению таких последствий.

Пирамиды являлись мощным резонансным принимающим устройством постоянно поступающей высокочастотной энергии из космического пространства, которая, проходя через них, рассеивалась в широком спектре диапазона (как это показано на рис. № 1 в приложении № 18), оказывая мощное низкочастотное воздействие на ядро Земли. В результате чего восстанавливалась его ритмичность и стабильность. Скорость вращения Земли замедлялась, снижалась интенсивность индукционных токов, скапливающихся внутри Земли. При отсутствии этой системы, в результате постоянного воздействия высокочастотных коротких волн на атмосферу Земли возрастает ионизация ее атмосферы и напряженность электрического поля, что приводит к нарушению ритмики вращения ядра. Земля получает дополнительное ускорение. Сила возбуждающих токов возрастает постоянно, что приводит к сейсмичности и геотектонической активности.

По данным немецких ученых следующий Армагеддон наступит в 2014 году XXI века (т.е. через 34 года).

- 1-й Армагеддон произошел 199.586 тыс. лет до н.э.
- 2-й Армагеддон произошел 84.386 тыс. лет до н.э.
- 3-й Армагеддон произошел 12.386 тыс. лет до н.э.

Между первым и вторым Армагеддонами имеется 8 циклов по 14.400 лет, из расчета 3.600×4 , т.е. каждый четвертый цикл оканчивался Потопом из за нахождения Земли стороной Тихого океана к орбите проходящей планеты.

Между вторым и третьим потопом – 5 циклов. Если брать за основу дату 2014 года, то получается, что между третьим и четвертым Армагеддонами – 1 цикл, а в сумме: $8+5+1= 14$.

К таким «совпадениям», связанным с числом «14» или «14.4» относятся исследования немецких ученых, которые они проводили по фото-киноматериалам, полученным экспедицией Эрнста Шеффера.

В 1938 году Далай Лама XIII позволил фотографу Шеффера и двум исследователям научного отдела СС сделать фото-киносъемки гранитной плиты, находящейся в подземной части дворца Потала в Лхасе. Им был передан свиток манускрипта, на котором изображены десятки разных по величине окружностей, имеющих двоичную систему чисел, на тибетском и неизвестном санскрите (приложение № 24 схема №№ 1-16). Окружности, по убеждению исследователей, означали расположение планет в

Солнечной системе 1,5 млн. лет назад. Нумерация выполнена в своеобразном порядке: внутренний круг пронумерован слева направо от 1 до 9, правая сторона пронумерована слева направо от 10 до 17, левая сторона – пронумерована справа налево от 18 до 25, внизу от 26 до 28, вверху – слева направо от 29 до 31. Тибетские числа повторяют последовательность неизвестного санскрита, который имелся на гранитной плите. Числа означали координаты планет в непонятном астрономическом исчислении. Эти координаты были наложены на миллиметровую сетку. Если по миллиметрам отмерить 6 единиц, как наши 5 (по сетке Богов), получается, что 12 см. по нашей миллиметровой сетке равны 14,4 см. или 15 млн. км. 14.4×15 млн. равно 216 млн. км., т.е. 1 условная а.е. на языке Богов предположительно равна 216 млн. км. Если $216.000.000$ разделить на $150.000.000$, получается коэффициент 1,44, который приемлем для деления наших условных астрономических единиц на их а.е. Например, при определении расстояния от Меркурия до Солнца равному 0,4 а.е., делим 0,4 на 1.44 получаем 0,27 у.а.е., умножаем на 216 млн. км., получаем 58.32 млн. км. на исчислении Богов. На нашем исчислении получается 58.5 млн. км. Немецкие ученые выводили число, равное 59, 999,999 км. Нам пока не ясно, каким алгоритмом они пользовались при расшифровке многомиллиардных чисел, в которых вместо привычных нам нулей, имеются одни девятки. Однако погрешность в итоговой цифре при таких астрономических расстояниях является не существенной.

Если исходить из версии о том, что гибель Икара произошла 1,5 млн. лет назад, то рисунок, выгравированный неизвестным способом на огромной гранитной плите, имеет возраст более 1,5 млн. лет.

Из текстов следует, что Икар обращался вокруг Солнечной системы на расстоянии 2,3 а.е., равном 345 млн. км. Если 2,3 а.е. разделить на коэффициент 1.4, получается число 1.6 у.а.е. (по исчислению Богов), что соответствует 344,999,999; то же самое, если мы округлим наши 345,000,000. Таким образом, система чисел Богов более точная в погрешностях исчисления до 0,999,999, чем современная математика.

Немецкие исследователи ссылаются на работу Ферстмана, который установил, что загадочная цивилизация Майя пользовалась календарем Богов не по десятиричной системе чисел, а по двадцатеричной. 20 дней инков равнялись 1 уиналу (20 дневному месяцу), 18 уиналов равнялось 1 тупу (360 дневный год), 20 тупов равнялось 1 катупу (7200 дней), 20 катупов равнялось 1 бактупу (14.400 дней). Удивительно, но календарь Майя начинается с 12.386 года до н.э. (Третьего Армагеддона), а заканчивается 27 декабря 2012 года. Если предположить, что 27.12.2012 года на Земле произойдут события, связанные с движением по орбите вокруг Солнца «Железной планеты», то вызванные в связи с этим землетрясения и извержения вулканов уничтожат большую часть человечества. Затем, в течение следующих двух лет, погибнет биосфера и воды Потопа смоят следы цивилизации. Таким образом, от известной нам даты 2014 года, надо вычесть 1 Майский бактун (14.400). Получается 12.386 год до н.э. Вряд ли такое совпадение может быть просто случайностью.

Доказательством того, что на Земле, как это указано в текстах Альманахов, несколько раз происходили Армагеддоны и Потопы, может служить факт, что в соленой морской воде содержание углекислого газа в 60 раз больше, чем в атмосфере и пресной воде. Возникает вполне обоснованное предположение, что это может быть связано с гигантским пожаром, полыхавшим на Земле, после чего углекислый газ вымылся в мировой океан в результате Потопа. Если учитывать то обстоятельство, что биосфера Земли была в 6,4 раза больше по численности чем нынешняя, то, вполне может быть, что ледяные шапки, которыми покрыт Северный и Южный полюс, образовались от влаги уничтоженной (сгоревшей) биосферы.

В 1977 году американские и канадские ученые произвели сенсационные исследования микрочастиц и содержащихся элементов в пробах льда, изъятых с глубины промерзания в Гренландии и в Антарктиде, равной периоду 12.000 лет до н.э. Исследованием установлено, что действительно, 12 тысяч лет до н.э. на Земле полыхал невиданный пожар, что характеризуется содержанием остатков углекислого газа, превышающего допустимую норму в 97,8 раз, а также наличием микрочастиц вулканического пепла от пожара и резким снижением числа изотопа кислорода в этих срезах. Канадские биологи провели аналогичные исследования по срезам льда в Гренландии и в Антарктиде. Было установлено, что примерно 75 тыс. назад на Земле произошли извержения вулканов, что вызвало ледниковый период. Это открытие вписывается в исследования «Аненербе». Об этих событиях, произошедших 77 тыс. лет назад (от составления рукописи) рассказывает египетский историк Манефон в «Списке Царей».

Сотрудниками НИИ Главного разведывательного управления Генерального штаба Вооруженных Сил СССР проведен анализ и исследования, вытекающие из тезисов правительственного доклада США 1980 года президенту США «О положении в мире к 2000 году». Один из четырех томов доклада посвящен глобальному изменению климата и прогнозу природной обстановки в начале XXI века (2000-2012 г.г.). В докладе говорится, что в указанный период времени, на Земле ожидаются глобальные катаклизмы, которые повлияют на жизнь человечества и существующей цивилизации.

Примерно к 2010 году произойдут изменения сначала магнитных, а затем географических полюсов в сторону северо-американского континента. Воды мирового океана в течение месяца затопят сушу до уровня приблизительно до 5000 м. Для северо-американских штатов и для всего северо-американского континента останутся безопасные места на вершинах горной системы Кордильер и местностей, прилегающих к высоте Мак-Кинли (Денали) на Аляске (6.194 м.), Логан, США-Канада (5951м.), Св. Ильи, США-Канада (5489 м.), Орисаба, Мексика, (5700 м.) Попокатепетль, Мескика (5450 м.). В течение двух недель воды потопа смоят с лица Земли горную систему Аппалачи и пик Митчелл (2037 м.), а в течение следующих двух недель под воду уйдут Скалистые горы и пик Эльберт (4399 м.).

Северный и Южно-американский континенты в течение месяца погрузятся под воду. Крупные промышленные центры окажутся под водой на глубине до 200 метров. Безопасным местом для южно-американского континента станут вершины горной системы Анд и районы, прилегающие к пику Аконкагуа, Аргентина (6960 м.), Охос-дель Саладо, Аргентина-Чили (6908 м.), Бонете, Аргентина (6782 м.), Уаскаран, Перу (6768 м.), Ильимани, Боливия (6462 м.) и Чимборасо, Эквадор (6310 м.). Реальность для спасения жизни останется у 4 % населения Северной и Южной Америки.

Безопасными местами для населения Африки будут горы Килиманджаро, Танзания (5895 м.), Кения (5199 м.) и пик Маргерито, Уганда, Конго (5109 м.). Реальность для спасения жизни останется у 1 % населения Африки.

Австралийский континент будет полностью затоплен. Перспектива спасения населения Австралии отсутствует.

Глобальная картина затопления, по мнению американских специалистов, будет представлять собой следующие события. Воды Тихого океана с правой стороны смоят Северный и Южный континент. С левой стороны - Австралию, Юго-Восточную Азию, Индокитай, Японию. В России затопление будет происходить медленнее из-за большой территории и того, что на пути волн Потопа окажутся горы Срединного хребта Корякского и Колымского нагорья, а также Сихотэ-Алиньский, Джугджурский, Яблонево-й хребты, а также Уральские, Гималайские, Тянь-Шаньские и Кунь-Луньские горные системы. С учетом этого разница высот затопления по сравнению с Северным и Южным Американским континентом в России будет другая. Москва уйдет под воду в течении двух недель с момента катастрофы. Уральские горы от Воркуты до Орска будут затоплены до высоты тысячи метров. Большой шанс для спасения представится народам, проживающим в районе Среднесибирского плоскогорья и Тянь-Шаньской горной системы. Реальность для спасения жизни в СССР останется у 25% населения.

Европейская картина потопа будет выглядеть следующим образом. Остров Исландия будет погружен под воду частично. Ирландия будет затоплена полностью. Британские острова погрузятся под воду на 90%. На суше останутся Гранпианские горы, город Бенневис (высота 1343 метра), а также Пеннинские горы. Северная часть Европы, протяженностью от Пиренейского полуострова до границ России, будет затоплена. Пиренейский полуостров останется незатопленным. Испания затопится по берегам Атлантического Океана на 15%. Франция уйдет под воду на 50%. На суше останутся Альпы и часть Центрального массива. Италия погрузится под воду на 50%. На суше останутся Аппенины, город Корно-Гранде (высота 2912 метров), остров Сицилия, вулкан Этна (3340 метров). Острова Сардиния и Корсика погрузятся под воду частично по береговой низменности. Также по береговой низменности уйдет под воду полуостров Пелопоннес. На суше останутся Карпаты с прилегающими к ним населенными пунктами. Дания, Прибалтийские республики СССР, Финляндия и часть Швеции погрузятся под воду. Норвегия затопится вдоль береговых линий - на суше останутся только те ее территории, которые расположены на Скандинавских горах. Безопасными местами в Европе станут также горные системы Монблан, Франция, Италия (4807 м.), Монте-Роза, Италия (4634 м.), Этна, Италия (3323 м.), Маттерхорн, Италия - Швейцария (4478 м.), Юнгфрау, Швейцария (4158 м.). Реальность для спасения жизни останется у 20% населения Европы.

Большая часть Средиземноморья, включая Турцию, останется на поверхности. Азия погрузится в воду до Гималайских гор. Индия будет затоплена. Тибетское нагорье станет убежищем для миллионов китайцев, у которых будет шанс спастись в этой катастрофе. Безопасными местами в Азии станут горные вершины Эвереста, Китай, Непал (8850 м.), Чогори, Китай, Пакистан (8611 м.), Канченджанга (8586 м.), Аннапурна, Непал (8078 м.). Реальность для спасения жизни останется у 20% населения Азии.

Таким образом, из всего населения Земли погибнет 80% людей. При таких обстоятельствах у американского правительства вызывает опасение то обстоятельство, что после предполагаемой катастрофы Россия, арабский мир и Индокитай сохранят свои промышленные центры и часть военного потенциала. Американцы отмечают в докладе, что причины этого катаклизма будут связаны с межпланетарными дисфункциями. Специалисты Главного Разведывательного управления ГШ СССР отмечают, что правительство США всерьез занялось изучением вопроса геофизики и прохождением космических тел вокруг Солнца, которые могут создать «межпланетарные дисфункции». Известно, что американское правительство приступило к строительству специальной базы для спасения людей и животных на Аляске вдоль десяти самых высоких вершин, находящихся на Аляскинском хребте, в районе городов Мак - Кинди и Форакера. Также начато строительство сборных Центров в районе городов Джердайн и Торберта. На программу строительства Центров выделено 500 миллиардов долларов. В этом же регионе создаются пантомные базы ГСМ и горно-строительного оборудования.

Созданы спецподразделения, где военные инженеры армии США заняты освоением глубоких высокогорных пещер. Программа носит условное наименование «Аргон».

Наряду с этим стоит отметить, что преследующие определенные эгоцентристские цели правительственные круги США и ЦРУ, с 50-х годов стали скрыто переходить к изучению протекающих на Земле (гео-, метео-, био-, социо- и др.) процессов как связанных между собой и с системой космофизических процессов. С 60-х годов начали целенаправленно исследовать и прогнозировать масштабы вероятных (геофизических, метеоклиматических, экологических, психологических, кризисно-конфликтных и др.) катаклизмов, грядущих на Земле на рубеже XX и XXI веков. Американские разведывательные службы в 60-70-х годах стали развертывать на международном уровне крупномасштабную дезинформационную кампанию по внедрению и укреплению в доминирующей мировой и советской науке тех теоретико-методологических концепций, методических, технологических и прикладных направлений, которые способствовали бы стратегической, мировоззренческой и практической неготовности своих вероятных противников и конкурентов к грядущим катаклизмам.

В настоящее время власти США и разведывательные службы приступили к развертыванию комплекса «непрямых» подрывных (экономических, научных, политических, психологических, военно-стратегических, кризисно конфликтных, «мировотворческих» и др.) акций по скрытой дестабилизации обстановки в СССР и его союзников и к крупномасштабной разработке (преимущественно под прикрытием программы «звездных войн») комплекса средств наземного, воздушно-космического и др. базирования, ориентированных на скрытую интенсификацию глобальных и локальных (астро-, гео-, метео-, био- и психофизических, техногенных и др.) деструкции в зонах поражения на основе прогнозирования и резонансно-волнового усиления соответствующих стихийно-разрушительных механизмов природы. В своей перспективе они определяют выход на стадию расширенного развертывания в геопространствах Евразии и Советского Союза всех развиваемых средств и попыток их маскируемого комплексного задействования в целях последующего установления жесткого контроля над данной частью планеты, наиболее геоустойчивой и ресурсообеспеченной в ближайшие столетия.

Складывающаяся ситуация (в развитии планеты, советской научной, народно-хозяйственной и военной практики, а также маскируемых стратегических приготовлений США) предопределяет необходимость срочно повысить государственные усилия в координации и поддержке передовых отечественных специалистов и исследовательских групп, междисциплинарная интеграция которых могла бы дать в относительно сжатые сроки принципиально новые мировоззренческие и прикладные результаты в сферах:

- раскрытия происходящего с Солнечной системой, планетой Земля, ее природой, человечеством и, непосредственно СССР;
- прогноза и ослабления стихийно-разрушительных угроз безопасности Советского Союза;
- упреждающего вскрытия и противодействия агрессивным планам и акциям США, скрыто опирающихся на различные дестабилизирующие и разрушительные механизмы природы и общества и стратегическую дезинформированность научного, государственного и военного руководства стран - объектов воздействия.

- с 1831-1904 год - 43 км
- с 1904-1948 год - 397 км ,
- с 1948-1962 год - 133 км.,
- с 1962-1972 год - 54 км
- с 1972-1984 год - 206 км

в сторону нулевого меридиана географического Северного полюса между семидесятой и восьмидесятой параллелью. Скорость движения Северного магнитного полюса непропорционально растет. В период 1831 по 1948 год она колебалась от 2,5 до 5 км. в год. С 1948 по 1962 год скорость увеличилась на 10 км в год. С 1972 по 1984 год ее скорость составляет 22 км в год. Скачок в 803 км магнитный полюс совершил за последние 150 лет. При сохранении такой скорости, действительно возможно, что при движении на север, Северный магнитный полюс достигнет территории Северной Америки в 2012 году. В настоящее время суммарный магнитный полюс не совпадает с географическим, а ориентир на Север и Юг по компасу становится приблизительным. Последний раз переполюсовка северного магнитного полюса, по мнению специалистов НИИ ГРУ, произошла 12000 лет назад, исходя из исследований древних отложений слоев лавы с железосодержащими включениями. Выявлено, что напряженность дипольного поля Земли изменяется вдвое с периодом равным 14000 лет. В начале нашей эры величина этого поля была в полтора раза больше, чем сейчас.

Соответственно, при ослабевании диполя, усиливаются локальные поля. Созданные математические модели показывают, если напряженность основного поля ослабнет и достигнет 0,2-0,3 от своей средней величины, то магнитные полюса начнут беспорядочно перемещаться под влиянием усиленных аномальных областей. Если северный магнитный полюс таким образом пересечет линии экватора, произойдет инверсия географических полюсов. Аналогичные процессы нарастания дрейфа магнитных полюсов происходят на Уране и Нептуне, из чего следует, что ускоряющийся дрейф полюсов Земли связан с глобальными процессами, происходящими в глубине Солнечной системы и галактике «Млечный Путь». Они оказывают основное влияние на фазы развития биосферы Земли и жизнедеятельность человека.

1968-1972 гг. – 167 катастроф
1973-1977 гг. – 182 катастрофы
1978-1982 гг. – 292 катастрофы

По утверждению специалистов ГРУ, для осуществления прогнозирования перспектив дрейфа магнитных полюсов и природных катаклизмов, связанных с геофизическими процессами, необходимо создать на базе КГБ и Совета Министров СССР специализированное ведомство, в которое вошли бы ведущие разработчики этой темы от НИИ ГРУ, МО СССР, КГБ СССР.

Существующая в СССР организационно-мобилизационная система, в случае начала войны или наступления глобальных геофизических катаклизмов, представляет собой коммуникационно-коллекторную сеть, расположенную под основными промышленными центрами союзных республик, находящуюся под землей на глубине до 250 метров. Данная инфраструктура состоит на балансе 16 Управления КГБ СССР и обслуживается 9 Управлением ГШ ВС СССР (войсковая часть 25555). По мнению командования и инженеров этой части, в случае затопления промышленных центров, под которыми находятся объекты 16 Управления, их внутренняя инфраструктура перестанет существовать через 3 месяца в связи с проникновением большого количества воды под давлением через коллекторные шахты воздухозаборников и соединительных инженерных сооружений, без которых подземные объекты не могут функционировать. При строительстве и сооружении этих объектов инженеры учитывали защиту от ядерных и водородных взрывов и наступающие последствия ядерной войны, но не глобальное затопление суши. Таким образом, вся коммуникационно-мобилизационная инфраструктура СССР, включающая в себя основные центры жизнедеятельности, от складов ГСМ до водных резервуаров, при наводнении, не способна обеспечить безопасность находящегося внутри контингента длительное время.

Если учитывать наступление таких последствий, подземные инфраструктуры необходимо располагать на возвышенностях горных массивов, которые не будут затоплены. Таких исследований и разработок в СССР не проводилось. Анализы и наработки, которые ведут специалисты ГРУ по данному профилю, касаются изучения магнитно-электрической неустойчивости Земли и узкопрофильных вопросов в области геофизики прохождения космических тел и объектов Солнечной системы. Пересмотр инженерных основ при строительстве этих объектов находится в юрисдикции высших органов управления государства и Политбюро ЦК КПСС.

Подтверждением основ гипотез, изложенных в материалах Аненербе, могут служить археологические исследования ученых разных стран, проведенные ими за последние 150 лет. Эти исследования категорически опровергают теорию Дарвина о происхождении человека от обезьяны и делают ее абсурдной.

В Мерилике, в 1978 году археологами обнаружены следы людей, датируемые 4 млн. лет назад, которые, по всей видимости, спасались от извержения вулкана. Около 50 отпечатков ступней тянутся на протяжении 115 метров в вулканическом туфе. Размер стоп этих особей в два раза больше, чем стопа современного человека, что свидетельствует о большом росте людей, живших в то время.

В 1972 году в Африке, в Коби-Фора найден хорошо сохранившийся череп возрастом 1,8 млн. лет, с объемом мозга около 750 куб. см. (находка №1470).

В северной Танзании, в Лаетоли, в 55 км. от Олдувайского ущелья, обнаружены человеческие следы на окаменевшем вулканическом пепле, датированные 3,6-3,8 млн. лет назад.

В 1877 году под горой Тейбл-Маунтин (Калифорния), на высоте 3360 метров, у входа в пещеру, в русле древней реки, обнаружена каменная ступка с пестиком возрастом 33 млн. лет. (Приложение № 25 фото № 1).

В Техасе, на реке Палукси в 1969 году была обнаружена дорожка человеческих следов с отпечатками трехпалого динозавра, датируемая 100 млн. лет назад. Если рассматривать протекторы следов, то можно предположить, что человек «прогуливал» динозавра.

Горный инженер и геолог Джон Рейд в 1922 году в Неваде обнаружил след человеческой стопы, который он извлек из слоев возрастом 213-240 млн. лет. (Приложение № 26 фотография № 1). Размер этого следа в три раза больше чем ступня современного человека.

В 1938 году профессор геологии Берского колледжа Вилбур Барроу, в Рокастле (Кентукки), обнаружил окаменевшие отпечатки протекторов обуви, которые датируются 250 млн. лет назад. (Приложение № 27 фото № 1)

Геолог Вильям Мейстер в июне 1968 года в штате Юта в Источниках Антилопы, в глинистом сланце, датируемом 590 млн. лет до н.э., обнаружил протектор обуви длиной 25 x 8 см.

Привлеченные к исследованиям антропологи и археологи утверждают, что за последние 150 лет в разных частях Земли известными учеными обнаружены сотни видов костей и черепов, дальнейшее перечисление которых не имеет смысла, возраст которых датируется от 2 до 5 млн. лет. Разновидности находок вносят путаницу в определении количества и разнообразия видов людей в указанный период времени.

Многочисленные геологические и антропологические находки опровергают общепринятые научные теории и вполне вписываются в общую картину исследований, проведенных специалистами Аненербе.

Вышеобозначенные теории укладываются в то, как ученые Аненербе и древние цивилизации представляли себе внутреннее строение Земли (Приложение № 28, схема №1, приложение № 29, схема №1). Твердый слой Земного шара составляет 2044 километра. В него входят (последовательно):

- внешний плодородный почвенный слой Земли - 10 км.
- гранит - 184 км.
- базальт - 283 км.
- жидкий базальт с раскаленным газом - 140 км.
- магма, находящаяся в состоянии постоянного распада реакции ядерного синтеза, в котором, как и на Солнце, принимают участие металлы тероидной группы при температуре 3500 градусов. Она же является центром гравитации Земного шара. Ширина этого слоя - 930 км.

Далее расположены:

- жидкий базальт с раскаленным газом - 140 км.
- базальт - 283 км.
- гранит - 184 км.
- внутренний почвенный слой - 10 км.

Внутренняя атмосфера от границы почвенного слоя до внутреннего ядра составляет 6456 км.

Окружность внутреннего ядра составляет 3000 км.

Внутреннее ядро находится в постоянной реакции распада ядерного синтеза тероидной группы металлов, как и на Солнце.

В ы в о д ы:

1. В начале XXI века Земля пройдет через сложный период эволюционного развития с системной перестройкой обширного комплекса геофизических (геомагнитных, геоэлектрических, геоэлектромагнитных и др.), геохимических, метео-климатических и др. процессов.

Данные перестроечные процессы станут нарастать в функционировании Земли с начала XX в. и к его исходу (ориентировочно август-сентябрь 2012 года) вступят, по совокупности имеющихся экспериментальных и аналитических данных, в интенсивную фазу своей эволюционной динамики.

Одним из главных источников происходящих событий станут коренные сдвиги в режимах взаимодействия и функционирования всех тел Солнечной Системы по мере ее вхождения в определенную зону Галактического пространства.

Происходящие сдвиги в космо- и геофизических истоках планетарной жизни активно отразятся в состоянии всех подсистем биосферы, (в т.ч. фауны, флоры, физиологии и психологии человечества), что предопределил ее вход в новый этап эволюционного развития.

2. Рождение нового этапа планетарной жизни произойдет вместе с перестройкой базовых режимов функционирования планеты, и будет закономерно сопровождаться эскалацией различных дисфункций в развитии природы и человечества. Будет наблюдаться интенсивный рост всевозможных стихийных бедствий (землетрясений, оползней, засух, наводнений, ураганов, цунами, массовых пожаров, эпидемий, экологических поражений, скачков погоды и климата), разрушений объектов инфраструктуры, дисфункций автоматики и коммуникаций, хронических и импульсивных деструкции человеческой физиологии и психики, аварий и катастроф транспортных средств, вспышек локальной (социально-бытовой, политической и военной) конфликтности и мн. др.

Как следует из февральского 1983 года спец.сообщения Института Земного магнетизма, ионосферы и распространения радиоволн АН СССР, необычное потепление климата зафиксированы в разных регионах Земли, а повышение интенсивности излучения СВЧ-фона происходят в различных регионах СССР. Отмечены аномальные случаи разрушения металлических основ несущих металлических конструкций, в том числе железнодорожных мостов в местах крепления и сварки. (Приложение № 30 л.д. №№ _____).

Масштабы и динамика данных деструктивных процессов и их последствий представляют угрозу советской промышленности (и всей планетарной) безопасности, нарастающую вместе со вхождением планеты в интенсивную фазу своего эволюционного преобразования.

3. Происходящее с планетой, природой, человечеством и непосредственно с Советским Союзом требует от нас, во-первых, ускоренного и адекватного системно-мировоззренческого осознания происходящего, и, во-вторых, активизации продуктивной деятельности по упреждающему вскрытию и посильному ослаблению нарастающих стихийно-разрушительных, аварийно-катастрофических, экологических и др. угроз безопасности Советскому Союзу.

С тревогой следует отметить, что в настоящее время недостаточная готовность отечественной науки и народно-хозяйственной практики к адекватному системно-мировоззренческому пониманию происходящего (с планетой, природой, человеком и окружающей средой) и к ослаблению нарастающих деструкций может существенно увеличить масштабы советской угрозы и существующей системы планетарной безопасности.

Для эффективной реализации данной программы и повышения соответствующего потенциала советской науки, - представляется необходимым:

- ускоренно начать организованные научные работы по системному накоплению, осмыслению и интеграции разносторонних узкоотраслевых сведений, объем которых вполне достаточен для принципиального теоретического и прикладного углубления той базовой мировоззренческой программы, которую развивали М.Ломоносов, А. Гумбольдт, Т.Шарден, К. Циолковский, А.Чижевский, В. Вернадский и другие мыслители человечества, и которая предписывает необходимость рассмотрения основных процессов на Земле в тесной системной связи с протекающими космофизическими процессами;

- приступить к интеграционному развитию той разрозненной методической базы современной науки (вернее куста отраслевых наук о Земле) и народно-хозяйственной практики, которая пока основывается на множестве узкоотраслевых автономно-фрагментарных концепций и моделей, ныне не отражающих закономерности функционирования и развития внутренних и внешних связей Земли как целостной системы;

- усилить целевое внимание советской организованной науки к сфере высокоточной приборной фиксации тех (сверхвысокочастотных, сверхнизкочастотных и др.) резонансно-волновых процессов, которые лежат в основе функционирования и взаимодействия рассматриваемых микро- и макроявлений (без чего не получают должной поддержки, методологической коррекции и интеграции те усилия многочисленных талантливых ученых, которые инициативно разрабатывают приборы с указанными возможностями, но не в состоянии обеспечить их реализацию, т.к. не вписываются в доминирующие концепции и НИР, испытывают трудности с постановкой и анализом экспериментов, взаимодействием с другими специалистами и др.)

The report that the interested reader will now read was never published anywhere in the USSR's popular press. But it was prepared at the time for very, very influential politicians in the USSR. It's unlikely that Yeltsin, himself, and his thieving team weren't interested in UFOs or the history of his homeland. He had more petty goals: seizing state power in the USSR, or at least the RSFSR, through a coup d'état, exploiting the cowardice of the former General Secretary of the USSR and later the first President of the USSR, Mikhail Gorbachev, nicknamed simply "Gorby" by the common people, and sounding something like "dear little donkey beep-beep." This is, in principle, true, given his cowardice, evasiveness, and indecisiveness bordering on betrayal of his homeland, unless, of course, he was a paid agent of influence for Western countries and the United States in the USSR. In the second case, he "honestly" earned his thirty Judeo-pieces of silver—for the West and NATO, of course. True, Bush II gave him a little more for his poverty later, something in the region of $280,000. It's hardly a large sum for such betrayal; even Gorby got significantly more from a Pizza ad. But, as we know, from the hands of a master to a serf who licks his master's boots on communist holidays and Easter, even a piece of shit is worth a piece of pure gold. So there's no point in blaming Uncle Sam for such a paltry gift to a loyal serf.

So, this report was most likely written for the General Secretaries of the Soviet era. But there's a subtlety here: the Intel Pentium 286 and the Epson 1050. Back in the late 1980s and early 1990s, after the rallying cry for the cooperative movement in the USSR—khozraschet 1 and khozraschet 2—I organized a small cooperative where we assembled personal computers, the very first in Russia in those heady days—the "Sinclair Profi." The PC 286 was the ultimate dream, and it's the one featured in the report. Hence the conclusion: what we didn't have, the general secretaries had.

Was Gorby interested in this report? It seems doubtful; the person interested in such matters should be a decisive and strong-willed person who knows exactly why he wants it, and the most likely candidate is, of course, Joseph Vissarionovich Stalin. But, as we know, the PC had not yet appeared under the Father of Nations, so Andropov is naturally considered the number two in this ambitious, strong-willed, and purposeful constellation of Soviet political figures, de facto leaders. He could, in the midst of the brutal Cold War, attempt to find a new weapon in the interests of the USSR, one that the enemy—the United States—did not have and would not soon have. Secondly, Andropov, after all, was an intelligence officer, having once served as head of the KGB before becoming General Secretary of the USSR. Such people, as a rule, scrutinize every detail with great attention from the perspective of an uninitiated observer. For them, nothing is insignificant; everything that is happening or could happen in the future around them or near them is important. Andropov's timing with the Intel 286 is perfect for anyone. Considering the time lag the group spent studying the materials and reaching its conclusions, Andropov's candidacy fits all the initial criteria like no other. So, this very interesting report was likely written specifically for him by a group of specialists, and not just historians. This group should have included all the specialists who, to one degree or another, were affected by the issues being addressed by this team. The issues they addressed are described below.

So, a hidden report.

One thing, interested reader, so that no questions arise later for me personally, such as, "How dare I voice this?" and so on. It's very simple: I am a Soviet citizen, I am not today's toilet-drinking consumer of Re.Fyo. My homeland is the USSR – Russia. By chance, I now live in Re.Fyo, which is in no way my homeland, at least, I don't consider it Russia. I swore an oath of allegiance on the red flag of the USSR, but I promised this Re.Fyo nothing. I don't owe her anything, Re.Fyo, and I've never sworn allegiance, but she owes me a lot, and screw them with money and stuff, but she owes me blood, and that's serious. Maybe someone will make peace, forgive, and forget, but that's none of my business, but I'll remember until I die, and if the opportunity arises, I'll try to repay the debts. Although, of course, the likelihood of repaying the debts to this toilet system is very slim; these people have become so deeply imbued with the spirit of the toilet that they feel uncomfortable even entering decent company with self-respect; the stench emanating from them is so strong, it hurts your eyes and makes it hard to breathe.

The bulk of the archival materials at our disposal are presented in the form of copies made using photographic equipment and a copying and duplicating machine.

In drawing up the conclusion the computer Intel Pentium - 286 with printer Epson - 1050, text editor Lexicon, graphic editor Autocad were used.

The following questions were put to the group of researchers:

- a) how the Earth is energetically included, internally organized, functions and develops in the system of cosmophysical relations;
- b) how various dynamic (electro-, gravity-, fluid-, hydro-, baro-, meteo-, seismic- and others) geoprocesses originate and interact in the developing system of cosmo-geophysical relations;
- c) through what physicochemical mechanisms the global and local dynamics of these processes predetermine the corresponding changes in the qualitative states and anomalies of various natural and artificial environments, materials, technical means, engineering structures, mass and individual physiology and psyche;
- d) how the above processes generate increasing natural disasters, environmental damage, diseases, destruction of the psyche and control systems, structural failure, explosions, fires, accidents, catastrophes, outbreaks of mortality, crime, various conflicts, and other dangerous phenomena.

The scientific organization "Ahnenerbe" was created in 1935 on the personal orders of Adolf Hitler. Since 1938, all scientific research in Germany was conducted under the control of the SS scientific department "Ahnenerbe". This organization's staff included outstanding German scientists. Between 1937 and 1938, scientists from the Ahnenerbe carried out a number of scientific research expeditions to the Himalayas and Tibet in search of ancient artifacts testifying to the existence of extraterrestrial civilizations that controlled the course of human evolution. The Ahnenerbe also searched for the so-called Shambhala (City of the Gods). About 7 thousand people were involved in this area - famous archaeologists, anthropologists, biologists, geneticists, historians, etc.

According to the records of the NKGB of the USSR, in 1938, based on information obtained by an expedition to Tibet in the Trans-Himalayas, the German government equipped an expedition to explore the underwater shelf of Antarctica in the region of Queen Maud Land, using maps that German researchers had obtained in Tibet. As a result of these studies, Ahnenerbe specialists, together with the German Navy, penetrated the cavity of the Earth hidden beneath the Antarctic ice, where, in the period up to 1944, the German government established naval bases, built a city called "New Berlin," and founded a state called "New Swabia." According to information available to the military counterintelligence agency SMERSH, Adolf Hitler, having been replaced by a double, departed on a submarine for "New Berlin." This is confirmed by the materials presented, collected for a report in 1945 by the People's Commissar of State Security of the USSR, Comrade V.N. Merkulov to the Supreme Commander-in-Chief of the USSR Armed Forces, I.V. Stalin.

On June 11, 1945, SMERSH counterintelligence officers of the 70th Rifle Corps discovered 38 "deep sea navigation maps" marked "only for captains of A-class submarines of the Führer's Sonderesköhnen" in the German Navy headquarters building. According to the translation of the instructions on the map, the maps described underwater corridors for entering the so-called Agarthia, hidden beneath the ice of Antarctica.

In September 1945, SMERSH counterintelligence officers in the city of A secret workbook belonging to Wehrmacht Colonel Wilhelm Worlf containing summaries of orders from Adolf Hitler and Reichsführer-SS Heinrich Himmler regarding the selection of candidates for deployment to Antarctica among Wehrmacht, Luftwaffe, Navy, and SS personnel was found near Pirna near Dresden.

For reconnaissance purposes, as follows from a report to I.V. Stalin by the USSR People's Commissar of State Security dated December 16, 1945, three K-type submarines (Series XIV Nos. K-56, K-53, and K-51) were dispatched to the Queen Maud Land area in November-December 1945, by order of the People's Commissar of the USSR Navy, with the purpose of submerging the submarine K-56 at coordinates 68 degrees south latitude, 1 degree east longitude. Upon diving to a depth of 100 meters, instruments detected approximately ten unknown targets moving around the cruiser, changing their trajectory at a speed of approximately 66 knots per hour, three times the cruiser's surface speed. This was the first time Soviet submariners had encountered such a phenomenon. Due to the sudden change in trajectory underwater, attacking these targets was deemed unlikely. A proposal was made to engage the appropriate Soviet naval forces for a repeat operation, and to consider conducting a combat operation in these coordinates with the participation of the naval forces of allied powers.

A year later, in January 1947, American polar explorer Admiral Richard Byrd received orders from the US government to destroy suspected German naval bases in Antarctica. A military expedition, dubbed "Highjump," was launched for this purpose, consisting of an aircraft carrier, a submarine, 12 surface ships, more than 20 helicopters and aircraft, and 5,000 troops. While approaching the suspected base near Queen Maud Land, the expedition was attacked by two dozen flying saucers, moving at high speed and striking military equipment with columns of fire. During the twenty-minute battle, the expedition's losses included the destroyed destroyer Merdek, more than half of the carrier-based aircraft, a submarine, and hundreds of casualties.

According to the materials presented on the Ahnenerbe's activities, it included the so-called "Ahnenerbe." The 13th Design Bureau, which developed flying disks, successfully tested them in the early 1940s, presented materials in the form of Ahnenerbe weekly Almanacs and translated texts. German scientists conducted research in the fields of ancient history, geophysics and astrology, meteorology, biology, psychophysical, technogenic, and "technomagical" knowledge. This research is related, among other things, to establishing a regular cyclical pattern of cataclysms and Armageddons occurring on Earth.

These studies suggest that the next so-called Armageddon will begin in 2012 and end in 2014 with the destruction of existing civilization and the majority of the Earth's population.

Section 1. The Solar System in the Structure of the Milky Way Galaxy.

The solar system in the structure of the Milky Way galaxy is in constant motion along a helical spiral, in which:

- the Earth rotates around its axis counterclockwise at a speed of 0.465 km/sec and moves counterclockwise in an orbit around the Sun at a speed of 30 km/sec. The period of revolution around the Sun is 1 year. In 1 year, the Earth flies a distance equal to 7884 billion km. The distance to the Sun is 1 AU (astronomical unit), equal to 149,600,000 +/- 150,000,000 km, the distance in AU is 152,100,000 km, the distance in lane is 147,100,000 km, the Earth day is equal to 23,934 hours = 24 hours, the year is equal to 365,256 days.

The solar system is an unfolded cross, consisting of an inner ring, which includes the main planets known to us: Mercury, Venus - the former core of the planet Icarus, which died 1.5 million years ago (rotates around its axis in the opposite direction to the rotation of the Sun), Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto, revolving around the Sun in a counterclockwise orbit, which are located in the zone of the radius from the Sun at a distance of 40 AU (astronomical units) or 6 billion km. To the right and left of the inner ring of the solar system are equidistant elliptical orbits, elongated by aphelions, on the right at a distance of 317.2 AU or 47 billion 580 million km, consisting of 8 planets revolving around the boundary of the inner ring of the solar system clockwise, on the left, at a distance of 342.6 AU. or 51 billion 390 million km, consisting of 8 planets that revolve around the boundary of the inner ring of the Solar System in a clockwise direction; the ultra-distant planets from the Sun, above and below, at a distance from the center of the Sun, above, at a distance of 604.2 AU or 90 billion 630 million km, consisting of three planets that 1.5 million years ago revolved in orbit around the Sun in the asteroid belt - below, at a distance of 820.4 AU or 123 billion 60 million km, consisting of three planets that 1.5 million years ago also revolved in orbit around the Sun in the asteroid belt. Of the three giant planets, only one, the "Iron Planet," remains today. It is 50 times larger than Earth and moves at a speed of 3.3 km/sec, covering a distance of 285,120 km in an Earth day in its orbit around the Sun, with a period of revolution around the Sun of 3,600 years. The planets Venus and Uranus are the cooled cores of former planets of the Solar System that perished 1.5 million years ago. (Appendix No. 8, Fig. No. 1). The Solar System revolves in the local "Orion-Cygnus" arm of the Milky Way galaxy in a counterclockwise helical spiral around the Center of the Local Group of Stars at a speed of 250 km/sec, every 371 thousand years.

The distance from the Sun to the center of the Milky Way galaxy is 10,000 parsecs (1 parsec is equal to 31 billion km or 3.263 light years). In turn, the Center of the Local Group of Stars of the Milky Way galaxy rotates clockwise in a helical spiral around the Center of the Local Cluster of Stars of the Gould Belt at a speed of 375 km/sec in 18 million years. The Center of the Local Cluster of Stars, in turn, rotates clockwise in a helical spiral around the center of the Milky Way galaxy at a speed of 470 km/sec in 210 million years. (Appendix No. 9, diagram No. 2, sheet No. 2). The Milky Way galaxy rotates in a helical spiral, clockwise around the Center of the Local Group of Galaxies at a speed of 570 km/sec. (Appendix No. 9, Diagram No. 3, Sheet No. 3). The distance from the center of our galaxy to the center of the Local Group of Galaxies is 19 million parsecs. The center of the Local Group of Galaxies, the Andromeda Nebula, revolves around the center of the Virgo Superassociation of Stellar Stars at a speed of 700 km/sec. The complete cycle of the Solar System's revolution, with its complex spiral helical closed configuration, around the center of the Milky Way galaxy is 500 million years.

Section 2. Evolution of the Solar System.

The evolution of the Solar System proceeds from explosion to explosion of the Sun's supernova, over a period of 8 billion 100 million years. According to the materials of the scientific department of the SS-Ahnenerbe, the Sun will explode again in the year 30814 of our time, engulfing the planets of the inner ring of the Solar System in the flame of nuclear fusion.

8 billion 100 million years ago, the fading Sun exploded for the 1002nd time, forming a supernova.

At the moment of the explosion of the former Sun, matter from the inner ring of the former Solar System participated in an explosive thermonuclear fusion reaction, which subsequently formed the nearest known planets of the inner Solar System.

The explosive mass of the fading Sun was sufficient to envelop an area 6 billion kilometers across (at a distance of 40 AU from the epicenter).

The end product of the solar explosion were stable metals of the transuranic group—theroids. At the site of the explosion of the fading Sun, a gigantic cloud of incandescent matter formed, with the young Sun at its center.

Because the thermonuclear reaction of the star's explosion occurred in the space between its core and the solidified crust, matter from the outer shell of the old Sun was ejected 6 billion kilometers from the star, forming a sphere of hot matter from which the planets of the inner ring of the Solar System later formed.

Significant quantities of fresh transuranic metals, newly created by thermonuclear fusion, were added to the solid core of the old Sun. The old Sun was thus reborn, and its new life began in a prolonged nuclear fission reaction of the theroid metals, all the way to hydrogen.

With the onset of the decay reaction of active metals, an intense electron flow arose, creating a high-frequency electromagnetic field. Under the influence of this field, matter in the equatorial plane of the solar sphere began to spin along a heliocentric orbit.

Under the influence of gravitational forces, matter began to move back toward the Sun. In the equatorial plane, matter began to orbit the Sun, attaining a position of equilibrium with respect to gravitational, centrifugal, and electromagnetic forces.

With the subsequent natural transformation of matter, a flattened sphere formed into a flattened torus, located in the plane of the Sun's rotation. Then, under the influence of orbital forces, the hot matter of the torus formed a flat ring around the Sun, similar to the ring around Saturn.

The motion of matter was established along heliocentric orbits in the plane of the inner ring. Within the matter of the inner ring around the Sun, spherical clumps of hot matter, the future planets, began to form and orbit these clumps.

Thus, at the turn of 7 billion years ago, the planets of the inner ring of the Solar System and their satellites were formed. The inner planetary circle of the Solar System was formed.

Fiery embryos of young planets revolved around the inner ring of the Sun, blazing just like a nova. Their surface temperatures 8 billion years ago were approximately 3,500 to 5,000 degrees C.

Section 3. Evolution of the Earth (7 billion years ago)

The diameter of the ball of matter of the future planet Earth 7 billion years ago was 6,500 km. with a density of - 43.0 g / cm³. The surface temperature of the Earth was +3,500 degrees C. The Earth was a solid ball of red-hot metallic alloy of theroids.

Under the influence of the magnetic field of the Sun, the planets of the inner ring began to rotate around their own axes in the direction opposite to their rotation, i.e. counterclockwise.

Intense nuclear fission reactions broke down the metal of the upper-layer theroids, creating light elements. A liquid metal shell and a "fluidized layer" shell began to form around the planet's core, laying the foundation for the future crust. Hydrogen and oxygen blazed, forming water around the sphere of the future Earth. The process of creating a proto-atmosphere began, consisting of carbon dioxide, water vapor, nitrogen, and its compounds escaping from within into the cold atmosphere.

Over the next 2 billion 600 million years, the planets of the inner Solar System gradually cooled. They consisted primarily of light elements and oxides—products of the nuclear fission of the theroids of the former Sun.

On Earth, during the cooling and hardening of the outer layer, granite synthesis and the formation of a granite crust began during the specified period. The primary atmosphere was cooling. The hot granite was covered with splashes of molten metal, their oxides and salts, molten granite continued to flow from cracks, and gases were emitted.

"Stone Formation"

(5 billion 500 million years ago)

2 billion 600 million years after the solar supernova explosion, or 5 billion 500 million years ago, the formation of the granite crust on Earth was complete.

The Earth continued to swell. The diameter of the sphere was 6,600 km. The temperature of the surface and granite crust dropped so much that basalt synthesis began. The surface temperature of the planet was +170 degrees C. Atmospheric moisture began to condense into the primary ocean. On Earth, there was no clear boundary between day and night, between water and steam. It was very dark, with low, suppressed illumination. Water was everywhere—on granite, in the atmosphere, in the form of steam and drops of continuous rain.

Thus, the Earth "gained substance," its outer surface and atmosphere cooling. Vapors escaping from beneath the Earth's crust cooled under pressure in the cold atmosphere, forming condensation and water.

The Beginning of the Synthesis of Life, the First "Living Drop"

3,800,000,000 years after the solar supernova explosion, or 4,300,000,000 years ago, the synthesis of life began on Earth, and the first "living drop" formed. As a result of chemosynthesis by aquatic microorganisms, oxygen appeared in the atmosphere, atmospheric pressure dropped, and the temperature dropped to 75 degrees C. The formation of the "primordial ocean," covering the entire surface of the planet, was complete. The first microorganisms and algae appeared, based on photosynthesis, absorbing carbon dioxide and releasing oxygen.

Formation of Soil, Dry Land, the First Swamps, and Aquatic Vegetation

5,300,000,000 years after the solar supernova explosion, or 2,800,000,000 years ago, during a period equal to 2,700,000,000 years of activity by aquatic microorganisms and algae, oxygen appeared in the atmosphere, and a powerful dome of sedimentary rocks formed, covering the granite. Water continued to cover the planet, but the crust continued to swell. The Earth's diameter was 7,000 km. The Earth's crust formed giant cracks and broke into enormous hecto-pieces—future continental plates. Water flowed into the crustal fissures, lowering the sea level. Dry land and soil appeared on Earth, continuous swamps with giant lichens and ferns, and basalt from the early traps was squeezed into the fissures of the granite crust. A sedentary silicon-based life form existed on Earth.

Formation of the Earth's Electromagnetic Poles, the Appearance of the First Insects and Amphibians

(1.9 billion years ago)

6.2 billion years after the supernova explosion of the Sun, or 1.9 billion years ago, significant events occurred in the life of the Earth. As a result of the continuously cooling of the Earth's granitic outer shell and the acceleration of its rotation, the granitic crust broke away from the inner thermonuclear core while orbiting the Sun. Upon separation, the core began to rotate in the opposite direction from the outer shell of the Earth, resulting in the formation of a giant spherical cavity within the planet, which later became the Earth's internal atmosphere. An electromagnetic dome formed around the planet (as well as within it), protecting the outer and inner biosphere from deadly cosmic rays and solar wind. The north and south poles became magnetic, and an eastern negative pole and a western positive pole formed within the planet.

The rotation speed of the outer Earth increased tenfold. The Earth moved into a more distant orbit from the Sun. The sky became blue and clear, and stars became visible. The Earth's crust continued to swell, forming vast secondary traps. By 1.8 billion years ago, the planet's diameter was 7,400 km. All the necessary conditions for the development of primitive terrestrial life forms had been created on Earth. The first insects and amphibians appeared.

Appearance of the First Fish and Birds (1 billion 700 million years ago)

6 billion 400 million years after the solar supernova explosion, or 1 billion 700 million years ago, the first fish, amphibians, and birds appeared on Earth, and numerous insects became their staple food. The nearly 1 billion-year-long process of formation and accumulation of biospheric food chain resources began, a necessary step before the emergence of large amphibian life forms.

The emergence of animals and dinosaurs (700 million years ago)

7.4 billion years after the solar supernova explosion, or 700 million years ago, as a result of the development of the animal kingdom and biosphere, the first large animals, including dinosaurs, appeared on Earth. The intensive development and evolution of terrestrial life began, from swamp flora and fauna to land life. The formation of arid soil biocenosis was initiated. The Earth's diameter reached 12,000 km. During this period, multi-layered vegetation formed, covering the entire land: the first layer consisted of grasses and shrubs up to 2.5 m tall, the second layer consisted of pines and spruces up to 20 m, the third layer consisted of eucalyptus trees up to 200 m, the fourth layer consisted of extinct trees up to 2,000 m, and the fifth layer consisted of extinct giants up to 20,000 m. The remains of these extinct giants are still found on the planet in the form of fossils.

Section 4. Human Evolution

(First Root Race)

350 million years ago, the so-called "first etheric man" was created. According to the Ahnenerbe Almanacs, he was created "in the indestructible, sacred land of Agartha," within the Earth, "the cradle of humanity," by the "Lunar Ancestors"—referring to the Gods who lived on the planet Icarus, which perished 1.5 million years ago. At that time, the Moon was a satellite of Icarus, which orbited the Sun at a distance of 2.3 AU, while the Earth orbited the Sun at a distance of 1.8 AU. Two satellites orbited the Earth—Lel and Phaeton. (Appendix No. 14, Diagram No. 1). Thus, it turns out that the Gods who created man were from Icarus (i.e., the "Lunar Ancestors"). During this period, an isolated world with a stable climate, unaffected by external aggression and natural disasters, formed within the Earth. It boasted freshwater sources and a temperature suitable for the development of life forms. The first humans, if they could be called humans at all, had a 52-meter-thick etheric "electrical" shell, which is why they were called the "Race of Angels." They were asexual and reproduced by fission.

Human evolution is somewhat reminiscent of a medical experiment in which a chick is grown from a broken egg in a laboratory petri dish, the embryo forming from the (etheric) protein-yolk mass, condensing into a physical body.

Similarly, the "Ethereal Race of Angels" condensed into a physical body as a result of prolonged evolution. Each root race included seven subraces. From the last three subraces, the next root race arose.

The etheric "people" of the first race ceased to exist as a result of the evolutionary advance of the Hyperboreans 110 million years ago. The evolutionary path of the Angelic race lasted 240 million years.

Second Race. Hyperborean Race.

200 million years ago, as a result of a long evolutionary cycle, the Hyperboreans emerged from the last three subraces of the first root race. They were a transitional race of people from a formless (etheric) shell to a dense physical body.

The first Hyperboreans stood 36 meters tall. At first, they were asexual and reproduced by division. Another 82 million years were needed for this race to begin reproducing by budding, and another 44 million years for them to begin reproducing by eggs. The Hyperboreans ceased to exist as a result of the evolutionary advance of the Lemurians 18 million years ago.

Third Race. Lemurians (oviparous)

28 million years ago, the Lemurian race emerged. From the very beginning of this cycle, humans reproduced through eggs. At this time, not only asexual humans but also animals existed on Earth. Humans stood 18 meters tall. It took 100 million years for androgynous humans to emerge. The first androgynous humans (hermaphrodites) stood 6 meters tall. They consisted of a soft physical body permeated by magnetic currents and had an insatiable sexual appetite, facilitating rapid reproduction. Hermaphrodites reproduce in a similar manner to bearded seals, which did not evolve into unisexual mammals until modern times. Hermaphrodites are still born among humans. According to the Ministry of Health of the RSFSR, 30 hermaphrodites were born in 1979. The internal organs of the early Lemurians were paired. They had two hearts, two livers, and two spleens. One heart pumped arterial blood, the other venous blood. The Lemurians had two throats and two stomachs. Protein foods entered the acidic (modern) stomach, which secreted hydrochloric acid. Carbohydrate foods entered the alkaline stomach, the remains of which are present in the form of the modern pancreas. Both stomachs were connected by the duodenum, which continues into the intestines.

The atmosphere on Earth was largely ethereal and vaporous. Many metals, which eventually solidified, were liquid and gaseous.

The intelligence of the early Lemurians was latent despite their strong physical life. Speech and self-awareness were absent. Man was a fighting beast. The focus of life force was in the adrenal glands and primarily developed resistance to shock.

18 million years ago, during the Lemurian era, an event of extraordinary significance occurred on Earth. The "Gods from Venus," "great teachers," and "children of flame," arrived on Earth on a humanitarian mission to advance humanity.

Their arrival was associated with the separation of the sexes and the onset of death due to "human immersion in solid matter," as well as the instilling of individualistic traits in humans, as previously humans had a group consciousness and collective intelligence (like ants). The "Great Teachers" disguised themselves as animal-like beings, becoming leaders and priests to guide the burgeoning humanity to the heights of spiritual perfection. Speech emerged, along with primitive crafts involving the tanning of wild animal skins, and knowledge in various fields of life and medicine developed.

Evolutionary transformations are taking place in the animal kingdom. The number of species has increased significantly. However, some animal species only became bisexual over time. Such representatives of the animal kingdom as plesiosaurs and pterodactyls were contemporaries of the Lemurians until the end of the third race. According to data provided by German scientists, during this period, there were 2 million plant species (four times more than the current flora of the planet), 900,000 species of fish and invertebrates, 1 million species of birds, 3 million species of animals, and about 400,000 anthropomorphic creatures—a total of 4.9 million species. In the modern biosphere, there are 200 (the remaining of 400,000) species of primates, of which only four are anthropomorphic: gorillas, chimpanzees, orangutans, and gibbons. Considering that the planet was covered with multi-layered vegetation, it is quite likely that such a large number of anthropomorphic beings and wild animal species lived directly in the canopies of giant trees and distributed this fauna across their territories.

The first "educated" and "initiated" humans voluntarily gave up animal food, developing self-control over their instincts and their insatiable sexual appetite. The humane mission of the "Gods from Venus" ended with the replacement of their own "teachers" by "initiated humans"—in the much later times of the Atlanteans. Most Lemurians remained "uncouth," with undeveloped intellect and an insatiable sexual appetite. Zoophilia was widespread. It is for this reason, it is believed, that the first apes were the product of Lemurian sexual activity. Modern Caucasians have 46 chromosomes, while Blacks and Mongols have 48, suggesting a later origin for the human species than the Lemurians. The chromosome count of a species allows us to determine its age. Insects have 6 chromosomes, while the fruit fly has 4. Chimpanzees, which have white skin under their fur, have 46 chromosomes, while gorillas, with their black skin, have 48. This suggests that chimpanzees descended from Lemurians, and gorillas from Blacks. This is also supported by the fact that chromosomes 12 and 13 in chimpanzees are completely identical to chromosome pair 2 in Caucasians.

The late Lemurians built megalithic stone structures, which have survived to this day in Peru, England (Stonehenge), and other parts of the world, and also learned the basics of construction from the "Great Teachers."

The construction was based on the principle of "cutting" solid rock and incised it with transmuted powder, obtained by the disintegration of gold at a temperature of 5,500 degrees Celsius. Using the giant "tongs" of Wa-Jaru, classified as weapons of the "Gods," large-scale gold melting was carried out at the construction sites and the extraction of megablocks. Thin gold plates were placed on the rock and evaporated for 70 seconds using an electric arc. When the plates glowed with a bright light and turned to powder, the stone could be cut like plasticine and molded into any shape. Gold, "purified by fire," as the Aztecs called it, was used to move the giant monoblocks and stone platforms. The powder was sprinkled onto a slab, then a specific high-frequency sound and vibrations were generated, which allowed the enormous stone platforms to move through the air. A similar method was used in the construction of the pyramids.

The reason for the disappearance of the Lemurians (1.5 million years ago) was the death of Icarus (Venus).

The Lemurian continent stretched along the equator, from present-day Africa to Australia, up to the Himalayan mountain range.

1 million 500 thousand years ago, a reorganization of the planets of the inner ring of the Solar System occurred due to a catastrophe: the collision of the "Iron Planet," orbiting the Sun in an elliptical orbit at a distance of 820.4 AU from the Sun (at a distance of 123.06 billion km), with the planet Icarus, which orbited the Sun at a distance of 2.3 AU. The debris of the latter subsequently formed the asteroid ring, and the polar ice gave birth to comets. The core of Icarus became the new planet Venus (0.72 AU), occupying the former orbit of Mars, which, in turn, changed orbit and moved away from the Sun to a distance of 1.52 AU. Earth, which had orbited the Sun at a distance of 1.8 AU before Icarus's destruction, moved to an orbit closer to the Sun at a distance of 1.5 AU. Icarus's former satellite, the planet Moon, began to orbit Earth, and Earth's satellites, the planets Lel and Phaeton, were destroyed in this catastrophe. The remnants of Phaeton scraped along the Earth's equatorial belt, destroying the continent of Lemuria, as well as most species of large animals and dinosaurs. The Moon, due to its distance from Earth, remained intact, but the consequences of this catastrophe are still visible to the naked eye on its surface. Over the next hundreds of years, most of the Lemurians perished due to natural disasters raging on Earth. (Appendix No. 15, diagrams No. 1, 2, sheets

No. 1, 2)

The death of the majority of the Lemurians led to the selection of their best (remaining) part, which formed the seventh subrace - the third root race of the Protoboreans, from which the intelligent and civilized Atlantean race was subsequently formed. The fourth Atlantean race (the first Atlanteans appeared 5 million years ago)

The first Atlanteans, the Murmudons, appeared during the time of the Lemurians approximately 5 million years ago on a remote island in the Atlantic Ocean, isolated from the outside world. They were 4-meter-tall giants with large heads, and red, white, and yellow skin.

As a result of evolutionary development, their body size decreased. The next subrace of Atlanteans was formed by the so-called Autochons—people approximately 3 meters tall who existed approximately 2.5 million years ago. The average lifespan of the Murmudons and Autochons was approximately 600 years.

Around this time, the following Atlantean subraces—white, red, yellow, and black—had formed, steadily developing independently in seven continents. The methods of governing people through the "Great Teachers" remained the same. They became preachers and rulers for many generations of humanity and developed it independently.

The first advanced Atlantean civilization was the Toltec civilization, which existed approximately one million years ago. A human stood 2.5 meters tall. The Toltecs had well-proportioned facial features, and their average lifespan was approximately 300 years.

The Toltecs possessed a developed writing system and laws. They were able to replicate texts and wrote on thin metal plates, which they stored in leather cases. They had schools and universities. Exceptional knowledge was acquired from the "Great Teachers."

The first legendary island nation was founded on the island of Atlantis, which occupied most of the Atlantic Ocean. Its capital was the city of the "Golden Gate," distinguished by its majestic architecture, golden columns, monuments, and fountains. Throughout the world, the Atlanteans built temples in the form of spherical golden domes, which dispersed energy flows and positively influenced the Earth's biosphere.

Due to the change in ancient temple architecture, when crosses began to be placed on spherical domes, the Earth's biosphere lost a significant number of its species due to a lack of electromagnetic sedative waves that influence the positive growth and development of flora and fauna.

In Atlantis, there existed a corps of pilots, the so-called "vimanas," who traveled through the atmosphere and space 850,000 years ago. The Atlantean weapon "Mash-mak," which they inherited from the "Great Teachers," was used to conquer other peoples. According to ancient manuscripts, the Atlanteans could destroy entire cities and the world with a single blow using a directed beam. Apparently, this refers to a high-frequency viton emitter, which has a detrimental effect on living organisms and the central nervous system of living organisms.

850,000 years ago, the leaders of Atlantis organized a rebellion against the gods due to disagreement over the existing difference in the number and measurement system between humans, who traditionally have five fingers on each hand and, therefore, a 10-dimensional system of measurements, and the 6-12 (14.4) dimensional system of the gods, who have six fingers on both hands, which was difficult for humans to cope with. The 12-dimensional system of measurements, imposed on humans, caused disagreements that led to a rebellion that ended in the greatest tragedy in the history of Earth.

The leaders of Atlantis, who challenged the gods, made an irreparable mistake that led to a change in time and the destruction of a large part of the island of Atlantis.

The leaders of Atlantis sent their pilots, the Vimanas, to destroy "Agartha," the refuge of the gods within the Earth.

Using the weapons of the "Gods," the Vimanas directed a beam of power crystal from space into the center of the Earth, causing an explosion of unprecedented power and the splitting of the island of Atlantis, the main part of which sank into the ocean. This location is now the Sargasso Sea. Most of the "Gods," who lived underground and enjoyed the blessings of the Paradise they had created, perished due to a thermonuclear explosion of the inner core.

After this tragedy, the Earth shifted its orbit around the Sun by 1 AU. A day, instead of 48 hours, became the 24 hours we know today. Some of the surviving Atlanteans formed modern humanity.

The internal explosion within the planet led to a shift in the electromagnetic and geographic poles.

The Toltecs were replaced by the Acadians—representatives of the white race who reigned on Earth approximately 600,000 years ago. Among them were Semites, distinguished by their warlike nature, energy, and excellent health. Most of them became nomads. The distinctive characteristics of this subrace were a lack of communication with their neighbors, vindictiveness, and suspicion. Their descendants were the Jews, the Kadilys of North Africa, and the Kabul-Kain and Kabul-Nain of northern Hindustan. The Acadians waged war against the Semites and defeated them. They were enterprising colonists, achieving great success in science, navigation, astronomy, and astrology. They built large cities and established contacts with the most distant regions of the Earth. Their direct descendants were the Phoenicians and the peoples of the Mediterranean.

The last Atlantean subrace was the Mongols, descended from the Turanians and settled in the steppes of Eastern Siberia. They were nomads and farmers.

450,000 years BC, the "Gods" from the "Iron Planet" arrived on Earth. After the destruction of Atlantis and the "Gods from Venus," as evidenced by the Ahnenerbe Almanacs, German scholars came into possession of the original manuscript of the legendary "King List," compiled by the Egyptian philosopher and ancient historian Manetho at the behest of the Egyptian pharaoh Ptolemy Philadelphus in 270 CE. There were only four copies of this manuscript. Two of them were destroyed in 642 CE by Muslims in the Library of Alexandria. The remaining copies were kept in the Vatican Secret Library and in Tibet. In 1938, one copy of Manetho's manuscript was given to Ernst Schäffer in Tibet's Potala Palace in Lhasa by the dying 13th Dalai Lama.

According to the text of the "King List," 450,000 years BC, the god Amun arrived from the "Iron Planet" ("Planet of Hundreds of Millions of Years") with his sons, Annu and Enki, who founded the Kingdom of Eridania in the Syrian Desert with the goal of extracting gold, necessary for the dying atmosphere of their dying planet. Annu-Enki subsequently founded a civilization of invaders on Earth, the "Annu-Enki" (or, according to Petrie, the Annunaki), who enslaved humanity and established human colonies in the Syrian Desert. According to German scientists, the occupiers conducted biological experiments on people in the city of Shuruppak. To conduct the experiments, their "Divine Sister," Ninhursag, arrived on Earth in an "air boat" and founded a hospital in Shuruppak.

Between 199,586 BC and 199586 BC, The gods of the "Iron Planet" created dozens of cities and colony settlements. The cities were built around the orbit of the circle so that together they formed a navigational pattern clearly visible from space.

Several industrial centers were established on Earth for processing gold, which the gods delivered to their planet as transmuted powder. The gods and their warriors ate this powder, thus prolonging their lives on Earth. The powder was allowed to be consumed by humans who served the gods to cure severe and incurable diseases.

According to texts, humans participated in the war between the gods 380,000 years BC, but the Almanac texts do not provide details about this.

199,586 BC: The "Iron Planet" passes around the asteroid belt. On Earth, facing the Pacific Ocean, the force of reverse gravity and antigravity causes Armageddon, resulting in waters being forced onto the continents. The Earth's electromagnetic and geographic poles shift, ushering in the first Ice Age.

The gods, forewarned of the coming Flood, saved humanity, choosing 14,400 people to repopulate the Earth after the global warming.

100,000 years BCE, Annu-Enki and their warriors marry Earth women and develop a race of demigods to rule over humanity.

The same events are described in the Book of Genesis, Chapter 6.2. "When men began to multiply on the face of the earth and daughters were born to them, the sons of God saw that the daughters of men were beautiful, and they took them wives of all they chose."

Before the second Armageddon, the Gods also left a select group of 14,400 chosen people to continue the human race after the second Flood, which occurred 84,386 thousand years BC for the same reasons as the first Flood.

77,000 years BC, gigantic volcanic eruptions occur on Earth, resulting in the beginning of the second ice age. Life on Earth comes to a standstill for the next 500 years.

50,000 years BC, Enki and his sister Ninhursag transfer the throne to humans in Shuruppak. Other Gods build a new kingdom, Misr, in the area between the rivers. In 33,770 BCE (before the Third Flood), the god Ptah commissioned the construction of a pyramid complex around the world to save the Earth during the coming Armageddon. He constructed a network of pyramids on geothermally dangerous faults in the Earth's crust to avoid the subsequent apocalyptic shift in the Earth's electromagnetic and geographic poles.

He also built a pyramid complex on Mount Sumer and near Heliopolis—the Great Pyramid of Giza, which was built 33,000 BCE. He also founded Ur-Shulim (present-day Jerusalem), which in Sumerian means "city of the four cardinal directions," and the Sumerian compass of the Gods is none other than the Star of David, as the Gods viewed the Earth not from four parts, but from six cardinal directions. Cities and centers were built according to the same navigational scheme.

Knowing of the approaching Third Flood, the warring gods hatched plans to destroy humanity. The god Enlil demands that his brothers and sisters refrain from warning people of the impending danger. Enki breaks his oath and tells Zausurd (the biblical Noah) of this, instructing him on how to build a submarine. In a similar manner, the gods save humanity in other parts of the Earth, pointing them to places where they could find refuge high in the mountains and in caves, as recounted in various legends of the peoples of America, Mexico, Brazil, Chile, and Europe.

12. 386 BC. The waves of the Flood cover the Earth. The pyramid system built around the world, strictly oriented toward the North Pole, prevents the Earth from tilting its electromagnetic and geographic orbit. However, the waters of the Flood destroyed the established cities and human civilization. As a result, more people survived than the gods expected. At the moment of the catastrophe, Annu and Enki observed the flood from orbit.

Thus, as a result of the electromagnetic resonance caused by the pyramids, the preceding volcanic eruptions, tectonic plate fractures, and the onset of a prolonged ice age did not occur.

After the waters receded into the Earth, the gods gave people tools and seeds. Agriculture and livestock farming began to develop across the Earth.

According to the King Lists, Ptah ruled Misr for 9,000 years before the Third Flood. 10,800 BC. Enki's son Ra divides Upper Misr between Osiris and Seth, founding the second dynasty of gods. Ra rules for 1,000 years, Seth for 450 years, Osiris for 450 years, Horus for 300 years, Geb for 500 years, and Shu for 700 years, for a total of 3,300 years.

7,400 BC. Misr is ruled by the third dynasty of demigods, consisting of 30 names, each of whom rules for an average of 100-120 years, for a total of 3,650 years.

Most of the gods departed for their planet in 5,000 BC, leaving behind governors whom they had taken 1,500 years earlier.

After the gods left Misr, Egypt fell into chaos for 350 years, beginning in 3950 BC. During this period, ten mortal kings ruled—Scorpion, Ka, Ziser, Narmer, Sig, and others. It was only in 3,600 BC that Min founded the first historical dynasty of Egyptian pharaohs from among mortals and founded a new capital dedicated to the god Ptah. This dynasty of pharaohs began with the mortal king Menes. Thus, It turns out that the first historical dynasty of the pharaohs was preceded by a zero dynasty of 10 mortal kings who ruled during a time of chaos, who were preceded by two dynasties of Gods who ruled Misr for a total of 6,950 years (from 10,800 BC to 3,950 BC) and the preceding reign of the God Ptah, from 33,770 to 24,770 and Ra, from 24,770 to 12,400 BC.

Ptah.....ruled from 33,770 - 24,770 BC (9,000 years);
Ra.....ruled from 24,770 - 12,400 BC (12,370 years);
In 12,386 BC the third Flood occurred.

In 10,800 BC Ra divides upper Misr between Osiris and Seth.

Ra rules Misr from.....10,800 - 9,800 BC (1,000 years)
Seth rules Misr from.....9,800 - 9,350 BC (450 years)
Osiris rules Misr from.....9,350 - 8,900 BC (450 years)
Horus rules Misr from.....8,900 - 8,600 BC (300 years)
Geb rules Misr from.....8,600 - 8,100 BC (500 years)
Shu rules Mizr from8.100 - 7.400 BC (700 years)

According to German scientists, the gods who left our planet left an encrypted code in the form of a pictogram in the Nazca Desert, which precisely depicts the system of the Great Pyramid of Mizra, built by Ptah. When the outline of this pictogram is superimposed on a map of the pyramid field near Memphis, a grid with coordinates appears, indicating the locations where excavations should be conducted. These excavations were planned by Ahnenerbe specialists in 1944, but were not carried out due to the complicated military situation in the Wehrmacht's Afrika Korps. According to the Ahnenerbe, these coordinates conceal the greatest secrets of the universe, artifacts and weapons of the gods, which they left for initiates. According to the German scientists conducting this research, the treasure trove hidden beneath the Giza pyramid could be opened several years before the coming Armageddon.

The Almanacs indicate that the Earth's geographic North Pole has shifted five times as a result of global cataclysms. 1.5 million years ago - due to a rearrangement of the inner planetary circle of the Solar System; the death of Icarus 850,000 years ago; the rebellion and war of the Atlanteans; and three Great Floods, which occurred 200, 84, and 12,000 years ago, respectively.

German researchers have developed models of the Earth during these periods.

Before the death of Icarus, the continent of Lemuria was located along the equator, in the hemisphere where the Pacific Ocean now lies. The North Pole was a place known in the North American states as Devil's Mountain, which is 2.5 times larger than the Great Pyramid of Giza and is approximately 250 million years old. The tilt of the Earth's axis was 30 degrees to the right. The Earth's day lasted 72 hours. (Appendix No. 19, Fig. No. 1). 1.5 million years ago, the Earth's axis shifted 90 degrees to the left.

The next historical North Pole during the rise and fall of the Atlantean civilization became the peak of the "swastika" Mount Kangriboche (Kailash) in the Trans-Himalayas, which stands at 6,696 meters. Believers of four Buddhist denominations—Buddhists, Bon, Jain, and Hindu—consider this sacred mountain the "axis of the Earth," at the summit of which lies the entrance to Shambhala. For several years, the geographic location of Atlantis remained an unsolved mystery for German researchers. In the 1938 Almanacs, Atlantis was described as a lost island in the Sargasso Sea in the Atlantic Ocean. By early 1941, researchers were convinced that the lost Atlantis was a large archipelago of island states in the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of northwest Africa, aligned along the equator 1 million years ago. Today, the Azores and Canary Islands remain of the Atlantean archipelago. (Appendix No. 19, Fig. No. 2). Moreover, the modern continental contour of Africa rotated around the Earth's axis in an unusual way. Earth's day lasted 48 hours. The Earth's axis was tilted to the left by 60 degrees.

After the destruction of Atlantis due to a thermonuclear rupture of its inner core, the Earth's geographic North Pole shifted 90 degrees to the right and returned to its original position at the peak of Devil's Mountain. The site in the Syrian Desert where Annu-Enki built a network of cities and colonies with a kingdom in Eris 450,000 years BC was located along the Earth's equator (Appendix No. 19, Fig. No. 3). The Earth's day was 24 hours long. The Earth's axis was tilted 30 degrees to the right.

After the First Flood, which occurred 199,586 years BC, the Earth's axis shifted 60 degrees to the left. The North Pole became a location on the map of modern-day Greenland. The Earth's axis was tilted 30 degrees to the left. Along with the change in the tilt of the Earth's axis, the Earth's geographic landscape changed. During the period in question, the location of prehistoric Mizra in Egypt, the so-called Mesopotamia, was located along the equator, and the Mediterranean Sea spilled over the site of modern Europe.

After the Second Flood, which occurred 84,386 thousand years BC, the Earth's axis shifted 15 degrees to the right. The North Pole was located in the Arctic Circle. Maps of that time showed modern Europe, and the Eurasian continent was connected to North America by a large land mass. South America was connected to densely populated Antarctica, and the region of Southeast Asia and Micronesia with the Solomon Islands constituted a continental landmass, whose borders included modern Australia. The Arctic Circle region consisted of densely populated land.

The Arctic Ocean formed after the Third Flood, which occurred 12,386 years BC, and the Earth's axis shifted 15 degrees. To the right. The North Pole's zero point became the so-called Navel of the Earth—a natural formation roughly analogous to Devil's Mountain, which stood in the center of the newly formed Borean continent, divided by large rivers into exactly four parts.

Documents dating back to the 15th-16th centuries present medieval geography in the geographical contours and names it had before the last Flood. It is significant that this unique ancient historical record of priceless evidence of bygone civilizations was destroyed by European monarchs and the Russian Romanov tsars, apparently to avoid confusion over vanished continents and islands, as well as the ancient names of cities and regions.

Unique research has been conducted in the works of the medieval cartographer Gerardus (Gerhard) Mercator, who was an advisor to the "Horde Tsar of the Great Mongol Empire," Ivan the Terrible (he is also mentioned in chronicles as "Charles V"). Mercator is considered the historical founder of world cartography. The maps and labels he produced depicted the historical contours of continents lost as a result of the last Flood (Ahnenerbe Almanacs, April-May 1940) (Appendix No. 20, Fig. No. 1). Other equally renowned medieval historians and cartographers used similar sources when compiling their maps: Abraham Ortelius, Peri Rheis, and our compatriot, cartographer and Chief Secretary of the Senate under Peter the Great, Ivan Kirillov, who presented the tsar with a world map showing Scythia (the ancient name for Moscow), Carthage, and Mainz. On 17th-century maps by the renowned Russian cartographer Kiprianov, the ancient name "Euxinus Pontus" is used instead of "Black Sea," and the "Black Sea" is located where the Indian Ocean is today. On all medieval maps first published by geographers, modern oceans and major industrial centers have ancient names, characteristic of local folklore, legends, and customs.

In the summer of 1694, Moscow Patriarch Adrian demanded that Russian Tsar Peter the Great destroy "by fire, as a hostile, demonic heresy" the first Latin geographical maps published in Russia, which indicated the ancient names of cities, seas, and oceans. Around the same time, Patriarch Adrian's satraps excavated the underground Moscow Kremlin in search of Ivan the Terrible's library, intending to destroy it. The Patriarch knew what hidden secrets, of historical and scientific interest, were kept in this library. The reasons why Ivan the Terrible hid his repository of rare and priceless books become clear. The contours of the continents and visible islands on these maps correspond in precise detail to modern maps of the zoogeographic zoning of the bottom fauna of the world's oceans, created using space imagery.

Section 5. Global Catastrophes

. Research by German scientists describes the natural characteristics of events preceding global cataclysms associated with the passage of the "Iron Planet" through the Solar System.

Understanding these events requires considering the complex global aspects of electromagnetic dysfunctions occurring in deep space, which directly influence the rotation of the Earth's core.

The existing system of helical, spiraling interrelationships of celestial bodies and planets in the Universe resembles a complex clockwork mechanism, in which all the interconnected small and large gears play a vital role in the dynamics of the mechanical process.

The Sun and Earth simultaneously engage in a three-level translational motion. The Earth revolves around the Sun, the Sun revolves around the Center of the Local Group of Stars, which, like the Solar System, spirals around the Center of the Gould Belt Star Cluster in the Local Structure of the Orion-Cygnus Arm of the Milky Way Galaxy. The Galaxy revolves around the Center of the Andromeda Nebula, which revolves around the Center of the Virgo Supercluster, and so on ad infinitum. All dynamically rotating bodies emit electromagnetic oscillations of varying frequencies, changes in which disrupt the rhythmic oscillations of objects according to the principle of large to small. Changes in the rhythmic pulsation of the Earth's inner core cannot cause electromagnetic dysfunctions in the life of the Sun or the structure of large star clusters.

The constant and rhythmic rotation of the Earth's inner core depends on global electromagnetic disturbances arising both in deep space and in the structure of the Solar System.

The clockwise passage of an object known as the "Iron Planet" (50 times larger than Earth), which intrudes into the inner circle of the Solar System once every 3,600 years, disturbs the electromagnetic flows and vortices of the rotating planets and Solar System objects, which rotate counterclockwise. This inevitably disrupts the electromagnetic oscillation of the Earth's core.

The core begins to emit high-frequency, rhythmically alternating flows of electromagnetic energy at a higher rate, which increases over a short period of time. When the core's oscillation rhythm reaches 13 Hz, its electromagnetic behavior becomes unpredictable and leads to a shift in the magnetic and geographic poles.

Approximately 100 years before the Iron Planet enters the inner solar system, Earth experiences a gradual climate change and a decrease in oxygen levels, leading to a sharp weakening of the immune system of living things. Insects and bees enter a prolonged hibernation, resulting in several crops going unpollinated. This will lead to a shortage of essential nutrients. When the planet reaches the boundaries of the inner solar system, people all over the world will observe electromagnetic anomalies and auroras, accompanied by endless thunder and lightning, without rain. The change in Earth's electromagnetic background will affect people's internal psychophysical state, causing mass suicide and unrest. People will suffer from insomnia and mental disorders. Electromagnetic storms and elevated radiation levels will cause numerous deaths among people with cardiovascular diseases. A severe food shortage will arise. As the "Iron Planet" moves toward the Sun, earthquakes will begin on Earth, followed by a massive meteorite fall. Tectonic plates will begin to shift. People will seek refuge in high-altitude caves. After volcanic eruptions and earthquakes, one-third of terrestrial and marine life will be destroyed. When the "Iron Planet" reaches the asteroid belt, an asteroid will strike Earth, destroying most of its fresh water sources. This will kill another third of the population and animal life. The impact of the second asteroid will cause the tectonic plate to rise, filling large areas of land with magma. The remaining one-third of humanity will die from diseases caused by exposure to sulfur-laden air and contaminated water. People will lose their hair and teeth, and they will be covered in ulcers and leprosy. Only then will the waters of the Flood wash the dry land off the face of the Earth. Of the remaining humans, only those who manage to find refuge in high-mountain caves in time will be saved, along with a select few, chosen by the Gods who arrived from the "Iron Planet" once again for the subsequent rebirth of humanity.

This scenario has deep historical roots and scientific justification.

Considering that the God Ptah, 30,000 years before the Third Flood, organized and built a global pyramid system, which helped maintain the Earth's axis within the Arctic Circle of the previous geographic pole, the picture of the coming Armageddon will be far more terrifying, as the pyramid system has been destroyed, and humanity is unprepared for such consequences.

The pyramids served as powerful resonant receivers of constantly incoming high-frequency energy from outer space. Passing through them, this energy was dispersed over a wide range (as shown in Fig. 1 in Appendix 18), exerting a powerful low-frequency influence on the Earth's core. As a result, its rhythm and stability were restored. The Earth's rotation slowed, and the intensity of the induction currents accumulating within the Earth decreased. Without this system, the constant exposure of the Earth's atmosphere to high-frequency short waves increases its ionization and electric field strength, disrupting the core's rotational rhythm. The Earth experiences additional acceleration. The strength of the excitatory currents increases constantly, leading to seismicity and geotectonic activity.

According to German scientists, the next Armageddon will occur in 2014 (i.e., in 34 years).

The first Armageddon occurred 199,586 thousand years BC.

The 2nd Armageddon occurred 84,386 thousand years BC.

The 3rd Armageddon occurred 12,386 thousand years BC.

Between the first and second Armageddons there are 8 cycles of 14,400 years, calculated as $3,600 \times 4$, i.e. every fourth cycle ended with the Flood due to the Earth's position with the Pacific Ocean side facing the orbit of the passing planet. There are 5 cycles between the second and third floods. If we take the date 2014 as a basis, it turns out that there is 1 cycle between the third and fourth Armageddons, and the total is: $8 + 5 + 1 = 14$.

Such "coincidences" associated with the number "14" or "14.4" include research by German scientists, which they conducted using photographic and film materials obtained by the Ernst Schaeffer expedition.

In 1938, the 13th Dalai Lama allowed photographer Schaeffer and two researchers from the SS Scientific Department to photograph and film a granite slab located in the underground section of the Potala Palace in Lhasa. They were given a manuscript scroll depicting dozens of circles of varying sizes, each with a binary number system, in Tibetan and an unknown Sanskrit language (Appendix No. 24, diagrams Nos. 1-16). The researchers believed that the circles represented the positions of the planets in the solar system 1.5 million years ago. The numbering is done in a peculiar order: the inner circle is numbered from left to right from 1 to 9, the right side is numbered from left to right from 10 to 17, the left side is numbered from right to left from 18 to 25, at the bottom from 26 to 28, at the top - from left to right from 29 to 31. The Tibetan numbers repeat the sequence of an unknown Sanskrit that was on the granite slab. The numbers denoted the coordinates of the planets in an incomprehensible astronomical calculation. These coordinates were superimposed on a millimeter grid. If we measure 6 units in millimeters, like our 5 (on the grid of the Gods), it turns out that 12 cm on our millimeter grid is equal to 14.4 cm or 15 million km. 14.4×15 million is equal to 216 million km, i.e. 1 conventional AU. In the language of the Gods, it is presumably equal to 216 million km. If 216,000,000 is divided by 150,000,000, the coefficient obtained is 1.44, which is acceptable for dividing our conventional astronomical units by their AU. For example, when determining the distance from Mercury to the Sun equal to 0.4 AU, divide 0.4 by 1.44 to get 0.27 AU. Multiply by 216 million km, and we get 58.32 million km. in the language of the Gods. In our calculation, we get 58.5 million km. German scientists derived a number equal to 59,999,999 km. It is not yet clear what algorithm they used to decipher multi-billion numbers, which instead of the usual zeros, contain only nines. However, the error in the final figure at such astronomical distances is insignificant.

If we assume that Icarus's death occurred 1.5 million years ago, then the drawing, engraved by an unknown method on a huge granite slab, is more than 1.5 million years old.

The texts indicate that Icarus orbited the solar system at a distance of 2.3 AU, equal to 345 million km. If 2.3 AU is divided by a factor of 1.4, the result is 1.6 standard a.u. (according to the calculus of the Gods), which corresponds to 344,999,999; the same is true if we round off our 345,000,000. Thus, the system of numbers of the Gods is more accurate, with a calculation error of up to 0.999,999, than modern mathematics.

German researchers cite the work of Ferstmann, who established that the mysterious Mayan civilization used a vigesimal, rather than a decimal, calendar of the Gods. Twenty Incan days equaled one uinal (a 20-day month), 18 uinals equaled one tupu (a 360-day year), 20 tupus equaled one katup (7,200 days), and 20 katups equaled one baktup (14,400 days). Surprisingly, the Mayan calendar begins in 12,386 BC (the Third Armageddon) and ends on December 27, 2012. If we assume that on December 27, 2012, events related to the "Iron Planet" orbiting the Sun occur on Earth, the resulting earthquakes and volcanic eruptions will destroy most of humanity. Then, over the next two years, the biosphere will perish, and the waters of the Flood will wash away all traces of civilization. Therefore, from the known date of 2014, we must subtract 1 May Baktun (14,400). The result is 12,386 BC. It is unlikely that such a coincidence is simply a coincidence.

Evidence that Armageddons and Floods have occurred on Earth several times, as indicated in the Almanac texts, can be found in the fact that the carbon dioxide content in salty seawater is 60 times higher than in the atmosphere and fresh water. A reasonable hypothesis arises that this may be related to a gigantic fire that raged on Earth, after which carbon dioxide was washed into the world's oceans as a result of the Flood. Considering that the Earth's biosphere was 6.4 times larger in size than today's, it is entirely possible that the ice caps covering the North and South Poles were formed from the moisture of the destroyed (burned) biosphere.

In 1977, American and Canadian scientists conducted sensational studies of microparticles and the elements contained in ice samples taken from freezing depths in Greenland and Antarctica, corresponding to a period of 12,000 years BC. The study established that, indeed, 12,000 years BC... An unprecedented fire raged on Earth, characterized by residual carbon dioxide levels 97.8 times higher than the permissible limit, as well as the presence of microparticles of volcanic ash from the fire and a sharp decrease in the oxygen isotope count in these sections. Canadian biologists conducted similar studies on ice sections in Greenland and Antarctica. They found that volcanic eruptions occurred on Earth approximately 75,000 years ago, triggering an ice age. This discovery fits in with the Ahnenerbe's research. The Egyptian historian Manetho recounts these events, which occurred 77,000 years ago (from the time the manuscript was compiled), in his "King List."

Researchers at the Main Intelligence Directorate of the General Staff of the USSR Armed Forces conducted an analysis and research based on the 1980 US government report to the President of the United States, "The State of the World to the Year 2000." One of the four volumes of the report is devoted to global climate change and forecasts for the natural environment at the beginning of the 21st century (2000-2012). The report states that during this time period, global cataclysms are expected on Earth that will impact human life and existing civilization.

Around 2010, magnetic and then geographic poles will shift toward the North American continent. Within a month, the waters of the world's oceans will flood land to a level of approximately 5,000 m. For the North American states and for the entire North American continent, there will remain safe places on the peaks of the Cordillera mountain system and the areas adjacent to the height of McKinley (Denali) in Alaska (6,194 m), Logan, USA-Canada (5,951 m), St. Elias, USA-Canada (5,489 m), Orizaba, Mexico, (5,700 m) Popocatepetl, Mezquica (5,450 m). Within two weeks, the flood waters will wash away the Appalachian mountain range and Mitchell Peak (2,037 m) from the face of the Earth, and within the next two weeks, the Rocky Mountains and Elbert Peak (4,399 m) will go under water

. The North and South American continents will be submerged within a month. Major industrial centers will be underwater to a depth of up to 200 meters. Safe areas for the South American continent will be the peaks of the Andes mountain range and the areas adjacent to Aconcagua Peak, Argentina (6,960 m), Ojos del Salado, Argentina-Chile (6,908 m), Bonete, Argentina (6,782 m), Huascarán, Peru (6,768 m), Illimani, Bolivia (6,462 m), and Chimborazo, Ecuador (6,310 m). Life-saving measures will remain realistic for 4% of the population of North and South America.

Safe areas for the population of Africa will be Mount Kilimanjaro, Tanzania (5,895 m), Kenya (5,199 m), and Marguerite Peak, Uganda, Congo (5,109 m). Life-saving measures will remain realistic for 1% of the population of Africa.

The Australian continent will be completely submerged. There is no prospect of saving Australia's population.

According to American experts, the global flooding pattern will be as follows. The waters of the Pacific Ocean will wash away the Northern and Southern continents on the right side. On the left side, Australia, Southeast Asia, Indochina, and Japan will be washed away. In Russia, flooding will occur more slowly due to its large territory and the fact that the flood waves will pass through the mountains of the Sredinny Range of the Koryak and Kolyma Highlands, as well as the Sikhote-Alin, Dzhugdzhur, and Yablonovy Ranges, as well as the Ural, Himalayan, Tien Shan, and Kunlun mountain ranges. Given this, the difference in flood elevations in Russia compared to the North and South American continents will be different. Moscow will be submerged within two weeks of the disaster. The Ural Mountains from Vorkuta to Orsk will be flooded to a height of 1,000 meters. A great chance for salvation will be presented to the peoples living in the Central Siberian Plateau and the Tien Shan mountain range. Only 25% of the population of the USSR will be able to survive.

The European flood picture will look like this: Iceland will be partially submerged. Ireland will be completely flooded. The British Isles will be 90% submerged. The Granpian Mountains, the city of Bennevis (elevation 1,343 meters), and the Pennines will remain on land. The northern part of Europe, stretching from the Iberian Peninsula to the borders of Russia, will be flooded. The Iberian Peninsula will remain unflooded. Spain will be flooded along the shores of the Atlantic Ocean by 15%. France will be 50% submerged. The Alps and part of the Central Massif will remain on land. Italy will be 50% submerged. The Apennines, the city of Corno Grande (elevation 2,912 meters), the island of Sicily, and Mount Etna (3,340 meters) will remain on land. The islands of Sardinia and Corsica will partially submerge along their coastal lowlands. The Peloponnese peninsula will also submerge along their coastal lowlands. The Carpathian Mountains and their surrounding settlements will remain on land. Denmark, the Baltic republics of the USSR, Finland, and part of Sweden will submerge. Norway will flood along its coastlines; only those parts of it located in the Scandinavian Mountains will remain on land. Safe places in Europe will also be the mountain ranges of Mont Blanc, France, Italy (4807 m), Monte Rosa, Italy (4634 m), Etna, Italy (3323 m), Matterhorn, Italy - Switzerland (4478 m), Jungfrau, Switzerland (4158 m). The reality of saving one's life will remain for 20% of the European population.

Most of the Mediterranean, including Turkey, will remain above ground. Asia will be submerged up to the Himalayan Mountains. India will be flooded. The Tibetan Plateau will become a refuge for millions of Chinese who will have a chance to survive this catastrophe. Safe places in Asia will include the mountain peaks of Everest, China, Nepal (8,850 m), Chogori, China, Pakistan (8,611 m), Kanchenjunga (8,586 m), and Annapurna, Nepal (8,078 m). The reality of saving lives will remain for 20% of Asia's population.

Thus, 80% of the Earth's population would perish. Under these circumstances, the American government is concerned that after the supposed catastrophe, Russia, the Arab world, and Indochina would retain their industrial centers and some of their military potential. The Americans note in their report that the causes of this cataclysm will be linked to interplanetary dysfunctions. Specialists from the Main Intelligence Directorate of the General Staff of the USSR note that the US government is seriously studying the issue of geophysics and the passage of celestial bodies around the Sun, which could create "interplanetary dysfunctions." It is known that the American government has begun construction of a special base for the rescue of people and animals in Alaska along the ten highest peaks of the Alaska Range, near the towns of McKindy and Foraker. Construction of prefabricated centers has also begun near the towns of Gerdine and Torberta. $500 billion has been allocated for the center construction program. Pantomitic fuel and lubricants and mining equipment depots are also being established in the same region.

Special units have been created, where US Army military engineers are engaged in the exploration of deep, high-altitude caves. The program is codenamed "Argon."

Furthermore, it is worth noting that, pursuing certain egocentric goals, US government circles and the CIA, beginning in the 1950s, began covertly shifting their focus to studying processes occurring on Earth (geo-, meteorological, biological, socio-, and others) as interconnected with each other and with the system of cosmophysical processes. Beginning in the 1960s, they began to systematically research and forecast the scale of probable cataclysms (geophysical, meteorological, ecological, psychological, crisis-conflict, and others) looming on Earth at the turn of the 20th and 21st centuries. In the 1960s and 1970s, American intelligence agencies began to launch a large-scale disinformation campaign at the international level to introduce and strengthen theoretical and methodological concepts, methodological, technological, and applied approaches in dominant global and Soviet science that would contribute to the strategic, ideological, and practical unpreparedness of their potential adversaries and competitors for the coming cataclysms.

At present, the US authorities and intelligence services have begun to deploy a complex of "indirect" subversive (economic, scientific, political, psychological, military-strategic, crisis-conflict, "peacekeeping", etc.) actions to covertly destabilize the situation in the USSR and its allies and to large-scale development (primarily under the cover of the "star wars" program) of a complex of ground-based, aerospace-based and other means, aimed at covertly intensifying global and local (astro-, geo-, meteorological, bio- and psychophysical, man-made, etc.) destruction in the affected zones based on forecasting and resonant-wave amplification of the corresponding natural destructive mechanisms. In their perspective, they determine the entry into the stage of expanded deployment in the geospaces of Eurasia and the Soviet Union of all developed means and attempts at their disguised comprehensive use for the purpose of subsequently establishing strict control over this part of the planet, the most geostable and resource-rich in the coming centuries.

The developing situation (in the development of the planet, Soviet scientific, national economic and military practices, as well as the disguised strategic preparations of the USA) predetermines the need to urgently increase state efforts in coordinating and supporting advanced domestic specialists and research groups, the interdisciplinary integration of which could yield, in a relatively short time, fundamentally new ideological and applied results in the areas of:

- disclosure of what is happening with the solar system, planet Earth, its nature, humanity and, directly, the USSR;
- forecasting and mitigation of natural and destructive threats to the security of the Soviet Union;
- preemptive detection and counteraction of aggressive US plans and actions, covertly relying on various destabilizing and destructive mechanisms of nature and society, as well as the strategic misinformation of the scientific, government, and military leadership of target countries.

According to the GRU, "galactic-scale changes" have been occurring over the past 150 years. The rate of movement of the North Magnetic Pole in 1904 was 2-3 km per year. In the 1970s, this increased to tens of km per year. Currently, this rate is approximately 20 km per year. The North Magnetic Pole made this jump in the following order:

, from 1904-1948 - 397 km,
from 1948-1962 - 133 km,
from 1962-1972 - 54 km,

toward the prime meridian of the geographic North Pole between the seventieth and eightieth parallels. The speed of the North Magnetic Pole's movement is increasing disproportionately. Between 1831 and 1948, it fluctuated between 2.5 and 5 km per year. From 1948 to 1962, the speed increased by 10 km per year. From 1972 to 1984, its speed was 22 km per year. The magnetic pole has made a jump of 803 km over the past 150 years. If this speed continues, it is indeed possible that, moving north, the North Magnetic Pole will reach North America in 2012. Currently, the total magnetic pole does not coincide with the geographic pole, and compass orientation to north and south is becoming approximate. According to GRU researchers, the last polarity reversal of the north magnetic pole occurred 12,000 years ago, based on studies of ancient lava layers containing iron-containing inclusions. It has been found that the strength of the Earth's magnetic dipole field doubles with a period of 14,000 years. At the beginning of the Common Era, this field was one and a half times stronger than it is today.

Consequently, as the dipole weakens, local fields strengthen. Mathematical models show that if the strength of the main field weakens and reaches 0.2-0.3 of its average value, the magnetic poles will begin to shift erratically under the influence of enhanced anomalous regions. If the north magnetic pole thus crosses the equator, a geographic pole inversion will occur. Similar processes of increasing magnetic pole drift are occurring on Uranus and Neptune, suggesting that the accelerating polar drift of the Earth is linked to global processes occurring deep within the Solar System and the Milky Way galaxy. These processes have a major impact on the developmental stages of the Earth's biosphere and human life.

Due to the shifting bases of the Earth's radiation field, the number of natural disasters, causing significant damage to industries and numerous casualties, is steadily increasing:

; 167 disasters
in 1968-1972; 182 disasters in 1973-1977; and 1978-1982. - 292 disasters

According to GRU specialists, in order to forecast the prospects of magnetic pole drift and natural disasters associated with geophysical processes, it is necessary to create a specialized agency on the basis of the KGB and the Council of Ministers of the USSR, which would include leading developers of this topic from the GRU Research Institute, the USSR Ministry of Defense, and the KGB of the USSR.

The existing organizational and mobilization system in the USSR, in the event of war or global geophysical cataclysms, consists of a communications and collector network located beneath the main industrial centers of the Union republics, at a depth of up to 250 meters. This infrastructure is under the control of the 16th Directorate of the KGB of the USSR and is maintained by the 9th Directorate of the General Staff of the USSR Armed Forces (military unit 25555). According to the command and engineers of this unit, if the industrial centers under which the 16th Directorate's facilities are located are flooded, their internal infrastructure will cease to exist within three months due to the penetration of large quantities of pressurized water through the collector shafts of air intakes and connecting engineering structures, without which the underground facilities cannot function. During the construction and erection of these facilities, engineers took into account protection from nuclear and hydrogen explosions and the ensuing consequences of a nuclear war, but not global flooding of land. Thus, the entire communications and mobilization infrastructure of the USSR, including the main centers of activity, from fuel depots to water reservoirs, is unable to ensure the safety of the contingent located within for an extended period during a flood.

Given the potential for such consequences, underground infrastructure must be located on elevated mountain ranges that will not be flooded. Such research and development was not conducted in the USSR. The analyses and developments conducted by GRU specialists in this area concern the study of the Earth's magnetoelectric instability and specialized issues in the geophysics of the passage of celestial bodies and solar system objects. The review of the engineering principles for the construction of these facilities falls under the jurisdiction of the highest state governing bodies and the Politburo of the CPSU Central Committee.

Archaeological research conducted by scientists from various countries over the past 150 years can serve as confirmation of the hypotheses outlined in the Ahnenerbe materials. These studies categorically refute Darwin's theory of human descent from apes, rendering it absurd.

In 1978, archaeologists discovered human footprints dating back 4 million years in Merilika, apparently fleeing a volcanic eruption. About 50 footprints stretch for 115 meters in volcanic tuff. The size of these individuals' feet is twice that of modern humans, indicating the great stature of the people who lived at that time.

In 1972, a well-preserved skull dating back 1.8 million years, with a brain capacity of approximately 750 cubic centimeters, was discovered in Kobi Fora, Africa (find no. 1470).

In northern Tanzania, in Laetoli, 55 km from Olduvai Gorge, human footprints were discovered in fossilized volcanic ash, dating back to 3.6-3.8 million years ago.

In 1877, a 33-million-year-old stone mortar and pestle was discovered at an altitude of 3,360 meters (11,370 feet) near the entrance to a cave in the bed of an ancient river. (Appendix No. 25, Photo No. 1).

In 1969, a human footprint trackway containing the imprints of a three-toed dinosaur, dating back 100 million years, was discovered on the Paluxy River in Texas. The treads of the tracks suggest that humans "walked" the dinosaur.

In 1922, mining engineer and geologist John Reid discovered a human footprint in Nevada, extracted from layers dating back 213-240 million years. (Appendix No. 26, Photo No. 1). The size of this footprint is three times larger than a modern human foot.

In 1938, Wilbur Barrow, a geology professor at Bear College, discovered fossilized shoe treads in Rocastle, Kentucky, dating back 250 million years. (Appendix No. 27, photo No. 1)

In June 1968, geologist William Meister discovered a shoe tread measuring 25 x 8 cm in length in Antelope Springs, Utah, in shale dating back to 590 million years BC.

Anthropologists and archaeologists involved in the research claim that over the past 150 years, hundreds of types of bones and skulls have been discovered in different parts of the world by renowned scientists, further listing which makes no sense, dating back to 2 to 5 million years. The variety of finds creates confusion in determining the number and diversity of human species during the specified time period.

Numerous geological and anthropological findings refute generally accepted scientific theories and fit well into the overall picture of the research conducted by Ahnenerbe specialists.

The above-mentioned theories fit into how Ahnenerbe scientists and ancient civilizations understood the internal structure of the Earth (Appendix No. 28, diagram No. 1, Appendix No. 29, diagram No. 1). The solid layer of the globe is 2044 kilometers. It includes (in sequence):

- the outer fertile soil layer of the Earth - 10 km.
- granite - 184 km.
- basalt - 283 km.
- liquid basalt with hot gas - 140 km.
- magma, which is in a state of constant decay of the nuclear fusion reaction, in which, as on the Sun, metals of the tetrahedral group take part at a temperature of 3500 degrees. It is also the center of gravity of the globe. The width of this layer is 930 km.

Further located:

- liquid basalt with hot gas - 140 km.
- basalt - 283 km.
- granite - 184 km.
- inner soil layer - 10 km.

The inner atmosphere from the boundary of the soil layer to the inner core is 6456 km.

The circumference of the inner core is 3000 km.

The inner core is in a constant reaction of nuclear fusion of the teroid group of metals, as on the Sun.

Conclusions:

1. At the beginning of the 21st century, Earth will undergo a complex period of evolutionary development with a systemic restructuring of a vast complex of geophysical (geomagnetic, geoelectric, geoelectromagnetic, etc.), geochemical, meteorological, climatic, and other processes.

These restructuring processes will intensify in the functioning of the Earth from the beginning of the 20th century, and by its end (approximately August-September 2012), according to the totality of available experimental and analytical data, they will enter an intensive phase of their evolutionary dynamics.

One of the main sources of these events will be fundamental shifts in the modes of interaction and functioning of all bodies in the Solar System as it enters a certain zone of galactic space.

The ongoing shifts in the cosmo- and geophysical sources of planetary life will be actively reflected in the state of all subsystems of the biosphere (including fauna, flora, physiology, and psychology of humanity), which will predetermine its entry into a new stage of evolutionary development.

2. The emergence of a new stage of planetary life will occur along with the restructuring of the planet's basic functioning modes and will naturally be accompanied by an escalation of various dysfunctions in the development of nature and humanity.

There will be an intensive increase in all kinds of natural disasters (earthquakes, landslides, droughts, floods, hurricanes, tsunamis, widespread fires, epidemics, environmental damage, weather and climate fluctuations), destruction of infrastructure, dysfunction of automation and communications, chronic and impulsive destruction of human physiology and psyche, accidents and vehicle disasters, outbreaks of local (social, political, and military) conflict, and much more. According to a February 1983 special report from the Institute of Terrestrial Magnetism, Ionosphere, and Radio Wave Propagation of the USSR Academy of Sciences, unusual climate warming has been recorded in various regions of the Earth, and increased microwave background radiation intensity is occurring in various regions of the USSR. Anomalous cases of destruction of metal foundations of load-bearing metal structures, including railway bridges at fastening and welding points, have been noted. (Appendix No. 30, p. 30, nos. _____).

The scale and dynamics of these destructive processes and their consequences pose a threat to Soviet industry (and the entire planetary) security, increasing as the planet enters the intensive phase of its evolutionary transformation.

3. What is happening to the planet, nature, humanity, and directly to the Soviet Union demands from us, firstly, an accelerated and adequate systemic-ideological awareness of what is happening, and, secondly, the activation of productive activities for the preemptive disclosure and, as far as possible, the mitigation of the growing natural-destructive, emergency-catastrophic, environmental, and other threats to the security of the Soviet Union.

It should be noted with alarm that at present the insufficient readiness of domestic science and national economic practice for an adequate systemic and ideological understanding of what is happening (with the planet, nature, man and the environment) and for the mitigation of the growing destruction may significantly increase the scale of the Soviet threat and the existing system of planetary security.

For the effective implementation of this program and the increase of the corresponding potential of Soviet science, it seems necessary:

- to accelerate the beginning of organized scientific work on the systemic accumulation, comprehension and integration of diverse narrow-field information, the volume of which is quite sufficient for the fundamental theoretical and applied deepening of the basic ideological program developed by M. Lomonosov, A. Humboldt, T. Chardin, K. Tsiolkovsky, A. Chizhevsky, V. Vernadsky and other human thinkers, and which prescribes the need to consider the main processes on Earth in close systemic connection with the ongoing cosmophysical processes;

- to begin the integrated development of the disparate methodological base of modern science (or rather the cluster of sectoral sciences about the Earth) and national economic practice, which is still based on a multitude of narrow-sector autonomous-fragmentary concepts and models that currently do not reflect the patterns of functioning and development of the internal and external relations of the Earth as an integral system;

- to strengthen the targeted attention of Soviet organized science to the sphere of high-precision instrumental recording of those (ultra-high-frequency, ultra-low-frequency, etc.) resonant wave processes that underlie the functioning and interaction of the micro- and macrophenomena under consideration (without which the efforts of the numerous talented scientists who proactively develop devices with the indicated capabilities, but are unable to ensure their implementation, because they do not fit into the dominant concepts and R&D, experience difficulties in setting up and analyzing experiments, interacting with other specialists, etc., do not receive due support, methodological correction and integration).

So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18

Now the birth of Jesus Christ happened this way: When his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found to be with child of the Holy Spirit.

19

Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, decided to put her away privately.

20

But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, son of David, fear not to take unto you Mary your wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Spirit.

21

And she shall bring forth a son, and you shall call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.

22

Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23

Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.

24

Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

25

And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name JESUS.

The Blue Man

(I apologise in advance for this being quite long, but I wanted to get every detail I can remember into this one).

I was five or six-years-old when I had a strange experience that I still remember, quite vividly, to this day. Before our backyard got reworked into an extension, we had a large decked patio with two large, for lack of better words, picnic tables, that could seat maybe four-five people.

It was around the summertime. I remember the sun bearing down and the warm breeze in the air. My parents were hosting a barbecue for a number of different people, a few relatives, some strangers who I don't really remember at all.

I was sat between my father and uncle where they were discussing whatever topic. I was quiet as a kid. I just sat there playing with the toy I had while everyone around me was laughing and drinking, having an overall enjoyable time.

I was sat at the far end of the table where I had a clear view of the backside of my house. On the upper top left corner was the bathroom, along with my parents bedroom on the opposite side.

I'm sat there, deep into the story I created for the toy I was playing with, complete with mimicking explosion sound effects while the clattering of glasses sounded around me and the sizzling smoke of the food wafted around the yard.

The next part is where the strangeness of that day would come into effect. The laughing stopped. The clattering of glasses quickly ceased. I looked around to see what got everyone so quiet. Looking from table to table, everybody was completely fixated on my parents bedroom window on the upper right-hand corner.

I looked up. I remember sitting there with my mouth open and an aching feeling in the pit of my stomach. There was a man, presumably, completely ultramarine blue from head-to-toe. There was an almost blur-like field around him where it was uneasy to look at for an extended period of time. But who could look away?

If you want a more picturesque idea of what this guy, or thing, looked like in person. He was close to the Phantom Virus from Scooby-Doo: Cyber Chase, funny enough, give or take a few differences in appearance.

He quickly threw open the latch of the bedroom window and had almost his entire upper torso hanging outside. He was angrily looking down on us. I remember he had his eyes fixed down toward the table left of me in particular, though, I can't remember anyone of significance sitting there.

He would gaze around at all of us, where it was almost completely silent now. You might expect something other than what I'm about to tell you, such as he spoke some demonic language before fading away or gave a creepy smile before disappearing, something like that.

But he simply looked down on us, eyes wide. Looking pissed. Before shouting:

"Can you all shut up? I'm trying to sleep up here."

Before slamming the bedroom window shut and seemingly stumbling off inside.

I sat waiting for everyone to stand up, scream, and for my father to run upstairs and look for whoever the hell was inside our house. But the quietness stayed for a bit longer. Maybe six or seven seconds passed before everyone just went back to laughing and talking about whatever conversations were being held thirty seconds before. Almost as if somebody snapped their fingers and brought them out from a deep sort of trance.

Even at the age I was at at the time, I knew something wrong had just happened. I was mystified that not one person there seemed to remember what they all just saw, except myself.

The only part of this event I can't quite remember is:

Whether I sat there with that feeling in my stomach, trying to convince myself whether we were all just pranked or whether we each experienced some sort of mass hysteria -

Or:

2. I went inside the house myself to check. Where I cautiously ran upstairs and into my parents bedroom where nobody was there, and nothing was out of the ordinary, bar the bedroom window being off the nightlatch and slightly ajar.

When I think of this day every now and again, I seem to recount option two more clearly. Which if it was: I was one brave kid.

I've never brought it up to my parents and they've never brought it up to me. I don't know whether they truly don't remember, but I don't want to seem like a lunatic for approaching my parents with the story of 'seeing a blue electric man' in their bedroom one day.

I found this community a few days ago and felt it would be appropriate that somebody other than me can read this story where it's more out in the open.

I've never told anybody this story before now, I just recount it every so often. I've never been able to deduct who the Blue Man was, a ghost, intruder, or if he was ever there at all.

I don't believe I've imagined it, even for the age that I was. As I've said, this happened when I was five or six. If it was just some dream I had at the time, it's a dream I've remembered almost vividly for the last fifteen years.

I saw a blue man walk down my staircase at night when I was a child. I could make out all his facial details, even the hand on the banister. I told my mom in the morning and she confessed that the person who sold the house to her had told her that a spirit lived in it. Other experiences occurred, but I always loved to talk about the blue man I saw.

When I was in the second grade I remember a girl breaking into tears talking about a blue man who escaped out of a box I don't know what happened to the girl but the story always stuck with me

I remember one time when I was sick I saw a blue man outside my window looking in at me too. Only caught him for a split second but what I saw is he looked shocked as if he knew he was spotted and was terrified of it. He was a lighter blue than ultramarine though, although very vibrant (and maybe glowing? I forget).

I'm pretty sure it wasn't paranormal and I was just tripping balls because of my fever or maybe out of date medication (hell, I've hallucinated bugs on me and stuff like that without any reason), but either way I thought it was relevant, especially with all of the other people here seeing the blue man in their homes or peeking through their windows.

OMG! I have been trying to find other people who have seen that blue man for ages. I also saw one when I was quite young (4). He came into my bedroom. He seemed quite tall. I compared him to my dad's height, 6'6", at that time. Also very glowy, like electric. (Really, just like you described!)

He didn't say anything when he came in. I hid under my blanket. When I peeked out, he was sitting at the foot of my bed. I bailed to my sister's room which is where I woke up the following morning.

I don't think he seemed malevolent, only that it's horrifying to see a person like that in the best of circumstances.

Anyway, this would have been 1987/1988.

It's interesting that he would be that tall!

I didn't get a great sense of scale when he was shouting from the window, but he definitely seemed lanky to a degree.

It is very creepy how the details of this person are so similar between the encounters of me and yourself.

I definitely remember being scared (you would be at such an age), much like yourself. The fact he was shouting at us didn't help. Maybe he was just having a bad day on my occasion? Haha. It's interesting you felt he wasn't necessarily malevolent, however.

I don't want to theorise into what the Blue Man might be, but I like to think he's someone from another dimension who just zips into ours now and again to mess around with folk so we can tell these weird stories later in life. Like an interdimensional prankster of some kind. (I know how goofy it sounds, but it's fun, nonetheless).

Anyhow, it's nice to meet a fellow Blue Man meeter!

Crazy cause I remember a tall, thin, blue man in my room as well but he had a long nose and sniffed so creepily. He crawled up the bed and started sniffing my neck and I couldn't move I was paralyzed. Probably a nightmare I had but it felt so real and I never forgot about it.

This is super interesting thanks for sharing. I've never had an experience like this, but I do vividly remember the terror this Scooby doo villain used to bring about in me when I was quite young. I'm not sure why, or why I remember - but I remember watching this episode and the phantom virus really freaked me out, for whatever reason.

Any other details you could share? Do you remember what the eyes looked like? Any thing out of the ordinary? Any clothes or other features you could make out? Like bone or muscle structure? How long would you say the entire encounter lasted? Sorry for all the questions

OP

2y ago

I'm happy to answer those questions!

Funny enough, from how little I remember of the blue guy's appearance when I think about the encounter, I just picture the Phantom Virus in his place when it pops up in my head now and again haha.

Speaking about the actual blue guy I'm talking about here, though, as for his muscle structure or facial features, the exact image has gotten muddled over the years in conjunction with myself being on the ground floor with the blue man on the floor above and a fair distance from where I sat, it's difficult to remember things like eye colour etc as we weren't close enough to properly make it out.

Here's what I do remember, though: the haze I spoke about around him almost made it look like he had a glow to him, or he was somewhat bright when he was leaning from the window. He was regularly thin, not thin enough to make out any bone protrusions or abnormalities, however. I remember the top of his head having spike-like protrusions. Like long shards of carved ice sticking from his head to look like sculpted hair or something of that sort.

The only thing out of the ordinary, other than the whole event itself, was the eerie quietness. I don't remember any birds chirping or even the food on the barbecue sizzling behind us. It was like everything just froze in the moments the blue guy was speaking and the ten or so seconds afterwards before everyone just went back to regular convo as if nothing just happened. It was like *snap, and the world just started going again.

Overall, I'd say the whole incident lasted, maybe twenty or so seconds. Not long at all, really, when you think about it. I just remember the stillness after he finished speaking and closed the window, feeling like it lasted forever. Like the whole event was in some weird closed off vacuum.

Thanks for the detailed answers. This is interesting to think about.

Particularly because it's so bizarre and frankly like you stated, not the turn I was expecting the story to take. I wonder if anyone else had the same experience with you that day. Were you the youngest there? Any thing else happen notable enough to make you remember that day, or just that event?

Haha, I hope the blue dude got some rest lol.

There is a reason why only a child could remember it, though, and why the adults would just forget and not even register it say it is because children have more fluid perception than adults.

Anyway funny story got a good morning laugh lol.

In high school 2 different girls, with no friendship or ties in the community or anything, had stories about a blue man. In fact, one had an older brother and sister who corroborated her story as they were all sitting together in one bedroom when they saw a blue face in their window. They said he was making weird faces, like teasing them I guess? The other also said it was a face in her window- but she has a room on the second floor!

Thanks for sharing. The fact that they all saw it seemed quite eerie! Then they went back to what they were doing is really weird. Like the being held them in some kind of trance. Here is a thought though; Could it be that your imagination got out of control? You secretly wanted them to get their attention? Not to say I don't believe you, but just a thought. That feeling in your stomach is your gut instinct. We feel an odd sensation, almost like queazy. It's our body/mind reacting to what we are experiencing, telling us something is wrong. In times that strangeness happens, sometimes a kind of quietness prevails. Do you remember anyone in the group looking at you? Like they acknowledged to you they saw it too or were they just in a trance-like state? I find it weird they would go right back to what they were doing. Like they don't remember. Time stopped maybe?

OP

2y ago

You are completely welcome to be sceptical!

That's the strangest part of the whole incident to me. Here you have this literal blue dude screaming at us from inside our own home, then everybody just quietly dismisses it? What if it was someone dangerous and they were still inside the house? Nobody wants to investigate or call the police?

When I mentioned the period of quietness before everybody went back to regular conversation, I remember looking around me, waiting for a reaction of some kind. Most people were still staring up at the closed window with a look of 'that wasn't quite right' all over their face. But I never heard any bickering between anyone. I think I asked my dad who the weird man was right after and he just sort of laughed it off with a depressed look on his face. I saw one woman look across the table to the left of me at someone else with a worried look, but that was about the height of it.

Then snap... and everybody just quickly fades into laughing and normal party talk. If there was ever any embodiment of a trance like state, I feel this would fit the bill.

I compared the whole ordeal to that of the Pennywise character, where he tricks the population of Derry into dismissing his existence and the events he causes but let's those he selects remember him and everything he does because he purposely wants to scare and belittle those people, for whatever reason.

But yeah, very strange that it was never brought up as something more serious.

yeah whenever im unsure of whether or not i did something..i just ask myself why i'd think i did it if i didnt do it.

like, if i'm a person who, for instance, who thinks i did a somersalt.

then, what kind of version of me who did not do a somersalt would think i did a somersalt when i actually didnt?

a very imaginative version of me, i guess.

like, point being..it's a lot more conceivable i did do a somersalt.

like, i don't just randomly think i did things i didn't do.

somehow the notion got there

When I was a kid a blue man used to come and tap on my window. At the time I had trouble describing him. I said he looked like a smiling statue. He would tap on my window at night and try to get me to go outside. I don't recall him ever talking. One night I ran into my parents room cause I was a scared 5 year old (or around then). And he tapped on my parents bedroom window and my dad woke up and saw him. He didn't remember this.

Not sure if it was just a recurring nightmare or if my parents just couldn't remember. They just remember me telling them about it. But they also remember me being in my room alone talking to myself a lot as a kid. Pretty sure my house was haunted, cause I moved when I was around 8 and all the nightmares/terrors stopped immediately.

My mom sold the house a few years ago, I wanted to go back and stay in it for a night before she did, just to see if my boogy man still existed. I told her this several times. After she sold it she said the previous people she rented to trashed it and it had a bad roach problem. But a part of me thinks she might have believed me, and didn't want me to go back.

The blue man entity

Hello all I'm about to share with u my experience with this idk what it would be called so the blue man it is, I can never find any lore about them, until on Gemini it gave me a little info I'll post under my experience, and if anyone has anymore info or even experiences pls share them thank you

I have been a able to see things since I could remember when I was younger it was hard to tell who/what was real & what wasn't. My sister & I are 3rd generation Clair's I being the youngest have more than 1 type but that's another story neway... Ive always known that I have some thing that has followed me ever since I was young like toddler yrs & preteen yrs I called him the green man, I would only see him in my bathroom in my childhood home back in tx he never speaks but always watched me when I was alone. Being little I don't remember being frightened by him/it just more curious plus I think my mom knew he was there, I always would ask her who that man was she would look back towards the ceiling in the corner right where i saw him she 1st would deny it with there's nothing there but after awhile she couldn't deny what we both saw so she would say he was just there to make sure I was ok bc she couldn't be every where to watch me but she seemed more creeped out by him. Later in my teen years & up (I'm in my late 30s) I started to call him the blue man, instead of green bc he is darker than the dark (no he's not a shadow person shadow ppl u can see thru or their more like smoky) and he is a midnight blue color against the darkness. The older I got the more I noticed that he couldn't come into the places I live & lived but just would watch me from time to time the vibe he gave off was more idk sinister, like I'd sometimes I felt comfort from it but most times it was like a idk like a creepy off putting vibe I only see it sporadically, than every so many yrs. The last time I seen him was in my sisters husbands aunts room, she was in NY getting ready to move in with her soon to be husband. I forgot something in her room so i open the door and at the same time I'm wondering why it's so dark in here, she has a window that faces her bedroom door so a lot of natural light. I feel myself bump into someone it bumps me back and u know when ur not paying much attention u say oh I'm sorry cuz I staggered back as soon as I felt it shove/bump me back my brain is trying to comprehend what's going on at the same time no one should be in there I automatically look up and scream and hes gone, his vibe made me feel intense fear, idk what I'm asking is has anyone else seen him bc trying to find information on what it could be I've come across the green man in Celtic but nothing about a blue man

Gemini's information ♦ Yes, in some paranormal folklore, there's a figure known as the "Blue Man" or "Blue Ghost" that is said to watch over children and even follow them into adulthood. The belief is that this entity is a spirit or being whose color is associated with its vibrational frequency. Some interpretations suggest the Blue Man is a fallen angel or a spirit with a connection to the afterlife.

Here's a more detailed look:

Blue color association: The blue color is thought to represent a specific vibrational frequency or energy that the entity possesses. Watcher of children: The Blue Man is often described as observing children and potentially influencing their lives. Connection to the afterlife: Some believe the Blue Man is a spirit or a being from the afterlife, like a fallen angel. Dream manifestation: In some contexts, the Blue Man appears in dreams, suggesting it may be a form of a dreamwalker or entity interacting with the dreamer. Varied interpretations: Different cultures and belief systems have their own interpretations of the Blue Man, with some relating it to specific myths or legends. Not a universally recognized entity: While the concept of a Blue Man is present in some paranormal folklore, it's not a universally recognized or widely known figure.

I can provide some insight I'm an occult specialist I don't have any degrees or anything but I have been studying every encounter with the paranormal for years and what you described has lore. What you're thinking of as a specter is actually what I'd equate more to a dimensional traveler he's imperceptible to most and I can count on one hand what I've read about him but he's not alone I read about encounters with headless blue dogs that practically drove people mad by appearing at their bedside. These beings, their motives are beyond anything I can understand there have been encounters with similar travelers I can tell you more but it should be noted there's some things that are better left undiscovered. If you're interested reach out I hope I gave you some insight

Ok I'll give you more info I'm glad I could help yeah trying to read him is not going to yield results these beings are masters of the mind while not on the same level as the blue man similar faceless featureless beings have appeared the testimonies of eyewitness's are documented in this video <https://youtu.be/WmV2pvjCiIM?si=H2MbpqY0ncJLvLUW> I know this might sound crazy but this is beyond what we know. I have some level of expertise with these forces I don't know why I understand them just that I do and these forces follow me I've seen things beyond imagination I can talk more on it I've been to this strange white void as if in a fog trees spaced out in order but neither the tops nor bottoms I could see they were like pillars

Idk thinking back on it i think he was still a blue colour but where I guess there was light in the bathroom and I was like 3ish. He was between a dark turquoise, dark cyan or maybe teal like a deep blue green bruise but my little mind didn't know the word for the colour so green man it was. When I was that little he never felt scary(he should have tho bc a man let alone green floating in the top corner of my bathroom) and my mom saying while looking at exactly where I was.

Saying there was nothing there and than finally after me always asking she said not to worry he was just watching me bc she couldn't watch me all the time idk

Oh wow I used to see people in colors like that when I was a child. It started when I was 3, a beautiful woman that glowed pinkish red would come to me at night and I would hear music and we would dance. There were blue people and green people as well. The woman told me I could speak to the blue and pink people but don't speak to the green ones. My mother was telling my husband how weird I am once after we had our first child and she acted like she saw spirits. She started telling how I used to get up in the middle of the night and it looked like I was ballroom dancing all down the hall and in the living room of our old house. It brought back all those memories that I had from those years. We moved when i was 5 and I was devastated that I didn't see the same spirits in our new house. I've never really done any research on the colors or anything so thank you for sharing this. I honestly loved my childhood and the visitors I had. I see scary ones these days 🤩

Daemon

So much has been distorted, warped, and perverted by enemy programs masquerading as "religions." With the coming of Christianity, the Original Pagan Gods were blasphemed as monsters.

The original meaning of the word Demon comes from the Ancient Greek language and was later perverted entirely by the enemy programs to mean "evil". Daemon means God or Goddess, 'fate, the fate of a person,' the daemon of one's self [the soul], one's lot or given fate in life.¹ All Ancient Philosophers, especially those of the Greeks, were associating with Demons, who gave them spiritual knowledge. Their writings were perverted, mistranslated, but above all, destroyed. When Christianity took over, lies that the Demons were evil became prominent.

Daemon is an Ancient Greek word meaning "Knowledgeable One", "God/Gods", and then it is also a word for the Human Soul. It was the holiest term for referring to all that is "Divine". This is because with spiritual development, every man and woman can become a "Daemon", as we have been given the ability to "Know" and to become divine beings, bringing outside us our inner powers and divinity.

The word "Daemon" is also closely associated with fate and the human soul. For this reason, the Ancient Philosophical texts use terminology such as the infamous statement of Heraclitus of Ephesus "The fate of each man is his Demon". Man's soul is called "Daemonic", since it contains the essence of the Gods. Meditation brings this essence to the surface.

How the above is attained is through meditation. The Daemons act as aids and helpers for human beings so that we too may achieve this end goal.

The enemy word for "Angels" is also a stolen and perverted Ancient Greek word. Angel comes from "Angelos", which merely means "messenger". Messenger is a poor term and would never be used to equate with the Daemons or the Gods. A "Messenger" is an intermediary spirit that transfers information and nothing else. Additionally, due to the lies created by jews, many people falsely fear the Daemons. This happens only due to personal ignorance caused by disinformation.

The epithet "Demonios" which is equal to calling someone "Daemonic", was given to people who have been impressive or gifted in some way. The term was used as a title for people of impressive potential.

In the Temple of Zeus Daemons section, there are Daemons of ranging rank and authority. The highest ones, such as the Top Four Crowns, are the most important Daemons and are of the highest power, so they commonly were called Gods. Their power is inconceivable. They have myriads of armies of other Demons that work on their behalf to aid humanity.

While some are on the highest end, like Father Zeus, others are still inconceivably more advanced compared to a human, but they still are not at the level of the highest Gods. One example here is Asmodeus. Asmodeus is extremely powerful. They do not compare to any human in power, as they surpass them by an inconceivable amount of power. Yet, they too are not on the level of the Gods but are advancing towards this highest level. Another one is Valefor, whose ascent into the Godhead was also recorded in ancient history under the Ancient Hero Valerefontis.

In Ancient Greek Mythology, there are many mortals who have become Heroes and Demigods, or simply Daemons. Hercules is one of these that ended up as a myth and is known worldwide. Asclepius was a well-known mortal man who ascended to the Godhead, alongside Apollonius and other cases of previous mortals who became immortal through the knowledge of the Magnum Opus.

The figure of Pharaoh Ramesses the II, the Greatest Pharaoh of Egypt, is a case where he was worshiped as a God, not even as a Demigod or a Daemon. His power has been extensive, and every one of his incarnations on earth has changed the whole course of human history. Most of this extends well into the past and close to the "Golden Age" of Humanity.

More about some of these individuals will be found in the Demons section, as these few personalities that we know will be under their respective Guardian Daemons. These cases were few, but they were worshiped almost as Gods, depending on how much they helped humanity and how much they advanced people at the time.

Hesiod, a most important Ancient Mystic and Philosopher, explains vividly the reality about the Daemons. He also openly says that many of the beings that were here in the Golden Age were not only the ancestors of present-day humanity but, of course, were worshiped in later generations as Gods. The Gods cared about us from the beginning.

According to Hesiod², who was one of the greatest spiritual authorities worldwide in his time, many of these beings of the Golden Age are indeed now Gods and guides to human beings of this age, so that they can attain spiritually what we can attain. Many of these Demons are now put in charge of helping humanity. Every person who dedicates to Zeus and awakens their soul will also receive their Guardian Demon, who will be in charge of them to protect them and advance them.

Most of the High-Ranking Gods are even higher than these Daemons, with extensively more and more powers. They all work together like a family.

All the Daemons in the Temple of Zeus section are human-friendly, want to work with humanity, and when properly approached through Father Zeus, will respond in a friendly and positive manner towards the people who want to work with them. They are the ORIGINAL GODS of humanity. Some very, very few of them were once humans, tens of thousands of years ago, and they therefore understand how humanity needs help to advance spiritually.

On the contrary, the stories of Jews on how "Demons are Evil", a belief manifested in all of Jewish lore and Christianity or Islam that came out of it, are solely because they have blasphemed them for centuries, built a culture around attacking them, and defamed them against the whole globe.

This made up lie was done because these evil beings wanted to keep humanity from spiritually advancing, disconnecting us from our ancestors and the wise beings, to turn us into slaves. Without spiritual knowledge, mankind can be enslaved and turned into nothing better than an animal. The nefarious powers that be know this and have perverted all the knowledge that the Temple of Zeus has now restored.

The final goal of this path is to achieve the Magnum Opus, meaning "The Great Work", and is the goal of philosophical application of spiritual knowledge. This stands for the transformation of the Soul into "Gold", which is the recreation of the soul into the Godhead.

1 Stamatakos Joannes, "Dictionary Of Ancient Greek Language", page 241.

2 Hesiod openly claims the people of the Golden Age became "Demons", Hesiod: Works And Days, translated by Hugh G. Evelyn-White:

"(ll. 109-120) First of all the deathless gods who dwell on Olympus made a golden race of mortal men who lived in the time of Kronos when he was reigning in heaven. And they lived like gods without sorrow of heart, remote and free from toil and grief: miserable age rested not on them; but with legs and arms never failing they made merry with feasting beyond the reach of all evils. When they died, it was as though they were overcome with sleep, and they had all good things; for the fruitful earth unforced bare them fruit abundantly and without stint. They dwelt in ease and peace upon their lands with many good things, rich in flocks and loved by the blessed gods."

"(ll. 121-139) But after earth had covered this generation -- they are called pure spirits dwelling on the earth, and are kindly, delivering from harm, and guardians of mortal men; for they roam everywhere over the earth, clothed in mist and keep watch on judgements and cruel deeds, givers of wealth; for this royal right also they received;"

More revealing Quotes:

Daemon: "In Greek myth, an intermediate spirit between men and Gods. Daemons such as the one who guided Socrates act as councilors and guardians to human beings."

Another definition from Encyclopædia Britannica, 1973 edition:

"A general Greek term for a supernatural power. As early as the Hesiod, the dead of the Golden Age became daemons, and later philosophical speculation envisaged these as lower than the Gods, but as superior to humanity. The Christians therefore attributed the actions of the Pagan Gods to daemons, identified as fallen angels."

This excerpt quote from the Catholic Encyclopedia is very revealing:

In the same way the Greeks and Romans may have worshipped their divinities, fondly believing them to be good. But the Christian Scriptures declare that all the gods of the Gentiles are demons.

The above quote from the Encyclopædia Britannica claims that Daemons are lower than Gods. This is partially true in that some are human hybrids [Demigods] who have become both spiritually and physically immortal and have what is called "supernatural powers." The Demons of the Goetia are all Original Pagan Gods. Some, such as Asmodeus, are Demigods.

How To Interpret

Understand The Messages Of The Gods

It is a natural occurrence that those who attempt communication with the Gods might experience problems or obstacles. Oftentimes, this can occur with communication, understanding of the Gods, interpreting their will, or in essence, merely communicating with the Gods spiritually in a more direct way.

These problems can range from direct enemy interference to natural astral interference, but there is an overlooked topic that most people seem to neglect. This problem is primarily centered around the self and one's inner balances.

As one constantly attempts this and wants to advance in this area, what is described in this post will be more clearly understood.

On the Temple of Zeus website, the writings of High Priests describe the methods and advanced methodology on how one can communicate with Demons. There are quite a few ways. Yet, one must understand that none of this is a one-shot deal.

It requires persistent training, and the more advancement one has from past lives, the better. The most major denominator for success, however, is how much one wants to truly do this, an objective proven by the constant work put into this task.

Presently, many things are done quickly, and everyone expects quick results, but communication with the Gods done on a very serious level is something the practitioner can attain with training and persistence. Due to the very important nature of this practice, one is deceiving themselves if they think this is very easy.

On the other hand, one is also being deceived if they are told that this is "impossible" or far off. Zeus's power and that of the Demons can even be felt by those who are without or people who have never meditated, under the correct circumstances.

There are also many levels and layers to attaining communication. One must never get discouraged, but keep trying and advancing spiritually to finally attain this understanding. In the process of this development, one not only grows spiritually but also gains the interest of the Gods themselves. The Gods do enjoy and take pride when we try to develop spiritually and reach them.

The primary obstacle that most people seem to experience is not so much that one cannot communicate with the Gods, but rather, the willingness to follow what the Gods are requiring of someone or indicating one must do.

In certain cases where one's mind is adjusted to a situation where one is used to certain things, such as routines, a way of living life, or stuck in the rut of perpetual ignorance, communication can be made very difficult. Ignorance can be a very important factor in blocking certain influences out of ourselves.

Meditation works to change this over time and step by step.

One's "mind" can also act as a block for most communication. For this reason, the Gods oftentimes send messages in omens or through other means of divination. Still, even if the message is received, one might not interpret this clearly, since one's mind is not open to interpretation.

While the Gods know the best ways to communicate with someone or anyone, the core of the issue here has to do with the soul, it's hygiene, and the cleanliness of the mind itself. By mind, we define here also the mental construct, the mental restraints, the things one does or does not want to accept, everything that makes up the individual's "mind."

Without a mind and heart set to the direction of the Gods, or without much willingness, one will have a lot of obstacles in understanding the will of the Gods or walking on the path of the purer light.

By direction of the heart, we mean alignment of one's emotions and inner drives, i.e., if you constantly do the things that would oppose this undertaking, then you will divide yourself from it.

An example here would be feelings that one is arrogantly believing one has the right to attain this based on impatience, arrogance, intense fear, or a feeling that one cannot communicate at all [depressive feelings]. Either of these, on either side, can cause considerable problems in communication with the Gods.

By direction of the mind, we mean the mental programmings, such as doubts or fears, that might keep one back. An example here would be a stuck belief in one's mind that the Gods do "not exist" or that "you know best" or other delusional fallacies such as that you are already ultimately wise in yourself and whatever other nonsense.

These fallacies are of stupid levels that will strongly disallow the ability to communicate with the Gods. Beliefs like this can act as limiting factors in communication.

In either of these categories, it sounds easy, and one might arrogantly believe that they have "escaped" simply because they attained communication by coincidence or some correct communications, but the above is way harder than it looks on the surface. It is doable, but the above merely is circumvented only by serious advancement of the Soul, i.e., the mind and the heart included within the soul.

The above is fixed and regulated by mostly being a balanced being and soul. The above is easier said than done and certainly far more complex than the few words related above will explain. Specifically, this has to do also with the balance and cleanliness of the soul itself.

An unstudied or arrogant mind, or a mind that does not try to evolve itself, cannot properly decipher the messages of the Gods. It does not matter what certain people might believe. If anything was caught, it will be fragmented, incomplete, and not lead to proper understanding.

The path to learning, understanding, deciphering, and above all, the wisdom to be a real partaker in such communication instead of a deluded person, is a long path. Regardless, it's the most rewarding of all paths, as the Gods can help someone advance as a being and transform them.

Before any actual examples of true, sound, and healthy astral communication, the above issues have to be set in order. To set the above issues in order, your instructions are on the Temple of Zeus website, with all the tools given there.

Unless the above is applied with loyalty and adhered to seriously, then one will still receive communications, but jumbling, confusion, and other similar forces will take the wheel far more often than one being an able captain, capable of navigating the sea of knowledge to reach proper communication.

To the very trained mind, the natural, astral, or even enemy interference will fall secondary or of no influence, and one will be able to communicate anyway. Regardless, because of the deceptive nature of the dimension we are currently in, one must always take very serious consideration to filter out what one believes is communication in order to receive proper guidance.

For those who are receiving this, then you must further this and not let this go. In other words, one must try to keep this communication going. One way is prayer.

Additionally, workings to specifically unfold this ability can help. But only within the context of a balanced and regular meditation schedule, but also inner temperance that guides someone to true understanding away from imbalances and illnesses of the behavior and the soul.

As communication implies, we have not only verbal communication, but oftentimes it will be omens, thoughts, or other guidance one will receive, oftentimes given in ways that will propel you to advance rather than to stumble upon a given answer from which you have gained nothing.

One very important thing to understand is that since not everyone is the same being, or on the same level, the Gods will likewise adjust this with your Guardian Daemon and Daemons so that you receive communications on the level that you can understand.

If one cannot understand something, then one must persist and stay with the Daemons until it is finally grasped.

If you fail at this, be honest, and try again.

In general, it is better to avoid the situation where one has not understood the whole idea and to not arrogantly think that one has understood everything at once. Either of these states can be detrimental to one's growth in Daemonic Communication.

The Gods can also send Demons to instruct and guide you by invisible means, so that you are guided to information. One major example is on the forums, or an answer. That counts as valid communication as any, and verbal, auditory, or visual communication is not the sole deciding factor of the value of communicating. One's inquiry has been answered in the above very obvious case.

As a conclusive note, the most difficult wall anyone who truly seeks communication with the Gods must skip is also a wall that many do not understand, and that is the wall of one's own individual self. A major obstacle in communication can be one's own need to deceive oneself or one's own incapacity to accept something, for example.

One just needs to go online to see what many claim is "Angels, Gods, Higher Beings" talking to them, just to read a heap of garbage and nothing else. One can avoid this and really move towards them by applying what is said through this post. No serious Zevist must spend time trying to decipher or waste their life on this garbage. Anyone who also habitually does that is generally there only to waste your time. That will teach you nothing.

Lastly, the higher the degree of self-honesty and closeness to the level of "Sat", or True Consciousness, the more one will receive from this and understand the will and messages of the Gods. This takes time and evolution of the soul to achieve, but it's very much doable and within the grasp of anyone who focuses on meditation.

It also has to be stated that "in potential", all human beings, due to the nature of the soul, could be partakers in this. Yet, this will depend on whether one works on their mind and soul or not.

The Al-Jilwah

[The Revelation of Melek Taus \[Shaitan\]](#)

About the Al-Jilwah – A book given to Sheikh Adi, a Yezidi spiritual master in the 12th century.

In this book, our God, known to the Yezidis as Malek Taus, or "Leader of the World", relays important spiritual truths and teachings to Sheikh Adi.

Sheikh Adi recognized that the figure named "Shaitan" or "the Devil" in Islamic tradition was, in reality, none other than the Head God of the Ancients. He followed Him ardently, as did the Yezidi sect of the Middle East.

This devotion earned the Yezidis the scorn of radical Islamists. To this day, the Yezidis are a persecuted sect within Islam, as they venerate the being known in the Bible as Lucifer, who is, in fact, the Original Head God.

In guiding his sect, Sheikh Adi channeled messages from the Gods in order to protect his people from Islamic persecution.

Chapter I

I was, am now, and shall have no end. I exercise dominion over all creatures and over the affairs of all who are under the protection of my image. I am ever present to help all who trust in me and call upon me in time of need. There is no place in the universe that knows not my presence. I participate in all the affairs, which those who are without call evil because their nature is not such as they approve. Every age has its own manager, who directs affairs according to my decrees. This office is changeable from generation to generation, that the ruler of this world and his chiefs may discharge the duties of their respective offices everyone in his own turn. I allow everyone to follow the dictates of his own nature, but he that opposes me will regret it sorely.

No god has a right to interfere in my affairs, and I have made it an imperative rule that everyone shall refrain from worshipping all gods. All of the books of those who are without are altered by them; and they have declined from them, although they were written by the prophets and the apostles. That there are interpolations is seen in the fact that each sect endeavors to prove that the others are wrong and to destroy their books.

To me truth and falsehood are known. When temptation comes, I give my covenant to him that trusts in me. Moreover, I give council to the skilled directors, for I have appointed them for periods that are known to me. I remember necessary affairs and execute them in due time. I teach and guide those who follow my instruction. If anyone obey me and conform to my commandments, he shall have joy, delight, and comfort.

Chapter II

I requite the descendants of Adam, and reward them with various rewards that I alone know. Moreover, power and dominion over all that is on earth, both that which is above and that which is beneath, are in my hands. I do not allow friendly association with other people, nor do I deprive them that are my own and that obey me of anything that is good for them. I place my affairs in the hands of those whom I have tried and who are in accord with my desires. I appear in diverse manners to those who are faithful and under my command.

I give and take away; I enrich and impoverish; I cause both happiness and misery. I do all this in keeping with the characteristics of each epoch. And none has a right to interfere with my management of affairs. Those who oppose me I afflict with disease; but my own shall not die like the sons of Adam that are without. None shall live in this world longer than the time set by me; and if I so desire, I send a person a second or third time into this world or into some other by the transmigration of souls.

Chapter III

I lead to the straight path without a revealed book; I direct aright my beloved and chosen ones by unseen means. All my teachings are easily applicable to all times and all conditions. I punish in another world all who do contrary to my will.

Now the sons of Adam do not know the state of things that is to come. For this reason, they fall into many errors. The beasts of the earth, the birds of heaven and the fish of the sea are all under the control of my hands. All treasures and hidden things are known to me; and as I desire, I take them from one and bestow them upon another.

I reveal my wonders to those who seek them, and in due time my miracles to those who receive them from me. But those who are without are my adversaries, hence they oppose me. Nor do they know that such a course is against their own interests, for might, wealth and riches are in my hands, and I bestow them upon every worthy descendant of Adam. Thus the government of the worlds, the transition of generations, and the changes of their directors are determined by me from the beginning.

Chapter IV

I will not give my rights to other gods. I have allowed the creation of four substances, four times and four corners; because they are necessary things for creatures.

The books of Jews, Christians and Muslims, as of those who are without, accept in a sense, i.e., so far as they agree with and conform to my statutes. Whatsoever is contrary to these, they have altered; do not accept it. Three things are against me and I hate three things. But those who keep my secrets shall receive the fulfillment of my promises. Those who suffer for my sake I will surely reward in one of the worlds.

It is my desire that all my followers unite in a bond of unity, lest those who are without prevail against them. Now, then, all ye who have followed my commandments and my teachings, reject all the teachings and sayings of such as are without.

I have not taught these teachings, nor do they proceed from me. Do not mention my name nor my attributes, lest ye regret it; for ye do not know what those who are without may do.

Chapter V

O ye that have believed in me, honor my symbol and my image, for they remind you of me. Observe my laws and statutes. Obey my servants and listen to whatever they may dictate to you of the hidden things. Receive that, that is dictated, and do not carry it before those who are without, Jews, Christians, Muslims and others; for they know not the nature of my teaching. Do not give them your books, lest they alter them without your knowledge. Learn by heart the greater part of them, lest they be altered.

Necromancy & Zevist Afterlife - Explained by High Priest Hooded Cobra

Necromancy is the art of communicating with people or beings who have passed away. Popularly, necromancy has been described as communication with the "dead" spirits, but in many cases, little explanation is given regarding where these so-called "dead" spirits reside, how they exist, or how they operate.

The word "Necromancy" is derived from the Ancient Greek Nekromanteia, which, in turn, is formed from two words: Nekro, meaning "dead" or "departed," and Manteia, meaning "seer-ing" or the practice of "seers" involving the dead.

The negative associations with necromancy are largely the result of a limited understanding on the part of aspiring "necromancers" and occultists. Having worked with many VIP souls of the Gods, as well as regular deceased individuals, and having studied these practices with care and diligence for nearly a decade, I have come to know this art in depth.

This section will further explore both the broader concept of necromancy and the necromantic arts, while also elaborating on the afterlife. Information about the "dead" cannot be fully understood without considering matters of the soul and spirit.

If there is one art that has been heavily misunderstood, it is necromancy. Even the very name "necromancy" sounds, rightfully so, rather ominous and obscure.

False depictions in thriller movies have played a major role in spreading misconceptions about necromancy. Many believe that one must visit graveyards or use symbols of death, such as skulls and bones, to communicate with spirits. However, such imagery is merely theatrical and does not reflect the true practice of necromancy.

One thing that is accurate from these portrayals is that necromancy involves communicating with the dead. It can be used for divination [contacting spirits for predictive purposes] or for simple communication, allowing one to interact with spirits.

Due to the nature of the universe and the rules governing the dead, calling upon spirits should always be approached with respect. Disturbing deceased individuals without cause is unethical. Additionally, those who engage in necromantic practices without proper understanding or reverence of the art will not achieve meaningful results.

Necromancy can be used to communicate with departed spirits and gain knowledge that they possessed during their lifetime. It also has other applications in spiritual work.

To fully grasp this topic, it is important to understand that, in most cases, we are referring to human beings who have passed away. Among the different levels of human beings, most people occupy the lowest levels of spiritual advancement.

As a result, when these individuals die, their souls may be unconscious, trapped in astral locations (such as haunted houses), or, more often than not, reincarnated by default.

Most people who become interested in necromancy are those who have a sensitivity to others' energies. The passing of a relative or loved one can often trigger experiences that make a person question the condition of the departed. Many people, even those who don't subscribe to any belief in an afterlife, can have puzzling experiences with the "dead" when confronted with death.

Souls that are stuck on the lower astral plane and unable to reincarnate are referred to as "earthbound." Earthbound souls may haunt places, linger around residences, or even become attached to specific objects. This state does not last indefinitely, but it can endure for a considerable amount of time. These souls may remain here either willingly or unwillingly. Cases of family members who wished to say something before moving on, victims of sudden death, those who experienced serious injustice, or victims of unsolved crimes seeking justice can all fall into this category.

However, this is a simplified explanation. The concept of "earthbound" souls deserves a more in-depth analysis, which will be explored in another article.

Strong souls, particularly those aligned with Zeus, do not suffer this fate. Most people are also helped en masse by the Gods, who generally reincarnate the least advanced souls quickly so as not to delay them. The average soul requires many lifetimes to reach a proper level of spiritual development.

The soul and spirit of a deceased Zevist are escorted to places of protection, safeguarded by the Gods. We Zevists belong to an elite category of souls who have chosen a path of spiritual priority, and are thus treated with greater care. One is safe in the astral realm when they dedicate their soul to the Gods.

For a Zevist, varying levels of reincarnation are possible, depending on their level of spiritual advancement, so that they may continue progressing toward what is known as the Magnum Opus. One's advancement on this path also greatly influences their experience of the afterlife.

It should be understood that the journey toward the Magnum Opus brings spiritual gifts even before the attainment of physical immortality. For this reason, the few who follow spiritual practices are truly alive in a higher sense.

These individuals may indeed possess numerous powers and abilities like the Daemons: beings who, though not physically present, influence the material world. In the Ancient Greek tradition, such highly advanced individuals were considered Demigods or Daemons.

Such cases are exceedingly rare. One notable example is Asclepius, who, though born a mortal man, attained the Magnum Opus.

Because these historical cases are so rare, the misuse or desecration of these terms by deluded individuals should be regarded not only as foolishness but as blasphemy.

Those who promote falsehoods do eventually face consequences. Contrary to popular belief, these misguided practices not only harm the soul but also draw negative attention from higher entities, such as the Daemons.

Individuals who are truly advanced are not only protected by the Gods, but they also exist on levels beyond ordinary understanding, details which are not appropriate to discuss in an introductory article. While they may still undergo reincarnation, the conditions under which they do so differ entirely from those of regular human beings.

In Zevism, people are encouraged to spiritually advance not only to improve their mortal lives and their so-called "afterlife," but to eventually attain what is known as Freedom of Spirit. It should be clear that most people are not truly "free."

Ancient philosophers and advanced yogis in India have long understood that the soul requires considerable power to achieve freedom. Freedom of the soul is not an automatic condition; it must be earned through meditation and spiritual practice. The difference between an advanced individual and a non-advanced one is significant, and often incomprehensible to those who have not yet engaged deeply in their own spiritual development.

In the ancient world, the necromantic arts were governed by the Gods. Specifically, Pluto (Hades) and Anubis preside over the necromantic arts, the communication with the dead, and the guidance and protection of departed souls. They care for the deceased with love and consideration, while also delivering divine judgment upon souls.

There can be no true necromancy without at least a considerably advanced level of development on the part of the individual meditator. Most so-called "psychics" who perform "invocations" during séances and similar practices often lead clients into delusion or prey upon them by offering false information. This art is not simple; it requires not only innate talent but also deep inner knowledge. Such knowledge is cultivated through meditation and the meditative arts.

Regarding ghosts and other similar entities, these also exist in different levels. A skilled necromancer should be capable of dealing with all types of spirits. These range from simple ghosts, which may haunt places and merely exist in certain locations. These ghosts might be barely noticeable, but if too many are present, the atmosphere of a place can feel "off" or unsettling: haunting in nature.

People who are naturally sensitive to their spiritual environment will easily pick up on these energies. The ability to sense such presences is a prerequisite for advancement in necromancy.

Higher-level ghosts, such as poltergeists, or spirits of hateful people and strong entities can sometimes affect the material world: objects moving, strange noises, or unexplained events. The presence of such entities is rare, and if someone believes they are being harassed by them, the Gods can usually deal with these matters quite easily.

Generally, these entities linger in areas with strong residual electromagnetic forces: places commonly referred to as "haunted." Graveyards and remote locations in the wilderness are often among them. It is in these environments that people are more likely to experience ghostly phenomena or even catch glimpses of spirits.

The dead have always been held in sacred regard by the ancient religions. They have passed on from this world, along with the weight of their actions, both right and wrong. Through the process of reincarnation, individuals are given opportunities to return and further their development.

For this reason, an aspiring necromantic adept must understand that respect toward all beings, just as in life, is fundamental to the nature of necromantic practice. Some so-called grimoires or Left-Hand Path (LHP) books promote engaging with spirits from a distorted or disrespectful mindset.

There are also claims from hostile ideologies suggesting that ghosts must be coerced or forced into communication. In most cases, such methods would not even work, as the practitioner often lacks the necessary knowledge and spiritual authority to attempt such acts. It is no different from how the Daemons have been slandered through complete fabrications. The enemy shows their nature through this.

The best way to proceed, except in special cases such as hauntings, is always through the Gods, specifically Nephthys and Anubis. Pluto, Anubis, and Nephthys hold supreme authority over the dead and the departed.

To illustrate how a false mindset can lead to misfortune, there is a story of a Roman official who was wronged in Ancient Rome. This official, being an advanced soul, could not tolerate the injustice they experienced, and their dying wish was to become a haunt upon the one who wronged them. Long story short, the offender's life became a living nightmare.

Contrary to the belief that everything in the universe is a coincidence or that justice does not exist, all ancient civilizations firmly believed in the afterlife and in what it meant for the soul. A common misconception is the notion of "soul judgment" as something vague or symbolic.

One aspect of this esoteric concept relates to one's chakras, spiritual hygiene, soundness of mind, and how these influence us across reincarnations. As is evident from all ancient spiritual systems, immense time and energy were invested in understanding the mysteries of the afterlife. These teachings were best grasped by initiates of the mysteries.

Contrary to the enemy, who preaches that all souls will burn in hellfire for the most trivial offenses, the Gods treat most people with fairness and justice. There is no concept of "eternal hellfire" for the people of the Gods. However, there is a notion of permanent soul destruction, which can result from prolonged negligence of the soul.

Just as we are responsible for caring for our bodies during life, we are also responsible for the well-being of our souls. The Gods can help their dedicated students in this regard as well, while also providing abundant opportunities for growth and protection to their loved ones. Anubis, in particular, is known to escort the souls of family members or loved ones of Zevists, including, of course, pet animals and any souls one holds dear.

There is no concept of inescapable punishment in the Ancient Religions, but likewise, there is no notion that human beings should be tormented endlessly in hellfire simply for having adverse thoughts toward a corrupt system or belief structure.

As should be evident, the concept of eternal punishment is not a reflection of justice, but rather a reflection of a deeply sick and hateful mentality. In the Bible, if interpreted literally, every person is labeled a "sinner" doomed to burn in eternal fire. Needless to say, this is one of the gravest attacks against Ancient Spiritual culture, and it stands as the falsehood of falsehoods.

It is certainly not just to condemn people to eternal hellfire simply for thinking independently or having "sinful thoughts." Such actions are not reflective of a true God. This should be clear to any rational and thoughtful person. Yet the enemy's teachings are hoaxes and frauds that do not represent the Gods or anything genuinely spiritual. Instead, they represent only deception and control through fear.

Through these false doctrines, the natural fear of death has grown exponentially. Moreover, a widespread disbelief in the afterlife has led many people to live without spiritual direction, contributing to negative behaviors in life.

Zevism is about dispelling fear born of ignorance and replacing that ignorance with knowledge.

Let's now embark on a very beautiful topic in regard to Communication with the Gods, one of the most important topics in Zevism.

That topic is a highly besieged topic, with most sources coming from the works of the enemy, while real sources from real Initiated people to the Gods who have taken it seriously historically, are hidden or not expressed. Of course, the Gods, according to the enemy are "liars" and many other epithets of evil notions have been ascribed to them. It's well known that the enemy only attempted to slander the Gods and any of "their attempts" for any "Communication", were borne out of evil intents on the part of these Jewish "Sorcerers".

Long story short, 99% of the things one reads online on these topic, are pure lies that were generated out of these writings of slander and falsehood.

It's natural that when these evil people went to consult the Gods, sources of highest good, they were lied to, denied and trolled from embarking in these in anyway. Yet that much is not an accurate statement either; because these entities were never in any real "Communication" with the Gods at all. They just made up slanderous stories and wrote them to instate fear in the population, which was unknowing, but also to deter their own from even attempting Communication any way, because that would eventually lead them to the Truths that these beings decided to hide for their own particular vile interests.

All the enemy accounts on these topics are lies. They had ill intents and they followed programs of lies and deception, yet they also have the nerve to attempt to add insult to injury and slander upon the Gods for their own evil and defiled actions. For that reason, no account of the jews must ever be taken in consideration to any of this, anymore than a lying slanderer has issued any text about beings they have been sworn to hate.

One will never find the Truth about these subject, but only here. The people that love the Gods and have been loved by them, know them to be beings of Truth and Enlightenment. They can see through any human like an open book, in their entirety. The sacredness of these procedures has also been villified by the enemy, who wants the whole situation of this topic to be hidden behind walls of lies, deception and falsehood. This topic will bring these walls down, same as our truthful knowledge will bring down the walls of ignorance.

Over the years in Zevism I have noticed a lot of people tend to maintain a wrong mindset when it comes to matters such as Communication with the Gods and so on.

In this path, you are supposed to actively seek the Gods, try to understand them and do your best to develop abilities to advance yourself. Every Zevist is assigned a Guardian Daemon, who oversees their progress and is there to help you when you need it, in accordance to your issues and level of development at the time.

Delusion, not having advanced properly enough, or lack of understanding, or not having a proper Zevist mindset, can jeopardize this process and lead to numerous mistakes. One still should not be afraid or reluctant in contacting the Gods, but for actual success in this topic [success = growth, moving away from delusion], the Gods cannot be used as scapegoats for irrationality or falsehood in one's life.

When one consults the Gods, you learn over time to receive their messages correctly. Then, one must learn to take responsibility when this was not the case. Above all, Zevism and the ways of the Gods, on the higher levels, are understood as a default because one finally "Has become a Zevist", so consulting the Gods on every small topic is no longer necessary when you are advanced. When you begin, in order to verify their existence, you might want to do this very often and the Gods will be there to give you signs and so on. That is fine if you are a beginner. After a while, one understands that one can handle things on their own.

The Gods are not here to create for you a situation where you must rely on them about eating a sandwich or not, what color to paint your nails, or even other more nonsense I have heard over the years like one woman who "Was going shopping astral with Apollo and asking his opinion on clothing". These states described here do not represent the Gods and they are delusions borne out of one's own mind, which the mind can give credibility into to justify other weaknesses. It's your own mind that will be perverted first from these notions and YOU will be the person confusing YOURSELF if you do these things.

These states will also make one break trust with the Gods, because one is not really talking to them, but delusions they are creating, and eventually these will crack down on some important question, because the ability to truly communicate is not established or present. Deceived by the idea that one hears them on what color clothes to buy, they will also later on ask them on some important topic, and when all things will fall apart in their life, they will try to invalidate all their previous experiences.

There are dangers borne out of delusion that can arise out of this, and the Gods nor the ToZ are responsible for this. Many people do want a form of a video game situation, but this is life and not a video-game. The Gods are seriously interested in you, so they will help you find YOURSELF in most cases. They can do anything and they are extremely powerful. But the question here is to teach you how to find things yourself.

There is not a thing under the world that Thoth does not know. That much is True. But what about you? The whole process here is to make beings like the Gods, not people just dependent upon them. Their aim is to bring people up there, not to come down there solely to assist.

The enemy entities are out there doing "favours" and quick band fixes for people. The uninitiated can get anything and they "worship" these, because they have lost the meaning of life. The purpose of life is to expand past this and to see your own potential. It's not to be constantly a being in ignorance that relies due to weakness only to the Gods. The SELF must be discovered. The Gods help in that process.

Another thing it's best to avoid, is going to the Gods to make your own decisions, because they will not really do that. They will help you and inform you, and give you insight. But then your decisions are your own choices, whether you will take this or that path. If you want to talk to a girl or not, you should take this decision and mature up to it, there is no point to do a full blown Ritual and evoke all the powers just to go say "Hello" to somebody. If you engage in this process and you hear wrong, you will then blame the Gods (again, deflecting your own responsibility and lack of mature communication, to them).

A case where also mutual deception can take place, and a reason to avoid interactions with people that are not yet acclimated to the path, is that children gather together with the Ouija Board or something else, and they start asking questions. Another kid picks up the Pendulum (they practiced for a while of 3 days) and then they ask the numbers of the Lotto. Then they don't win the Lotto, and they are so confused, mad at one another and the Gods. Or another person who does not know the Gods, issues holier than thou statements, born only after their emotional need to prove themselves of not being at a level that they are yet. This creates mutual deception and can be catastrophic.

The same people also in this case are the people who want to "try for themselves" and will bring out most commonly the line about "No Mediators", because they essentially try to meditate for themselves and their other 14 year old friend; they cannot listen to wisdom as they perceive it's a negative thing, but they don't understand what kind of negativity they cause to themselves and others by these processes of actually "Mediating". There is nothing bad in that form of experimentation, but one must know what they are doing and not take these things too far.

You can definitely try to ride a car when you are 9 years old. To try to prove your parents wrong or something like that, or just for fun, or because you felt like it. You might also successfully bring it to the super market, once or twice even. But the chances are that this journey ends up with a crashed car. If you have another on the passenger seat, then you must consider their existence also. Communication with the Gods should be taken seriously, but experimented with regardless. But still it's a very serious topic.

For reasons such as the above, many of these methods in the ToZ were only taught in Ancient Schools to people well over their 30 years of age. There were strong reasons for this. At 30 you understand that if you give wrong advice, it can be bad for another. When you are 15, you care more for other emotional matters. Other topics were shared with people only after they were 45 plus years old; where the feelings of social responsibility are more important than other feelings. Of course, we do not put age limitations at this point, but that won't stop me from saying these facts to illustrate the reality of the situation.

To protect you from these situations described above, which are forms of self-delusion that will in the end violate your trust with the Gods, I have to clarify these topics and be honest. Yes, I know the stuff about "No mediators in Zevism". But, there won't be anyone else's responsibility if you think you went with Azazel on the mall to help you pick up clothes; in other words, the delusions you might create, will not be with me, since I make this post and thoroughly explain it all - they will be solely upon you. They won't even be on the Gods themselves. Oftentimes, people also might deflect their own personal problems or dilemmas towards the Gods, eventually receiving biased or wrong divination, only to blame them later for it.

Deflecting these is different from just asking them for guidance to solve your problems. Deflection means you throw the responsibility on them over what you try to do, instead of you taking this responsibility. In regard to the topic of "No Mediators", there is topic here explaining more about this:

<https://ancient-forums.com/index.php...iators-in-zevism-only-god-can-judge-me.38781/>

If you make up your own version of anything, and you just try to enforce the standard of your mere feelings into this, like most people do with "Allah" and other non-existing things, you will have to endure eventually the weight of delusion falling on you. That is a very unpleasant experience. Since there are many lies on these topics, it's my task to help rectify these. At the same time it's your job to evaluate your own path-walking, and apply the "No Mediators" rule in a sensible manner, ie, by learning from experience and knowing where you are at, at any given point.

My aim here is to make sure that you make the least amount of errors possible in this path, but learning = errors. We learn by errors, and errors are welcome. Therefore, to reduce the margin of these errors or potential catastrophe, I can only advise up to an extent. Then one must reason out on their own and yes, take accountability for their own reasoning.

Trying to use the Gods in a form of a parasitic relationship, or a relationship of mommy-baby type, is only going to work for very new initiates most of the time. When you are new, they will really take care of you until you become a grown up in the path (that is also related to your age). In the early aspects of your development, you are a baby and you are expected to behave as a baby; the Gods too understand it and they are trying to acclimate you with your new experience, of which nothing else has existed prior.

Outsiders simply have no idea of how it is to have truly existing Gods. They do not know how it is to receive signs, to receive answers, or to receive guidance and counsel actually from higher beings.

Building fundamental communication with the Gods is based upon trust and serious personality development on your behalf for the most part. The personality development is the most serious foundation, alongside your ability to awaken the astral body in order to finally communicate. It's a privilege to earn and it has nothing to do with just a notion of entitlement. It's about developing the personality and power necessary for this.

The ego requires rectification in order to embark in proper communication that has meaning, alternatively, it will always get in the way. Even with this, one can only do this very well when there is sound ethical construction in a mind. Ethical construction is given because the Ego balances out with the Higher Self via Ethics. Your higher self does not have always the longings and problems of the lesser ego. Because alternatively your requests and the things you ask for, will be more confused and cause confusion. The balance in these and you actually being disciplined and raising your level of understanding, are the key factors to consider in order to grow.

Communication with the Gods, unlike the enemy religions which is "Everything goes", is a high hierarchical structure. Despite of lines and Westernized "liberal" notions of "No Mediators", the reality of the Ancient World is that people knew where they were, and it was accepted that not everyone is on the same level. So they had a hierarchical system of approach, that had to do with interpretation of the messages of the Gods. Some messages are highly personal and it's up to you to figure them out, but others are strict and deal with society. Creating always your own version out of things is something that won't really serve in the longterm or for very serious topics of learning with the Gods.

When the Gods want to teach you about something, they don't just scrap on the surface of knowledge. If you ask the Gods how you can become rich, the Gods will put you on a path for you, based on your request. This path might involve learning, change of self, and self adaptation so you rise to that level. Love and other topics are similar. They can also do miracles, but the most important thing they do is they actually guide you and show you that you have powers to attain these purposes, in order so that you develop and find the God within. When there are obstacles that are beyond understanding or beyond ability to solve, they will lead you to understand how to solve them. Finally, the Gods can know what one can or cannot do, and they will help you understand the limitations that you have.

Lastly, if I recall correctly, the Ancient Philosopher Plutarch, writes very vividly a story where people convened with Azazel [Apollo] to inquire about the building of a temple dedicated to Him. Instead of him giving the ready plans and everything, his response was only two words: "Learn Geometry". This put the initiates to study further sacred geometry, and then the Gods showed people as they went. Eventually the temple was built, but the answer was only "Learn Geometry" because the Gods wanted the people to know and have this knowledge, not just give them everything on the platter. This is how human beings evolve.

The smaller Daemons can help with many personal matters and situations in one's life, also. That is not to make their importance lesser. But the Grand Gods are interested in teaching people the arts of existence. If a Grand God is asked a question, instead of just leading you to a quick patch up solution, they will give guidance so the knowledge of a subject is attained.

Thank you very much for this sermon!

Very true, many cases of people having no will to choose and consistently follow a path, just relying on some external judgement. Hopefully, trying times will school outsiders and those without on how reality works.

You are on a win-streak spree with these posts, one banger after another.

Thank you for this post. So far on my journey I have focused mostly on myself but never really focused to also try and establish a proper connection with Gods.

I never thought of a idea, or it never crossed my mind until you brought it now, that Gods teach about everything one wants to know and at some point in this path I will need their guidance. But I always respected the fact that they are not here to solve all my problems and give me all I want and that is why I never really talked to them. Maybe it was a mistake not to talk to them. I will have to approach things differently now.

Thanks for talking about this.

Thank you for this sermon, HP, is gold.
Sometimes people go too far in their delusional beliefs. They end up not doubting themselves, as if communicating with the Gods is easy and success is always assured, because they are special in some way. The Gods become their mirror. But the higher one goes in delusion, the more painful the fall will be. So instead of doubting themselves and trying to understand why they believed certain things, they convince themselves that Gods do not exist.

They just made up slanderous stories and wrote them to instate fear in the population, which was unknowing, but also to deter their own from even attempting Communication any way, because that would eventually lead them to the Truths that these beings decided to hide for their own particular vile interests.

All the enemy accounts on these topics are lies. They had ill intents and they followed programs of lies and deception, yet they also have the nerve to attempt to add insult to injury and slander upon the Gods for their own evil and defiled actions. For that reason, no account of the jews must ever be taken in consideration to any of this, anymore than a lying slanderer has issued any text about beings they have been sworn to hate.

One will never find the Truth about these subject, but only here. The people that love the Gods and have been loved by them, know them to be beings of Truth and Enlightenment. They can see through any human like an open book, in their entirety. The sacredness of these procedures has also been villified by the enemy, who wants the whole situation of this topic to be hidden behind walls of lies, deception and falsehood. This topic will bring these walls down, same as our truthful knowledge will bring down the walls of ignorance.

Over the years in Spiritual Satanism I have noticed a lot of people tend to maintain a wrong mindset when it comes to matters such as Communication with the Gods and so on. In this path, you are supposed to actively seek the Gods, try to understand them and do your best to develop abilities to advance yourself. Every Spiritual Satanist is assigned a Guardian Demon, who oversees their progress and is there to help you when you need it, in accordance to your issues and level of development at the time.

Delusion, not having advanced properly enough, or lack of understanding, or not having a proper Spiritual Satanist mindset, can jeopardize this process and lead to numerous mistakes. One still should not be afraid or reluctant in contacting the Gods, but for actual success in this topic [success = growth, moving away from delusion], the Gods cannot be used as scapegoats for irrationality or falsehood in one's life.

When one consults the Gods, you learn over time to receive their messages correctly. Then, one must learn to take responsibility when this was not the case. Above all, Spiritual Satanism and the ways of the Gods, on the higher levels, are understood as a default because one finally "Has become a Spiritual Satanist", so consulting the Gods on every small topic is no longer necessary when you are advanced. When you begin, in order to verify their existence, you might want to do this very often and the Gods will be there to give you signs and so on. That is fine if you are a beginner. After a while, one understands that one can handle things on their own.

The Gods are not here to create for you a situation where you must rely on them about eating a sandwich or not, what color to paint your nails, or even other more nonsense I have heard over the years like one woman who "Was going shopping astral with Azazel and asking his opinion on clothing". These states described here do not represent the Gods and they are delusions borne out of one's own mind, which the mind can give credibility into to justify other weaknesses. It's your own mind that will be perverted first from these notions and YOU will be the person confusing YOURSELF if you do these things.

These states will also make one break trust with the Gods, because one is not really talking to them, but delusions they are creating, and eventually these will crack down on some important question, because the ability to truly communicate is not established or present. Deceived by the idea that one hears them on what color clothes to buy, they will also later on ask them on some important topic, and when all things will fall apart in their life, they will try to invalidate all their previous experiences.

There are dangers borne out of delusion that can arise out of this, and the Gods nor the JoS are responsible for this. Many people do want a form of a video game situation, but this is life and not a video-game. The Gods are seriously interested in you, so they will help you find YOURSELF in most cases. They can do anything and they are extremely powerful. But the question here is to teach you how to find things yourself.

There is not a thing under the world that Thoth does not know. That much is True. But what about you? The whole process here is to make beings like the Gods, not people just dependent upon them. Their aim is to bring people up there, not to come down there solely to assist.

The enemy entities are out there doing "favours" and quick band fixes for people. The uninitiated can get anything and they "worship" these, because they have lost the meaning of life. The purpose of life is to expand past this and to see your own potential. It's not to be constantly a being in ignorance that relies due to weakness only to the Gods. The SELF must be discovered. The Gods help in that process.

Another thing it's best to avoid, is going to the Gods to make your own decisions, because they will not really do that. They will help you and inform you, and give you insight. But then your decisions are your own choices, whether you will take this or that path. If you want to talk to a girl or not, you should take this decision and mature up to it, there is no point to do a full blown Ritual and evoke all the powers just to go say "Hello" to somebody. If you engage in this process and you hear wrong, you will then blame the Gods (again, deflecting your own responsibility and lack of mature communication, to them).

A case where also mutual deception can take place, and a reason to avoid interactions with people that are not yet acclimated to the path, is that children gather together with the Ouija Board or something else, and they start asking questions. Another kid picks up the Pendulum (they practiced for a while of 3 days) and then they ask the numbers of the Lotto. Then they don't win the Lotto, and they are so confused, mad at one another and the Gods. Or another person who does not know the Gods, issues holier than thou statements, born only after their emotional need to prove themselves of not being at a level that they are yet. This creates mutual deception and can be catastrophic.

The same people also in this case are the people who want to "try for themselves" and will bring out most commonly the line about "No Mediators", because they essentially try to meditate for themselves and their other 14 year old friend; they cannot listen to wisdom as they perceive it's a negative thing, but they don't understand what kind of negativity they cause to themselves and others by these processes of actually "Mediating". There is nothing bad in that form of experimentation, but one must know what they are doing and not take these things too far.

You can definitely try to ride a car when you are 9 years old. To try to prove your parents wrong or something like that, or just for fun, or because you felt like it. You might also successfully bring it to the super market, once or twice even. But the chances are that this journey ends up with a crashed car. If you have another on the passenger seat, then you must consider their existence also. Communication with the Gods should be taken seriously, but experimented with regardless. But still it's a very serious topic.

For reasons such as the above, many of these methods in the JoS were only taught in Ancient Schools to people well over their 30 years of age. There were strong reasons for this. At 30 you understand that if you give wrong advice, it can be bad for another. When you are 15, you care more for other emotional matters. Other topics were shared with people only after they were 45 plus years old; where the feelings of social responsibility are more important than other feelings. Of course, we do not put age limitations at this point, but that won't stop me from saying these facts to illustrate the reality of the situation.

To protect you from these situations described above, which are forms of self-delusion that will in the end violate your trust with the Gods, I have to clarify these topics and be honest. Yes, I know the stuff about "No mediators in Spiritual Satanism". But, there won't be anyone else's responsibility if you think you went with Azazel on the mall to help you pick up clothes; in other words, the delusions you might create, will not be with me, since I make this post and thoroughly explain it all - they will be solely upon you. They won't even be on the Gods themselves. Oftentimes, people also might deflect their own personal problems or dilemmas towards the Gods, eventually receiving biased or wrong divination, only to blame them later for it.

Deflecting these is different from just asking them for guidance to solve your problems. Deflection means you throw the responsibility on them over what you try to do, instead of you taking this responsibility. In regard to the topic of "No Mediators", there is topic here explaining more about this:

"There Are No Mediators In Zevism" $\neq$ "Only God Can Judge Me"

The no mediators line is that we will not interfere in decrees or opinions of Zeus, that is between Zeus and individuals, for example. No mediators simply means that, we do not "mediate". Mediate is something very specific. Help, assist, inform, share knowledge, fact check, or whatever, is not...
ancient-forums.com

If you makeup your own version of anything, and you just try to enforce the standard of your mere feelings into this, like most people do with "Allah" and other non-existing things, you will have to endure eventually the weight of delusion falling on you. That is a very unpleasant experience. Since there are many lies on these topics, it's my task to help rectify these. At the same time it's your job to evaluate your own path-walking, and apply the "No Mediators" rule in a sensible manner, ie, by learning from experience and knowing where you are at, at any given point.

My aim here is to make sure that you make the least amount of errors possible in this path, but learning = errors. We learn by errors, and errors are welcome. Therefore, to reduce the margin of these errors or potential catastrophe, I can only advise up to an extent. Then one must reason out on their own and yes, take accountability for their own reasoning.

Trying to use the Gods in a form of a parasitic relationship, or a relationship of mommy-baby type, is only going to work for very new initiates most of the time. When you are new, they will really take care of you until you become a grown up in the path (that is also related to your age). In the early aspects of your development, you are a baby and you are expected to behave as a baby; the Gods too understand it and they are trying to acclimate you with your new experience, of which nothing else has existed prior.

Outsiders simply have no idea of how it is to have truly existing Gods. They do not know how it is to receive signs, to receive answers, or to receive guidance and counsel actually from higher beings.

Building fundamental communication with the Gods is based upon trust and serious personality development on your behalf for the most part. The personality development is the most serious foundation, alongside your ability to awaken the astral body in order to finally communicate. It's a privilege to earn and it has nothing to do with just a notion of entitlement. It's about developing the personality and power necessary for this.

The ego requires rectification in order to embark in proper communication that has meaning, alternatively, it will always get in the way. Even with this, one can only do this very well when there is sound ethical construction in a mind. Ethical construction is given because the Ego balances out with the Higher Self via Ethics. Your higher self does not have always the longings and problems of the lesser ego. Because alternatively your requests and the things you ask for, will be more confused and cause confusion. The balance in these and you actually being disciplined and raising your level of understanding, are the key factors to consider in order to grow.

Communication with the Gods, unlike the enemy religions which is "Everything goes", is a high hierarchical structure. Despite of lines and Westernized "liberal" notions of "No Mediators", the reality of the Ancient World is that people knew where they were, and it was accepted that not everyone is on the same level. So they had a hierarchical system of approach, that had to do with interpretation of the messages of the Gods. Some messages are highly personal and it's up to you to figure them out, but others are strict and deal with society. Creating always your own version out of things is something that won't really serve in the longterm or for very serious topics of learning with the Gods.

When the Gods want to teach you about something, they don't just scrap on the surface of knowledge. If you ask the Gods how you can become rich, the Gods will put you on a path for you, based on your request. This path might involve learning, change of self, and self adaptation so you rise to that level. Love and other topics are similar. They can also do miracles, but the most important thing they do is they actually guide you and show you that you have powers to attain these purposes, in order so that you develop and find the God within. When there are obstacles that are beyond understanding or beyond ability to solve, they will lead you to understand how to solve them. Finally, the Gods can know what one can or cannot do, and they will help you understand the limitations that you have.

Lastly, if I recall correctly, the Ancient Philosopher Plutarch, writes very vividly a story where people convened with Azazel [Apollo] to inquire about the building of a temple dedicated to Him. Instead of him giving the ready plans and everything, his response was only two words: "Learn Geometry". This put the initiates to study further sacred geometry, and then the Gods showed people as they went. Eventually the temple was built, but the answer was only "Learn Geometry" because the Gods wanted the people to know and have this knowledge, not just give them everything on the platter. This is how human beings evolve.

The smaller Demons can help with many personal matters and situations in one's life, also. That is not to make their importance lesser. But the Grand Gods are interested in teaching people the arts of existence. If a Grand God is asked a question, instead of just leading you to a quick patch up solution, they will give guidance so the knowledge of a subject is attained.

People need to understand that HPHC is not being rude when he corrects and guides us on these matters, nor are the Gods "withholding" things, or any of these reasons of which people may become upset.

The elements of Saturn and hierarchy that both HPHC and the Gods are instructing us here are GUIDES FOR SUCCESS! Saturn helps us sense true boundaries, not fake boundaries. The nature of Saturn itself may seem harsh, but it is only showing us what already existed and what we needed to know. It doesn't just make up problems that were not based on your current patterns of behavior.

Therefore, when we learn these lessons, we are not actually losing anything. This is important to understand as we generally cling to delusions because they make us feel better in some way. This can make us resistant to what someone else tells us, because we don't want to lose a sense of comfort from what we believed to be true.

In this example of Azazel, someone may feel like knowledge is being withheld from them and become resentful, based on the misunderstanding that they were actually more worthy or capable than they were treated. In this case, they don't want to deal with the uncomfortable truth, so they may resist.

However, Azazel or other God is treating them in the best way possible and showing them what they need to know. You can test this yourself and try to teach a preschool child Trigonometry before they have learned even the first 10 numbers. This is not about "withholding" something from them, but because anything more simply wouldn't stick, and this would cause even more problems.

Likewise, in this case of someone wanting to believe that they were clothing shopping with Azazel, this could be out of desire for closeness or attention. They may resist giving up what they felt because they subconsciously don't want to feel less close to Azazel, or less competent with their spiritual abilities, and so on.

However, all aspects of our being are improved by our advancement, including the social element. If you want a closer relationship to a God, this is improved by advancing, not by delaying this through a belief in false notions. A soul with more advanced Venusian energies and skills is going to be able to receive a much better social interaction with Azazel than whatever existed beforehand.

Everything the Gods do is to help us, including when they let us feel the stress of our mistakes. If they protected you from everything, then you would not learn as fast, and this would not help you grow. It doesn't mean you have been abandoned or anything like that.

The Gods help us achieve our desires and goals. Trust in the process they are using, because they are helping us build this into a more fulfilling outcome, as opposed to whatever we thought the outcome should have been. Don't conflate this with a lack of fulfillment, which can fuel anger or other negativity.

Let's now embark on a very beautiful topic in regard to Communication with the Gods, one of the most important topics in Spiritual Satanism.

That topic is a highly besieged topic, with most sources coming from the works of the enemy, while real sources from real Initiated people to the Gods who have taken it seriously historically, are hidden or not expressed. Of course, the Gods, according to the enemy are "liars" and many other epithets of evil notions have been ascribed to them. It's well known that the enemy only attempted to slander the Gods and any of "their attempts" for any "Communication", were borne out of evil intents on the part of these Jewish "Sorcerers".

Long story short, 99% of the things one reads online on these topic, are pure lies that were generated out of these writings of slander and falsehood.

It's natural that when these evil people went to consult the Gods, sources of highest good, they were lied to, denied and trolled from embarking in these in anyway. Yet that much is not an accurate statement either; because these entities were never in any real "Communication" with the Gods at all. They just made up slanderous stories and wrote them to instate fear in the population, which was unknowing, but also to deter their own from even attempting Communication any way, because that would eventually lead them to the Truths that these beings decided to hide for their own particular vile interests.

All the enemy accounts on these topics are lies. They had ill intents and they followed programs of lies and deception, yet they also have the nerve to attempt to add insult to injury and slander upon the Gods for their own evil and defiled actions. For that reason, no account of the jews must ever be taken in consideration to any of this, anymore than a lying slanderer has issued any text about beings they have been sworn to hate.

One will never find the Truth about these subject, but only here. The people that love the Gods and have been loved by them, know them to be beings of Truth and Enlightenment. They can see through any human like an open book, in their entirety. The sacredness of these procedures has also been villified by the enemy, who wants the whole situation of this topic to be hidden behind walls of lies, deception and falsehood. One thing to be careful about is that the shortcomings you have suffered in your life can cause hang-ups and delusions when communicating with the gods, as in the case you describe of going to the marketplace with Azazel.

And in the case of an over analytical mind with an overactive right side it can hinder communication and the ability to understand the messages you receive from the gods, which is the biggest problem I have always had.

Thank you for elaborating on this. I guess I didn't have to right context with that one question I answered. I wish you the best.

But Sigourney I read your comment and it was very good. Let me know if anything needed more clarification in that topic. Thank you.

Amazing HP sermon,

I remember some years ago when I was doing the devotion and I was new to spiritual Satanism I was in some occult groups on social media and I was seeing all these stupid lying Satanists and lying witches who were fooling people by constantly saying they were talking to Satan and Demons without really knowing who Satan and the Gods are beyond the hostile propaganda. Some of them were posting hostile Cabalistic techniques from Aleyster Crowley to Qliphot and in the end ended up with paranoia and serious psychological problems. Most of them went back to Christianity and now blame Satan and the Demons for the wrong choices they made. A scenario that I keep seeing repeated. I thought at the time that I could bring them to Jos and have them see the truth, so I tried to post some things about spiritual Satanism. The result was that I was attacked by these people who were running the groups thinking that only they have the right to talk about Satanism and Demons and that what Jos is saying is cheap Nazi propaganda and has nothing to do with Satanism. Since then I realized that there is no point in dealing with them it is a waste of time, so I left all the groups and closed all the accounts I had and then put all the energy into Jos and the translations I started. I thank the gods that I found Jos or I would have ended up on the wrong paths and a sure disaster

By studying you will find that Satan is the true God of humanity and the pre-Christian Gentile Gods/Demons are our trusted guides. We realize our origin from our God Satan. We transform our souls through the daily practice of power meditation. Through this practice we ascend to higher levels as Gods and manifest our true potential 100% correct and a great read. It is hard to put into words exactly how the process began, but I originally asked Azazel for help learning how to make and hold extreme wealth. Of course, they didn't just dump money on me, which I would have blown or lost due to inexperience. Instead it began the path to learn how to make money, learn how to hold it, learn how to protect it. It involved me becoming a better man, improving my personality and controlling my emotions. It almost seemed like it was touching everything BUT the money. Sure I think it would have been a lot easier to just give me a million right off the bat, but what would I have learned? Now I am 100x more prepared for everything else, but it started because I asked for help and just tried to follow and change according to the guidance I received.

Thoth's gematria value is a beautiful number. 98,009 the position of which is also prime 9,149. For some aspects of numerology the zeros dont count and 989 is palindromic, another reason why its such a lovely number. Is Thoth the green orb?

Thank you so much for taking time to write this. I really mean it. You describe the exact inner journey I have been feeling intuitively these past year, about how the gods actually talk to me, how they really assist and guide me etc.

I dont want to sound corny, but I'm very grateful for your overall emotional balance, maturity and wisdom. I owe much.

Thank you, HPHC. The virtues section is very powerful.. strong and emotional.

I had the wrong understanding of what entropy actually is, and mistakenly looked at it in a positive light.. This clears up many ongoing misunderstandings i've had.

When I dedicated, I made it a mission to redefine or correct alot of terms, even if I thought I understood. Being young, or living within misguided communities can cause ideological misconceptions or assumptions that need evaluation, even with seemingly obvious basic ideas and words..

We also need to allow ourselves to receive guidance. Many people these days rush around all the time, or distract their minds with tv and social media. Instead, sit and think for a while, after asking for guidance or doing a God Ritual.

Hatha yoga helps with this. Holding an asana for a prolonged period of time when one would rather "do something more fun", then another asana, continuing, will train the mind and ego to be under one's conscious control. Practice Void meditation while doing hatha, to increase the benefits.

This method helps expand the consciousness during yoga, which will help with receiving guidance from the Gods:

I appreciate your elaboration! Excellent analogies! I see, the Gods show us patience at that young-and-dumb and new stage where we need to develop ourselves while through this process we are taught the value of patience and that things don't happen overnight, that it takes time and effort.

Being this way in life solely (constantly seeking immediate answers and fearing the long journey of exploring the basis of these answers) might bring us a tiny bit of strength overtime yet with a very poor foundation. The Gods show us a bottom-up approach to everything and teach us to learn about the root-sources and origins of things.

I am totally enamored with this beautiful concept! The kundalini rests at the base chakra in the beginning (the physical in a sense) and we rise it via spiritual ascension.

I have one question about that... how does it rise exactly? Is it after we open our chakras while building a strong aura/energy field? (cleaning, AOP, energy meditation, chakra-spin, ve-va-vo, etc?) I know that physical yoga helps in this process yet I'm uncertain about how this whole process works in its entirety. Does it rise by itself indirectly or do we also need to directly rise it ourselves in any way?

Thank you for your time brother. 😊

Thank you, High Priest. This was a beautiful read.

I've been thinking about this recently, actually. I still struggle with communication with the Gods, although, I suspect with me only being over a year since my Dedication, it's to be expected. But regardless, I do sometimes receive messages from them, some of which catch me off-guard and surprise me. And sometimes, these responses are complete sentences and not just "yes" or "no" responses.

With that said, there have been some contradictions in messages I hear, which lead me to question if all of them come from the Gods, or whether I'm being deceived at times by the enemy, or perhaps they are just from spirits or other beings which happen to be near me at the time. And of course, there are times where I'm sure it's not a message at all, but just my own imagination. As HPS Lydia has just said, I think I am too distracted (I should also practice void meditation more). When I do receive messages, it is usually extremely subtle, and I feel like I really have to be paying attention, or I'll miss it. It's almost like a line of internal monologue, only it isn't mine, if I could try to describe it. I've only heard clear voices when I'm near the boundary of sleep.

Anyway, there is one interesting experience on this topic I thought I'd share. I think the Gods are able to see what we think and imagine, even if we struggle to hear them. When I was new, I was thinking of this fantasy of myself being some great leader, who somehow managed to restore peace and order in the world without firing a single shot, or something stupid like that. But suddenly, I heard a voice say "stop thinking you're so great". That kinda woke me up a bit, lol. Again, I have no 100% way of telling if that was one of the Gods, but it would not surprise me if it was.

I think it is much more interesting to understand how the human being himself is structured, both physically and mentally, and how these internal program algorithms work. I believe there are many answers to be found that way - in knowing how man is organized and how his life system works. And how inexpressibly connected man is to nature. I don't believe too much in some voices of gods, some mythical aliens who speak in an incomprehensible language if they want to say something, although I sometimes hear my own inner voice, which told me to do a particular thing, and it's been almost two years now, and I'm convinced by experience that I chose the right direction. But I must say that the world of ether or fantasy or whatever they call it is very interesting, it is interesting how images are born. The sound of the wind, for example, always speaks, the flowing brook also sings its song. All this speaks about eternal movement and you don't have to be a spiritual Satanist to understand these things. Open any anatomical atlas and you will see many revelations. While I don't deny the existence of gods and demons, one thing I do understand is labor. I've already been fatally mistaken so many times in trusting people, so I'd rather labor at my craft and trust myself more. When I read artists, I see that they often understand more than individual Satanists. Pardon the Eng...)

I should clarify that in Greek gematria the value for Omega is 800. On English it would be 15 with a digital sum of 6. When finding the digital sum of a number you can just eliminate the nines and zeros since it won't change the value.

In regard to Entropy, you can read about it as it's a law of physics that acts on the physical universe as well.

Yes, the Gods always hear you, even if you do not. From their dimension everything appears openly, so even the most silent prayer or unclear messages from you, are clear to them. It's on our part as receivers that we need to work. It's all very normal. The Gods hear you most definitely.

While reading this sermon I remembered something. When I was a young child, I read a storybook about a magic Dragon, who would help the children who wrote to him. The kids in the story wrote a note for the Dragon and let it be carried away by the wind and a day later he would show up at their house.

I wanted to try this and wrote a letter for the Dragon to come. I made sure to follow every step the kids did in the story. But no Dragon showed up, of course.

I thought of every possible reason why it did not work. I must've wrote the letter incorrectly, the wind blew the wrong way, the Dragon didn't like me... whatever my kid-mind did come up with.

Looking back that was silly of me, but I just was not old enough yet to grasp that was a case of way too much fantasy on my part.

Somehow I view my past self of a few years ago in a similar vein..

If you are a person with a vivid fantasy, it is easy to live too much in your head and mistake this inner world that you made up with the reality that's in front of you. Viewing other people and situations through "warped glasses" and creating an image that leads to false conclusions and actions.

Learning about Spiritual Satanism and training my mind has really been a freeing experience in this regard. It made me appreciate living in the current moment and paying attention so much more.

A good sensitive topic handled in details Commander.

As personal experience with my Guardian, in all these years, I learnt that a relationship with a God or a Goddess is not "set". You have to build it up, you can't pretend to be best pal with someone while you never ask about them, or you just take things for granted.

Our Gods are kind most of the times, but if you don't put efforts in actually knowing them personally, and paint a unique bond, they are not going to knock your door bringing biscuits and flowers.

More specifically, if you refuse to meditate even 1 minute per day on his/her sigil than you better sort out your priorities.

As last note it's important to remind that sometimes you will not receive help from them, not because they are arrogant, but because they know us and if what we are doing or the mistakes we made do not represent the true nature of ourselves, your Guardian isn't going to fuel your delusional dreams.

There's a reason why a specific God/Goddess is our Guardian, and it doesn't concern the tale of the almighty chosen one. But it's for our nature, which have a deeper meaning than what we could actually understand in our human state. And exactly for this one MUST learn.

True reality is much bigger and deeper than our eyes and mind can perceive.

Communication with the Gods is always something I have struggled with, sometimes I can just have a thought and receive an instant answer from the Gods and for a few weeks at a time they will answer every time I pray and then for months at a time I don't get the same sort of clear definitive responses, the issue is I never know why sometimes the Gods answer me so clearly and sometimes they do not.

It always makes me think I am asking them too many questions and so they stop responding to encourage me to be more independent but it feels almost random sometimes and it's strange to me how it happens in phases of every time I pray I get a clear answer for like a month and then for a phase everytime I pray nothing and it doesn't seem to correlate to my current energy levels or stress and it always leaves me very confused and questioning what I have done wrong, I understand the Gods can and will choose not to answer every prayer but it's so strange to me how it almost feels like I get 1 month of every question no matter how small answered even when I don't directly pray and I am just thinking to myself and then months of silence, I don't want to come across as ungrateful as I am thankful for everytime the Gods have helped me, but I just don't understand why it's like this for me, it feels like I'm doing something wrong but I just don't know what.

For reference I cannot hear the Gods, they communicate with me by sending me into a trance or pseudo astral projection and then interacting with my astral body and pulsing energy to answer my questions e.g. one pulse for yes two for no and so I kind of need to know what to ask them in order to get an answer so I can't ask why this happens as a yes/no answer won't explain anything and I can't figure out a reason for it.

It's always been quite distressing for me as it always makes me think I have done something to offend them as I do suffer from intrusive thoughts although I have a much better handle and that now but then one day I feel their answers clear as day but then a few weeks later nothing for months at a time and I am always left thinking I have made a misstep or tried their patience in some way.

When I have interacted with the Gods they have always been very kind and understanding and have always answered no to my intrusive thoughts upsetting them and so I just dont understand why I cant communicate consistently with them.

Blessed are we who partake in Satan's mysteries.

When I have interacted with the Gods they have always been very kind and understanding and have always answered no to my intrusive thoughts upsetting them and so I just dont understand why I cant communicate consistently with them.

I think I can understand where you might be coming from. In my experience, they sometimes are there immediately and frequently while other times they give us answers in the form of day-to-day experiences and realizations over long periods.

I think it could be that since they know us and our world far deeper than we ourselves do they tend to act only when they know that it will have a lasting impact on our future. Be sure to look into some astrology and see if there are some things coming up that you need to focus on.

I had questions such as 'how do I become better' and the answers I get manifest in unexpected ways to me here and through learning more deeply about where I sit in my life and where I can go rather than what I can't do. Can't is not a word to them. They understand doubts, yet they are good teachers in not acting on these and allowing for us to find answers; to make a few mistakes and grow from them. It may seem cold but I think that it shows their confidence in us.

If for instance something absolutely devastating happens to you emotionally/mentally and you're at a sort-of breaking point (needing to do something about it which likely will not be positive because your rational mind is clouded with emotion), then they tend to step in right away and fill you with their love and/or help you to see a way out.

I look to past experiences like these as a sign that they do care (always at the ready for us) and they don't judge us or avoid us for making mistakes. They instead allow us as much freedom as possible while being there when they need to be... that's truly a good parent!

It's challenging but I think you should try to take this as a sign that they have great confidence in you doing what you are doing. Even in this simple act of absence alone they could be trying to teach you a lesson about something that you might not yet grasp until further experiences or events have been reached. A little self-evaluation and metacognition with consistent action can go a long way too during this process.

Anyway, that's how my experience has been. I don't know if it helps in your particular situation but I do hope that you reach that next step you're seeking in the best way possible. Also, always keep moving forward (less planing and more action). It used to be half-and-half for me when I've realized that most of your time should be on action while planning occurs maybe 10% to 15% of the process (at times one day of the week 80% and the rest minimal can help too).

That's been helping me out a bit anyway. 😊

Procrastination and doubt... those two things are no good for us on this path and in myself I have to work on these daily TBH. 😊

Thank you, Lord Cobra for your intricate sermon! I never blame the Gods, but I only asked them to help me by blessing my rituals or guiding me, or taking away negativity after I shed it from cleansing. I make sure to do rituals that aren't just benefiting only myself every day, as an offering to them, to help the earth and existence. my problem is that I don't want to bother them with my issues and human bs...

I used to with my tarot cards, but I think my own delusions got in the way from ever receiving a valid message. I've just figured that as long as I meditate and disseminate, they will guide me. If I don't get it in this life, I'll get it in the next life. if I get it a little bit here and there, it's better than nothing...

I will try to seek them out, which would actually help me with my delusions. I know they are not petty beings, of course, but I don't want to bother them. I appreciate that you give us the coordinates! I want to know the gods notI want to know the Gods not just believe in the gods, and so I can't just assume they will appear to me when I'm ready if I don't seek them out. This has been a misunderstanding/delusion of mine for a very long time. 💎 🎯🙏🔥👊Hail Satan!

Let's now embark on a very beautiful topic in regard to Communication with the Gods, one of the most important topics in Spiritual Satanism.

That topic is a highly besieged topic, with most sources coming from the works of the enemy, while real sources from real Initiated people to the Gods who have taken it seriously historically, are hidden or not expressed. Of course, the Gods, according to the enemy are "liars" and many other epithets of evil notions have been ascribed to them. It's well known that the enemy only attempted to slander the Gods and any of "their attempts" for any "Communication", were borne out of evil intents on the part of these Jewish "Sorcerers".

Long story short, 99% of the things one reads online on these topic, are pure lies that were generated out of these writings of slander and falsehood.

It's natural that when these evil people went to consult the Gods, sources of highest good, they were lied to, denied and trolled from embarking in these in anyway. Yet that much is not an accurate statement either; because these entities were never in any real "Communication" with the Gods at all. They just made up slanderous stories and wrote them to instate fear in the population, which was unknowing, but also to deter their own from even attempting Communication any way, because that would eventually lead them to the Truths that these beings decided to hide for their own particular vile interests.

All the enemy accounts on these topics are lies. They had ill intents and they followed programs of lies and deception, yet they also have the nerve to attempt to add insult to injury and slander upon the Gods for their own evil and defiled actions. For that reason, no account of the jews must ever be taken in consideration to any of this, anymore than a lying slanderer has issued any text about beings they have been sworn to hate.

One will never find the Truth about these subject, but only here. The people that love the Gods and have been loved by them, know them to be beings of Truth and Enlightenment. They can see through any human like an open book, in their entirety. The sacredness of these procedures has also been villified by the enemy, who wants the whole situation of this topic to be hidden behind walls of lies, deception and falsehood. This topic will bring these walls down, same as our truthful knowledge will bring down the walls of ignorance.

Over the years in Spiritual Satanism I have noticed a lot of people tend to maintain a wrong mindset when it comes to matters such as Communication with the Gods and so on. In this path, you are supposed to actively seek the Gods, try to understand them and do your best to develop abilities to advance yourself. Every Spiritual Satanist is assigned a Guardian Demon, who oversees their progress and is there to help you when you need it, in accordance to your issues and level of development at the time.

Delusion, not having advanced properly enough, or lack of understanding, or not having a proper Spiritual Satanist mindset, can jeopardize this process and lead to numerous mistakes. One still should not be afraid or reluctant in contacting the Gods, but for actual success in this topic [success = growth, moving away from delusion], the Gods cannot be used as scapegoats for irrationality or falsehood in one's life.

When one consults the Gods, you learn over time to receive their messages correctly. Then, one must learn to take responsibility when this was not the case. Above all, Spiritual Satanism and the ways of the Gods, on the higher levels, are understood as a default because one finally "Has become a Spiritual Satanist", so consulting the Gods on every small topic is no longer necessary when you are advanced. When you begin, in order to verify their existence, you might want to do this very often and the Gods will be there to give you signs and so on. That is fine if you are a beginner. After a while, one understands that one can handle things on their own.

The Gods are not here to create for you a situation where you must rely on them about eating a sandwich or not, what color to paint your nails, or even other more nonsense I have heard over the years like one woman who "Was going shopping astral with Azazel and asking his opinion on clothing". These states described here do not represent the Gods and they are delusions borne out of one's own mind, which the mind can give credibility into to justify other weaknesses. It's your own mind that will be perverted first from these notions and YOU will be the person confusing YOURSELF if you do these things.

These states will also make one break trust with the Gods, because one is not really talking to them, but delusions they are creating, and eventually these will crack down on some important question, because the ability to truly communicate is not established or present. Deceived by the idea that one hears them on what color clothes to buy, they will also later on ask them on some important topic, and when all things will fall apart in their life, they will try to invalidate all their previous experiences.

There are dangers borne out of delusion that can arise out of this, and the Gods nor the JoS are responsible for this. Many people do want a form of a video game situation, but this is life and not a video-game. The Gods are seriously interested in you, so they will help you find YOURSELF in most cases. They can do anything and they are extremely powerful. But the question here is to teach you how to find things yourself.

There is not a thing under the world that Thoth does not know. That much is True. But what about you? The whole process here is to make beings like the Gods, not people just dependent upon them. Their aim is to bring people up there, not to come down there solely to assist.

The enemy entities are out there doing "favors" and quick band fixes for people. The uninitiated can get anything and they "worship" these, because they have lost the meaning of life. The purpose of life is to expand past this and to see your own potential. It's not to be constantly a being in ignorance that relies due to weakness only to the Gods. The SELF must be discovered. The Gods help in that process.

Another thing it's best to avoid, is going to the Gods to make your own decisions, because they will not really do that. They will help you and inform you, and give you insight. But then your decisions are your own choices, whether you will take this or that path. If you want to talk to a girl or not, you should take this decision and mature up to it, there is no point to do a full blown Ritual and evoke all the powers just to go say "Hello" to somebody. If you engage in this process and you hear wrong, you will then blame the Gods (again, deflecting your own responsibility and lack of mature communication, to them).

A case where also mutual deception can take place, and a reason to avoid interactions with people that are not yet acclimated to the path, is that children gather together with the Ouija Board or something else, and they start asking questions. Another kid picks up the Pendulum (they practiced for a while of 3 days) and then they ask the numbers of the Lotto. Then they don't win the Lotto, and they are so confused, mad at one another and the Gods. Or another person who does not know the Gods, issues holier than thou statements, born only after their emotional need to prove themselves of not being at a level that they are yet. This creates mutual deception and can be catastrophic.

The same people also in this case are the people who want to "try for themselves" and will bring out most commonly the line about "No Mediators", because they essentially try to meditate for themselves and their other 14 year old friend; they cannot listen to wisdom as they perceive it's a negative thing, but they don't understand what kind of negativity they cause to themselves and others by these processes of actually "Mediating". There is nothing bad in that form of experimentation, but one must know what they are doing and not take these things too far.

You can definitely try to ride a car when you are 9 years old. To try to prove your parents wrong or something like that, or just for fun, or because you felt like it. You might also successfully bring it to the super market, once or twice even. But the chances are that this journey ends up with a crashed car. If you have another on the passenger seat, then you must consider their existence also. Communication with the Gods should be taken seriously, but experimented with regardless. But still it's a very serious topic.

For reasons such as the above, many of these methods in the JoS were only taught in Ancient Schools to people well over their 30 years of age. There were strong reasons for this. At 30 you understand that if you give wrong advice, it can be bad for another. When you are 15, you care more for other emotional matters. Other topics were shared with people only after they were 45 plus years old; where the feelings of social responsibility are more important than other feelings. Of course, we do not put age limitations at this point, but that won't stop me from saying these facts to illustrate the reality of the situation.

To protect you from these situations described above, which are forms of self-delusion that will in the end violate your trust with the Gods, I have to clarify these topics and be honest. Yes, I know the stuff about "No mediators in Spiritual Satanism". But, there won't be anyone else's responsibility if you think you went with Azazel on the mall to help you pick up clothes; in other words, the delusions you might create, will not be with me, since I make this post and thoroughly explain it all - they will be solely upon you. They won't even be on the Gods themselves. Oftentimes, people also might deflect their own personal problems or dilemmas towards the Gods, eventually receiving biased or wrong divination, only to blame them later for it.

Deflecting these is different from just asking them for guidance to solve your problems. Deflection means you throw the responsibility on them over what you try to do, instead of you taking this responsibility. In regard to the topic of "No Mediators", there is topic here explaining more about this:

"There Are No Mediators In Zevism" $\neq$ "Only God Can Judge Me"

The no mediators line is that we will not interfere in decrees or opinions of Zeus, that is between Zeus and individuals, for example. No mediators simply means that, we do not "mediate". Mediate is something very specific. Help, assist, inform, share knowledge, fact check, or whatever, is not...
ancient-forums.com

If you makeup your own version of anything, and you just try to enforce the standard of your mere feelings into this, like most people do with "Allah" and other non-existing things, you will have to endure eventually the weight of delusion falling on you. That is a very unpleasant experience. Since there are many lies on these topics, it's my task to help rectify these. At the same time it's your job to evaluate your own path-walking, and apply the "No Mediators" rule in a sensible manner, ie, by learning from experience and knowing where you are at, at any given point.

My aim here is to make sure that you make the least amount of errors possible in this path, but learning = errors. We learn by errors, and errors are welcome. Therefore, to reduce the margin of these errors or potential catastrophe, I can only advise up to an extent. Then one must reason out on their own and yes, take accountability for their own reasoning.

Trying to use the Gods in a form of a parasitic relationship, or a relationship of mommy-baby type, is only going to work for very new initiates most of the time. When you are new, they will really take care of you until you become a grown up in the path (that is also related to your age). In the early aspects of your development, you are a baby and you are expected to behave as a baby; the Gods too understand it and they are trying to acclimate you with your new experience, of which nothing else has existed prior.

Outsiders simply have no idea of how it is to have truly existing Gods. They do not know how it is to receive signs, to receive answers, or to receive guidance and counsel actually from higher beings.

Building fundamental communication with the Gods is based upon trust and serious personality development on your behalf for the most part. The personality development is the most serious foundation, alongside your ability to awaken the astral body in order to finally communicate. It's a privilege to earn and it has nothing to do with just a notion of entitlement. It's about developing the personality and power necessary for this.

The ego requires rectification in order to embark in proper communication that has meaning, alternatively, it will always get in the way. Even with this, one can only do this very well when there is sound ethical construction in a mind. Ethical construction is given because the Ego balances out with the Higher Self via Ethics. Your higher self does not have always the longings and problems of the lesser ego. Because alternatively your requests and the things you ask for, will be more confused and cause confusion. The balance in these and you actually being disciplined and raising your level of understanding, are the key factors to consider in order to grow.

Communication with the Gods, unlike the enemy religions which is "Everything goes", is a high hierarchical structure. Despite of lines and Westernized "liberal" notions of "No Meditators", the reality of the Ancient World is that people knew where they were, and it was accepted that not everyone is on the same level. So they had a hierarchical system of approach, that had to do with interpretation of the messages of the Gods. Some messages are highly personal and it's up to you to figure them out, but others are strict and deal with society. Creating always your own version out of things is something that won't really serve in the longterm or for very serious topics of learning with the Gods.

When the Gods want to teach you about something, they don't just scrap on the surface of knowledge. If you ask the Gods how you can become rich, the Gods will put you on a path for you, based on your request. This path might involve learning, change of self, and self adaptation so you rise to that level. Love and other topics are similar. They can also do miracles, but the most important thing they do is they actually guide you and show you that you have powers to attain these purposes, in order so that you develop and find the God within. When there are obstacles that are beyond understanding or beyond ability to solve, they will lead you to understand how to solve them. Finally, the Gods can know what one can or cannot do, and they will help you understand the limitations that you have.

Lastly, if I recall correctly, the Ancient Philosopher Plutarch, writes very vividly a story where people convened with Azazel [Apollo] to inquire about the building of a temple dedicated to Him. Instead of him giving the ready plans and everything, his response was only two words: "Learn Geometry". This put the initiates to study further sacred geometry, and then the Gods showed people as they went. Eventually the temple was built, but the answer was only "Learn Geometry" because the Gods wanted the people to know and have this knowledge, not just give them everything on the platter. This is how human beings evolve.

The smaller Demons can help with many personal matters and situations in one's life, also. That is not to make their importance lesser. But the Grand Gods are interested in teaching people the arts of existence. If a Grand God is asked a question, instead of just leading you to a quick patch up solution, they will give guidance so the knowledge of a subject is attained.

Yeah my communication with the Gods have been steadily getting more frequent but still i only do this maybe once to twice a month I'm still under the pride of i can do it on my own but i do begrudgingly accept help now I'm not one of them yet and so i can't do it all on my own is a fact that im slowly beginning to accept and the more i do the more powerful i have become and easier my life has gotten.

In regards to communications its usually done in feelings i feel their energy pulling me to go do something or look something or look something up to go learn about a solution and i know when their direct gaze is on me or when they have decided to make their presence obvious to me rarely is there a direct verbal communication but when there is it is short direct and sweet i do not have long winded conversations about nonsense i have conversations about life choices and ask them what i should about certain things like investments or employment or love.

Love for me i believe is now solved issue but im still clawing my way up financially although i do much better then most my age.

To pay a moment of tribute to my many communications with the Gods over the years, I really have to acknowledge the sheer degree of their care and compassion throughout. For better and for worse, I approached my spiritual progression relentlessly from the word go. I was determined to rise, no matter the struggles. The pace I set was blistering, because my soul called so strongly towards the Path. It goes without saying, I have benefited greatly from the hard work I've put into myself, though such a relentless mindset can come with its pitfalls. The inevitable manifestation of struggles, obstacles, patterns came as hard and fast as my progression did. I'm the first to admit, that I was reckless, and perhaps a little foolish, not pacing myself better. Perhaps I could have had an easier time, but what's done is done.

I'm very much an Air dominant personality. My mind is quick, able to think tactically and dozens of moves ahead far past the norm. As much as I can pay compliment to that, I also do not tend to have much grounding, as is the norm for us Airy folk. Being able to think so far ahead is a double-edged sword, as although you can plan for most any inevitability, you can also think in outlandish, far out terms and fret over things that only have a 0.1% chance of occurring.

The truth is, I've asked the Gods many questions over the years. A good number of them were me making sure my situation, in moments of strife, wasn't due for a doom beyond my ability to handle. It came close, more than once. As it so happened however, my questions did not reach deaf ears. As the years went on, and I learned to listen, and ask the right questions, I began to plug the leaking holes on my ship. Inch by inch, everything that busted open wide during my reckless pursuit was slowly being repaired. The Gods were the first to understand, and thus allay, my fears. They knew where my strengths were, but also my weaknesses. They communicated these things to me, as it would aid in my progression to not simply endlessly waste time with workings over things that were now assured to not happen. Many cases required a mere 40 day working, on which I communicated and received the all clear.

Were it not for the fact I simply reached out to the Gods, to this very day, I would have to waste valuable mental energy planning for crisis situations which may never have come. The beautiful thing about all this is, one could argue these weren't things I needed. Perhaps I would have had the strength to keep endlessly suffering through things, but they chose compassion. They saw what I'd been through, and chose to spare me further woe. Truth be told, that's more time and effort than literal family members have put to me.

My penultimate point is this. Talk to the Gods. Yes, even if some small part of you feels it is stupid. Consider for a moment what the Gods see, moment to moment, day to day, in this world gone wrong. Then think of yourself, as you're at least trying to rise from the muck, improve yourself and fight for a better tomorrow. There is no "pestering" them. They aren't going to sigh and roll their eyes. They are cosmic beings, who in the time it takes your mortal heart to beat once, have already seen a thousand things infinitely more pitiful than you in a moment of weakness, choosing to ask for help. At least in this, you're showing you love and respect them, and remember them, contrast to the billions who have forgotten them or worse, scorn them.

It's better to feel a little foolish for a moment, then waste time on indecision and anxiety. Take it from me, here, slightly further up the road, and choose communion over silence. As noble as it is to live life strongly, the Gods, better than anyone, know if you're suffering or not. No matter how brave your face is, they know what's within.

I am totally guilty of a similar deception early in my path, jumping into source material I didn't grasp while giving my self spiritual CPR with the spiritual satanism.com site guidelines and rituals. The early 2000's era was my youth, and I can admit I found JOS ministries trying to find a cool sigil of Satan for my metal band promotion. In the way I chose to read and learn about what's today the purest Truth about direct communion with the old Gods, the path to power and control over your self and pure facts about Jews and Christians as abomination made flesh. Spiritual slavery became obvious and this bondage that held me was snapped. It's gonna come in its own time, and I think my point is that deception is real and it can be a learning experience.

100% correct and a great read. It is hard to put into words exactly how the process began, but I originally asked Azazel for help learning how to make and hold extreme wealth. Of course, they didn't just dump money on me, which I would have blown or lost due to inexperience. Instead it began the path to learn how to make money, learn how to hold it, learn how to protect it. It involved me becoming a better man, improving my personality and controlling my emotions. It almost seemed like it was touching everything BUT the money. Sure I think it would have been a lot easier to just give me a million right off the bat, but what would I have learned? Now I am 100x more prepared for everything else, but it started because I asked for help and just tried to follow and change according to the guidance I received.

My objection to you is this. For example, personally, at this point in time, I would prefer to get a decent amount of money just by a miracle and for free in order to make a rest, take a break and gain strength for further practice. Since I have been living without money for a long time, at someone else's expense and it is a heavy blow to the psyche. Because while a person will put everything in order naturally, he can simply destroy his health with bad nutrition, as a person's psyche is often "disturbed" by the lack of certain foods in his diet. I practiced yoga in a room where there is no heating and the temperature was +8 degrees and all this because of lack of material means. Therefore, I believe that some people need a miracle, they need money for nothing!!! And, of course, I know how I will spend my "million" that I will be "given". I will invest it all in my future development and hire a consultant for a few classes in my profession, to raise my skill level. There is a bit of a "joke" here, but there is also enough truth to it.

person's psyche is often "disturbed" by the lack of certain foods in his diet. I practiced yoga in a room where there is no heating and the temperature was +8 degrees and all this because of lack of material means. Therefore, I believe that some people need a miracle, they need money for nothing!!! And, of course, I know how I will spend my "million" that I will be "given". I will invest it all in my future development and hire a consultant for a few classes in my profession, to raise my skill level. There is a bit of a "joke" here, but there is also enough truth to it.

Consider carefully where a realistic avenue for money would appear in your life. From the sky? From your nation's treasury? Some random person out walking decides he will give you his last million in savings? Everything concerning money must be done ethically and positively, so that means working for it or running a legit business. No scams. Lotteries require extreme investment and advanced divination as well, so it's not feasible. Plus, you win once and now winning repeatedly will raise suspicion.

Just asking Satan to give you money "just because" so you can spend it outside of JoS and most likely not donate any portion of it, is pretty laughable.

One thing to be careful about is that the shortcomings you have suffered in your life can cause hang-ups and delusions when communicating with the gods, as in the case you describe of going to the marketplace with Azazel.

And in the case of an over analytical mind with an overactive right side it can hinder communication and the ability to understand the messages you receive from the gods, which is the biggest problem I have always had.

I concur having this problem as well. HP has done a magnificent post here, to inspire one.

This response is pretty predictable. Of course from the "sky", from my personal "sky" money will fall on me, because I work in this direction, but I also deserve help and a miracle. By the way, I suggest you to come to ukraine and start doing legal business here)

Let's now embark on a very beautiful topic in regard to Communication with the Gods, one of the most important topics in Spiritual Satanism.

That topic is a highly besieged topic, with most sources coming from the works of the enemy, while real sources from real Initiated people to the Gods who have taken it seriously historically, are hidden or not expressed. Of course, the Gods, according to the enemy are "liars" and many other epithets of evil notions have been ascribed to them. It's well known that the enemy only attempted to slander the Gods and any of "their attempts" for any "Communication", were borne out of evil intents on the part of these Jewish "Sorcerers".

Long story short, 99% of the things one reads online on these topic, are pure lies that were generated out of these writings of slander and falsehood.

It's natural that when these evil people went to consult the Gods, sources of highest good, they were lied to, denied and trolled from embarking in these in anyway. Yet that much is not an accurate statement either; because these entities were never in any real "Communication" with the Gods at all. They just made up slanderous stories and wrote them to instate fear in the population, which was unknowing, but also to deter their own from even attempting Communication any way, because that would eventually lead them to the Truths that these beings decided to hide for their own particular vile interests.

All the enemy accounts on these topics are lies. They had ill intents and they followed programs of lies and deception, yet they also have the nerve to attempt to add insult to injury and slander upon the Gods for their own evil and defiled actions. For that reason, no account of the jews must ever be taken in consideration to any of this, anymore than a lying slanderer has issued any text about beings they have been sworn to hate.

One will never find the Truth about these subject, but only here. The people that love the Gods and have been loved by them, know them to be beings of Truth and Enlightenment. They can see through any human like an open book, in their entirety. The sacredness of these procedures has also been villified by the enemy, who wants the whole situation of this topic to be hidden behind walls of lies, deception and falsehood. This topic will bring these walls down, same as our truthful knowledge will bring down the walls of ignorance.

Over the years in Spiritual Satanism I have noticed a lot of people tend to maintain a wrong mindset when it comes to matters such as Communication with the Gods and so on. In this path, you are supposed to actively seek the Gods, try to understand them and do your best to develop abilities to advance yourself. Every Spiritual Satanist is assigned a Guardian Demon, who oversees their progress and is there to help you when you need it, in accordance to your issues and level of development at the time.

Delusion, not having advanced properly enough, or lack of understanding, or not having a proper Spiritual Satanist mindset, can jeopardize this process and lead to numerous mistakes. One still should not be afraid or reluctant in contacting the Gods, but for actual success in this topic [success = growth, moving away from delusion], the Gods cannot be used as scapegoats for irrationality or falsehood in one's life.

When one consults the Gods, you learn over time to receive their messages correctly. Then, one must learn to take responsibility when this was not the case. Above all, Spiritual Satanism and the ways of the Gods, on the higher levels, are understood as a default because one finally "Has become a Spiritual Satanist", so consulting the Gods on every small topic is no longer necessary when you are advanced. When you begin, in order to verify their existence, you might want to do this very often and the Gods will be there to give you signs and so on. That is fine if you are a beginner. After a while, one understands that one can handle things on their own.

The Gods are not here to create for you a situation where you must rely on them about eating a sandwich or not, what color to paint your nails, or even other more nonsense I have heard over the years like one woman who "Was going shopping astral with Azazel and asking his opinion on clothing". These states described here do not represent the Gods and they are delusions borne out of one's own mind, which the mind can give credibility into to justify other weaknesses. It's your own mind that will be perverted first from these notions and YOU will be the person confusing YOURSELF if you do these things.

These states will also make one break trust with the Gods, because one is not really talking to them, but delusions they are creating, and eventually these will crack down on some important question, because the ability to truly communicate is not established or present. Deceived by the idea that one hears them on what color clothes to buy, they will also later on ask them on some important topic, and when all things will fall apart in their life, they will try to invalidate all their previous experiences.

There are dangers borne out of delusion that can arise out of this, and the Gods nor the JoS are responsible for this. Many people do want a form of a video game situation, but this is life and not a video-game. The Gods are seriously interested in you, so they will help you find YOURSELF in most cases. They can do anything and they are extremely powerful. But the question here is to teach you how to find things yourself.

There is not a thing under the world that Thoth does not know. That much is True. But what about you? The whole process here is to make beings like the Gods, not people just dependent upon them. Their aim is to bring people up there, not to come down there solely to assist.

The enemy entities are out there doing "favours" and quick band fixes for people. The uninitiated can get anything and they "worship" these, because they have lost the meaning of life. The purpose of life is to expand past this and to see your own potential. It's not to be constantly a being in ignorance that relies due to weakness only to the Gods. The SELF must be discovered. The Gods help in that process.

Another thing it's best to avoid, is going to the Gods to make your own decisions, because they will not really do that. They will help you and inform you, and give you insight. But then your decisions are your own choices, whether you will take this or that path. If you want to talk to a girl or not, you should take this decision and mature up to it, there is no point to do a full blown Ritual and evoke all the powers just to go say "Hello" to somebody. If you engage in this process and you hear wrong, you will then blame the Gods (again, deflecting your own responsibility and lack of mature communication, to them).

A case where also mutual deception can take place, and a reason to avoid interactions with people that are not yet acclimated to the path, is that children gather together with the Ouija Board or something else, and they start asking questions. Another kid picks up the Pendulum (they practiced for a while of 3 days) and then they ask the numbers of the Lotto. Then they don't win the Lotto, and they are so confused, mad at one another and the Gods. Or another person who does not know the Gods, issues holier than thou statements, born only after their emotional need to prove themselves of not being at a level that they are yet. This creates mutual deception and can be catastrophic.

The same people also in this case are the people who want to "try for themselves" and will bring out most commonly the line about "No Mediators", because they essentially try to meditate for themselves and their other 14 year old friend; they cannot listen to wisdom as they perceive it's a negative thing, but they don't understand what kind of negativity they cause to themselves and others by these processes of actually "Mediating". There is nothing bad in that form of experimentation, but one must know what they are doing and not take these things too far.

You can definitely try to ride a car when you are 9 years old. To try to prove your parents wrong or something like that, or just for fun, or because you felt like it. You might also successfully bring it to the super market, once or twice even. But the chances are that this journey ends up with a crashed car. If you have another on the passenger seat, then you must consider their existence also. Communication with the Gods should be taken seriously, but experimented with regardless. But still it's a very serious topic.

For reasons such as the above, many of these methods in the JoS were only taught in Ancient Schools to people well over their 30 years of age. There were strong reasons for this. At 30 you understand that if you give wrong advice, it can be bad for another. When you are 15, you care more for other emotional matters. Other topics were shared with people only after they were 45 plus years old; where the feelings of social responsibility are more important than other feelings. Of course, we do not put age limitations at this point, but that won't stop me from saying these facts to illustrate the reality of the situation.

To protect you from these situations described above, which are forms of self-delusion that will in the end violate your trust with the Gods, I have to clarify these topics and be honest. Yes, I know the stuff about "No mediators in Spiritual Satanism". But, there won't be anyone else's responsibility if you think you went with Azazel on the mall to help you pick up clothes; in other words, the delusions you might create, will not be with me, since I make this post and thoroughly explain it all - they will be solely upon you. They won't even be on the Gods themselves. Oftentimes, people also might deflect their own personal problems or dilemmas towards the Gods, eventually receiving biased or wrong divination, only to blame them later for it.

Deflecting these is different from just asking them for guidance to solve your problems. Deflection means you throw the responsibility on them over what you try to do, instead of you taking this responsibility. In regard to the topic of "No Mediators", there is topic here explaining more about this:

"There Are No Mediators In Zevism" $\neq$ "Only God Can Judge Me"

The no mediators line is that we will not interfere in decrees or opinions of Zeus, that is between Zeus and individuals, for example. No mediators simply means that, we do not "mediate". Mediate is something very specific. Help, assist, inform, share knowledge, fact check, or whatever, is not...
ancient-forums.com

If you makeup your own version of anything, and you just try to enforce the standard of your mere feelings into this, like most people do with "Allah" and other non-existing things, you will have to endure eventually the weight of delusion falling on you. That is a very unpleasant experience. Since there are many lies on these topics, it's my task to help rectify these. At the same time it's your job to evaluate your own path-walking, and apply the "No Mediators" rule in a sensible manner, ie, by learning from experience and knowing where you are at, at any given point.

My aim here is to make sure that you make the least amount of errors possible in this path, but learning = errors. We learn by errors, and errors are welcome. Therefore, to reduce the margin of these errors or potential catastrophe, I can only advise up to an extent. Then one must reason out on their own and yes, take accountability for their own reasoning.

Trying to use the Gods in a form of a parasitic relationship, or a relationship of mommy-baby type, is only going to work for very new initiates most of the time. When you are new, they will really take care of you until you become a grown up in the path (that is also related to your age). In the early aspects of your development, you are a baby and you are expected to behave as a baby; the Gods too understand it and they are trying to acclimate you with your new experience, of which nothing else has existed prior.

Outsiders simply have no idea of how it is to have truly existing Gods. They do not know how it is to receive signs, to receive answers, or to receive guidance and counsel actually from higher beings.

Building fundamental communication with the Gods is based upon trust and serious personality development on your behalf for the most part. The personality development is the most serious foundation, alongside your ability to awaken the astral body in order to finally communicate. It's a privilege to earn and it has nothing to do with just a notion of entitlement. It's about developing the personality and power necessary for this.

The ego requires rectification in order to embark in proper communication that has meaning, alternatively, it will always get in the way. Even with this, one can only do this very well when there is sound ethical construction in a mind. Ethical construction is given because the Ego balances out with the Higher Self via Ethics. Your higher self does not have always the longings and problems of the lesser ego. Because alternatively your requests and the things you ask for, will be more confused and cause confusion. The balance in these and you actually being disciplined and raising your level of understanding, are the key factors to consider in order to grow.

Communication with the Gods, unlike the enemy religions which is "Everything goes", is a high hierarchical structure. Despite of lines and Westernized "liberal" notions of "No Meditators", the reality of the Ancient World is that people knew where they were, and it was accepted that not everyone is on the same level. So they had a hierarchical system of approach, that had to do with interpretation of the messages of the Gods. Some messages are highly personal and it's up to you to figure them out, but others are strict and deal with society. Creating always your own version out of things is something that won't really serve in the longterm or for very serious topics of learning with the Gods.

When the Gods want to teach you about something, they don't just scrap on the surface of knowledge. If you ask the Gods how you can become rich, the Gods will put you on a path for you, based on your request. This path might involve learning, change of self, and self adaptation so you rise to that level. Love and other topics are similar. They can also do miracles, but the most important thing they do is they actually guide you and show you that you have powers to attain these purposes, in order so that you develop and find the God within. When there are obstacles that are beyond understanding or beyond ability to solve, they will lead you to understand how to solve them. Finally, the Gods can know what one can or cannot do, and they will help you understand the limitations that you have.

Lastly, if I recall correctly, the Ancient Philosopher Plutarch, writes very vividly a story where people convened with Azazel [Apollo] to inquire about the building of a temple dedicated to Him. Instead of him giving the ready plans and everything, his response was only two words: "Learn Geometry". This put the initiates to study further sacred geometry, and then the Gods showed people as they went. Eventually the temple was built, but the answer was only "Learn Geometry" because the Gods wanted the people to know and have this knowledge, not just give them everything on the platter. This is how human beings evolve.

The smaller Demons can help with many personal matters and situations in one's life, also. That is not to make their importance lesser. But the Grand Gods are interested in teaching people the arts of existence. If a Grand God is asked a question, instead of just leading you to a quick patch up solution, they will give guidance so the knowledge of a subject is attained.

I kept studying the Joy of Satan, and Azazel was mentioned in everything I like doing in real life. Everything I can consider myself, I find in Azazel. He has also guided me through difficult times, either through signs, coincidences, or giving me a gut feeling that I can feel is from him. I'm almost certain he's my GD, I'll have to meditate more on His sigil and do His ritual to be 100% certain.

They can also do miracles, but the most important thing they do is they actually guide you and show you that you have powers to attain these purposes, in order so that you develop and find the God within. When there are obstacles that are beyond understanding or beyond ability to solve, they will lead you to understand how to solve them. Finally, the Gods can know what one can or cannot do, and they will help you understand the limitations that you have.

Lastly, if I recall correctly, the Ancient Philosopher Plutarch, writes very vividly a story where people convened with Azazel [Apollo] to inquire about the building of a temple dedicated to Him. Instead of him giving the ready plans and everything, his response was only two words: "Learn Geometry". This put the initiates to study further sacred geometry, and then the Gods showed people as they went. Eventually the temple was built, but the answer was only "Learn Geometry" because the Gods wanted the people to know and have this knowledge, not just give them everything on the platter. This is how human beings evolve.

The smaller Daemons can help with many personal matters and situations in one's life, also. That is not to make their importance lesser. But the Grand Gods are interested in teaching people the arts of existence. If a Grand God is asked a question, instead of just leading you to a quick patch up solution, they will give guidance so the knowledge of a subject is attained.

It is important for any of our members to understand, the the enemy is the source of what we call fundamentally as "evil".

Evil, except of a natural situation of natural laws that are put there to cause opposition so that they are to be overcome. The situation of "evil" in nature is a wrong term we use. But what we refer to as "Evil" in nature is merely there to be overcome by evolving entities.

Certain entities that are stuck in this universe and cannot evolve, thrive on what we refer to as "Evil". This has become an objective reality for entities that are of a lesser level such as these of the enemy.

The enemy tries to push humanity downwards, and they try to prevent human advancement. Human advancement, especially of proper spirituality, would gradually lessen and lessen the "evil" in this world.

The enemy thrives on ignorance, and wants to procure it. They need it as a mosquito needs the blood of it's victims.

Evil, I define here as ignorance. Most "evil" things in this world are due to ignorance, or shrunk perception, or untruth. The closer one is with these, the further they become "evil" and negative towards themselves and others.

The Temple of Zeus is not against "evil", we recognize this as part of the natural order; but we are against ignorance.

That is our key difference. Instead of claiming idly that we "fight evil", we simply say we fight stupidity, ignorance, lack of knowledge: the sources of the symptom that we call "evil".

Lack of enlightenment, is the natural source of all that we call "evil", and also the necessary evil is because of this. We are slaves to circumstances that procure evil.

A very basic example here, is the example of a thief. A thief or a murderer has become that maybe because his civilization does not know how to create food. Most normal people, do crimes and things like this for reasons of necessity, but not all.

If then again, the crime happened only due to inner evil, jealousy, spite, or the need of revenge, greed, then still, stupidity and ignorance were high and not to the level to teach this person values and discipline. Nobody taught this person then how to use greed or the need of revenge for self development.

Then again, if the cause of wrong is even deeper, the solution is still more knowledge. Until the issue is solved.

The above is how "evil" in the broad sense is eliminated. For example, the "Evil" occurrence of a famine, is not solved by talking against the famine, but rather, having the KNOWLEDGE to prevent said famine with farming or science.

Abrahamic programs and those coming from the Jews, have procured and created endless evil in this world, as they preached against knowledge, understanding, learning and generally all that procures the beautiful and good in this world.

Then, because they thrive on the consequences of "evil", ie, the misery it brings, the problems of people, their reassured wounds that will remain forever until cured - they put up a fake sign that they "fight evil".

None of the sources of "Evil" were ever addressed. In fact, they protected, procured, and made sure these sources of evil reached the highest power in our world, leading society to ruins.

Most of the world who has adopted these systems and took these seriously, was left in ruins. Those who did not take them seriously, still exist and advance to this day.

In Arabia for example, the best places both spiritually and culturally do still remain those that have the least adoption of the enemy programs. The same is the case in Europe and of course, the United States.

This "evil" that they defined with a false terminology, as if the above crime was not enough, they defined it as exactly what CURES us from our inner evil, ie, enlightenment.

In essence, they took the source of all that would evolve us, and called it "evil". Then, people were programmed to massacre and attack the source of their own enlightenment, which is the Gods, their cultures, and everything positive.

Progressively, this mental virus actually succeeded, and we self destructed a great part of our own goodness, such as knowledge, scientific advances, social advances, or even certain civilizations went down completely by internal collapse.

The enemy bars and closes people from all pathways of development that would shrink "evil", while they deceitfully preach against it, therefore, making a world filled with evil, stupidity and misery.

If you outlaw meditation and enlightenment, it's a matter of time that the world will be consumed into a fatal downwards spiral into damnation. These are natural laws in play. The fact that the Egyptians, the Greeks, the Assyrians or the Aryans in India and so many others were so insistent on the Divine Rules, is because without them, our existence is moot.

Even if one seeks to profit from this act of removing these great Truths from humanity, this downwards spiral will eventually destroy everything in it's path, consuming them too. The enemy does not understand this, and it seems, they don't care either.

In complete contrast to the enemy, we do not preach "against evil". We talk about what it is realistically, it's necessity, it's sources, and how we can get better with it.

We talk about the upwards and eternal spiral of the Truth, the movement towards the Truth, and we allow and preach as virtues all of what will lead us to this great attainment of Satya, ie, Eternal Truth.

For this reason, our Ancestral religions always relate Eternal Truth with what we refer to as "Agatho", which for lack of a better word is the universal constant of the "Good". Not "Good" absolved from "Evil", but true goodness that is the result of actual enlightenment.

Our Gods are called the "Agathoi Daimones" or the "Teachers of the "Agatho", the beings of the justice of the universe.

Our True religion takes the soul away from this endless loop of ignorance. It's the breaking of the hopeless loop of the fall of the human soul. We move then upwards to the proper natural balance, onwards to the heaven of understanding of the Crown Chakra, away from ignorance. We leave it behind every single day, and then it leaves us too.

My experience during my days as Bible prophecy/whistleblower student pretty much is summed-up by what you describe.

The "fellow whistleblowers" around me would always talk smack about people who meditate, or practice yoga, claim that "they're causing America's downfall/Jehovah's judgement", and remember.....to the Judeo-Xian program, good is evil, evil is good.

They were seriously the dumbest and stupidest people anyone can imagine, who obssesss 24/7 about being warlords and criminals for yahwisheewashee/jehovah, and they pride themselves in having toxic, and hateful personalities and how America is doomed. The worst of the worst of them even stated that Xmas is evil, and shouldn't be celebrated because it doesn't align with communistic beliefs of the bible (anti-gift giving, anti-personal/luxury properties, anti-joy, ANTI-LIFE).

Over 95% of those "evil people" who meditate had/have less toxic personalities (let alone at all), eat/live healthy and social lives, lend their helping hands to people, and overall, wanna make the world a better place. These "evil hell-bound people" are literally the ones who have helped me out in life.

That was one of the defining "awakening" moments that made me seriously reflect and reevaluate the types of people I surround myself with, they weren't too far off from the Westboro Baptist Church, except with a bit of "patriotic/conspiracy whistleblower string".

Fighting for Constitutional rights.....yet at the same time, proclaiming that America will fall "anyway" because the jews say so in their rituals (Book of RevalIEtion), so basically fighting a battle you know you will lose. That, among many others, was the kind of stupidity, idiocy and nonsense that I was surrounded with.

I am curious about places in Arabia still practicing Satanism/Paganism, given to how militantly Islamic it is. I always come to theorize that the spread of Islam in Arabia was another dumbshit ritual from Isaiah 21:13-17, where jewhovah destroys Arabian civilizations and sends "his chosen" to kill and slaughter Arabians, given that Muhammad, his wife and the entire founding clergy of Islam were Arabian Jews and that Islam is basically just Judaism under an Arab umbrella. The Jewish Himyarites were already starting to become a problem for all the Arabian civilizations, Islam was the kosher prescription to that.

Now here in the American homeland, I've come to notice that "militantly Christian" communities again - tended to suffer the most poverty, crimes and degeneracy, and puts a huge sting on to the image of rural Americans as a whole. Being rural and White isn't the issue, but add Xianity, it fucks shits up big, big-time. It doesn't even matter the race, as this doesn't just apply to "White trash" or "rednecks", but I've also notice black and Hispanic ghetto communities are also extremely Xian.

Christianity is on the fall, and it shall continue that way whether Xian cucks like it or not. One we shall see to it, under the guidance of the Gods, that its predecessor Judaism (the root of all) and its successor Pisslam (the climax in the horrific trilogy) will all fall.

May the Lord Satan and all of the Lords of the Orion Be With You All, So Mote it Be!
America was NOT found as a Christian nation.

Christianity is neither pro-life (John 12:25) or pro-family (Matthew 10:35).

Christianity promotes slavery, oppression and poverty (1 Peter 2:18 and Matthew 5:3).

CHRISTIANITY PROMOTES CANNIBALISM FOR FUCKING CRYING OUT LOUD (Leviticus 26:29)!

Thank you for writing that. I tend to agree completely that ignorance/stupidity is the real problem.

Evil is usually presented in a way that makes it seem more relative than absolute. If ignorance is the source of all evil, then the term becomes more absolute and makes perfect sense to me. You've answered yet another question I had, but put on the "back burner".

Another great sermon HP, thanks!

Another beautiful sermon!🔥❤️ HP HoodedCobra666 thank you for sharing this! 😊 Hail Satan!!⚡

I am a rainbow person! I know that for a fact because Satan created me! The rainbow has a lot to do with the chakras and the chakra energy! Not to mention the fact that different colors represents the moods and the energy levels according to the different parts of your body and your chakras system! So I don't think there's anything wrong with calling yourself a rainbow person especially when you're practicing yoga and Kundalini! :D 🙄🔥🌀 so I tell myself! To smile and ride the rainbow! Build up the energy and share it! Because it is who and what I am in Satan's name.☀️

People who have committed moral crimes in society can be extended compassion from the viewpoint that they were generally forced along this awful path of living, beset by drugs, negative drives/emotions, negative people, and so on. Even further, they are not aware of even basic things like aura cleaning, let alone applying mantras under astrological conditions.

Although these people do have a degree of choice, the actual likelihood that they will make the correct choice to be a better citizen is very slim. They are basically totally besieged not by just past karmic factors, but current environmental negativity as well. The fact that they have not gone totally nuts already is a testament to the souls created by Satan.

At the same time, we have to be realistic about what to do with these people. In most cases, they need to be isolated from negative peers and victims, plus given tons of material, emotional, and spiritual support. In our current world, this is basically impossible, and it will remain very difficult going forward within the newly created Satanic societies of the future.

I think our best outcomes will come by teaching the youth, in the sense of training and guiding them to spiritual competency at a young age. Beyond this direct approach, global rituals and media programs can be used to generally uplift and stave off larger tragedies or conditions.

However, for now, we must do all we can to protect what is good in the world. All it takes is for one of these diseased people to decide they have nothing to lose by attempting to rob someone, and this could steal a precious soul from the world. Because of this, and because of the huge amount of work required to truly help them, the current solution should lean more on the strict side of punishments/control, which even these people will obey.

On a personal level, we do have to be strict about who we engage with, otherwise we risk getting negatively influenced by "evil". Similarly, do not bother yourself by watching/reading about suffering, which may upset or distract you. Although this approach may seem harsh, it guards the overall paradise which we are fighting to create.

Evaluating based on Satanism is not always easy. Instead, focus more on places that are safe, stable, and give you the best economic opportunities (free time) to support your advancement. This does not mean you should live right next to a church, but also be confident in your own protection efforts, which themselves are derived from the time invested into Satanic activities.

Most people can't even see that part that are caught up in it because it instructs its believers to literally give away all of their possessions but if one does that then they have nothing to give anymore. Truly, if one wishes to be a generous person they must be rich to afford to do so. I remember when I was conforming to christianity that at one point in my life I was giving away all of my possessions since that was an instruction given to the "disciples" in the bible and had it in my head that the stories in the bible served as an example of how one ought to be considering it's what preachers and various sources online claimed. After a certain point, when people asked me for things or favors I was not able to provide because I had given most of it away.

I've found this part of the sermon a bit confusing. The first paragraph here seems to contradict the second one. Also, would you mind elaborating on what do you mean by "necessary evil"?

Nevertheless, it is a good sermon. Afterall, we call Satan (our "savior") the truth because we "use" the truth to fight against evil.

Wonderful sermon Hp, there is a lot of wisdom in your sermon.
It all makes it clear for those with little understanding if what truly Spiritual Satanism is and those confused ones.

Satanism is about rising and rising and rising.

So, is our enemy evil? And if it is, is it due to ignorance?

But if we fight the enemy, we fight evil, because as you said, they don't care about the truth.

Could you explain this better?

Now that we're talking on this subject of ignorance! And what is considered stupid?... why is it that every time something bad happens? Or when somebody does something stupid? Instead of owning up to it they turn around and blame it on satan! By saying that it's the devil's fault! Just because a tragedy happens to hit their home! Or just because somebody has made a mistake and spilled milk all over the floor! Instead of taking the time to realize that they made a poor decision or they weren't paying attention to what they were doing? And how they turn around and viciously blame Satan for everything! Why in the hell are people still doing that? And why do Christians think that they still have to turn around and blame Satan for everything! That goes wrong whatever is done or whatever is said? Christians delight and fucking blaming satan! Or blaming one of his demons? It aggravates me more than anything! Instead of people fucking taking the time and blaming themselves for their own mistakes and their own actions? It would make it a lot easier for people to learn things and pay attention to what really happened! Instead of playing the blame game and it's no wonder bad juju happens to people because they don't take the time to look into things! And if they're going to go as far as blaming Satan and his demons? For whatever happens in their own home or whatever happens on their path? A lot of it is because of the lack of knowledge and the disrespect they have for themselves and others around them! And maybe they're not paying attention to the signs around them? Making poor decisions and paying the price! That they want things done the easy way or they cut off the corners? And want to play the blame game and use somebody or something as a scapegoat for their amusement or just simply blame it on satan! As long as they can take it out on somebody or something? Thinking that it's going to take the pain away or make things better for them just because they're angry and want to yell at somebody? Or because they get aggravated and swear and then all of a sudden! They feel sorry and guilty and blame it on satan? Instead of blaming themselves! That is the one thing that aggravates me more than anything! When it comes to humans and Humanity! Is the fact that people still blame Satan or blame other people? When they're not even aware of what they're doing or even so much is paying attention do they not even realize that if they fucking took the time to look at the dumb things that they do and the stupid things they say? And if they look up on Satan and ask him to help? And look into things maybe perhaps their days would be a lot easier and maybe their mistakes would be more appreciative and more understandable and perhaps maybe they will learn from their mistakes and learn from themselves! That blaming other people? And blaming Satan for their mistakes is not the right and they know that in their frame of mind? They're playing the blame game is not going to solve the problem and it's not going to help them find their tennis shoes or their lunch bucket or whatever it is that they have lost or whatever it is that they are looking for? Another thing that I can't stand about people is name calling! That goes along with the scapegoat factor! Calling each other names and making fun of one another along with playing the blame game! Three typical things that I hate about the human being! The most ignorant of the human race! The childhood tactics that most people seem to have a struggle getting rid of and it doesn't matter laugh out loud! How old the individual is? They still think that name calling is cute and funny and they still think the name calling is going to solve their little problem and make things better! When all they're doing is making a bigger mess of things and making enemies of their friends and those around them! And make it harder for them to get around in life especially when they're old enough to know what they're doing right or wrong! And the kind of ass they're making of themselves in the public eye! When they know damn well what they have done and when people laugh at them? They get even more offensive especially when somebody comes along and offers help or advice! Help pathetic it is that people throw a tantrum fit when somebody comes along to help them especially when they get a chance to get help or learn something! Taking a little advice from somebody is not bad! But people have so much pride in themselves that they're not even aware of the fact that other people can see them! Their peers and their friends their family whoever the fucking hell they have with them? Especially when it comes to married couples! The double standards and the sexism! That there are better ways of settling things without calling each other names and running each other down the biggest eyesore when it comes to human beings! The ignorance and the childish behavior! And speaking of Christians and the things that they do? They think that they can get away with everything and anything laugh out loud no kidding! Everybody knows that that they think they're better than everybody else! And think they're so invincible! And in doing so it doesn't matter what is done or said they turn around and blame it on the neighbor or blame it on satan! Christians know that they make mistakes but they won't admit it exclamation mark and it doesn't matter how bad the mistake they turn around and just blame everybody they want anyone for their amusement smiling broadly knowing what they have done they don't even care just like a dog who proudly took a poop on somebody's front lawn! And then when it comes down to it? They blame it on somebody else! Anything worse happens they blame it on Satan! That's all Christians have ever done! Because you're so damn childish and so uneducated that they can't even think past their nose! And their sense of pride? And people wonder why we have so much ignorance in this world! It's like people thrive on it and they're addicted to it! You notice that with the commercials and the cartoons that children watch! 🙄👤 the Hollywood movies that people have enjoyed watching throughout the centuries! Stupid commercials! And the strange human behavior no matter where you go! And yet people know right from wrong? And yet they should know the difference between what is appropriate and what isn't that they are so busy laugh out loud! Blaming other people instead of worrying about themselves! And then you've got one individual that wants to be the better person and tries to show a better example of himself in public and it doesn't matter if it's a little kid or a growing adult human being just because he or she is trying to be the better person! How they always blame him for something or take it out on this individual just because they want to be the better person or showing the neighborhood what it's like to be neighborly and to be of good example to be a proper civilized human being in the neighborhood or on the job site! And neighbors how they gallantly gather together and start gossiping and talking about one another and how that person's name comes up! Just because he or she happens to be a good person and shows kindness and is an honest person and will do anything to help one another! So it should be? And this is what Christians want us to see of them? They put up that front and they put on that song and dance in front of your face but the minute you turn around and walk away they start acting like a bunch of monkeys! The childish behavior and the rumors and the gossip begin to burst all over the place with these people! They expect their children to be good and to behave themselves? But will need little kids leave to go to school how much trouble these kids cause and what they get into mimicking exactly what their parents do they do something stupid and then they turn around and blame it on a good neighbor! Instead of being Hypocrites and raising their children to be two-faced fucking liars! And talking about it and owning up to their mistakes? And being real and being human about it! That they teach their children to be Hypocrites like themselves and they think that it's okay and yet they go to church to think that they're going to be saved by their make-believe god! As they sit and judge other people and tell each other how to live and how to behave? The belligerents and the stupidity the name calling and the bullying that goes on with these people! No matter where you go whether you're a good person or not thinking that they have the right to judge you when you have the right to judge yourself as a human being! Without being called names or put down or belittled just because you're living in the same neighborhood or because you're going to school and sitting in the same class as his other child! Or having to put up with this individual on the same job site you work at! Just because they're Christian and you're not! And it doesn't matter where these people are from laugh out loud how they always start their shit with each other and compare their family values and rules of and start telling each other how to live and eat and expect so much of each other! Instead of just learning how to tolerate and accept each other as it is and live and let die!? All it is is just nothing but bullying and harassing and name calling! Christians have been nothing but fucking troublemakers from the very beginning! Thanks to this stupid Jews and what they have created in this world! It is beyond pathetic what I consider to be evil! And ignorance and stupidity is the major factor of evil! And what we are looking at and what we are seeing today on TV and social media! Especially when it comes to Hollywood movies and Hollywood smut! Help these people thrive on ignorance! And it's no wonder kids are so confused these days especially teenagers and young adults! It's going to take people a long time to be able to change who and what they are? When it comes to their problems and looking for the truth and getting their answers! If they want to evolve to that of a higher intelligent human being! But people are so busy arguing with each other! Instead of keeping their mouth shut and opening up their ears and listening? Maybe we wouldn't have so many problems in this world! But sad enough people have made it this way and they've done it on their own and they only have themselves to blame! They were the ones that brought in the evil through their actions and their own stupidity! And yet people say you look at life you turn it around and it spells evil!... live ..evil... love vs hate ... especially when people should understand the difference and to be able to turn things around! People still have brains and intelligence and people still have choices? It is entirely up to this human race to make their changes and the individual to live by his or her own individuality and love themselves as they are and to continue on teaching and live by example of how fathers Satan wants us to be! ❤️🙏

I am a rainbow person! I know that for a fact because Satan created me! The rainbow has a lot to do with the chakras and the chakra energy! Not to mention the fact that different colors represents the moods and the energy levels according to the different parts of your body and your chakras system! So I don't think there's anything wrong with calling yourself a rainbow person especially when you're practicing yoga and Kundalini! :D 🙏🌈🙏 so I tell myself! To smile and ride the rainbow! Build up the energy and share it! Because it is who and what I am in Satan's name. ☀️

So, is our enemy evil? And if it is, is it due to ignorance?

But if we fight the enemy, we fight evil, because as you said, they don't care about the truth.

Could you explain this better?

Of course, I must write another post on this subject.

This is just the anime tard on a different account trying to get some kind of reaction out of me. Please ignore these pathetic remarks and laughable attempts at baiting a response from me.

Apparently I'm evil and psychopathic for wanting justice and feeling emotional about gentiles being abused I guess.

Someone on the Turkish forums said GoyVeyII is actually Fanboy, I don't know Turkish, I used a translator.

You just have a very strong sense of justice, every emotion you feel can be directed towards something positive and constructive. It takes practice, I'm new to magick and vibrations, but I understand how to "manipulate" my own mind.

Jew 100%.

I recognize the cynical style of attack I've seen more than once, for example on investor forums, where paid people try to destroy a company's PR on behalf of hedge funds. I recognize this fucking calling someone out by name and trying to shame. Ignore him 100%, it can be irritating and sometimes effective if someone is not aware of the type of attack.

The Temple of Zeus: Away From "Evil"

High Priest Hooded Cobra 666

17 September, 2022

It is important for all of our members to understand that the enemy is the source of what we call fundamentally "evil".

Evil, except of a natural situation of natural laws that are put there to cause opposition so that they are to be overcome. The situation of "evil" in nature is a wrong term we use. But what we refer to as "Evil" in nature is merely there to be overcome by evolving entities.

Certain entities that are stuck in this universe and cannot evolve thrive on what we refer to as "Evil". This has become an objective reality for entities that are of a lesser level, such as these of the enemy.

The enemy tries to push humanity downwards, and they try to prevent human advancement. Human advancement, especially of proper spirituality, would gradually lessen and lessen the "evil" in this world.

The enemy thrives on ignorance and wants to procure it. They need it as a mosquito needs the blood of its victims.

Evil, as I define it here, is ignorance. Most "evil" things in this world are due to ignorance, shrunk perception, or untruth. The closer one is with these, the further they become "evil" and negative towards themselves and others.

The Temple of Zeus is not against "evil". We recognize this as part of the natural order, but we are against ignorance.

That is our key difference. Instead of claiming idly that we "fight evil", we simply say we fight stupidity, ignorance, and lack of knowledge: the sources of the symptom that we call "evil".

Lack of enlightenment is the natural source of all that we call "evil", and also the necessary evil is because of this. We are slaves to circumstances that procure evil.

A very basic example here is the example of a thief. A thief or a murderer has become that maybe because his civilization does not know how to create food. Most normal people do crimes and things like this for reasons of necessity, but not all.

If then again the crime happened only due to inner evil, jealousy, spite, greed, or the need for revenge, then still, stupidity and ignorance were high and not to the level to teach this person values and discipline.

Nobody taught this person then how to use greed or the need for revenge for self-development. Education here would defeat ignorance. Pure evil is present in a marginal amount of cases; it's true, it exists. But it's not a reality as constant as we might think.

Then again, if the cause of wrong is even deeper, the solution is still more knowledge. Until, in the end, the issue is solved.

The above is how "evil" in the broad sense is eliminated. For example, the "Evil" occurrence of a famine is not solved by talking against the famine but rather by having the KNOWLEDGE to prevent said famine with farming or science.

Abrahamic programs and those coming from the enemy have procured and created endless evil in this world, as they preached against knowledge, understanding, learning, and generally all that procures the beautiful and good in this world.

Then, because they thrive on the consequences of "evil", i.e., the misery it brings, the problems of people, their reassured wounds that will remain forever until cured, they put up a fake sign that they "fight evil".

None of the sources of "Evil" were ever addressed. In fact, they protected, procured, and made sure these sources of evil reached the highest power in our world, leading society to ruins.

The more ignorance, foolishness, and lack of education reign, the more Christianity and the enemy programs get a powerful foothold.

Most of the world, which has adopted these systems and taken them seriously, was left in ruins. Those who did not take them seriously still exist and advance to this day.

In Arabia, for example, the best places both spiritually and culturally still remain those that have the least adoption of the enemy programs. The same is the case in Europe and, of course, the United States.

This "evil" that they defined with false terminology, what Christianity refers to as "Evil", is exactly what CURES us from our inner evil and falling victim to it. This solution is spiritual enlightenment.

In essence, they took the source of all that would evolve us and called it "evil". Then, people were programmed to massacre and attack the source of their own enlightenment, which is the Gods, their cultures, science, logic, reason, and everything positive.

Progressively, this mental virus actually succeeded, and we self-destructed a great part of our own goodness, such as knowledge, scientific advances, social advances, or even certain civilizations that went down completely by internal collapse.

The enemy bars and closes people from all pathways of development that would shrink "evil", while they deceitfully preach against it, therefore making a world filled with evil, stupidity, and misery.

If you outlaw meditation and enlightenment, it's a matter of time that the world will be consumed in a fatal downward spiral into damnation. These are natural laws at play. The fact that the Egyptians, the Greeks, the Assyrians, or the Aryans in India, and so many others were so insistent on the Divine Rules is because without them, our existence is moot.

Even if one seeks to profit from this act of removing these great Truths from humanity, this downward spiral will eventually destroy everything in its path, consuming them too. The enemy does not understand this, and it seems they do not care about the consequences of this behavior.

Thus, the enlightened person must also seek safe and lawful ways to stop them.

In complete contrast to the enemy, we do not preach "against evil". We want to examine it and cure it. We talk about what it is realistically, its necessity, its sources, and how we can get better with it.

We talk about the upwards and eternal spiral of the Truth, the movement towards the Truth, and we allow and preach as virtues all of what will lead us to this great attainment of the state of inner spiritual Satya, i.e., realization of the Eternal Truth.

For this reason, our Ancestral religions always relate Eternal Truth with what we refer to as "Agatho" in Ancient Greek, which, for lack of a better word, is the universal constant of the "Good".

Not "Good" absolved from "Evil", but true goodness that is the result of actual enlightenment.

Our Gods are called the "Agathoi Daimones", meaning in Ancient Greek "Good, beneficial Demons" or the "Teachers of the "Agatho", teachers of goodness, the beings that are teaching us of the justice and laws of the universe.

The Temple of Zeus takes the soul away from this endless loop of ignorance. It's the breaking of the hopeless loop of the fall of the human soul. When this loop is broken, the soul starts elevating into higher levels of light and understanding.

We move then upwards to the proper natural balance, onwards to the heaven of understanding of the Crown Chakra, away from ignorance. We leave it behind every single day, and then it leaves us too.

Zevism is the pathway to recognize and eventually rise above evil. As the enemy says gleefully, "Their eyes have been opened".

True consciousness highlights in our awareness the ability to recognize evil, and only then can evil be defeated and conquered against. One must gain the vision of the Gods to see it, to comprehend it, in order to finally rise above it.

Temple of Zeus: Our Definition

High Priest Hooded Cobra 666

Those who come to Zevism and expect to find terror fables, lies, spooks, ghouls, and kosher culture will be disappointed.

Zeus has given His representation in our hands and away from the hands of the enemy, who intently misrepresented both Him and what "Zevism" is.

The enemy did nothing else for two thousand years but blame all perils on him, make him seem like an evil minion, while hiding and perverting all evidence to the contrary reality.

The Temple of Zeus is unearthing this evidence. We bring the Truth to the world.

Zeus for once had the opportunity to speak for Himself, more or less, and make his thesis known. He blessed the Temple of Zeus for this very particular reason and objective. Thus, we did our research and presented it to the world, something that seemed to attract, and keeps attracting all the more every day, giant interest.

Zeus has spoken to Humanity through all ages, in different forms. Even from the position the enemy put him in, he still channeled his messages of freedom, rebellion against rotten order, scientific study, occult, spirituality, artistry, love for existence, life and nature, and every other beauty to us.

Even in the literary work of his enemies, Father Zeus still emerges as the most enigmatic, interesting, and important character.

He and the Pagan Gods were 'banished' but their influence never really ceased. Even their enemies masked this, attempted with failure to remove it, and attempted to color it with their own colors, but could never get rid of it.

Zeus was always on top of them. The memory of Zeus is everywhere and in everything. They just hid this fact from the masses and invented new Abrahamic idols in a vain attempt to replace the Eternal Gods.

For without them, there is nothing beautiful or important for humanity. Zeus can never be banished or destroyed; he can only be defamed and, as the enemy hoped, hidden. In that, his enemies have done all they could.

Zevism is THE Primordial form of Spirituality, the primordial root of all that we today call "Paganism".

We have used this name because it has two essences: Spiritual, which means the need for spiritual advancement and working on the Soul, and Zevism, which means, from the Sanskrit Word "Satya", Truth-ism in an English Abbreviation.

It reflects our conviction in Spirituality and the belief in Our God, whose name means TRUTH.

Those who seek jewish occultism that is blasphemous to the Pagan Gods, jewish mental insanity, jewish para-psychological retardation, and fake 'spiritual' nonsense will be highly disappointed in what "Zevism" means anymore.

False answers about Zeus and Zevism can and will be found in all places of defamation: in a synagogue, a church, or a mosque.

In short, it's a misfortune that they still carry around Zeus's Divine Name and savagely defame it, which is what the Abrahamic programs have done for thousands of years.

We do not believe in "Zevism" before the Temple of Zeus, since all these sects have been colored by Abrahamic conceptions. We believe only in Eternal Zevism and its present-day restored form, which is the Temple of Zeus.

This is simple as to why: Except for a few respectful servants and people of Zeus, many others just did their best to defame, misrepresent, and turn Zeus into a racketeering business, no different than what Abrahamic religions and Jews have done for thousands of years.

Zevism revolves around 10 main points. These are not written laws, but rather something to sum up what Zevism is.

Zevism is about freedom, positivity, creation, and empowerment.

Zevism is about studying, wisdom, self-knowledge, and understanding.

Zevism is about elevating one's self spiritually and becoming spiritually advanced.

Zevism is not about slavish worship, but people are allowed to worship as they please in accordance with their nature (except for disrespecting the Gods).

Zevism recognizes all the Pagan Gods as real, flesh and blood entities that are our spiritual and physical forefathers.

Zevism is about respecting, knowing, and understanding nature, and learning/mastering the universe. We follow Nature's laws while also trying to learn and master them.

Zevism is about life and anything that promotes life and quality life and is against degeneration, death, and misery.

Zevism is elitism, and people have to seek to make themselves better and more elite/advanced versions of themselves. This creates a better world.

Zevism is the striving for Truth and NOT falsehood, at all costs. This is why Zeus is our Head God, for this quality his Name represents. There is no simple 'evil' in Zevism, but FALSEHOOD, which only then becomes 'evil'.

Zevism is the form we have today for representing all the above ETERNAL CONCEPTS. Zevism is an ETERNAL understanding. We understand ourselves as partakers in an ETERNAL, infinite existence.

It's really simple: Zevism is ABOUT LIFE, and IMPROVEMENT; it's a system that works Light and Darkness not as 'enemies' and ethical evils, but as parts of the same creation.

External opinions based on slander that have been generated by systems that have bloodshed all of humanity, such as the Abrahamic religions, do not concern us.

We consider them blatant misinformation.

We have to only partially concern ourselves with them, for no other reason than DEFENDING ourselves and wiping out their lies pinned on Zeus's back, which are unjustified, pure vehement, and perilous.

All Zevists are obligated to find out about their roots as people, races, and cultural roots and understand the eternal concept we coin together under the term "Zevism", which is a clearer emanation of what has been called the Sanatana Dharma.

That concept has been watered down severely by the enemy, but the name of it persists as a very valid form, relating closely to the important name of Zeus, with Sanatana being an anagram of the word.

We as people have to come together in a worldwide congregation, honoring their past, and our aim is to rebuild the Golden Age of Humanity, where only Truth and Bliss will dwell in the world.

This starts with a person, extends to a smaller circle, and then grows until the whole world is engulfed.

Zevism is about upholding all the eternal laws of nature, including making positive decisions for one's self, increasing one's spiritual life, becoming better and more advanced, being free and in accordance with one's own nature, and lastly, not engaging in behaviors that ruin this process or the world at large.

Zevism is a master key system and the only real and Ancient religion of Humanity, which in essence has been the same for All Pagans since forever.

We have proven this, and we keep adding further proof to this unending chain all the time, both Clergy and our members.

It's an inheritance that can be practiced by all people with permanent and great results, except for the Jewish people or those who are in perpetual denial of the facts.

Why do we use the name Zeus? Because it means TRUTH, and because our enemies hate the Truth, they vilified this term in their tongue. They stand opposed to this Divine Name.

Zevism is defined by the soul's longing so that humanity can achieve the Godhead, the realization of the Truth, knowledge, wisdom, and understanding. When we apply this longing, we adopt Zevism.

About this capture

Communism vs. Socialism

I wrote this in a very short period of time but it contains some key points. I felt it is an important subject to touch on. Remember, Socialist is in National Socialist for a reason...

"As National socialists we see our programme in our flag. In red we see the social thoughts of the movement, in white the nationalist thoughts, in the hooked-cross the mission of fighting for the victory of Aryan man and at the same time the victory of the concept of creative work" - Adolf Hitler
Even though this topic has been touched on again and again, people still confuse the two. The narrow this subject down, Communism is a Jewish invention, communism did not just begin with Karl Marx either, it has always been within the Eternal Jews' for thousands of years, while on the other side, Socialism is a gentile ideology.

"This is our calling, that we shall become the templars of this Grail, gird the sword round our loins for its sake and stake our lives joyfully in the last, holy war which will be followed by the thousand-year reign of freedom."

No, the above quote was not one of Adolf Hitler's, but rather that of Karl Marx's. And note by "we", the term meant is the jews.

That essentially the main difference between them, Communism requires a Jewish run state, Socialism must have a Gentile run state, and for it to work perfectly, this state must be of a satanic essence. "If we are socialists, then we must definitely be anti-semites" - Adolf Hiler
Secondly, Socialism must come from within the soul, not just something you do because you have to, like in communism. "Why need we trouble to socialize banks and factories? We socialize human beings" - Hitler.

Socialism at its core is team work, on a much larger scale, communism is, pffft, give the ball to the captain and only the captain and no one else gets anything but the captain. This is the same with the also jewish capitalist system. One must know that if you are anti-communist, you are anti-capitalist.

"What does the Jew have to do with socialism? Socialism has to do with labor. When did one ever see him working instead of plundering, stealing and living from the sweat of others? As socialists we are opponents of the Jews because we see in the Hebrews the incarnation of capitalism, of the misuse of the nation's goods." - Joseph Goebels

I can love Germany and hate capitalism. Not only can I, I must. Only the annihilation of a system of exploitation carries with it the core of the rebirth of our people."- Goebels

Below are some of the points from the Nazi Manifesto, which are the clear lines for true gentile socialism. Also note, in true socialism, those who are able and capable to work must work, as they are keeping in mind their brethren.

9. All citizens of the State shall be equal as regards rights and duties.

10. The first duty of every citizen must be to work mentally or physically. The activities of the individual may not clash with the interests of the whole, but must proceed within the frame of the community and be for the general good.

Therefore we demand:

11. That all unearned income, and all income that does not arise from work, be abolished.

12. Since every war imposes on the people fearful sacrifices in life and property, all personal profit arising from the war must be regarded as a crime against the people. We therefore demand the total confiscation of all war profits whether in assets or material.

13. We demand the nationalization of businesses which have been organized into cartels.

14. We demand that all the profits from wholesale trade shall be shared out.

15. We demand extensive development of provision for old age.

16. We demand the creation and maintenance of a healthy middle-class, the immediate communalization of department stores which will be rented cheaply to small businessmen, and that preference shall be given to small businessmen for provision of supplies needed by the State, the provinces and municipalities.

17. We demand a land reform in accordance with our national requirements, and the enactment of a law to confiscate from the owners without compensation any land needed for the common purpose. The abolition of ground rents, and the prohibition of all speculation in land.
Now, to compare.

1. In a communist state, everyone will be paid equally, but, some people are just a bit more equal than others, and those who were less equal were, umm, starving, and those who were reluctant to work , were, umm, killed... So much for peace, land and bread Mr. Lennin...

2. Communism forced Nationalisation and collectivisation of all land, enterprise and property, while National Socialism required only land and enterprise for the common purpose and not for greed.

"We must "find and travel the road from individualism to socialism without revolution" - Adolf Hitler.

Only large department stores were taken, and were equally shared to store owners. That is a key term as in communism, there is no such thing as store owners.

Simplified, here are the points:

- o Land + expansion
- o Only a "member of the race" can be a citizen.
- o Anti-semitism - No Jew can be a member of the race.
- o Anti-foreigner - only citizens can live in Germany.
- o Everyone who can work must work
- o Abolition of unearned income - "no rent-slavery".
- o Nationalisation of some industry (namely department store and stores for the good of the people"
- o Divison of profits
- o Extension of old age welfare.
- o Land reform
- o Education
- o Protection of mother and child by outlawing child labour.
- o Formation a national army.
- o Duty of the state to provide for its volk.
- o Duty of individuals to the state

Those above are all attributes of a socialist stateToday is: 2025-12-30

Enochian is a mysterious language that 16th century occultists John Dee and Edward Kelley recorded in their private journals. They claimed this 'celestial speech' allowed magicians and occultists to communicate with angelic realms.

In the year 1581, occultists John Dee and Edward Kelley, claimed to have received communications from angels, who provided them with the foundations of a language with which to communicate with 'the other side'. This 'angelic' language contained its own alphabet, grammar and syntax, which they wrote down in journals. The new language was called "Enochian" and comes from John Dee's assertion that the Biblical Patriarch Enoch had been the last human to know the language.

The Enochian language entails plenty of myths and stories. The subject is deep enough for college professors to discuss and complex enough for students to seek help to handle studying it. So, let's unveil the mystery behind Enochian: is it really the 'angelic' language?

John Dee, the Influential Occultist

Dr. John Dee, 1527-1609, was an occultist, mathematician, astronomer and astrologer who lived in Mort Lake, West London for most of his life. An educated man who studied at St. John's College in Cambridge, was eventually accepted into influential circles of the ruling elite and acted as scientific advisor and confidant to Queen Elizabeth I. He is associated with coining the phrase 'British Empire'. During the early part of his life, Dee had little interest in the supernatural. Later on, he became disillusioned with science and began experimenting with magic and the occult. Dee was looking to discover lost spiritual knowledge and recover the wisdom he believed was hidden in books of antiquity. Among these books was the then-fabled Book of Enoch, which he conceived as being a book describing the magic system used by the Patriarch in the Bible.

Enochian, Language of Angels

The term Enochian comes from the Biblical figure Enoch, who was a source of hidden mystical knowledge and was taken up to heaven. According to Genesis 5:24, he "walked with God" and Hebrews 11:5 states that he "was taken from this life, so that he did not experience death."

From 1581 to 1585, Dee began performing a long series of magical events. In 1581, at the age of 54, Dee wrote in his personal journal that God had sent "Good Angels" to communicate directly with mankind. By 1582, he was collaborating with fellow occultist and seer Edward Kelley (1555-1597) to communicate with these angels. Hundreds of spirit conversations were recorded, including what they claimed was an angelic language called Enochian, composed of non-English letters. The Enochian Alphabet was revealed to Dr. John Dee and Edward Kelley during "scrying sessions", when various texts and tables were received from angels. Scrying is a technique used by seers, psychics, and sorcerers to foretell the future and involves gazing into a reflective surface to receive messages.

Magical Objects and Celestial Speech

It is documented that Dee and Kelley used certain objects such as a black obsidian mirror and a crystal ball to experience these visions. Dee acted as orator, directing prayers to God and the Archangels for 15 minutes to an hour. Then a scrying stone was placed on a table, and the angels were called to manifest themselves.

Dee and Kelly would watch the stone and record everything they saw and heard. They were told by the angels that the magic would give superhuman powers to its practitioners, change the political structure of Europe, and herald the coming of the Apocalypse.

Dee believed that what he was doing would be of benefit to posterity and documented the information into a series of manuscripts and workbooks. He never described the language used during the sessions as "Enochian" but preferred to call it "Angelical," the "Celestial Speech," the "First Language of God-Christ," and particularly "Adamical," because he asserted it was used by Adam in the Garden of Eden to name all of God's creatures.

Enochian Alphabet

There are two different versions of the Enochian Alphabet with one script slightly different from other. The first version is found in Dee's Manuscript, the first five Books of the Mysteries, and the second, and generally more accepted version, is in Liber Loagaeth, the latter being Kelley's original drawings.

The script is written from right to left, and may include accents. The Enochian letters have English letter equivalents with some of the letter names pronounced as they would be in English, but many are pronounced differently.

The alphabet is used in the practice of Enochian Magic on Angelical or Enochian Keys. They were received through Edward Kelley in 1584, in Krakow, Poland. That year he wrote into his diaries a series of nineteen magical incantations. The Keys comprise 48 poetic verses and correspond to various functions within the Enochian Magic system. They are given in the original Enochian Language, and a Modern English Translation, based on John Dee's Old English versions.

The Enochian letters are read from right to left, they have letter forms, letter names and some English equivalents. They are as written from John Dee's Diary.

Interpretation

Due to the loss of parts of John Dee's original manuscripts, interpretations have arisen regarding the meaning, validity, and authenticity behind the Enochian language.

Some magicians have asserted it is the oldest language in the world, predating all other human languages.

In some circles it is considered among the most powerful strains of magic and is a method of contacting intelligences from other dimensions. Detractors have pointed out that the syntax of Enochian bears a strong resemblance to English, Dee and Kelley's natural language.

Such similarities include the word lucifrias, a term meaning "brightness," which bears a connection to Lucifer, whose name means Light Bringer." London, the Enochian word for kingdom, might just represent Dee's connection to his royal patron, the Queen of England. Computer analysis have also shown Enochian to have a grammatical relationship to English. Texts in the Liber Loagaeth demonstrate phonetic features that do not appear in natural languages. The phonetic features are associated more with glossolalia, or speaking in tongues.

Modern day occultists have found it difficult to reconstruct the Enochian system, although progress has been made by studying the original manuscripts found in Sir Hans Sloane collection. From these studies, various groups and authors have created a functional system of magic.

The Enochian language was picked up and popularized by occultists, such as the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, Aleister Crowley, Israel Regardie and Anton LaVey, founder of the church of Satan. Many Satanists have even included Enochian Keys in their rituals, some adopting the entire language for use.

The Enochian language was also studied by U.S. rocket scientist Jack Parson of the O.T.O. In 1994 the Enochian letters were used as glyphs to operate the arc angle in the film 'Stargate', one year before the US remote viewing program, 'Stargate', was made public.

Another aspect of modern Enochian magic is Enochian chess. It is both a game and a divination tool, derived from the original tablets of John Dee. It is a complex system that requires a strong foundation in the study of the Qabalah, Geomancy, Tarot, Alchemy, and Astrology. Many of the original items used by Dee and Kelley can be found in the British Museum in London, England.

Question

What was John Dee known for?

What did Edward Kelley do?

What is the origin of the word "enochian"?

Answer

John Dee was a 16th-century English polymath known for his work in mathematics, astronomy, and navigation, as well as his role as an advisor to Queen Elizabeth I. He later became deeply involved in occultism, collaborating with Edward Kelley to communicate with angels and develop the mystical Enochian language.

Edward Kelley was a 16th-century English occultist and scryer who collaborated with John Dee. He was known for his role in conducting scrying sessions with Dee, through which they claimed to receive messages from angels and the mystical Enochian language. Kelley also claimed to have discovered alchemical secrets, including the Philosopher's Stone, although his credibility was often questioned.

The word "Enochian" originates from the Biblical figure Enoch, who is described in the Bible as a patriarch who "walked with God" and was taken up to heaven without experiencing death. The term was coined by the 16th-century occultist John Dee, who believed that Enoch had been the last human to know the language before it was revealed to him and his scryer, Edward Kelley, by angels. Thus, "Enochian" refers to the language that Dee and Kelley claimed to have received from angelic beings.

Lovely overview! Dee is one

Lovely overview! Dee is one of those compelling historical figures because of the sheer showmanship he brought to creating what was essentially a celebrity persona; this is contrasted by the amusing suspicion that he was just a dodgy geezer. Not as dodgy as his mate Kelly, (at the time calling himself Talbot, I think) who was a convicted forger!

I am very much on the same path of question's of origin's and wtf is really going on in our everyday live environment.

On the topic of mister Dee I recommend the book "Sorcerer: A novel of queen Elizabeth's alchemist" by Geoffery James, and a second book simply titled "John Dee and Edward Kelley" by Tom Morris.

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE CLASSIFIED TRUTH BEHIND THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY:

(This is a re-release, I first released this when I had 34 followers about a month and a half ago)

*Now the only reason I even know this is because it's actually related to the subject of extraterrestrials and no one knows it. If it wasn't connected I wouldn't know about it. So here goes;

When President Kennedy became Commander & Chief, he was brought up to speed about the Majestic 12 group and how they were supposed to be answering to the office of the President of the United States. (Read some of my other posts and replies if you don't know who the Majestic 12 group is) President Kennedy attempted to exert control back over this out of control group of men that made all the decisions extra terrestrial related, including technologically. @truthtold24

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE CLASSIFIED TRUTH BEHIND THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY:

(This is a re-release, I first released this when I had 34 followers about a month and a half ago)

Now the only reason I even know this is because it's actually related to the subject of extraterrestrials and no one knows it. If it wasn't connected I wouldn't know about it. So here goes;

When President Kennedy became Commander & Chief, he was brought up to speed about the Majestic 12 group and how they were supposed to be answering to the office of the President of the United States. (Read some of my other posts and replies if you don't know who the Majestic 12 group is) President Kennedy attempted to exert control back over this out of control group of men that made all the decisions extra terrestrial related, including technologically. In order to do this, he created his own intelligence agency connected to the @DeptofDefense Along with his secretary of defense Robert McNamara. They created the Defense Intelligence Agency. The DIA would be a rival to the @CIA which at the time, their director was a member of MJ-12.

The DIA became official on October 1st of 1961. By March of 1962 a proposed exchange program between the extraterrestrial species that crashed at Roswell and the Majestic 12 group was agreed upon. So to appease President Kennedy, they briefed him and asked for his approval for the program knowing he would give it. He did. With one condition though; that his DIA lead the project. The Majestic 12 group reluctantly agreed to this condition.

By the spring of 1963 President Kennedy told the Majestic 12 group, specifically their leader MJ-1, that they were to televise The exchange on national television so all the citizens could know the truth. He also instructed MJ-12 that they would be turning over EVERYTHING we had on the Extraterrestrial subject to the Soviet Union and in return would receive everything that they had on the subject.

MJ-12 said ABSOLUTELY NOT to both orders. JFK informed them they had no choice, that they answered to HIM, not the other way around.

MJ-12 disregarded this and brushed him off in hopes he would get the hint. He did not..

He was relentless with his efforts and by October of 1963 a Classified Cable that was typed in the basement of the Pentagon by either MJ-11 or 12. (12 members) This was sent to MJ-1. I read the UNBURNT copy of it and the response. In the 1st cable MJ-1 was being told that "LANCER" (JFK's Secret Service Codename) was relentlessly looking into their activities and needed to possibly be made "WET" (Killed) if his inquiries and persistence didn't cease. There was also talk of the Soviet Union.

In his response, MJ-1 used the Soviet Union jargon as an excuse to green light the Assassination of a sitting US President, due to Him attempting to force them to televise the Extraterrestrial exchange program to the ppl and to share Extraterrestrial knowledge with the Soviet Union.

Weeks after JFK was greenlit he was brutally murdered in front of the whole world and made an example out of.

Doubt me?

Give Bill Clinton a polygraph test and ask him if he said there was nothing to the #alien subject because he was terrified to end up like President Kennedy.

10K+ FOLLOWERS LATER I WILL RERELEASE HOW #UFOS WORK:

How it works is like this, there is an engine inside of these crafts usually in the middle. This engine is powered by a charged dark matter device that manipulates the 0 energy field that exists around everything. The purpose of this engine is to create an artificial electromagnetic field. The reason for this is because then the artificial electromagnetic field works like a magnet repelling against the Earth's natural electromagnetic field. This can create anything from a hover to going straight up, over, etc. The opposing polarities are what repellent. Here is the wildest part. As a byproduct of creating your own electromagnetic field, you have now created your own gravitational pull inside of the craft, independent of that of the Earth's natural gravitational pull. Now you don't even feel Earth's gravity while you are inside of this craft. You have essentially eliminated g-forces. That is the reason why these crafts can maneuver the way they do and not turn the occupant inside to mush. This is 100% the absolute truth. This is the simple version of these craft. The more complex version involves charged dark matter propulsion combined with this technology. That usually requires three separate engines working in tandem. Mostly used for deep space propulsion, and THIS is how THAT works;

I will now release the classified information on deep space travel:

It's a combination of three technologies put together. It works like this:
The anti-gravity repulsion technology that creates an artificial electromagnetic field around your craft of the opposing polarity of gravity and natural electromagnetic fields themselves. You repel off of that and as a byproduct you have now created your own artificial gravity inside the craft independent from the gravity outside of your gravity bubble and therefore have eliminated G forces.

Second technology is anti-matter, but in the classified documents is listed as charged dark matter propulsion.

The third is particle vacuum enhanced energy at the front of the craft pull it forward through a vacuum in space and time that opens up in front of it.

These three technologies combined at the same time allows you to reach what is known as optimum speed which is about 98% the speed of light and when you reach that speed you can now see and access wormholes that you had no idea were there before that are naturally formed when galaxies form and connect all over the universe. However these wormholes are not instantaneous and sometimes you spend months or even years in them depending on your destination. Not every wormhole can get you everywhere either like I said they're naturally formed not technologically made. They will be in the same place every time.

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE FIRST 8 EXTRATERRESTRIAL CIVILIZATIONS OF THE CLASSIFIED
ETE DESIGNATION:

ETE-1: Type A-D; Originally from the Rigel Star System, between 3 and 1/2 to 4 1/2 ft tall, Type A-C have a gray or grayish pigmentation that can come off a bit chalky sometimes. They have four fingers with little suction cups on the ends of each finger and some have webbing in between their fingers and toes. Type D have a brownish pigmentation and five fingers and five toes. This species started off fully biological until they ventured out into the cosmos and came in contact with what they now answer to, something called "The Keeper". Hey now worship technology and started to incorporate mechanics into their biological makeup thousands of years ago. They are now a civilization of biomechanical beings. First contact with the species begin with the recovered crafts off the coast of San Diego in 1942 following the "Battle of Los Angeles" where one craft indeed did go down in the waters. No survivors. We captured our first live member of the civilization when three 3-seater craft went down May 31st of 1947 on the plains of Saint Augustine New Mexico.

ETE-2: Type A-D; This civilization resides in The Zeta Reticuli 2 and 1 star systems. This species varies from 4 ft to 5 1/2 ft tall and have a grayish pigmentation, and the skin is rather rough and hard. Type D's skin is reptilian like and scaly yet still Gray. The species is extremely benevolent, yet before having a team of American soldiers living amongst them for over a decade lacked in social understanding for what we call common decency for human life following a death. This is the species that crashed at Roswell the night of July 3rd into the early morning hours of July 4th 1947. First contact with this species was a crash with no survivors on June 18th 1947. The Roswell crash resulted in a survivor being held in our custody until he died in 1952. This civilization is fully biological and consist of males and females. Most of which have six fingers and six toes.

ETE-3 Type A-C; This is also a gray species. Originally were built as biomechanical clones by an extraterrestrial species known as the "Nordics". The species is between 3 ft and 4 1/2 ft tall. They have no consciousness of their own and that's why I hybridization programs are so important to this species. Not the infiltrate our species, but to assimilate consciousness into their own civilization. These clones were modeled after ETE-1 & 2. Most of five fingers and five toes but some were made with four fingers and three toes. They now have colonized their own star system but unfortunately I forget which one it is. This species often are employed by Reptilians, but not all the time. First contact and recovery of a live CNBE from the civilization occurred in the early 1950s, I believe it was a crash in Texas.

ETE-4 Type A-B; This species is known as the Nordics. A humanoid species originally from the Rigel Star system too until they lost a war with ETE-1 and fled here. Type A have blonde hair and the males live approximately 37 Earth years and a female's little approximately 33 years. Type B are brunette and have longer life spans. First contact also occurred from a crash in the early 1950s.

ETE-5: PARA-TERRESTRIALS; These are interdimensional beings that are able to traverse dimensions by accelerating and decelerating their atomic makeups. You learned about them from the crashes and interrogations of ETE: 1-4.

ETE-6: Nordic Clones bread to rival the Nordics, they were created by ETE-1.

ETE-7: EXTREMELY SHORT, approximately one and a half to 2 ft tall species mostly found in Southern and Central Mexico. Pigmentation color changes. Usually found near Volcanos. First contact also Texas early 1950s.

ETE-8: "Tall Whites" from the pleiadian Star cluster. Don't like to be touched. 7 to 12 ft tall. Platinum White blondish hair. Owner of one of two bases under Antarctica. Sometimes employ ETE-1 & 3. First contact 1953.

HERE IS THE REAL ACCOUNT OF THE JULY 16TH 1969 MISSION TO THE MOON ACCORDING TO THE CLASSIFIED FILES:

The footage WAS faked, BUT we DID go to the moon in 1969. Here is what REALLY Happened;

On June 20th, almost a full month before, Neil Armstrong and company took off from Pine Gap Joint Operations base in Australia, touching down on June 24th. This was done so in the event the mission was a complete disaster, the US would avoid having it happen on National Television.

There was real pictures and film taken from this mission to be used when they got back, to play it as "live footage" for the world.

The plan was for the astronauts to then be sent back into Earth's Orbit before they were due back so they could do the "splash down" return for the whole World to see. HOWEVER, when the Astronauts Secretly returned to Earth on June 30th, it was determined that the video and photographic footage was ruined due to not being properly protected while traveling back through the Van Allen radiation belts. The only thing they had left was the original radio communications with Mission Control.

In order to avoid international embarrassment and prove to the world the US still went to the Moon, they recreated the footage and used the actual radio communications that NASA had recorded. It was then that all three Astronauts were sent back into space on July 16th to be sent back into Orbit to await the Splash down for the cameras.

It wasn't until they came back this second time that they were informed that they were not allowed to discuss any of the real details about what they encountered on their trip to the Moon. Forced to sign NDA's minutes before their press conference, where violating it was punishable by up to 10 years in prison and/or $1,000,000.00 in fines.

All other missions to the Moon, countermeasures were in place to protect against damaged footage from the Van Allen radiation belts. THAT'S why the rest of the mission's footage looks differently than the recreated footage.

*Only one video clip I have ever ran across has EVER told the true story. So I am attaching it to this RELEASE. The photos that you see from the Moon were NOT taken during Apollo 11. They were taken later, but most WERE observed by them in 1969.

So THIS is why the 1969 moon landing footage was faked, and it WASN'T because it didn't happen!

HERE IS THE ONLY VIDEO CLIP TO EVER GET IT RIGHT:

The #truth
Reagan told the world & they thought he was joking or just talking.
MJ-1 himself told the world they WON'T be stopped.
You want the TRUTH?
Here it is:

Okay. Get ready for everyone to call me a conspiracy theorist. But if you really want to know what's coming but I'm trying to prevent, I'll tell you.
In 1947 following Roswell, President Truman ordered the creation of the following: The @CIA

the national security act, and the national security council. Then issued a classified executive order. Order 54-12. The creation of a classified group of intelligence and military officers to oversee the #extraterrestrial subject and everything connected to it, answering only to the President of the United states. It's officially listed as a "special studies group". It's actual name is the Majestic 12 Group. Yes they are real. Once President Eisenhower took office he lost control of them immediately, and had to assert himself back into the picture. He was successful in doing so. But by the time he left office in 1961 he had lost all authority over the Majestic 12 group. Due to the classified nature of their existence, he called them by a nickname during his farewell speech in 1961. He called them the Military Industrial Complex. From the 1950s all the way up to the 1960s MJ-12 was in contact with multiple extraterrestrial species and civilizations. This includes what is known as the Galactic Federation of Light. Or GFL. When you hear people refer to a Galactic Federation that's their real name. During these interactions especially with the GFL, MJ-12 was told that they would not be brought into the galactic community as a planet itself, and would have to continue in secret, if all the governments we had on our planet did not unite as one planet. So in the 1960s MJ-12 starting putting a plan together. By Ronald Reagan's first administration this plan was finalized. It is now playing out before our very eyes and has been for a while. Here it is: The plan is to destabilize different regions of the world, using money, race, religion, culture, and politics to keep everyone divided worldwide. Then to start WW3 parallel to civil Wars, including the United States. Then once everyone is at their lowest point worldwide, The Majestic 12 group will use their alien reproduction vehicles (ARV's) and their programed life forms (PLF's) that they have been building for decades, to stage a fake Alien invasion on planet Earth. Billions of people will die during this process so they made something called the "Undesirables List". Any country, region, or type of person that does not fit the mold of what they see the future being will be eliminated along with all the other billions of casualties. It will blend right in. At that time the United Nations will release a statement informing all the citizens of the world that in order to fight a "common enemy" we have to unite as one species. And therefore all governments will be forming a One world government called the United Nations (Then a Governing Body) and it will be ran by its founders, the United States of America, AKA The Majestic 12 Group. Then after some fighting, they will hit the off switch and we will so called defeat this common enemy. Then everyone left will rebuild and they will introduce the so-called good aliens AKA the REAL #Aliens during the same time and act like those aliens helped defeat the so-called enemy. At that time we will be welcomed into the Galactic Federation as civilians, and not just in secret with the world governments. And we will then move into what is called the age of love. We are currently in something called the age of light. This is not a game, this is not a scam, and I will ask everyone that reads this to repost it. This is the tragedy I can stop from happening. I have a plan but no one's listening to it because no one is reading my whistleblower document that doubles as a proposal for #Congress .

I WILL NOW RELEASE "PARTICLE VACUUM ENHANCED ENERGY DEVICE" TECHNOLOGY FROM THE CLASSIFIED FILES:

These devices are categorized as P.V.E.E.D.'s & they are the most advanced form of a 0 point energy device ever created.

It works like this:

The first device like this that we recovered was in 1947 & part of the 1st #Roswell crash site Southwest of Corona New Mexico. We did not know what this device was. The survivor, EBE-1, who was a mechanic on board the craft, died before explaining this piece of the crash site on June 18th of 1952. It looks like plexiglass almost & this one specific device was about the size of a decent sized book; a little less than a foot long from top to bottom and 8 to 10 in wide, & about 1 and 1/4 to 2 in thick. On each side of what was determined to be the bottom of this device were small square metal plates. Each metal plate is a conductor/connecting module. These are where you attach an electrical device to receive your electricity. The amount of electricity distributed from this device depends on the "demand" of the electrical device that is put on it. This device can power anything from a cell phone to an entire city and it will never overheat or run out of energy. You can hook up an entire electrical grid to this device and it will power all of it. Then larger devices will be able to power entire regions and countries. This specific device turned out to be the power source of everything electrical within the craft itself including what would start the engine and create the elemental reaction to the nuclear element that's heavier than plutonium, yet still nuclear in nature, that powers the engine itself to create the artificial electromagnetic field which then gives you anti-gravity repulsion technology. Without this power source the craft and engine will not even turn on. Inside this device you will find little metal wires that are extremely small when it's not being used, but expand larger and larger the higher the demand that is put on it is. You will also find little globes of "CHARGED DARK MATTER" AKA antimatter. You will only see these under an electron microscope. When you plug something into this device the the charged dark matter globes begin to spin clockwise. Then a liquid form of what Bob Lazar told you was element 115 (not the element 115 currently on the periodic table) surrounds each globe. When these globes start to spin, the liquid element 115 goes from a translucent appearance to an off pink color. The liquid element 115 then heats up to over 100° F. The charged dark matter globes do not heat up and remain at room temperature. The little metal wires, that are all around the edges of this device, begin to expand and then interact with the charged dark matter globes that are spinning. This is because these wires are now receiving the energy from the 0 point energy field and expanding with the more energy they receive. As this is happening the charged dark matter globes begin to then bounce neutrons rapidly back and forth to the expanding wires, as they continue to spin & this process then enhances the amount of energy pulled from this vacuum in which the output is infinite. Also, this device emanates a megahertz signal that has a base level that then doubles with the higher electrical output required, however I do not know these megahertz ratings because I do not remember that detail. During my classified briefings I reviewed a black & white photograph of this device laying beside a slide rule. My handling agent informed me that this exact same photograph was shown to Ronald Reagan before he was President, by then President Richard Nixon. The original device is kept at Los Alamos National Laboratories. A second device that was slightly smaller was brought back from Planet Serpo, along with other Technologies and information, by the seven returning soldiers on August 18th 1978. We have created our own devices since. I explain more 10-27-24 @ 7Pm 📌

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE CLASSIFIED CURE FOR CANCER AND ALL OTHER PHYSICAL AILMENTS:

This technology is called "Genetic Manipulation Surgery" or GMS. I want to make very clear that this technology is NOT EXPERIMENTAL, but something that we have PERFECTED for decades now.

The knowledge of this technology was brought back from another planet, at the conclusion of a classified project, August 18th 1978. Armed with this knowledge and the assistance of extraterrestrial partners, we spent the entire 1980s experimenting with this technology and then by the early 1990s had perfected it. HERE'S HOW IT WORKS:

Our DNA is made up of trillions upon trillions of sequences. We learned that each sequence can be activated and deactivated using frequencies similar to radio wave frequencies. We also learned that each individual sequence has its own unique frequency that connects to it. Once you learn this frequency and catalog it you can then access the targeted DNA sequence by utilizing this frequency when targeting a subject with the hardware that makes up the Genetic Manipulation Surgery.

Let's say you have cancer, there are many different types of cancer, the first thing is to identify the DNA sequence specific to that exact cancer. Then go to the cataloged sequences and identify the frequency. Then connect that frequency to the sequence to essentially "COMMUNICATE" with the DNA sequence. Then once you are "synced up" you demand of the DNA to command the brain to then demand of the body. By doing this your body then heals itself using the deactivated DNA sequences that you had just reactivated and temporarily turning your immune systems up to immunity, but only specific to that exact issue & targeted DNA sequence.

Each individual ailment is specific to a unique DNA sequence and therefore needs to have its unique frequency identified in order for this process to be possible. The majority of these DNA sequences were identified with these frequencies throughout the entire 1980s decade. We already know it.

Cancer, Covid, diabetes, AIDS, thyroid issues, etc you name it and we can cure it with one procedure. And that's a fact.

The same procedure can also regrow lost limbs from the existing nub by utilizing this process and partnering it with submerging the exposed nub into a basin filled with liquid similar to what's inside of a human mother's womb, and then communicating with the DNA using this frequency to demand the DNA to command the brain to demand of the body that it regrow that limb specific to that sequence.

And depending on the size, the length, & the limb it's self, this process can take anywhere from a couple days, all the way up to a month. During my 4th classified briefing July 2004, I saw the classified files on this. There was a transcript to a meeting with the Majestic 12 group in 1993 discussing military applications for "Super Soldiers" essentially weaponizing this life saving technology. During my 8th and last classified briefing September 2012 I saw evidence that these super soldiers were being genetically altered using GMS to regrow lost limbs WITHOUT the liquid basin, as well as eliminate pain sensors in the body, & have superhuman strength & endurance, with no need to sleep. And I saw evidence that these soldiers were being developed out of volunteers & some are even recruited from the Wounded Warrior Project.

As far as I know the WWP has no idea whatsoever. I saw no evidence at all that they were involved with middle Manning the recruitment.

GMS is a revolutionary replacement for all medicine. You would never need another medication again, and this is the reason why it will never be released by MJ-12. They rely on profits from corporations they have hands in, and this does not exclude big pharmaceutical companies, in order to use profits put with what is siphoned off of the Defense budget through USAP's to fund their secret space program.

I know this is a lot to take in, but this is 🧠 #real 🙏

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE TRUTH ABOUT GOD AND JESUS ACCORDING TO THE CLASSIFIED FILES:

I have touched on this from time to time in certain replies, but I have never put it together into a post and I have had hundreds of people ask me to do it so now I am;

My 6th briefing January 2009 was almost 8 hours long & following its conclusion I cried on and off for three days.. 24 years old & unable to tell anyone, it was hard man. It was hard to find out the truth about religion & Jesus, & God etc. What I am about to release has been determined to be factual through a very meticulous vetting process, as well as corroboration by multiple extra terrestrial civilizations, as well as using "Yellow Book Technology" to go back and look at it in real time like a fly on the wall. We know this to be unequivocal facts;

... Christianity was created by ETE-2 who are from the Zeta Reticuli 2 Star System, 4th Planet out. (This is the species that crashed at Roswell)

They modeled Christianity after their own religion within their own civilization, even down to the Virgin birth of the "Son" of a Creator God. They artificially inseminated Mary with the fetus of Jesus Christ. So that's the first thing is that Jesus was in fact a REAL person. That's a fact.

However he was not talking to Angels and God. He was talking to benevolent extraterrestrials who wanted to teach us a better way than what our creators set the example of in what you would call "ancient times."

So by creating Christianity they were responsible for what you call the New Testament. In order to make it divine in nature, they had to have it connected by humans to the most Divine story in our existence; Our Creation..

So they connected the two & turned it into one religion that they already called Christianity named after Jesus Christ. And that is why the Old testament is so different from the new testament. Because the Old testament follows our very violent and oppressing creators, which were extra terrestrials from the planet Nibiru who created us to be slaves. I released that information already about their interactions with us & which ones were good & which ones were bad, so I will not repeat it here. But the point is; the New testament was created during a different time a thousand years later, after our creators left. That's why the New testament is all about turning the other cheek and thou shall not kill, steal, etc.

The God they speak of in the New testament is nothing more than the ETE-2 representative that was in control of that program. I do not know his or her identity.

The God that was spoken of within the Old testament is actually a mixture of three different individuals; Enlil, <http://En.ki>, & Marduk, with about 80% of the time being Enlil.

BUT, we found something else out along the way. Through some of the historical records from some of the oldest civilizations in the known Galaxy..

We found out that there IS ACTUALLY A GOD known as the "Creator Of All Things", and even our own creators have acknowledged this within their own records. This is unequivocal, and has been accepted as facts by The Majestic 12 group and multiple extraterrestrials civilizations.

It was described as a universal presence, with the comparison of what we would look at is a "female plug", where all other things and components can be plugged into. This is both metaphorically and literally. Literally our consciousness plugs into this universal presence just by being conscious and sentient. THAT'S actually the connection you feel when you pray! God IS actually real. But God is NOT who was misrepresented in all these religious texts around the world. This is not a theory. This is an accepted fact that is in classified files that have clearances you've never heard of. This is kept secret because you're not ALLOWED to know, NOT because you can't handle it. So the facts are:

Jesus was real but not the son of God.

God is real but not the God spoken of in ANY religious texts. 🙏

THE TRUE STORY OF THE CREATION OF HOMOSAPIENS ON PLANET EARTH ACCORDING TO THE CLASSIFIED FILES:

I have explained this on X Spaces before, but I have been asked to put this on a post. So here you go;

Some within the ancient astronaut theory community got this correct, but none more than the later works of Zechariah Sitchin. He got more wrong in his earlier works "The Earth Chronicles" series than he did in one of his later works it was listed as fiction. In fact it's so precise, it's my official position that he was being leaked information from the classified files later in his career. But I do NOT know that for sure..

Approximately 244,000 years ago we were created out of what was already here. Think of homo erectus type of pre-human. Our creators the Nibiruans (Sumerians call them the Anunnaki) arrived on this planet approximately 446,000 years ago. After over 220,000 years of them mining the gold mines in South Africa, their miners went on strike so to speak. Said it was too hard of work to continue on knowing how much longer they had left. There were two Royal Princes (they are where we get the idea of royalty from) that were here. First in command was level 50 Enlil. His brother was second in command, level 45 <http://En.ki>. Enlil stayed in the area of North Africa stretching over to the Sinai peninsula known as the E.Din. <http://En.ki> had Laboratories down by the gold mines in Southeastern Africa close to the coast of where they landed originally, and this area was called the Abzu. <http://En.ki> proposed they make a primitive worker called a "LuLu" that could work the mines for them and restart the gold production. They needed the gold to crush into a powder form known as Vril and suspended into their atmosphere repairing their damaged ozone layer. Highly reflective and protective, gold was the only solution to their problem. Enlil was opposed to this. <http://En.ki>, along with his half-sister/spouse Ninmah, and their Son Prince Ningishzidda move forward with the plan anyway. Using Homo erectus that had evolved from ape like beings, they spliced in their own human genome and made us in their image. This is not successful and so close to 10 tries. The offspring kept coming out deformed or irregular. It wasn't until a homo erectus egg, impregnated with Nibiruan sperm was then carried to term by the Nibiruan Princess Ninmah, that's the very first successful Homo sapien was created. They named him "Adamu". Ninmah then recruited 7 Female Nibiruans to be the ones to carry to turn seven Adamu's at a time. (Seven fertility goddesses) After 50 to 60 Adamu's were made, it was realized this was not feasible. The creation of a female companion was required for procreation. Enlil protested, <http://En.ki> again disobeyed (later receiving approval to continue by their Father King Anu) and the first female was created and they called her Tiamat. (Named after the planet there was destroyed in between Mars and Jupiter that Earth formed from 3.9 billion years ago) However sex did not equal procreation. Then Ningishzidda realized they needed the 23rd chromosome (they call the life essence gene) and that's when <http://En.ki> was laid on the table and this chromosome was taken from the marrow in his rib and placed into the genome of both Adamu & Tiamat. After creating their first child successfully, these two were moved to an area off limits to these new humans, a more tropical area at the time; The E.Din, to be put on display as the creation it would save the Nibiruan Civilization. Moving forward as <http://En.ki> (our creator) would visit them and teach them advanced language, and knowledge, they started to create clothing from the surroundings to emulate him. Enlil was enraged by this and labeled <http://En.ki> a "Serpent", & banished Adamu & Tiamat to the Abzu to work the mines like everyone else. Mayans would eventually call him the "Serpent God".

PLANET EARTH WAS FORMED 700 MILLION YEARS AFTER THE FORMATION OF OUR ORIGINAL SOLAR SYSTEM AND THIS IS HOW ACCORDING TO THE CLASSIFIED FILES:

Approximately 4.6 billion years ago, the solar system was formed and there was no such thing as planet Earth. Mars was the third planet and Jupiter was the fifth planet. There was the fourth planet in between those two that we will refer to as a Super Earth. This planet was approximately five times the size of our planet. It had oceans, animal life, vegetation, bacteria, etc.

There is also another planet in our solar system that's been around before our solar system was even formed. It is a rogue planet that broke off from the Syrus (A or B) star system. Approximately the same time our solar system is formed this planet got caught in the gravitational pull of our Sun. It is on an elliptical, elongated orbit like a comet. It only makes one trip around our sun every 3,400 or so years.

Approximately 3.9 billion years ago on one of this rogue planet's approaches towards our sun, it crossed the path of this fourth planet so closely that one of its 11 moons crashed into this Super Earth and cracked it into two pieces. One large piece, and one piece approx $\frac{1}{5}$ the size of the planet. The Super Earth had seven moons. So when this collision happened the larger piece that was left and six of those seven moons began to crash into each other and break those moons and that larger piece into millions of smaller pieces.

Meanwhile, the smaller piece that was $\frac{1}{5}$ the size remained unscathed, as did one of the seven moons.

After a couple hundred years this rogue planet made its way around the Sun and began its journey back out. As it crossed that orbit again, it's extremely large gravitational pull repelled that piece, hurdling it towards the Sun. That piece was shaped like a V. With the bottom of that V still holding a piece of the planet's core.

As it ricocheted towards the Sun the Moon that was left over was pulled along with it. With both pieces moving towards the sun slightly to the side.

As this piece and this Moon attempted to go passed the Sun, it was caught in the sun's gravitational pull and settled into an egg-shaped orbit. These two pieces orbited together. Then after a couple million years, this egg-shaped orbit STARTED to settle into a circular orbit, and this piece started to form an atmosphere, and this Moon that originally formed around a planet five times the size, started to revolve around it, becoming its own Moon. After a couple hundred million years of this, the vitrified life from before began to emerge as weather started to occur. Oceans began to fill, the atmosphere became thicker, plants started to regrow, oxygen began to expand, and Life began to flourish again. After about a billion years of this, this became a full-fledged ecosystem of a brand new planet 1/5 of the size of the original planet. We now call this place Earth! THIS IS THE REASON why we have a moon that science KNOWS is five times the size of what would normally form around a planet the size of our planet Earth. THIS IS THE REASON why if you dig deep enough ANYWHERE on the planet Earth you will come across a black line of ash. Worldwide this line is at the depth that is consistent with 3.9 billion years ago. THIS IS THE REASON why we have an asteroid belt in between Mars and Jupiter, that is only what is left over after 3.9 Billion years of ricochets, meteor showers, etc doing this debris down to a fraction of what it was. THIS IS THE REASON why the asteroids within the asteroid belt hold identical materials, elements, and metals as the planet earth. NOT because Earth was "seeded" by asteroids. That's a lie! And THIS IS THE REASON why we still have comets in our solar system that traverse that exact area every time they make their way around the sun. Those are leftover pieces of moons and a previous planet.

This is Facts.

Do with it what you will.

I WILL NOW AUTHENTICATE AND RELEASE A REAL EXTRA TERRESTRIAL LANGUAGE:

I tried to get all of it in the picture but it's missing some of the edges. All together this is over 350 symbols and characters that make up the written language of the civilization that crashed it Roswell:

ETE-2 Type-C

(Please note All 4 'Types' A-D utilize this same alphabet)

This was leaked in the 2010s, but I first encountered it during my very first Classified Briefing at the end of January 2003, as part of AFOSI's "OPERATION SOCIETY HIKE".

The first Classified document this copied photograph is from dates back to 1956 when it was first received via communication device similar to what you would call a laptop now. (Where we got that design from) And is actually where we got the first version of civilian text messaging from.

Does anyone remember in the late 90s/early 2000s when you would text on a cell phone you had to press down the same key repeatedly in order to circulate through three different letters?...

Imagine a laptop keyboard where you had to do the same thing for the whole keyboard so you could circulate through over 350 different symbols and characters. And then imagine that keyboard is slightly larger than what you would find on a laptop.

THAT is what we used to communicate with them starting in 1955, and then receiving an entire breakdown of their alphabet in 1956.

This communication continued all the way up through the 1960s. (They are our biggest allies to date) It took over 5 years for them and us to have a working understanding of each other's languages.

I'm authenticating this now because of the symbols and characters that appear to be on this egg-shaped craft, when I know that this species and civilization utilize egg-shaped crafts.

I'm not saying that it is one & the same, but I'm providing this and authenticating it straight from the Classified files so people have it as a reference.

But regardless, this is 100% unequivocally an Extra-Terrestrial language from almost 40 light years away!

You always say you want something concrete?

You say you want something released visually straight from the files?

As far as I know this has only been leaked One Time online and then was transcribed into one publication from that online leak.

It's never been authenticated by anyone who has had access to the Classified file that it comes from until now.

I am giving you that official authentication.

I WILL NOW RELEASE & AUTHENTICATE A CLASSIFIED WORLDWIDE #alien LIAISON PROGRAM THAT LASTED ALMOST 50 YEARS!!

The following Nations I can confirm we're part of this program:

ITALY
FRANCE
SWITZERLAND
CHILE
SOVIET UNION/RUSSIA
UNITED STATES

Alien liaison program known in Italy as the "Amicizia" program, in Germany has the "Freundschaft" program, in France as the "Amitié" program, & and the United States as the "W-56" program which then became the blanketed project name worldwide due to the Majestic 12 Group's involvement. The "W" actually symbolizes two "V's" which stood for "VICTORY VICTORY" &/or "DOUBLE VICTORY". Member identities I can 100% confirm are the following:

J. Allen Hynek
Allen Welsh Dulles (MJ-1)
{And by way of him all members of The Majestic 12 group and the MAJI Committee}
Professor Bruno Sammaciccia
Professor Stefano Breccia
Journalist Bruno Ghibaudo
Alberto Perego

Painter Gaspare De Lama
Professor Paolo Di Girolamo
George Adamski

And I can confirm there are at least 100 more confirmed members that I do not know the identities of worldwide.

Each member was given a "W-56 Government Ordinance Card" which was presented at specified military bases and intelligence compounds in each of these countries would allow them access to the specified areas required for this program.

The extraterrestrials involved ranged from 3 ft tall to almost 11 ft tall for many different star systems. Some of these extraterrestrials were also part of other projects and programs with the United States and some were not.

Absolutely none of the malevolent alien life forms, or "M.A.L.F.'s" as they are listed in the Classified Files, were permitted to participate.

This program had a heavy presence in South America, Central America, Italy, Europe, and Asia.

For example they have a base constructed a mile and a half under Italy approximately 62 miles wide, 1,000 ft from floor to ceiling, and 186 mi long. There is another base underneath of the Monti Sibillini National Park in Umbria as well, & at least three monolithic subterranean bases connected to this program still in operation as of 2012 that I am aware of but do not know the location to.

This program started in 1956, initiated in Italy, and continued until at least 2001, but the last thing relationships that were formed between extraterrestrial civilizations and certain Nations continued on after the program according to my last classified briefing in September 2012.

I will share pictures I am authenticating that were connected to this program, that have been leaked a long time ago that many of you have probably never seen. People try to act like they were fakes and disinformation was spread on purpose, but I can assure you these exact photographs have been copied and placed into the classified files along with other photographs of similar crafts.

It was speculated these extraterrestrials were from Venus, however that was misunderstood. That is just where they have one of many bases throughout our solar system.

This program and these crafts are where Germany's anti-gravity repulsion craft that is built in Brazil and known as Vrill Craft originated from.

This is 100% legitimate:

I WILL NOW RELEASE ALL THE DETAILED INFORMATION I HAVE ON THE 12 HEROES THAT DEPARTED FOR PLANET SERPO JULY 16th 1965:

CALLED "PROJECT CRYSTAL KNIGHT" BY THE DIA
DIA FINAL REPORT #:
80HQD893-20

CALLED "PROJECT SERPO" BY THE USAF S.O.C.
USAF FILE NUMBER(S):
H80HQD893-020

(Each Supplemental USAF FILE entry increased the last three digits by one for every entry & is why they added a third digit in anticipation of additions ranging in the hundreds)

On the left will be each individual's three digit identity code. Then their ACTUAL IDENTITIES, followed by their responsibility/position on the mission, along with whether they returned from their mission or not.
HERE GOES:

102- James E. McKeever- Team Commander. Returned.
203- Daniel R. Sheburn- Assistant Commander. Returned.
225- Carson C. Roboti- Team Pilot #1. Returned.
308- Karl S. Zuen- Team Pilot #2. (DIA lists him dying of a pulmonary embolism while exiting his protective containment area as they traveled through the wormhole, BUT USAF SOC lists him as returning & instead lists this as being 475 this happened to) 420- Cathy B. Albersic- Linguist #1. Returned.
475- Thomas L. Ortiz- Linguist #2. Returned.
518- Benji D. Jensorko- Biologist. (Decided to stay on planet Serpo and not return)

633- Michael T. Masterson- Scientist #1. Returned.
661- Kenneth L. Dehneth- Scientist #2. (Decided to stay on planet Serpo & not return) 700- Amos Vanscoten- Doctor #1. Returned.
754- Ronald X. Lormoski- Doctor #2. (DIA says he Died of a severe case of pneumonia while on planet Serpo, BUT USAF SOC says it was actually 633)
899- Timothy M. Ott- Security. (Died of an accidental fall while on planet Serpo)

*Out of close to a thousand candidates it was narrowed down to 158, and these are the 12 best that were selected from that.

*The main training facility for these 12 was Camp Perry Virginia, next to the York River near Williamsburg. This is a CIA training facility nicknamed "The Farm", with the official name being; "Armed Forces Experimental Training Activity" Center. (AFETA).

They were given their own training facility located within the larger complex itself.

*They were also trained at Shepherd Air Force Base in Wichita falls Texas, Ellsworth Air Force Base close to rapid City South Dakota, and Dow Air Force Base in Bangor Maine.

*Then they also received high altitude astronaut training at Tyndall Air Force Base near Panama City Florida.

*They also received specialized training in two to three locations outside the country.

*All training was under heavy guard.

*When not being trained, the team members were held at Leavenworth military prison.

*The mission was scheduled for 10 years but due to approximately 19 months of round trip space travel, including within wormholes, along with the time differential, the mission turned out to be 13 years 1 month and 2 days. Departing from the Nevada Test Site on July 16th of 1965 and returning to the same site on April 18th of 1978.

*2 years of debriefing by the DIA with assistance from USAF SOC, CIA, & NRO until their final report was compiled in 1980.

*Then further debriefings from 1980 to 1984 specifically by the CIA and USAF SOC by order of MJ-12.

Here is two slides I Am Authenticating that belong to Two USAF SOC Video Files entered into the original PROJECT SERPO Filing:

I WILL NOW RELEASE & AUTHENTICATE INTRICATE DETAILS OF PLANET SERPO, INCLUDING THE ANIMAL LIFE:

Location: Zeta Reticuli 2 Star System (binary star system so two suns in the sky one brighter than the other)

Axis Tilt: 39°

South Pole: Very dry, Hot, Volcanic with average temperatures from 99° to 135° F.

North Pole: Snowy, cold, but with the unexplained phenomenon of being a constant 33° every day & never receiving direct sunlight, so deep snow able to accumulate.

Equator: Average temperature between 80° and 120°. With sparse vegetation, and desert like conditions, this is where the majority of the "Eben" villages are located.

Their living quarters look like igloos made of adobe brick with dirt floors that go down multiple levels. (Luke Skywalker's home planet on Star Wars was modeled after this description & put into the movie as part of the Public Acclamation Program)

Team members mapped the planet and broke it down into four quadrants per hemisphere.

The southern four quadrants are as follows:

The southern hemisphere is mainly all flat desert with the exception of volcanoes, except quadrant III. Quadrant III is filled with valleys, caverns, and gullies as deep as 2-3,000 ft. Evidence of earthquakes were found when fault lines were identified along the northern tip of the southern hemisphere. There was evidence of past magma flow and activity.

Northern hemisphere, quadrant 1 was where our team of 12 heroes were eventually relocated to as it had a more moderate climate of an average temperature between 50° and 80°. There is a lot of vegetation here. There are trees similar to evergreens in the northern hemisphere, specifically in this quadrant it is more prevalent. However, instead of sap these trees emanate a milky white liquid that the Ebens use for nourishment.

All Ebens are vegetarians.

The Northern hemisphere contains both mountains & valleys in all four quadrants. One mountain in the northern hemisphere measured 15,000 ft in elevation.

The base camp that was established for the team in quadrant one was nicknamed "Little Montana". Team Commander 102, James McKeever, was from Colorado, but he and others agreed that the landscape around them in quadrant 1 was very reminiscent of the Montana landscape, hence the nickname.

Today that place is now a thriving colony (FOB) in the cosmos, as part of our secret space program.

The plant life in the northern hemisphere also included both Tall and short grass. The shorter grass has a bulb at the top of each piece almost like a clove but it's not a clove at all. There is also a marshland and in these marshlands for plants that had a much larger bulb that was reported to taste almost like a melon. This melon was a main food source for the Ebens.

The animal life is as follows:

There is a mountain lion type of animal, however it has a mane like a prairie lion. This animal was not aggressive and is found all over the northern hemisphere.

There is an oxen type of animal similar to a cow, but larger nicknamed "The Beast". This animal was the one animal that our team was permitted to hunt & utilize for protein that the human body needs.

In the southern hemisphere, in quadrant IV our team encountered a very large snake-like creature that was VERY aggressive. They used conventional weapons and killed this animal and in true American form wanted to cook & eat it but we're not permitted to do so. The snake like creature was approx 15 ft long and approx 1¾ foot around. And when dissected the eyes were more like human eyes than snake eyes.

There is an armadillo like creature that varies from small to large in size & every quadrant in both hemispheres.

There are 2 flying animals. One similar to a hawk & another to a flying squirrel.

There are no fish, only variations of eel like creatures.

No flying insects.

Only a few different types of smaller roach & beetle like bugs.

That's it.

I'M AUTHENTICATING SLIDES OF USAF GEN. (IDENTIFY UNKNOWN) PART OF TEAM DEBRIEF.

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE CLASSIFIED LIST OF CLONED BIOLOGICAL ENTITIES:

Only one thing that's ever been released that I know of references this and got most of it correct, and that is the original Blue Planet Project that was released in the late 1980s. I will fill in more blanks and information.
Here it is:

CBE-1: "Archquloid".

-Created and given Civilization by ETE-2 Type-A, but designed to be slaves, this species is originally from the 5th planet out of a star system within the Cygnus arm. And yes, this star system revolves around a star about the same size as our sun. When translated to English you pronounce the name of their home planet "Pon-Til" and it is spelled Pontel.

This species turned out to be aggressive with a base IQ. We had one prisoner that was given to us and held at the Extra-Terrestrial Prison complex at the subterranean sections of the S2 facility located within the Nellis facility, AKA the Nevada Test Site.

It actually escaped when "J-ROD" let it out, in the early 80s and made it all the way to Gate 3 where it actually killed a guard and was shot by another and died a year later. This species is a moderately tall gray skinned species with a very wide top of the head that comes down into a skinny face, has slanty pointed eyes with yellow cat eye like Vertical pupils.

CBE-2: "Quadloid".

-Created and given Civilization by ETE-2 Type-B, this species is originally from The Zeta Reticuli 1 Star System, 4th Planet out. When translated to English, the name of their original home planet is "Otto", which is pronounced "AUTO". They were created for the purpose of being allies following the 100 Year War (Earth years in length) where other clones were used to defeat their (ETE-2's) enemies.

This species was created from two other extraterrestrial species' DNA; Reptilians & Mantids (the praying mantis type of Insectoid that has been around for millions of years).

This civilization are known to be both benevolent and malevolent towards humans.

CBE-3: "Heplaloid".

-This species was created and given Civilization by ETE-2 Type-A, and are originally from a planet within the Cygnus Arm.

The solar system in which they are from contains between 10 to 12 planets and their planet is the fourth one out from their Sun. Their planet is a little bit larger than Earth. And when translated to English is referred to as "Damco", Pronounced; "Damn Co".

I have never seen a photograph, or a drawing of this species, and unfortunately I do not remember much about the description I read on the species. The others I saw the photographs so it is a lot easier to remember.

CBE-4: "Trantaloid".

-Originally from the Epsilon Eridani Star System, this Insectoid species was then cloned and brought back to Zeta Reticuli 1 Star System, 3rd Planet out, and giving its own civilization. When translated to English the name of this planet is called "Silus", Pronounced; "Sigh Luss".

They were a mistake. This species has now joined forces with the original insectoid species they were cloned from and called the same thing in our classified files; Trantaloids. Cloned, and non cloned, both now of the same civilization which is headquartered in the Epsilon Eridani Star System, in which the cloned ones relocated to.

The species resembles a stick bug here on Earth, with two bipedal legs and two arms on each side totaling six appendices. This species can retract the appendages at will to disguise their self as a regular bipedal hominoid, and using a defense mechanism rooted in their prehistoric DNA, similar to a reptilian chameleon, they can change their skin to then blend into any background or environment, including disguising their self as a human. This species is EXTREMELY HOSTILE, and considered to be the number one threat in the known Galaxy to us and all other Extra-Terrestrial civilizations, including the Galactic Federation of Light. The Galactic Federation's main mission is to protect other civilizations from them, while exploring new worlds.

I WILL NOW RELEASE ADDITIONAL CLASSIFIED INFORMATION NEVER BEFORE RELEASED ABOUT THE MAJESTIC 12 GROUP

I will have to give a quick history lesson to those that don't know exactly what MJ-12 is.
About halfway down this post I will reveal never before released information.
Here goes:

As a direct response to the Roswell crash in the early morning hours of July 4th (night of July 3rd) 1947, (Not the June 18th crash) the following actions were taken by President Truman:

- He created the US Air Force from the existing Army Air Force.
- He created the CIA out of an existing intelligence agency hanging around from World War II.

- He forced the National Security Act through to approval.

- He created the National Security Council.

- He issued a classified executive order (YES he did) to create a centralized group within the National Security Council, known as order 54-12.

When searching the National Archives this will only be listed as a "SPECIAL STUDIES GROUP".

THIS was actually the formation of the Majestic 12 Group which was formed to operate & oversee the entire extraterrestrial & #UFO subject in the "interest of the National Security of the US", and answering only to the Office of the President of the United States.

By the time Eisenhower became President, MJ-12 had already assassinated their first leader; Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, for wanting to reveal the truth to the American public, BUT made it look like he had went crazy and then killed himself.

Eisenhower, being a respected military General, when MJ-12 refused him access to what they were doing after he took office, he threatened to send a Special forces unit loyal to him to take back their Command center at the time & take over the entire operation from them. This was the first & last time that the Majestic 12 Group blinked.

They allowed Eisenhower's representative access to the Technologies, the laboratories, and an extraterrestrial held prisoner. They even let him sit in on the interrogation.

Then in 1953 everything changed

The Majestic 12 Group realized they had to delegate their responsibilities because the 12 individuals, that were chosen from Military, Intelligence, and Scientific professions, were not enough if they wanted to expand into the private sector & become self-funded, while still siphoning from the defense budget.

THIS IS THE PART THAT HAS NEVER BEEN RELEASED:

The Majestic 12 formed an actual committee that still answered to them, but with different compartments where they could still keep everything compartmentalized per responsibilities.

When they did this they created a brand new security clearance out of their original MAJESTIC clearance, known as MAJIC EYES ONLY

And yes you know of that clearance, but what you DON'T know, is what it stands for:

Military

And

Joint

Committee

So when they say that clearance is for MJ-12 and those EYES ONLY that they clear to view it, they are referring to their own committee members, and anyone those committee members then compartmentalize for each compartment.

This committee started off with 24 individuals (2 per MJ-12 member) and is now grown to over 200.

THIS was how they Incorporated companies like IBM, GE, EG&G, Lockheed, Boeing, Raytheon, etc with some of these CEOs like Ben Rich and Kelly Johnson even being promoted to become one of the top 12 within MJ-12 itself.

Now, there are six senior members of the M.A.J.I.C. who have defected and plan to come forward anywhere between now and the end of January.
They'll be revealing actual proof that everyone wants and asks me for.
-FIRST HAND accounts of crash retrieval sights.
-ADDRESSES of CURRENT locations #Aliens & Tech is stored.
-NAMES/DATES/TIMES/EVENTS, etc.

In response, MJ-12 have deployed unmanned & manned Alien Reproduction technology (NJ) & controlled media coverage to counter these 6 about to blow the lid off things, by making everyone think it "could be a THREAT TO NATIONAL SECURITY" and we need to prepare.

@truthtold24

I WILL NOW RELEASE AND CONFIRM THE ONE TRUE ACCOUNT OF ADOLF HITLER:

You first need to know that Hitler was selected purposely.

I will release to you exactly who recruited and groomed Hitler for his position, why that was done, and at the order of what secret organization that still exists to this day.

Here goes:

His name was Karl Haushofer..

As part of the Imperial German army, he was then appointed to teach at the war academy in 1903.

Making a name for himself as very well versed in military operations and precision, modeled after the Persian military design, this Garnered the attention of the Japanese Empire.

In 1908 after spending 5 years at the war academy he was sent to Tokyo Japan where he was to study Japanese military operations and be the acting artillery instructor for the Japanese Army starting in 1909.

He was greeted by the Emperor himself, Kokuryu-Kai. This man was the leader of the Black Dragon Society. The Black Dragon Society were the controlling underground Network of powerful men that controlled all of Japan and had infiltrated powerful circles all through Eastern Asia and even into the United States.

Within the Black Dragon Society was the Green Dragon society which was more exclusive. And within the Green Dragon Society was the most exclusive Society known as the Society of Green Men..

The Society of Green Men answer directly to the Alpha Draconian Reptilians. (Type A that I released last year)

They had a plan to unite Japan and Germany to implement a One World Empire. They were confident that they could conquer Russia by attacking them on two fronts with Germany and Japan surrounding them.

Their vision for Germany's new path forward involved finding the right figurehead who was both charismatic and intelligent but willing to implement such cold-hearted fascism.

Haushofer then founded the Thule Society in Munich in 1918, which secretly took their orders directly from the Society of Green Men, one year before becoming an associate professor of geopolitics at Munich University.

(He also was the one who founded the Vrill Society)

At the behest of Rudolf Hess, he attended Adolf Hitler's trial for treason in Munich in 1923. This is where he made his decision that Hitler was the chosen one for this plan and immediately got the approval.

With the assistance of Hess who was in Hitler's inner circle, he began to indoctrinate Hitler inside his prison cell at Landsberg Prison I'm getting ready for me in 1923 and all through 1924.

Then using his Thule connections, he was able to fund the rise to power after the release of Hitler and formed the Nazi party out of the existing Thule Society.

Hitler then came to power in 1933.

But after the fake suicide following his defeat in World War II this is what happened:

He had relocated with all surviving and so-called missing SS commanders and members, but not before kidnapping and transporting tens of thousands of blonde hair blue-eyed women out of Germany to Southern Argentina. the reason why Southern Argentina was selected is because it was the closest point to Antarctica, where at that time it was decided that the Nazis would be relocated to The reptilian Base that borders the sub-ice city of Atlantis, catty corner from the Pleiadian base, the Nazis first encountered on their first trip to Antarctica which became violent.

However due to his defeat, Hitler was not permitted to join them and was forced to live out the rest of his days lakeside in isolation until he died in the 1980s.

THAT my friends is EXACTLY what happened and is straight from the Classified files.

Hitler did NOT die at the end of World War 2, and he was selected and groomed by an individual that was selected & groomed by a secret society, within a secret society that answer to an Extra-Terrestrial species.

Believe it or not? This is #facts & the United States Government KNOWS it.

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE TRUE STORY BEHIND "CAIN AND ABEL" & THE ORIGINS OF THE MAYANS:

The Nibiruans (Anunnaki) had a presence in South America as well. Not only was there more gold found in that region, but when a member of http://En.ki's bloodline was banished to this area, other humans were sent with him for him to start his own civilization. The reason why he was banished was because he killed Ab.eal, but was not punished by death because he was a descendant of http://En.ki. So out of respect for him they banished http://Ka.in.

Right before we were authorized to have civilization we were taught farming and agriculture. The two chosen for this first was http://Ka.in & Ab.eal.

Ab.eal was chosen to be the one who learned how to raise livestock & cook meat for offerings to the "Gods" (Nibiruans).

http://Ka.in was chosen to learn agriculture and farming. He was to learn to grow wheat & barley and other foods to offer the "Gods" as well.

After years of toiling the soil and learning the livestock trade it was time to make their first presentation to their Grandfather Lord http://En.ki, & his brother Lord En.lil.

When http://Ka.in presented his freshly made bread it was enjoyed by the two.

They were very pleased & he was very happy to see this.

However

When it came time for Ab.eal to present his offering it was a sizzling & great smelling piece of lamb.

Now you can imagine the pleasure the "Gods" showed while they ate the lamb. Just like the difference between eating empty hamburger buns and then putting a sizzling cheeseburger in the middle..

http://Ka.in was so hurt and jealous that the next day in the fields as Ab.eal bragged about how much the Gods loved his offering, http://Ka.in became enraged. He beat Ab.eal's head in w/ a rock until he died & was found crying over the body by his mother.

HE is the reason why there were ever Incas, Aztecs, and Mayans. They were all descendants of http://Ka.in.

En.lil, who was first in command here on Earth, and the brother of http://En.ki, had previously, over 200,000 years earlier, labeled http://En.ki a "Serpent" for teaching Adamu & Tiamat (Old Testament's Adam & Eve) advanced language, some astrology, modesty, and other knowledge while they were on display within the E.Din, which was located between Northern Africa and the Sinai peninsula.

THIS is why all the South American ancient civilizations either recognized or worshiped the "Serpent God", (http://En.ki) and other Nibiruans would visit this area, not only to check on http://Ka.in and his descendants, but to load up gold.

The ones that would come to load up the gold would be on shuttlecraft. When exiting the shuttlecraft they would still have on their helmets and have their backpacks with oxygen machines that they would carry as they exited the craft. This is the depiction that you see in these hieroglyphics. And the reason why you see them in both of these areas; because they're depicting the exact same thing. But the eye of the beholder interprets the helmet and what it looks like as being either a bird head or a lizard head type of look. The wings are simply an indication that they knew that this being was capable of flight, because as I said; this is depicting them right after they would land and exit The Craft. I learned this during my 6th classified briefing January 2009, which was the most disturbing briefing I ever received, and taught me the truth behind religion and angels, and God, and demons, and the devil, and heaven, and hell, etc.. I cried for 3 days as a 24-year-old young man who had no one he was allowed to tell this to...

So this is the TRUE STORY according to what is in the Classified files, specifically DIA reference manuals, Majestic 12's Special Operation Manuals (SOM's), and CIA "Group-6 Caretaker Manuals".

Have a good day 🙏

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE CLASSIFIED DETAILS CONCERNING THE REPTILIANS

All three types of Reptilian #alien species on Earth are originally from the Draco constellation of star systems, here are the three types:

Type A;

Originally from the Thuban Star System, AKA Alpha Daconis, approximately 300 light years from Earth. This is a single star system. -This species is the oldest and most influential reptilian species of the three. They have a neck that is almost a foot long, small ears, large pupils that are oval shaped, they have a snout like a small dinosaur with two breathing holes for a nose, and a long wide mouth. The skin on the front of their neck is loose like an iguana, and their spine area is a raised ridge on the scaled skin that follows the spine. They are cold-blooded. They eat meat as well as consume blood and other bodily fluids from mammals. They can detect fear and when they do, pleasure endorphins are released within their brain. Basically fear turns them on.

Type B;

Originally from the Alrakis Star System AKA Mu Draconis, approximately 89 light years from Earth. This is a multi-star system. -This species has a wrinkled forehead and very sharp angled ears that are set off of their scalp about half an inch. Their neck is approximately 6 to 8 inches long and have loose skin around, not only their neck, but also their upper chest. They have large oval, yet vertical pupils. Their skin appears to be more bumpy than scaled, yet still scaled. Their Mouth is HUGE! It looks like two clam shells opposite of each other. This species is cold-blooded and they consume meat and plant-based food.

Type C;

Originally from the Chi Draconis Star System approximately 26 light years from Earth. This is a binary star system. -This species of reptilian look and are shaped like homo sapiens but with a snake-like skin that has chameleon abilities to look like regular humans of any pigmentation as a defense mechanism. However they have a flatter looking nose close to the face with two oval openings for nostrils. Their lips are no different from the rest of their skin with an average size mouth of what you would see on a human. Their eyes are slightly larger than ours but with thin vertical pupils resembling cat eyes. They are cold-blooded. This reptilian species, instead of giving live birth the way the first two do, they have an egg inside their body that hatches INSIDE of the female mother's womb, and then they give live birth to what came out of it. This species eats meat, plant-based food, and blood from certain mammals.

*All three Types of Reptilians range in height from between 5 ft to 6 1/2 ft tall, HOWEVER; Type A have genetically created a flying reptile similar to what we imagine a "dragon" looks like to fight for them, but it does not breathe fire and is not as large. I do not recall exactly how big this creature is but I do know they are large enough to be ridden.

Reptilians have had a presence on Earth for millions of years ever since their female warriors overthrew the Alpha Daconis Kings and took over power, replacing them as Queens.

The city of Atlantis was a reptilian City that had cloned humans as slaves and extraterrestrial humanoids such as the Nordics and Tall Whites living amongst them there.

After a too close pass of the planet Nibiru approximately 13,000 years ago caused what is known as the "great flood" when the poles shifted due to its massive gravitational pull. The continent in which the city of Atlantis resided became frozen over and is now known as Antarctica. This city has been accessed since then it is still a bustling, technologically advanced City.

The reptilians have the second largest base, also in Antarctica, which is subterranean and houses the Nazi Fourth Reich & its German intelligence unit, & their fleet of Alien Reproduction Vehicles known as "Vril Disks."

Only the following clearances can access these files:

-TOP SECRET: CODEWORD

-MAJESTIC OR "MAJIC EYES ONLY" (MEO).

That is IT!

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE DETAILS ON THE PUBLIC ACCLAMATION PROGRAM

Official Start: 1977
Head Of Operations: Steven Spielberg
THE FOLLOWING NAMES I CAN CONFIRM WERE ATTACHED TO THIS PROGRAM WITHIN THE CLASSIFIED FILES:

Carl Sagan
JJ Abrams
Roland Emmerich
Robert Zemeckis
Dean Devlin
Alex Kurtzman
Michael Bay
Ed Solomon
George Lucas
Lowell Cunningham

Mandate: To desensitize the population to the existence of extraterrestrials through movies, TV shows, books, etc. Surrounding real "Easter Eggs" of facts with a fictional story.

Telling you, without telling you, so you're ready when they actually tell you and also pushing purposeful narratives about #Ufos & #aliens on the public for later False Indication & Warning Operations.

How it started:

In 1974 Steven Spielberg was contacted by a documentary filmmaker named Robert Emenegger. "Bob" Emenegger was finalizing a documentary he was tasked to put together by the Nixon Administration.

First contacted by Harry Robbins Halderman, in 1972.

I was briefed on classified files and documents from multiple agencies detailing what I'm about to tell you:

Bob was first contacted and told they would like him to make a documentary on President Nixon. It was explained to him that he would get access to classified information and files that detailed projects and programs that the administration would be declassifying in the near future which gave him unprecedented and Total Access to certain things.

Some involved animals being used in battle and for intelligence gathering and technologies that were still classified.

He was taken to Wright Patterson Air Force Base and was introduced to a Air Force Colonel William Coleman.

Colonel Coleman then took Bob to Norton Air Force Base where he was introduced to the head of the Air Force's film depository at that time Paul Shartle.

That is when Bob was asked to actually make a documentary film about UFOs on behalf of the Nixon Administration.

Bob was promised that at the end of this documentary's completion he would be given reel to reel film from April 24th 1964 when The Majestic 12 Group met with the civilization from the Roswell crash after agreeing to The exchange program Project Serpo.

Bob was to put this footage at the end of the documentary.

However this was being done without the approval of the Majestic 12 Group.

Therefore when Bob got done with his documentary in 1975 Colonel Coleman then phoned Bob & told him they would no longer be part of the documentary and could not release the footage, as this would only hurt the Administration following Watergate.

(I did not see files during my briefings that indicated Watergate was purposely done by MJ-12 to avoid this release, but verbally I was, & it is my opinion it is true)

The documentary was re-released in 1977. It was called "UFOs: Past Present & Future". But the original copyright releases from 1974.

Copies of all the classified files & documents used to make this documentary were given by Bob to an up-and-coming filmmaker by the name of Steven Spielberg. Immediately Spielberg contacted Columbia studios it told them he wanted to make a movie about UFOs.

They bought the script "Kingdom Come", & Spielberg met with Dr J Allen Hynek to get the additional Project Serpo info, & he then went to the Sherry Netherland Hotel for 3 Days & rewrote the script and renamed it "Close Encounters Of The Third Kind" as a nod to Dr J Allen Hynek for giving him the Serpo information, in which he put at the end of his movie without even explaining why.

Spielberg was briefly detained & debriefed following its release in 1977 where he explained how he obtained the information.

(Read the transcript myself)

MJ-12 used this opportunity to desensitize the public & push the narrative that aliens would eventually invade, but there were good aliens as well.

I WILL NOW ADD A SMALL CLIP DEPICTING THE 12 SOLDIERS SENT TO SERPO AT THE END OF THE MOVIE AS PART OF THE PROGRAM:

(Roy Neary as # 13 is fictional)

@truthtold24

I WILL NOW RELEASE THE TIMELINE OF MAJOR UPCOMING EVENTS ACCORDING TO THE CLASSIFIED FILES:

October/November will be James Webb Telescope finding "biologics/biological signatures" in TRAPPIST 1/Alpha Mensae Star Systems, and the release of "Project Coral Lane" which I don't know enough about, I just know it has to do with this subject.

Running parallel to This, World War 3 is allowed to start any time between right now and this time next year.

Leading up to World War 3 during the same time frame we will see Israel's Dome of the Rock being destroyed and ushering in biblical prophecy, along with the Afghanistan Taliban government announcing their allegiance to the United States and the West for the upcoming World War 3. This will be accepted by the United States and confirmed by the United Nations.

Then by mid 2026 they will interrupt World War 3 with a fake alien invasion.

Then by the end of 2026 They will announce through the United Nations that in order to come together to defeat a common enemy we have to put our petty differences to the side and our borders to the ground and become one nation under God flying the United Nations banner, with the United Nations founder the United States AKA The Majestic 12 group at the head of the table with the UN permanent members sitting on the board.

Then around mid-2027 the Galactic Federation of Light, and a few other extraterrestrial species, will so-called help us defeat the so-called bad aliens; AKA programmed life forms (PLFs) flying alien reproduction vehicles. (ARVs) They will make it look like a good fight and then hit the off switch and say we defeated this so-called enemy, and by the end of 2027 everything will be over and we will be included as an entire Society into the Galactic Federation of Light and begin to rebuild, without all the undesirables they got rid of in the process, alongside their so-called "acceptable" collateral damage to obtain MJ-12's "Full Spectrum Dominance."

Their deceptive disclosure plan has been put right in front of you leading up to this. Telling you that aliens are a "THREAT TO NATIONAL SECURITY" and they know that because they've "studied" it.. Acting like programs are being leaked to identify #alien craft as "threats" so that's what you're looking at them as. The whole point of releasing this James Webb Telescope information is to convince you that not only are aliens real, but they're on their way... And they may or may not be a threat.

That way you accept it as reality when they interrupt their manufactured World War III with the fake alien invasion..

It's ALL a lie!

It's okay he's smarter than you, it's okay that Christ is king

It can seem scary at first, breaking away from attachment to sin. But you're not alone when you do this. Not only can you lean on your brothers and sisters in Christ, lean on Christ. Through him you can make it.

You'll stumble, fall, at times feel like you've even regressed. But put your faith in Him, there is no unforgivable sin.

For Christ's sake, this is supposed to be a history board.

In all of this arguing, there had not been a single instance of bringing up an actual historical figure on the subject.

This is William James Sidis. He was believed to be in the IQ range of 250 to 300. There reason why it's not well known how high it was is because he was a known liar.

But, that doesn't discredit why he was recognized as a genius.

He was a child prodigy who graduated Harvard at the age of sixteen. Got into a violent protest advocating for socialism where he sided with the socialists and went to jail for it.

He wrote books where only one of his books anticipated new concepts in astrophysics. He invented a century spanning calender and went after the New Yorker for invading his privacy and mischaracterizing him.

They ended up settling out of court.

He would then die at the age of 36 from a stroke.

He also said he wouldn't bother getting into romantic entanglements for the sake of intellectual pursuit only for him to eventually develop a crush.

So, there you go. Some good being a genius did him.

Christcucks have built their entire ideology around Jews—not just as enemies, but as a necessary piece of their entire religious system. Christianity is a Jewish creation, worshipping a Jewish messiah, following a book written by Jews, and yet, whenever things go wrong, they instinctively turn to Jews as the eternal scapegoat. This isn't just religious contradiction—it's a built-in mechanism of control. Christianity doesn't function without Jews because it was designed to keep its followers forever chasing an enemy that it simultaneously worships. The more Christians obsess over "the Jewish problem," the less they look at the Jewish origins of their own faith, trapping them in a never-ending cycle of submission and resentment.

And yet, for all their seething, you have to wonder—why do they keep Jews around? Why haven't they ever truly tried to erase them? Because without Jews, Christianity collapses. It needs an enemy to sustain itself, a villain to explain away its failures, a group to blame for why its prophecies never come true. Christianity has never been about strength or sovereignty—it has always been a slave morality, where suffering is noble and submission is holy. But to keep the slaves from revolting, they need to believe there's a hidden hand keeping them down, rather than admitting they are slaves by choice. Jews play the role of both masters and scapegoats, ensuring that Christcucks stay obedient while always believing they're fighting against some grand, cosmic evil. They don't want Jews gone—they need them to keep their delusion alive.

Are you not aware of what's coming? God is about to CLOSE UP SHOP on this planet, and it could happen any day now. See Notes 1, 13, 14, 18, and 19 at the bottom of this Reddit post:

https://reddit.com/r/Retconned/comments/u2c2o1/revelation_812_time_is_50_faster_now/

And before you read the synopsis below, let me say this: I think the "Bozrah" framework is the ONLY valid framework in Christian eschatology. At first, it may seem beyond absurd and even non-biblical. Upon closer examination, though, you'll realize it's the real deal and 100% biblical.

Synopsis:

The Second Coming of Jesus will occur on Earth. First of all, the planet that we're currently on is Bozrah, not Earth (Bozrah is basically a replica version of Earth). Secondly, people who have lived here their entire lives need to realize that this planet was never Earth, and it never will be. It's an impostor planet.

Bozrah is the sanctuary planet that God's elect are sent to so that they're not on Earth when the Antichrist is in power. However, instead of having to deal with the Antichrist, Bozrah will have to deal with Jesus when he comes here for the day of vengeance (which could happen any day now). After 1.5 years of this "day" of vengeance, this planet will be destroyed and the elect will be going back to Earth with Jesus. Some Bozrah natives will be going to Earth as well.

JESUS IS LORD

DELIVERANCE

MUSIC TOO LOUD? TURN YOUR SPEAKERS DOWN.

Jesus brought you to this site, so keep reading to find out what HE wants to tell you.

GO YE INTO ALL THE WORLD!

THIS WEBSITE HAS BEEN THERE.

Jesus commanded ALL Believers to CAST OUT demons (Mark 16:17) (Mathew 10:8). Jesus did not say to go to someone else to have your demons CAST OUT. Nor did Jesus say to CAST OUT everyone else's demons and leave yours IN.

Luke 6:46-49

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

47 Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like:

48 He is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock.

49 But he that heareth, AND DOETH NOT, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great.

Mathew 7:5 - Jesus speaking - Thou hypocrite, first CAST OUT the beam [demon] OUT of thine own eye; [SELF DELIVERANCE] and then shalt thou see clearly to CAST OUT the mote [demon] OUT of thy brother's eye.

Luke 11:24 - When the unclean spirit (demon) is gone OUT of a man, he (demon) walketh through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto MY HOUSE (YOU) whence I came OUT.

Luke 11:25 - And when he cometh, he findeth it (YOU) swept and garnished (you are not doing self Deliverance).

Luke 11:26 - Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits (demons) more wicked than himself; and they enter IN, and dwell there:(IN YOU) and the last state of that man is worse than the first.

Luke 24:39 - ...FOR A SPIRIT (DEMON) HATH NOT FLESH AND BONES...

This is why demons want to be IN you, and why every Believer needs to do self Deliverance.

Luke 4:18 - Jesus speaking - The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to PREACH the gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to HEAL the brokenhearted, to PREACH DELIVERANCE to the CAPTIVES, [Believers] and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised.

The Ministry of Jesus was threefold. He Taught, did Healings and Miracles, and cast OUT demons.

There are over two billion Christians in the world. You can find ANY one Believer to help you with Deliverance (besides doing self-Deliverance).

This website will PREACH/TEACH you what you need to do DAILY to defeat the works of the devil. In addition, many things you probably never heard of before in "church".

This is the website of DEMONBUSTER.COM
DELIVERANCE MANUAL

This very extensive and free website IS the Manual.
We have no printed or audio material to send you.

HOW YOU CAN, AND DO, HAVE DEMONS - EVERYONE HAS DEMONS, NO EXCEPTIONS (so this includes all Christians).

Jesus said in Mark 7:21 - For from WITHIN, out of the heart of men - [any human], - proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders - [caused by demons within],

7:22 - Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: - [caused by demons within]

7:23 - All these evil things come from WITHIN, and defile the man - [any human]. The main point in these three Scriptures is not the "evil" mentioned, but that the demons are WITHIN any human.

For those of you who demand to see a Scripture before you can believe something, there are NO Scriptures that say YOU do NOT have demons. That should settle it!

Jesus spoke to demons that were WITHIN humans. Demons spoke to Jesus from WITHIN the human, using the human's vocal cords. During Deliverance, sometimes you speak to demons WITHIN the human. Sometimes the demon speaks from WITHIN the human, using the human's vocal cords.

In Mark 8:32, satan spoke to Jesus from WITHIN Apostle Peter, using Peter's vocal cords.

In Mark 8:33, Jesus spoke to satan that was WITHIN Peter.

When you are Born Again as a Christian/Believer/True Worshipper, JESUS/Holy Spirit comes to abide in your SPIRIT. Demons CANNOT get INTO your Spirit. You are a triune being - BODY, SOUL and SPIRIT. Your SOUL is your MIND, WILL and EMOTIONS.

BODY - Christians can have a sickness/disease just like the unSaved. That's caused by demons (if not caused by other factors).

SOUL - Do you have a bad temper? That's a demon. Is there mental illness in your family background? That is a demon. Do you have trouble serving God? That's a demon. Do you have problems with bad thoughts? That is a demon(s) in your mind, will or emotions.

SPIRIT - Demons cannot get into your SPIRIT, but, the demons surround your SPIRIT like a glass jar surrounds its contents, and you have trouble serving the Lord JESUS. The contents of the jar cannot get out until you remove the lid (demons). Deliverance can get rid of the demons.

Looking for a Miracle? In Mark 9:39, Jesus calls Deliverance a Miracle. Get your Miracle today.

Mark 1:39 - And He (Jesus) preached in their synagogues (churches) throughout ALL Galilee and CAST OUT DEMONS. (IN the church? Yes! Is your church casting out demons?) If not, pack your bags and stay home.

IF My people, who are called by My name, shall humble themselves, pray, seek, crave, and require of necessity My face AND turn from their wicked ways, THEN will I hear from Heaven, forgive their sin, and heal their land. II Chronicles 7:14

Jesus said, Those that Believe SHALL cast out demons (Mark 16:17). If you obey this COMMAND, you become a Demonbuster. Are you a Believer? Yes or no? Acts 5:32 - And we are His witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost who God hath given to them THAT OBEY HIM. Matthew 28:19 - Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Matthew 28:20 - Teaching them to observe ALL things whatsoever I have COMMANDED you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen. Jesus commanded ALL Believers to cast out demons.

BOYCE and BOICE are two demons that interfere with any electronic equipment, i.e., phone, computer, printer, automobile, etc. If something malfunctions, command these two demons to leave your equipment, in the name of Jesus. We get many emails saying this worked. If it does not work, demons are not causing the problem.

In the Bible, once God used a donkey to talk and give a message. So, if you came here from a link that said our site is funny, or anything but Godly, know this - Jesus Christ, the Son of the Living God, loves you and wants to help you. Since you are reading this, Jesus has brought you here to offer Supernatural help. This site shows you how to get that help, free of charge. As for the person that is mocking us, the Judgment of God is on them. In the Bible, Acts 9, Saul was mocking and tormenting Christians. Jesus made Saul blind, and said to him, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. When you make fun of any Christian, you are making fun of Jesus. We also break and return all evil, in the name of Jesus.

All this information is provided free of charge - NOTHING TO BUY.
THERE IS NO HATE ON OUR SITE,

BUT SOME PEOPLE HATE TO READ IT.

Know this - EVERYONE has demons, ESPECIALLY CHRISTIANS. There is no Scripture that says this. It is just a matter of FACT. There is no Scripture that says you do NOT have demons. Jesus said the demons are living INSIDE of you, not OUTSIDE. Jesus also said the demons call your body their house . Do you live OUTSIDE of your house? Neither do your demons!

In Matthew 15:26 and Mark 7:27, Jesus says that Deliverance is THE CHILDREN'S BREAD. The term "Christian" did not exist while Jesus walked the earth. "THE CHILDREN" were Believers. Jesus cast demons out of Believers. Are you a "child of God"?

The Deliverance message is not MY doctrine. It is not MY opinion. It is not MY belief. JESUS said to do it, and we (those that believe) do. You DO NOT have to go through Deliverance to get to Heaven. But why would you want to keep all your problems (demons) if there was a way to get rid of them? Deliverance IS that way. When you get to Heaven, Jesus may ask you why you did not do Deliverance like He commanded all Believers to do.

JESUS IS THE DELIVERER

JESUS DID COME IN THE FLESH, AND WILL COME AGAIN.

In Mark 16:17, Jesus said, And these signs SHALL follow them that BELIEVE; In my name SHALL they cast OUT demons; they SHALL speak with new tongues;

DEMONBUSTER.COM will teach you how to obey Mark 16:17.

Jesus is Lord. Everything having to do with Deliverance is done through the Power and Authority in the name of Jesus Christ. I don't know of any other Deliverance web site like this, where you can actually read about it, find out how to get rid of the demons and keep them away, and not have to buy a book, tape, video, or send in money. I have found a couple of sites that duplicated our material.

If you are not seeking help for yourself, your demons will get stirred up, especially your RELIGIOUS demons. If you are seeking help, learn how to get rid of demons here. Your demons will still get stirred up, trying to stop you from going on with Deliverance.

Now that you have read or heard all the milk sermons all your life, you are about to read the real meat of Christianity.

The purpose of this ministry is to teach the every day, normal, true worshiper (John 4:23) (Christian) how to take authority over the devil and his demons, using the name of Jesus Christ, Son of the Living God, thereby training an army of Deliverance ministers to defeat the works of the enemy.

Would you like help from being Depressed? Abused? Afraid? Tormented? Suicidal? Sick? Alcoholic? Addict? Obese? Witch? Satanist? Brotherhood? Want out of the occult or a cult? Hooked on porno? Dying? Diseased? Molester? Self-Abuse? Bipolar? Etc.? Get Saved, then cast out these demons!

Get real FREE help for all your personal problems using the Name of JESUS CHRIST to cast these DEMONS out. You must want help to receive this help. You must also be a TRUE WORSHIPER (John 4:23) (REAL CHRISTIAN) to receive this help. This means you must be willing to change your lifestyle in certain areas. That's the only rules! Don't just read, but read and TAKE ACTION.

You do not have to have your demons cast out to make it to Heaven, but it sure makes your life down here better. You also don't need to have all YOUR demons cast OUT before you can do Deliverance on others. There is no special anointing required. Jesus gave His Power and Authority to ALL Believers.

CAUTION: Some people have reported that while reading portions of our Deliverance material, some demons have manifested in them in various ways. If this happens, pray this: FATHER, IN THE NAME OF JESUS, I COMMAND ALL THE DEMONS ATTACKING ME TO LEAVE ME NOW, IN THE NAME OF JESUS.

This site is written mainly to Christians . If you want a closer walk with our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, read on. If you want to learn about Deliverance, Spiritual Warfare and REALLY destroy the works of the devil, read on.

The following Scripture is pertinent if you really desire to be set free through the Miracle of Deliverance:

Colossians 1:9-10 For this reason we also, from the day we heard of it, have not ceased to pray and make [special] request for you, [asking] that you may be filled with the full (deep and clear) knowledge of His will in all spiritual wisdom [in comprehensive insight into the ways and purposes of God] and in understanding and discernment of spiritual things --- That you may walk (live and conduct yourselves) in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to Him and desiring to please Him in all things, bearing fruit in every good work and steadily growing and increasing in and by the knowledge of God [with fuller, deeper, and clearer insight, acquaintance, and recognition]. (Amplified Bible)

One Recommended Spiritual Warfare Prayer to pray at least daily
Print this out and pray it often. This is an anti-evil Prayer.

In the name of JESUS, I cover myself and the one reading this with the Blood of JESUS. I ask for giant warrior angels to protect us. As your war club and weapons of war, I break down, undam, and blow up all walls of protection around all witches, warlocks, wizards, satanists, sorcerers, and the like, and I break the power of all curses, hexes, vexes, spells, charms, fetishes, psychic prayers, psychic thoughts, all witchcraft, sorcery, magic, voodoo, all mind control, jinxes, potions, bewitchments, death, destruction, sickness, pain, torment, psychic power, psychic warfare, prayer chains, incense and candle burning, incantations, chanting, blessings, hoodoo, crystals, root works, and everything else being sent my way, or my family member's way, or any Deliverance Ministries way, and I return it, and the demons to the sender, SEVENFOLD, and I bind it to them by the Blood of Jesus, and I cut and burn their ungodly silver cord and lay lines, in JESUS' Name.

Short version - IN THE NAME OF JESUS, I BREAK AND RETURN ALL EVIL BEING SENT MY WAY, AND I RETURN IT AND THE DEMONS TO THE SENDER ONE HUNDRED FOLD.

Acts 5:38 Now in the present case let me say to you, stand off (withdraw) from these men and let them alone. For if this doctrine or purpose or undertaking or movement is of human origin, it will fail (be overthrown and come to nothing);

Acts 5:39 But if it is of God, you will not be able to stop or overthrow or destroy them; you might even be found fighting against God!

YOU CAN'T STOP Deliverance BECAUSE IT IS OF GOD!

YOU CANNOT PRAY A DEMON AWAY.

THEY MUST BE CAST OUT IN THE NAME OF JESUS.

"Prayer and Fasting" is in addition to Deliverance.

CAUTION - If you are EXPOSING the devil in any way, you better be doing DAILY Spiritual Warfare, Deliverance, breaking and RETURNING all evil being sent your way.

If you can hear the Oh the Blood of Jesus midi file, and it gets under your skin, don't turn your speakers off. The demons absolutely hate this song or any song that is about the Blood of Jesus. The more this bothers you, the more demon infested you are. You actually could get some Deliverance by having this tune play in the background, and some demons may actually leave your home or apartment too. Copy the midi file and play it in your home over and over or just let it play on your computer. I have it set to play continuously.

Every time you click your SAVE button, think of SALVATION, which also means DELIVERANCE.

He that hath ears to hear, let him hear - LUKE 14:35

The sermon on the mount was attended by people who WANTED to hear. There were many Miracles.

Our entire Website is devoted to help THOSE THAT BELIEVE, to encourage the Deliverance Ministries who are out there, and first of all, to get the unsaved, SAVED.

JESUS IS THE DELIVERER

2 Tim 4:14 Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord reward him according to his works: 1 Tim 1:20 Of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander; whom I have delivered unto satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme. Anyone attempting or doing evil to Believers will be awarded by the Lord, according to their works, and we turn them over to satan.

Jesus said we would do greater works than He. John 14:12 - Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father. These greater works are not found in the Bible. HOW Deliverance and Spiritual Warfare are done are some of the greater works .

THERE IS NO HATE, MALICE, RACISM, ETC. ON THIS SITE. THESE ARE SINS IN THE EYES OF GOD, AND ARE ALSO DEMONS. THE BIBLE MAKES IT CLEAR THAT SIN CANNOT GET INTO HEAVEN.

PRAYING FOR A REVIVAL? REPENT AND REVIVAL WILL COME!

Years ago, I was at a church service and the only thing I remember the preacher saying was, "You can have as much of God as you want." I believe that is true and all of the Body of Christ Jesus should be seeking all of God we can have.

In reading in Exodus and Numbers there were times the Israelites rebelled against Moses and the Lord and He sent pestilence and punishment for disobedience to the Israelites. Thousands were killed and Moses stood before the Lord and asked Him to not destroy all of Israel. Seeking the Lord and repentance was the answer for stopping the pestilence. We as the Body of Christ Jesus need to look at our lives to see if we have rebelled against the Lord and repent. (Lev 26:14, 26:21, 26:25; Exodus 9:15.)

Mathew 4:17 "Jesus began to preach saying REPENT for the Kingdom of God is at Hand."

Lev. 19:2; 20:7; 20:26; 11:44 "Ye shall be holy; for I am Holy."

2 Chronicles 7:14 "If my people, which are called by my name, shall HUMBLE themselves, and PRAY, and SEEK My face, and TURN from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will FORGIVE their sin, and will heal their land."

WORD FROM THE LORD

"My people who are called by my name have turned from me as rebellious children from their parents. They have hardened their hearts toward me and have chased after other gods. Turn, Turn, Turn, repent, repent, repent. Judgment is at the door and has begun. My Word says to have no other gods. Turn from them, tear down the high places set up in your hearts and be holy.... For I AM Holy. I am your righteousness. I am your escape from the things that are coming. Today is the day of salvation. I am your dwelling place. All who come to me will never be turned away. Repent, seek me, turn from the evil in the world. The Truth of My Word will be the only thing left standing."

Rev. 21:8 says, the Fearful, unbelieving, abominable, murders, whoremongers, sorcerers, idolaters, liars will have a place in the Lake of Fire.

Mathew 6:21 Says where your treasure is there will your heart be also.

Mark 7:21 says out of the Heart of man comes evil thoughts, sexual immorality, theft, murder, adultery, greed, wickedness, deceit.

Mark 16:17 "Those that believe will cast out demons." We as true believers can cast out the evil in our hearts (Soul).

When the people of God repent and turn -Revival will begin.

Matthew 3:11 "I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance; but He that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear; He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire."

Isaiah 8

King James Version

8 Moreover the Lord said unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen concerning Mahershalalhashbaz.

2 And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

3 And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name Mahershalalhashbaz.

4 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.

5 The Lord spake also unto me again, saying,

6 Forasmuch as this people refuseth the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son;

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the river, strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks:

8 And he shall pass through Judah; he shall overflow and go over, he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.

9 Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, 12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.

13 Sanctify the Lord of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.

17 And I will wait upon the Lord, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead?

20 To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.

21 And they shall pass through it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse their king and their God, and look upward.

22 And they shall look unto the earth; and behold trouble and darkness, dimness of anguish; and they shall be driven to darkness.

Iran Is Preparing Missiles for Possible Retaliatory Strikes on U.S. Bases, Officials Say
American commanders have put troops on high alert throughout the region as fears of a wider war grow.

Iran has prepared missiles and other military equipment for strikes on U.S. bases in the Middle East should the United States join Israel's war against the country, according to American officials who have reviewed intelligence reports.

The United States has sent about three dozen refueling aircraft to Europe that could be used to assist fighter jets protecting American bases or that would be used to extend the range of bombers involved in any possible strike on Iranian nuclear facilities.

Fears of a wider war are growing among American officials as Israel presses the White House to intervene in its conflict with Iran. If the United States joins the Israeli campaign and strikes Fordo, a key Iranian nuclear facility, the Iranian-backed Houthi militia will almost certainly resume striking ships in the Red Sea, the officials said. They added that pro-Iranian militias in Iraq and Syria would probably try to attack U.S. bases there.

Other officials said that in the event of an attack, Iran could begin to mine the Strait of Hormuz, a tactic meant to pin American warships in the Persian Gulf.

Commanders put American troops on high alert at military bases throughout the region, including in the United Arab Emirates, Jordan and Saudi Arabia. The United States has more than 40,000 troops deployed in the Middle East.

Two Iranian officials have acknowledged that the country would attack U.S. bases in the Middle East, starting with those in Iraq, if the United States joined Israel's war.

Iran would also target any American bases that are in Arab countries and take part in an attack, the two officials said.

"Our enemies should know that they cannot reach a solution with military attacks on us and will not be able to force their will on the Iranian people," Iran's foreign minister, Abbas Araghchi, said in a statement on Monday. Mr. Araghchi told his European counterparts in phone conversations that if the war spread, the blame would be on Israel and its main supporters, according to a summary of the calls provided by Iran's foreign ministry.

U.S. officials said Iran would not need much preparation to attack American bases in the region. The Iranian military has missile bases within easy striking range of Bahrain, Qatar and United Arab Emirates.

The prospect of U.S. forces joining the war has increased in recent days as Israel has continued its campaign, and Iran has launched waves of missiles at Israel in response.

It is not clear how much damage a strike on Fordo would do to Iran's nuclear capabilities or how long it would delay the development of a weapon. Iran's current stockpile of enriched uranium is also hidden in tunnels at different locations in the country.

Several American officials said that Israel would need U.S. help to more significantly damage Iran's nuclear program.

American assistance could include providing air cover for Israeli commandoes who go into Iran on the ground. But, officials said, the more probable outcome is a strike by U.S. B-2 stealth bombers armed with the Massive Ordnance Penetrator, a weapon that theoretically has the ability to bore into the mountain that shelters the underground Fordo facility.

Any strike on Fordo by the United States or with U.S. assistance would prompt Iran and its allies to retaliate.

19 Easy, Comforting Dishes to Make for Someone Who Is Sick

Iran and its allies have been able to harm Americans in the past. The Houthis curbed their attacks after the Trump administration stepped up strikes on them. But in recent years they have repeatedly tried to strike American warships and have hit commercial shipping. In January 2024, an Iranian-backed militia carried out a drone attack on a U.S. base in Jordan near the Syrian border that killed three American soldiers.

American intelligence agencies have long concluded that Iran was close to being able to make a nuclear weapon but had not decided whether to do so. If Iran decided to make a weapon, it would be less than a year away from being able to field one. A crude, more basic nuclear bomb could possibly be constructed more quickly.

President Trump has repeatedly said he will not allow Iran to obtain a nuclear weapon. On Tuesday, he called for Iran's unconditional surrender.

But the Israeli attacks may have changed Iran's calculus. U.S. officials skeptical of Israel's campaign said on Tuesday that it has probably convinced Tehran that the only way to prevent future attacks would be to develop a full nuclear deterrent.

Some of those officials said that if Iran is likely to pursue a nuclear weapon no matter what, pressure could increase on the Trump administration to strike.

But critics of aggressive, militaristic foreign policy said it was not too late for the United States to turn back.

"It is never too late not to start a war," said Rosemary Kelanic, the director of the Middle East program at Defense Priorities, a think tank that advocates a restrained foreign policy.

Ms. Kelanic acknowledged that Israel's strike had given Iran an incentive to potentially develop a nuclear weapon. But she added that the incentive would "multiply dramatically if the United States joins the war."

"Once you get involved, man, it's really hard to step back," she said. "You are just going to go all in."

Adam Goldman contributed reporting.

Julian E. Barnes covers the U.S. intelligence agencies and international security matters for The Times. He has written about security issues for more than two decades.

Welcome to the Summoning Information Page!

Below you'll find an assortment of information about the 72 Goetic Demons/Spirits for aspiring Goetic Summoners who don't know where to begin.

The main text where most of our information is based off of is called The Lesser Key of Solomon, also known as Clavicula Salomonis Regis or Lemegeton. Published at some point during the 17th-century, the grimoire's origins and sources are a mystery. Though it claims to have been written by King Solomon, whose birth predated Christ's by 900 years. Here are a number of versions with a short description:

The Lesser Key of Solomon Goetia By S.L. Mathers

Mathers drew from a single manuscript accessible to the Golden Dawn at the time, the White transcript of Sloane's Manuscripts.

The Lesser Key of Solomon: Detailing the Ceremonial Art of Commanding Spirits

Both Good and Evil By Joseph H. Peterson

<https://goo.gl/ORWT16>

Peterson does the best with straight transcriptions of old manuscripts.

Lemegeton: The Complete Lesser Key of Solomon By Mitch Henson

<http://goo.gl/HzwW09>

Henson standardizes his edition of Lemegeton from 3 resource manuscripts as well as White transcription itself. Henson's edition is the best edited synthesis of multiple mss that's available, and is thus recommended by /sum/.

Aleistar Crowley's Illustrated Goetia: By Lon Milo DuQuette

<https://goo.gl/PPprJf>

Very clear on how to evoke on a budget and an overall fine version for beginners.

Next up we'll get to the meat of the matter. A quick step by step guide by A.M.S.

So you want to get started but don't like reading dense occult texts? Here's how to do it, quick, dirty, and cheap.

First, you will need:

- * A big enough space, a typical bedroom is enough if you move the furniture out of the way.

- * Chalk or some other way of drawing on the floor, preferably in such way that you can clean it up later.

- * Incense and an incense burner. These can be typically be picked up for a few dollars.

- * Three candles, any color is fine, but try to make them all the same color and shape.

- * The seal of the spirit you wish to summon. It's usually easiest to just print this out.

- * A wand. A tree branch should work just fine.

- * The Hexagram of Solomon. It's also usually a good idea to just print this out.

http://www.occultopedia.com/images/_hexagram-of-solomon.jpg

- Note, some Hexagrams of Solomon may or may not have varying words inside the circle. These do not invalid other forms of the Hexagram or make one better than the other.

Here's what you do:

1. On the east side of the room, draw a triangle big enough to hold your incense burner and the seal.

2. Draw a circle on the ground, big enough for you to fit inside, several feet to the west of the triangle.

3. Around the edge of the circle, write the names of whatever God or Gods you have the most faith in.

(If you're not sure about what names to use, just write "YHVH ADNI AHIH AGLA" over and over again.)

4. Once the names are written out, draw another circle around them and the first circle you drew.

5. Place the seal and incense burner into the triangle, and the candles at the three points of the triangle.

6. Make sure you have the wand and the hexagram ready inside the circle.

Once you're done with the setup, it should look like this:

<http://www.sacred-texts.com/grim/lks/img/fig153-4.jpg>

*Notice the cardinal directions

The four candles outside the circle were not mentioned in this guide, and are therefore not mandatory.

7. Take a bath or shower, brush your teeth, get as clean as possible.

8. As you get into the bath, chant:

"Purge me with hyssop, make me whiter than snow."

9. Put on clean black or white clothes. If you don't have nice shoes, go barefoot.

10. Light the incense and the candles. Make sure all other lights in the room are off.

11. Do what you need to do in order to get into the right frame of mind. The more hyped-up you are, the better. Here are some ideas:

- * Perform a invocation ritual.

- * Pray to whatever God you believe in.

- * Meditate and clear your mind.

- * Masturbate until you're painfully aroused.

12. Once you're all jittery, point the wand at the triangle and chant something like this:

"Hear me, (name of spirit). Come peaceably and visibly before me in the triangle of art. Come forth from the abyss, from which my dagger conjures you. Hear my call and appear before me."

13. If you don't see, hear, or feel a presence, repeat that last sentence until you do. If you repeat it three times and still get nothing, just move on - the spirit is might be there, but you can't see or hear it.

14. Welcome the spirit to the triangle by saying something like this:

- "I welcome you, (name of spirit), to this, the meeting place of spirits."
15. Command the spirit to aid you in some way. Here are some tips on doing this:
- * Be reasonable - spirits are apt to avoid summoners who make crazy demands.
 - * Give the spirit a deadline by which the task is to be finished. Allow it plenty of time to work, but don't give it forever or it will never do anything.
 - * Stipulate that you and your loved ones are not to be harmed.
 - * Offer the spirit something in return. For small favors, offering to praise it and spread its seal online should work.
16. Hold up the hexagram so that it can be seen from the triangle. Say something like:
- "I bind you now to our contract by the Hexagram of Solomon and the authority of the Most High."
17. Now that you've bound the spirit, time to get rid of it. Say something like:
- "I give you, (name of spirit), license to depart this place. Go now back to wherever you came from. Go peaceably and do no harm to me or my loved ones."
18. Whew, it's all over. Turn the lights back on and clean the place up so you don't have to answer any questions.
19. Post in the /sum/ thread about who you summoned, why, and what happened.

Here's what you need to be aware of:

- * While setting up, DO NOT BREAK THE CIRCLE. It must be intact before you begin your summoning and remain intact during the whole ritual.
- * From the moment you first say "Hear me..." to the moment the ritual ends with the License to Depart, DO NOT LEAVE THE CIRCLE.
- * You may feel very tired or depressed for about 24 hours after summoning. This is normal, and it will pass shortly.

Frequently Asked Questions

*What spirit is best to call on for a beginner?

- We'd agree that Orobas would be a good start, as his description states "He is very faithful unto the Exorcist, and will not allow him to be tempted of any Spirit." , which is beyond helpful in this field.

*Do I have to offer anything to the spirits and if so, what?

- You don't have to, but it's better to offer something as payment for their works. Offering will also give them an incentive to lend you a hand. For small favors, offer to praise it and spread its sigil online or wherever you can. For larger favors, the most common offerings are alcohol, food and sex.

Note: If you do offer alcohol or food, do NOT consume it unless you specifically tell the spirit you will consume it on its behalf. Leave the drink out until it completely evaporates, or the food out until its on the verge of decay, THEN dispose of it.

*Aren't Demons Evil?

- Not exactly, while most of the 72 Goetic demons are interested in getting what's beneficial to them regardless of cost, some of them are actually helpful and may be beneficial towards the Summoner. The main thing to remember is that although the Lemegeton refers to them as demons and dark spirits, they're mostly compromised of gods and high beings from other older religions and pantheons where they were revered, respected, and worshipped in their time. It is not to say that you shouldn't be respectful when performing your rituals, because offending demons is an extremely dangerous business.

*What's the best time to summon?

- Every Spirit has a different time, either Night or Day, for summoning as listed in the Lemegeton. However when in doubt about the proper time, nighttime is the best default for a number of reasons. You're almost guaranteed no interruptions, there's little to no audio interference from passing cars or other ambient noises, and there's a certain power that the night holds that seemingly increases the chances of evocation as opposed to a day time summoning.

*How to summon gf/not be forever alone?

- There are actually several demons who, as listed in the Lemegeton, actually specialize in matters of love. A few examples are Sitri, Zepar, Uvall and Sallos. These spirits, and others, have the power to possibly help regain a lost love or help gain a new one.

*What's the difference between Invoking and Evoking?

- Evoking, or evocation, is the practice of summoning a spirit outside of your body. In relation to the Goetia, evoking a spirit is the act of summoning a spirit to show themselves to you on our physical plane, whether it be through smoke, candle flickering, or physical presence.

- Invoking, or Invocation, is your practice of summoning a spirit inside your body. In relation to the Goetia, invoking a spirit is the act of summoning a spirit into your mind or into your presence on the astral plane and having the spirit show themselves to you normally through an extra voice in your head or through whispers in your ear.

*Can I just invoke a spirit into my mind?

- Yes you can, some sources state that all you need to do is create a mind temple and through concentration and meditation, focus on calling out to whichever spirit you wish from within this temple.

NOTE: Invocation is a viable form of summoning spirits, HOWEVER it should be noted that invocation does have it's dangers. As you are summoning without a protective circle, you are more open to spirits who may or may not cause you harm. While there is a risk with evocation on the physical plane, this risk is multiplied with invocation on the mental/astral plane and therefore we do NOT recommend invocation as a form of summoning for beginners.

For more information on anything listed here, further studies, other interpretations and a huge world outside of the Goetia check out the /omg/ - Occultism & Magick Library run by Thoth. It's well kept and constantly updated, you won't be disappointed.

Equally dim and savage as their Mayan neighbours.

>You mean christian hispanics that eventually caused the downfall of their culture?

Spaniards aren't "hispanic" that's an amerimutt invention, they're simply Spanish. And yes, Christian conquistadors put an end to their disgusting culture of human sacrifice and devil worship.

>Look at south america now, it's a complete shithole. It's because the land is cursed by their creepy blood gods.

Yes thank you for agreeing with me. The retarded indio savages worshipped devils and other evil spirits, the benevolent Spaniards and Portuguese forcefully tried to drag those poor idiots into the light of GOD's grace. Yet they chose to keep their false gods and continue to sacrifice onto them in secret.

Take a look at spain and then take a look at the kind of people that live in Mexico. The spanish are clearly of a higher caste.

>savages worshipped devils and other evil spirits, the benevolent Spaniards and Portuguese forcefully tried to drag those poor idiots into the light of GOD's grace

I mean, they were savage and evil for the most part but the spaniards weren't exactly white doves either, even if they weren't nearly as bad. Also it wasn't like all the aztecs were bloodthirsty lunatics, it was mostly the priestly and warrior class that did all those things. There were aztec citizens who didn't want their family members sacrificed and often they were in turn sacrificed as well. Everyone hated the aztecs which is why the others welcomed Spain and Portugal with open arms.

Julius Evola talks about something like this in the Metaphysic of Sex but in regard to a sexual act with another woman. He cites also some indian text of which I don't remember the name in which it's written how the sexual act can actually be conceived as a sacrifice and the woman as the sacrificial flame, and this can be a powerfull tool for the reintegration with the Absolute. Also he talks about various evocatory regimes related to the sexual act in which the man seeks the feminine principle in the woman first and then the Absolute and vice versa for the woman. So the meme kinda makes sense. The point is, these rites should be performed during the sexual act with another woman and I'm not sure if they can work with masturbation too. On the other hand, virtuale every act can be sacrificial if performed without attachment and perspectives but for the sake of the act itself so I think it should work?

Exactly, if Spaniards of today are superior to Mexicans imagine the difference between the Mesoamericans and the conquistadors.

>I mean, they were savage and evil for the most part but the spaniards weren't exactly white doves either, even if they weren't nearly as bad.

So you're basically agreeing with me here. The conquistadors didn't act any worse than any other conquerors in history.

>Also it wasn't like all the aztecs were bloodthirsty lunatics, it was mostly the priestly and warrior class that did all those things

They gleefully participated in those rituals, worshipped those same gods and fought and died for those same leaders. The Aztecs who were opposed to those rituals would've been a minority.

The image is a stylized cartoon illustration featuring a character with a white and pink color scheme. The character has long, flowing hair and is wearing a white dress with a red bow. The character appears to be in a state of distress or frustration, with one hand raised to cover their face and the other hand on their forehead. The character's eyes are wide open, and their mouth is open in a scream.

In the background, there is a computer monitor displaying a green glow, which contrasts with the character's white and pink attire. The text on the image is in Chinese, and it reads "Three letter agent glow so bright" which translates to "Three-letter agent glow so bright." The text is placed at the bottom of the image, just below the character's face. The overall style of the image is cartoonish and expressive, with a focus on conveying a sense of urgency or intensity.

The government doesn't really want filthy braindead coomers. That's why they banned CP, imprison pornographers who make decent stuff, in some countries ban loli, delete all the old stuff, links to pirate sites etc so you can only find them using yandex. As for hentai they recently copyrighted a lot of works using fakku so you also need to dig to find it. Other hentai is posted with a lot worse quality than a few years ago for some reason. All that's left is what you described to make people disgusted with themselves so they stop fapping forever.

Gods form you in their own image.
She won't bring you a female of her own zodiac; she'll bring you the same zodiac unions she is in union with.
If those unions aren't essential-dignity to you as they are to her then tough.
If those unions are elemental-damage to you then serve yourself right for worshipping a foreign God.

Ishtar is one of many female goddesses that have existed and have been worshipped throughout history. There's Sophia, Isis, Lillith, Eve, the Virgin Mary, and many more.

It's all female worship at the end of the day, pure idolatry, you're basically like those guys who have anime figurines who cum on them after masturbating because they think they're hot. Anime girls and are a modern example of female worship, same goes for hentai, and all of porn. It's idolatry with a lustful theme.

I would recommend not finding physical things to worship, because this is how idols are made. You could even make the claim that Jesus has become an idol due to how he's been depicted as a savior.

Worship beauty, fap to beauty, sing songs of beauty and joy. Thank her for how beautiful this world is, thank her when you find a beautiful girl, thank her for the passion you feel when seeing beautiful women, do things with passion and glorify passion, as she's the goddess of love

You certainly can feel the blessings when praying, but don't do it expecting reward, thanking her for how wonderful you were blessed by beauty through the day is already joyful per se

I always thank her for everything at night, especially when I experience beautiful sensations, both in a great scale like beautiful scenery and in a local scale like finding amazing fap content

There's a lot of prayers and hymns to her on the internet. I would recommend you find one that you like, because some can be absurdly massive

Of course. Most people masturbate to empty things, and their seed is wasted. The energy vanishing into the void, serving no purpose. Those who masturbate often seek something more, which is why they masturbate so frequently. Invoking Ishtar, going through the ceremony and offering your seed to her is the most natural thing you can do. It gives purpose to your action, it is an exchange.

It takes a bit, you have to reach a place where you are mentally ready to devote yourself fully. You cannot just masturbate to her and call it good. You have to want to worship her deeply, you have to want to change yourself to appreciate beauty instead of strange things. When you reach this place of clarity, and you learn to meditate on why you masturbate to empty things, you will make the connection when you call for her. When this happens, you will know she is listening. The physical affects will be quite apparent, you will experience comfort, and meaning to your masturbation as it is no longer a selfish self-indulgence but an offering to a goddess.

Prayers/Hymns and Libation are good ones, there are many ancient adorations to her. You can light an incense and a candle in an altar with something representing her such as an icon or the venus star, and give her food/drink offerings

There's an absurd amount of adorations that have been written to her, such as:

Unto Her who renders decisions, Goddess of all things,
Unto the Lady of Heaven and Earth who receives supplication;
Unto Her who hears petition, who entertains prayer;
Unto the compassionate Goddess who loves righteousness;
Ishtar the Queen, who suppresses all that is confused.
To the Queen of Heaven, the Goddess of the Universe, the One who walked in terrible Chaos and brought life by the Law of Love;

And out of Chaos brought us harmony, and from Chaos
Thou has led us by the hand.

Some are really long and specific though

Because sex is fun, that's all. If you confine her to merely being the idea of love personified by human creativity, then it's fine to like her, but to pretend she is supernatural or superior to Jesus Christ is untrue.

You are lost children, who wish to deny tradition yet still seek God. This leads you to worship figures that you see as legitimate from a humanist lens. Sexual desire is a base human feeling so you worship it, but it is not truth. Sex does not give you values or truth. Just because you dislike your parents or religious institutions doesn't mean you must reject God. Accept God individually instead of clinging to these hedonistic conceptions.

Poor intellectually stunted abrahamic sperg. Doesn't understand as above so below. Doesn't understand the hierarchy of beings. Doesn't understand the law of polarity. Can't even worship The Supreme without reee'ing about hell and blablabla. Your cult sucks, find a better one. Preferably one that doesn't rely heavily on threats of torture, and rather is proven by both its beauty and self evident truth.

A beautiful woman has always been a symbol of divine beauty generally. What imagery could be closer to the heart of man? Using an anime art style is just a contemporary way of doing it. So what if it's a bit horny, sex is good, it is a holy generative act if not perverse. Learn to appreciate righteous love, beauty, pleasure, and procreation.

Fate fixed everything. Nasu Kinoku is a genius.

Because we know for a fact that fiction is just alternative realities seeping into this world and inspiring our greatest minds to write "fiction" about them we can deduce that this is the correct form of Ishtar. It's the most popular and pervasive representation of this goddess to now so it's obviously the truth.

The image is a black and white illustration featuring two characters in a close embrace. The character on the left appears to be a young man with short, wavy hair and a beard. He is wearing a collared shirt with a visible button. The character on the right is a woman with long, dark hair and a face with a slight smile. She is wearing a garment that appears to be a long, flowing garment with a lace or floral pattern. The background is a gradient of dark gray, providing a neutral backdrop that contrasts with the characters. There are no discernible texts or additional objects in the image. The style of the illustration is reminiscent of manga or anime, characterized by its detailed character designs and expressive poses.

I like the idea of Isis, but Ishtar herself seems a little too proud of being capricious. It reminds me unfavorably of other deities that are proud of their character flaws like wrath. Though I'm also content with lifelong celibacy, it would take a special sort of beauty to sway me out of that path.

I shunned her when I learned how poorly she treated her lovers but my life is a mess right now and the only thing I still attraction to in this life is the thought of her and the fact that if I live another day I will see Venus in the morning. >watch this video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XogaHpV5oUs&ab_channel=Mr.Mythos you be on his side? Even Jesus Christ is depicted with a symbol of the bronze or golden serpent wrapped around a T-shaped wood in biblical tradition. If you knew who the pre-cursor of Jesus was, he would lead you straight to Jupiter. Prince of the Power of the Air is more likely to be Ouranos, the primordial sky-father who ruled as a tyrant.

As far as breadding goes, it was well known that on the top of the zigurat of eridu or tower of babel there was a temple, where only the high priesstess or sometimes reffered to as dragon queen was only allowed to reside in and there she would perform sex rituals to attract entities and become possessed by them and have sex with them and give birth to their children. As far as this thread goes, the opposite and nemesis of Inanna was Lamashtu, this can be taken as the negative aspect of Venus, Lamashtu was thrown out of Heaven for wanting to eat babies for breakfast, she is the principle of anti-life, the Jews conflate her with Lilith who they idolize.

The Suteans/Sethians were the traditional enemies of the cult of Inanna, they destroyed the E-ana Temple complex.

The Sumerians differentiated between the pro-life Inanna and the anti-life Dimme/Lamashtu though they can be taken as two facets of the Feminine psyche, Gold and Black, it may be that in Akkadian Ishtar the two were reconciled into the singular (istiat), which makes Ishtar far more problematic than Inanna.

>It is against this general cosmic background that the evidence for Lamastu's position must be judged. Lamastu is a daughter of Anu, the god of heaven, and the sister of Inanna/Istar and as such a high-ranking goddess. The incantations repeatedly stress her divinity, which is exceptional for demons. She is "singular" (istiat) among the gods, however, and more like an evil spirit (utukkat); then, on account of her "bad disposition" (temu la damqu) and her "disrespectful/insubordinate proposal" {malkuparru'ulsah'u), Anu expels her from heaven. The occasion for this irreversable measure was her request to have human flesh (babies) for dinner.

The Seven aspects of Dimme/Lamashtu can be taken as the corrupting influence on the seven planetary archetypes, and were Inanna would be a positive influence in terms of the seven stars of the Pleiades, the Menorah represents this soulless seven anti-life principle of the Sethian as it is directly opposed to the pro-life principle, were Lamshtu was understood as Sutean/Sethian.

>Although the evidence for the third millennium history of Lamastu is limited, there are clear indications that in origin she was not the individual mythological figure of later tradition. In the Ur III period her Sumerian name, Dimme, is not spelled with the divine determinative, even though she is called the "offspring of gods". A text of the same period reveals the early existence of the "seven Dimme damsels", a feature which persists through time, and adheres to the individualized Lamastu in the form of her seven names.

>After her expulsion from heaven, the deity becomes a demon, a sister of the seven evil utukku-spirits, the "gods of the street". The defining characteristic of all evil spirits, demons as well as ghosts (souls of dead people) is that, unlike the gods, they do not have a cult, that they do not have temples where they are fed and clothed by their human servants. Rooflessly they roam the earth, and take by force what they do not get by right; mankind is useless to them, and therefore preyed on without restraint. Man counts on the gods for help against these illegal forces, but also places his hope in their selfish nature: instead of preying on him the demons may choose to take refuge with their father Enlil, who apparently runs a home for the homeless members of the spiritual cosmos.

The image is a painting that depicts a dramatic scene. In the foreground, a man is shown in a dynamic pose, seemingly falling or being thrown backward. He is bare-chested and has a beard, and his hair is disheveled. He is wearing a white garment that appears to be a loincloth. The man's posture suggests he is in the midst of a fall or a powerful movement.

In the background, there is a group of people dressed in long robes, standing in a semi-circle. They are all facing the same direction, and their postures suggest they are observing the man's actions. The setting appears to be a grand hall or a church, with a polished marble floor and a high ceiling.

Overlaying the image is a text that reads "The Son of Man came not to be served, but to serve." This phrase is from the Gospel of Matthew, specifically in the 20:28 section. The text is in white, contrasting with the darker tones of the painting, and it is positioned at the bottom of the image, providing a clear reference to the biblical text.

The overall style of the painting is realistic with a focus on the dramatic action of the man falling, and the text serves as a commentary on the biblical text. The painting is rendered in a realistic style, with attention to detail in the clothing and the posture of the figures. The use of color is limited, with the man's white garment standing out against the darker tones of the background and the robes of the observers.

How many Christian denominations are there?

Even within a specific Christian denomination there is not necessarily uniformity of thought (is Roman Catholicism the same thing in Europe and in Mexico? Is African Islam not tainted by animism?).

What matters is your own devotion, religion is about intimacy

To decieve anyone and everyone who is willing to entertain a lie, and see how much they will believe and how low they will go to fulfil the desire that the lie stirred in their hearts. The Word of God is Jesus, and the scriptures are his doctrine. But you know that. You are just catfishing and seeing who will bite the bait. Classic harvest time behaviour. What can be done? Jesus is just a story for the rose-cross mystery, it was never intended to be seen as le wholesome guy

His name is YHWH with a Sh in the middle, he has exactly 12 disciples like the solar myth he is (with judas ischariot being Scorpio), his actions describe exact operations of kaballah, there's many things things that don't make sense exoterically, his historicity has never been proven, etc

You just believe it because the catholic church used the power of this formula to enslave mankind, then a retard thought it was a good idea to strip the religion of al mystery and keep only le jesus parts

Demons flee the name and the cross because they invoke on yourself your inner god, they don't think "OH NO THE WHOLESOME JESUS WHO DIED FOR ANON SINS", they think "ANON'S FUTURE SELF WHEN HE STOPS BEING RETARDED AND NOTICE THE MYSTERIES WILL KICK MY ASS"

Christianized idea of platonic that rejects sexuality, but yes, I encourage people to fap while staring at women eyes, softcore beauty instead of vulgarity. The thing is that the line between beauty and vulgarity is not drawn that early, beautiful breasts, asses, feet, armpit, etc are ok. Vulgarity and depravity is ntr and destruction kinks
